Vital Public Meeting Will Be Tuesday Evening

A vital public meeting, concerning the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, will be held Tuesday, Jan. 12 in the council chambers of city hall.

Prime item of business: public improvement projects for Tecumseh, such as a civic center, library, new recreation facilties.

Currently on the Foundation's books is nearly $82,000 in cash donations and pledges for 1960. This is the Fund's balance, after allocating $20,295 for the year's charity budget.

First item of business at next week's gathering will be the election of the nine-member board of trustees. The current boardmen will vote on a slate of 18 candidates, prepared by a nominating committee of John Surratt, Carl Lamb, Bill Powell and Mrs. Cecil Smith, officers of four leading city organizations.

The new trustees will discuss selection of a Citizens Committee, whose job it will be to study community needs and come up with some concrete proposals in the next few months.

Financing them would be surplus funds of the Foundation, built up over the years through annual autumn donations for charity in the Tecumseh area.

General comments made by the public at Tuesday's gathering will probably have great bearing on proposed planning by the Citizens Committee.

In past discussions, the civic center idea has been mentioned most often. It would likely contain a teen-age recreation area, auditorium and meeting rooms. Such a structure could cost from anywhere between $200,000 to half a million.

It would be a center for citizens throughout the Tecumseh area, providing for graduation exercises, lecture-concert series, dramatic productions, community meetings and parties for young and old, Possibilities seem limitless.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Small World Dept. — Perry Satterthwaithe took a drive to Metropolitan airport last week and on the spur of the moment decided to grab a flight to New York.

As he settled in his seat, a pretty stewardess asked if he'd like some liquid refreshment.

When Perry had given his order, she asked for his name to jot down along side it.

Almost automatically, Perry started to spell his last name.

The girl interrupted, "You don't have to spell that name for me," and she was off.

Perry was curious, when she returned with his lemonade, he sought, "How come you can spell Satterthwaithe?"

"Why I have a friend by that name in Tecumseh, Mich."

"Who is that?" Perry asked.

"Beth Satterthwaithe," was her reply.

"She's my sister," grinned Perry. "How is it you know her?"

The stewardess said her father had come from Tecumseh and while visiting here she had met Beth.

The young lady was Jill Beardsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beardsley of Detroit. He's a brother of Jim, local lawyer.

☆

Mrs. Jessie Sluyter tells me she enjoyed last week's editorial about more folks having outdoor Christmas decorations.

Only one catch, states Jessie. She went all-out this year, putting nearly a dozen strings around the front of her house. The other night someone swiped all but one of the bulbs.

Same thing happened to a Sluyter neighbor, Kenton Hunt.

☆

As fast as Cupid can get them knotted in Lenawee county, the divorce courts seem to pry 'em apart.

Marriage licenses went up in 1959 to 615, a high since '47. But the divorce rate also climbed from 133 to 163.

☆

Do you get a kick out of corny little contests?

I'd like to start one for our more literary followers and the prize is a one-year subscription to The Herald.

It's an alliterative sentice puzzler—who can write the most fascinating one. It must contain at least 10 words?

We're swiping the idea from the Free Press' Jimmie Pooler.

Here's one he ran, which had been a winner in 1926 in a Philadelphia newspaper contest about a player of the local Athletics.

"Dizzy Dykes drags down dazzling drives demoralizing Detroit's dire designs."

☆

Second installment on Tecumseh-written letters burned in airplane crashes:

Mrs. L. S. Fogelsong, Jr., 415 Adrian Hwy., reports that one she wrote was in the same crackup as a note Mrs. Elmer Spreeman had sent to her son.

Only, Mrs. Fogelsong's wasn't burned too badly and went on to her brother in LaPuente, Calif.

Mrs. Spreeman's, also going to California, was returned because most of the address had been destroyed.

Mrs. Fogelsong's brother, think she might like to see the charred envelope, sent it to her and she immediately did some detective work.

She found the plane carrying her letter, postmarked Nov. 23, went down in Chicago in a take-off mishap, killing three crewmen, all from Los Angeles, as well as four passengers.

This was likely the same plane on which Mrs. Spreeman's letter went down.

☆

Adrian is much happier about 1959 than it was over '58—reason: payrolls went up 2.3 million.

Behind Those Television Spots

How long does it take to prepare a 20-second television spot?

These are the little commercials and station breaks that appear at the end and start of programs.

The answer: about four to six weeks of hard work.

Included is the time and talent of many persons, plus considerable expensive equipment.

A fellow who is most familiar with this work, Murray Fairbairn of New York, was a visitor at his parents' farm near Macon over the holidays.

The folks are Mr. and Mrs. Arle Fairbairn, who live at 6716 Allen Rd.

While here, Murray brought along his current chore — preparation of a series of 19 spots he is working up for WABC-TV of New York.

These are entirely animated and will set the theme for the program to follow.

Murray numbers art among his many talents and it's his job to prepare the many drawings, which when photographed in series, will become a 20-second long cartoons."

☆

THIS SORT of work is just one phase of his career, which started in 1938 when he joined the Jim Handy firm in Detroit.

From there he went to spent two years as an animator for Walt Disney, before going into the Signal Corps during World War II. His army stint lasted five years.

Back in civies, he started directing industrial films in New York and for a four-year period was production manager for a New York company, which among other jobs produced training films for the navy.

Later he formed his own outfit, Murray Hill Production, which has him involved in a variety of projects.

He still serves as producer-director of navy pictures. These usually take about six months to do, nearly two months longer than similar work for industry because of the checking and re-checking by navy brass.

It is hoped that if the 19-spot deal clicks in New York, the idea will be syndicated to stations across the nation.

The music that goes with the cartoon, was recorded by Montovani in London — so it's easy to see this deal is going first class all the way.

Clinton Couple Has First Baby of The New Year

First baby of 1960 arrived at Tecumseh's Herrick Memorial Hospital just two hours and 46 minutes after the New Year began.

It was a daughter for Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Koons of Clinton-Macon Rd. near Clinton. Named Pamela Jean, she weighed 7 lbs., 7 ozs.

Sunday evening, Mr. Koons landed in the hospital. Rumor he was so excited over his first child was not true.

Actually, the new dad suffered a reaction to a drug he had taken for a cold that afternoon.

He was released Tuesday and the rest of the family was scheduled to go home Wednesday.

Schweitzer Movie Will Be Jan. 13

The public is invited to a showing of the full-length Albert Schweitzer movie at the Methodish Church Wednesday, Jan. 13 at 7:30 p.m.

The showing is sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

It shows events in the life of the renowned missionary, philosopher, organist, theologian and physician.

Dr. Schweitzer is shown at work in Lamborene, Africa.

The movie is scheduled in January to come during the study of missions in Africa in many local churches.

There is no admission charged, but a free-will offering will be taken to meet the rental expense, only.

Mrs. Fred Nash, Methodist Woman's Society president, said "We hope that our many friends in the churches of Tecumseh will share this experience with us."

How Would You React, Finding $39

How many persons, upon finding a purse without any indentification and containing $39 in cash, would try to find the owner?

There's at least one (actually, probably thousands more in our community), for which Mrs. Kenneth Ringman, 302 Chippawa St., is most thankful.

Mrs. Ringman has her purse and $39 back, because of the honesty of the Rev. L. P. Buroker of Tipton.

Saturday afternoon he spotted a small, black, silk purse on the sidewalk near Ousterhout's Flower shop shortly after noon.

He took it to the police station, after discovering the owner's name was not inside.

Monday afternoon, the police received a call from Mrs. Ringman, who was by then sure the purse would probably never be recovered.

☆

She told chief George Kilbourn what the missing purse looked like and what it contained. Mrs. Ringman was invited to come down and pick it up.

Later she told what had happened.

She stopped at the telephone booth near Ousterhout's to make a call about 11:30 Saturday, then returned to her job at the United Savings Bank.

At 3 p.m. she reached in her purse to get change for a Coke. Her small pocketbook was gone.

She began retracing her steps of the day, bat came up empty handed, figuring the $39 was gone forever.

Indian Quintet Hosting Milan 5

First place in the Huron League will be up for grabs here Friday night when Tecumseh hosts the Milan cagers.

Although the Indians have suffered two losses, only a defeat to Flat Rock is against their league record.

Both Milan and Tecumseh boast 3-1 league records.

They replace Claron Rex, Jack Osburn and Harold Easton.

Other carry-over members of the board of directors are Dr. Richard Cook, Richard Eggleston, C. J. Fisher, Thomas Corkery, Dr. Robert Murray and Harvey Carpenter.

Club Gathers

Mrs. Theodore Rundell will have charge of the program for the Tecumseh Garden Club Friday, Jan. 15, at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Neil Pearson. Co-hostesses are Anne Carson, Mrs. Gale Fisher and Mrs. Earl Lindsley.

Don Murphy, Chamber secretary, announces that an organization meeting will be held Jan. 12, probably at the old council chambers at the fire station.

New retail executive members are Merle Hoag, Al Snyder and Sally Pope succeeding Dick Hicks Wes Proctor and Earl Bolasin.

The six other retail members are Don Martin, Cal Damon, William Wright, Claude Helms. Claude Helms and Carl Lamb.

The retail division organized for 1960 at a Tuesday noon meeting at the secretary's office.

Officers elected at the Tuesday noon meeting for the retail division were:

Carl Lamb, chairman.
Harold Green, vice-chairman.
Al Snyder, secretary.

Steve Illeck, local Civil Defense chairman, announces a meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the city hall.

Council Peeks into '60

By JIM LINCOLN

Eight objectives for 1960 were reported to council Monday night by city manager Ed Nelson.

Cited were:

Curb and gutter on Union St. between Shawnee and Chippewa.

2. Bituminous concrete on Union from Chicago Blvd. to Chippewa.

3. Bituminous concrete for Maumee St., from Chicago to Kilbuck, and Pearl St., from Chicago to Pottawatamie.

4. Build new bridge over Evans Creek on N. Maumee St.

5. Replace portion of storm sewer on Bogan St. for elimination of flooding after heavy rains.

6. Installation of approximately 7,000 feet of curb and gutter.

7. Complete water and sewer installation on Sunset and Occidental.

8. Construction of a garage for the Water Department trucks.

CITY ATTORNEY James Beardsley reported that the Federal government has asked the city to build a post office at Adams Park, across from city hall.

According to the Michigan Municipal League, such construction by the city would be legal and could be financed by sale of revenue bonds, the bonds in turn being retired by rent from the post office.

Although council took no action, plans for a new post office building have been requested.

☆

OTHER action:

1. Council approved the hospital's action in awarding bids to Troy Laundry Co. and Lenawee Construction Co. for the new laundry.

2. Discussed the possibilities of safety program for young school children.

WES HAEUSSLER AND JOHN McSHANE

Haeussler To Build National Homes

Tecumseh Homes, Inc., for the past four years builder of National Homes here, has assigned Haeussler Construction Co. to do all future erection of its homes.

The franchise as builder-dealer will continue to be held by Tecumseh Homes, Inc., states John McShane, vice-president.

The agreement was reached so that Mr. McShane could join Jack Shutt, Tecumseh Homes president, in the development of their Bay City operation.

General Construction and sales promotion here will be handled by the Haeussler firm in the Sunset Meadows Subdivision, which was developed by Tecumseh Homes.

It is located on the west side of Tecumseh.

Rena Fitzpatrick Realty of Clinton has been assigned exclusive sales representation for Sunset Meadows.

Wes Haeussler, president of Haeussler Construction Co. has been building conventional-type, custom-designed homes in the Tecumseh area for the past six years.

He incorporated his operation Nov. 1, 1958. Paul J. Breitenwischer joined the organization at that times as treasure in charge of accounting.

Mr. Haeussler states that his company will continue to build custom homes on individually-owned lots, or in either of the two subdivision developed by the company in the past year.

One of these consists of 14 lots on Seminole St. in the northwest portion of Tecumseh and 18 lots on Brook St. in Brookmeade.

Both areas have city water, sanitary and storm sewers. Jack Osburn handles sales of these.

The newest National Homes model, at 1207 Willow St., is being shown at an open house Saturday and Sunday, from 2 until 8 p.m.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Happy New Year! With only a few days of 1960 behind us, there is lots of time to make those resolutions.

Just arrived on my desk is an appropriate recipe for a Good New Year that I would like to share with you. It is taken from a PEO record.

Take 12 fine, full-grown months; see that these are thoroughly free from all the old memories of bitterness, rancor, hate and jealousy.

Cleanse them completely from every clinging spite, pick off all specks of pettiness and littleness; in short, see that these months are free from all the past.

Have them as fresh and clean as when they first came out of the storehouse of time. Cut these months into 30 or 31 equal parts. This batch will keep for just one year.

Do not attempt to make up the whole batch at one time, as so many persons spoil it in this way, but prepare one day at a time as follows:

Into each day put 12 parts of faith, 11 parts of patience, 10 of courage, nine of work (some people omit this ingredient and spoil the rest), eight of hope, seven of fidelity, six of liberty, five of kindness, four of rest (leaving this out is like leaving the oil out of the salad—don't do it), three of prayer, two of meditation, and one well-selected resolution.

Put in about one tablespoon of good spirits, a dash of fun, a sprinkling of play, and a heaping cupful of good humor.

Pour into the whole a liberal amount of love and mix with a vim.

Cook thoroughly in a fervent heat, garnish with a few smiles, and a sprig of joy.

Then serve with quietness, unselfishness, and cheerfulness, and a happy New Year is a certainty.

THE CORN TREE

Do you know about corn trees? Well, we didn't either until a good friend brought one to us. Wonderful, absolutely wonderful—the squirrels love it and for us, it has opened an entirely new field of watching.

Just what is a corn tree?

First of all, it is not a tree at all, but merely a limb with branches forking out in such a manner that, when the limb is braced to stand in an upright position, it looks like a small tree.

The top branches are trimmed off and cut back so that the tree will not be top-heavy and easy for a scrambling squirrel to tip over.

The ears of corn are impaled on wires which protrude past the ends of the branches—an easy-but-secure way of fastening, the squirrels cannot pull the ears off, but must eat in the tree.

Our tree stands about three and one-half feet high, is approximately eight inches in diameter at the base and holds five ears of corn.

The tree is placed about eight feet from my window, between, but back from, the two feeders and close to the bird bath. It was in the yard but a few hours when the first squirrel came to investigate.

☆

THE FIRST squirrel, a big handsome fellow, was great fun.

At first it was obvious that he just didn't quite know what to think of "the new thing" which had so suddenly appeared near his regular haunts.

He was cautious, but oh, so very, very curious. After sniffing around the base of the tree, he carefully reached out with a small front paw and touched one of the braces which steady the tree and keep it upright.

Touching was OK, so next he pushed a little. Each support was thus tested — a gingerly touch first and then a little push. So far so good, now to go into the tree.

☆

THIS WAS when the laughs really started. The squirrel, and usually they are sure footed and agile, had troubles as he crawled from one ear of corn to another.

The tree is small of course, the branches are close together and, although big enough to be sturdy and safe, they do not offer much in the way of footholds.

Also, when he tried to climb on the ears of corn they twisted and almost threw him off. Oh, he had a hard time—slipping and twisting and stretching and slipping again.

The corn must have been tasty, however, and the difficulties in securing it not too great because, since his first visit, not only has The Big One been back every day, but he apparently passed the word along and we had the great fun of watching two or three squirrels in the corn tree everyday.

Three or four squirrels everyday, but of course, not at the same time. Much as we love these furry, long-tailed acrobats, it cannot be denied that they are selfish and greedy little characters.

Even though the supply of food is plentiful, they will not tolerate another squirrel nearby. Sharing is one word which is definitely not in their vocabulary.

☆

SEVERAL TIMES, with one squirrel in the tree, there has been one on the ground who has had ideas about sharing and once, he almost made it.

Usually, when one squirrel approaches another, who is at the corn, the latter stops eating and glares at the intruder.

Under such close and obviously unfriendly surveillance, the would-be-diner looses his appetite and retreats.

This once, when the unheard of almost happened, the squirrel in the tree was so busy that he didn't realize company was on its way. The second squirrel almost reached the bottom of the tree before he was discovered—in a flash, the first squirrel was out of the tree and the chase was on.

This is just a small sample of the fun the corn tree has afforded us. The birds, as yet have not really found this new source of food.

Now and then a Tufted Titmouse lands on the top of an ear and yesterday a few Sparrows were showing mild interest, but these visits are short and hardly count.

When cold hard weather sets in, we are looking forward to Cardinals and Blue-jays — it should be fun watching them discover the corn tree.

How about making a corn tree for your yard—they are great!

Can't wait to tell the girls! I bought my auto insurance at the (Name) Agency.

. . . AND—they gave me a special LOW rate! Called me a "preferred risk". It means I'm a good driver!

Men? Well, yes. (Name) gives special low rates to men drivers, too—if they qualify.

Name of Agency, address, city)—doesn't play any favorites. They love good drivers—men OR women. And they give special low "merit" rates to motorists who qualify. Can you? To find out, call (Phone Number).

Burning of Greens Is Staged

In chilly weather Sunday afternoon, Girl Scouts and Brownies conducted the Annual Burning of the Greens.

The ceremony, in honor of the arrival of the Three Wise Men at the stable where Christ was born, was held on Recreation Field.

Nearly 200 leaders and girls took part.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler headed the planning committee, which included Scouts Susan Harris, Michele Anderson, Carol Campbell, Diane Hoch and Charlotte Elliott.

Forming at the south end of the baseball field, the Scouts, carrying Christmas trees, marched to the softball diamond. They headed the greens into a pile at the pitcher's mound.

After Scriptural readings, prologue and group singing of "O Christmas Pine" and "We Three Kings of Orient Are", Mrs. Rentschler touched a firey torch to the trees.

She was pinch-hitting for Mrs. Donald C. Creger, president of the Tecumseh Girl Scout association, who was unable to attend because of illness.

As the girls and spectators on the high ground watched, an epilogue and benediction concluded the 30-minute program.

Drooly Installments

Being in the newspaper business, we have an idea of what goes on behind the scene in the job of collecting and writing the news in our daily papers.

So, we don't often find fault with our big brothers.

In recent weeks, however, we do think all the Detroit dailies have been straying way off the track.

First there was the absurd coverage of Charlotte Ford's debut to society, a rather inane idea in the first place, but one we're not condemning.

It's just the way the News, Times and Free Press practically turned themselves inside out to write and picture the event. With breathless anticipation, we learned what color socks the 14th cook was wearing the day of the gala event.

Thousands of column inches were saturated with Charlotte this and Charlotte that, until one could almost run out into the free, fresh air screaming.

But, if this weren't enough, we then graduated into the terribly fascinating realm of Judy and Jinty. If you don't know her last name and what Jinty is, you just haven't been trying and we refuse to elaborate.

(Editor's note: For those folks who have been in Florida or the Virgin Islands since last September and just arrived back in Michigan, Judy is the English girl who lost her German Shepherd, Jinty.)

We know the big-breaking news during the holiday season was running thin, but did the big city editors have to run a drooly installment of Judy's adventures every day, just like the old soap operas on radio?

Sorry, fellows, but that's the way it struck us.

Rapidly Becoming Reality

One of the most important meetings to be held in our city in recent years is scheduled for Tuesday.

It's going to be in the council chamber of city hall.

Future planning for public buildings — made possible by the fabulous Tecumseh Fund Foundation—will be started that evening.

There has been much optimistic conservation about a civic center for this city and now it is rapidly becoming a reality, thanks to the careful establishment of our Foundation.

Of course, we don't want to give the idea that a ground-breaking ceremony is scheduled for spring. Actually, the center probably can't be started until there is about $200,000 in the till, which would mean another two to three years.

But to us that means "rapidly becoming a reality."

If it were not for the Foundation, now in its infancy and promising to grow into a sturdy giant over the years, Tecumseh would never get a civic center or other proposed public facilities.

Our hat is off to the folks who brought the Tecumseh Foundation into being.

Yours should be, too. You can best express such a feeling by attending Tuesday's meeting.

Something 'New' Added

Preparations are in progress for the annual March of Dimes drive.

Mrs. Mahlon Lord is chairman of the canvass which began Jan. 2 and will end Jan. 31.

A small word, "new", lots of meaning, has been added to the 1960 March of Dimes.

Until now, the March of Dimes has meant just one thing to the American people — polio.

That enemy of more than 20 years is well on its way to being toppled and the weapon of success, the March of Dimes, is being turned upon other crippling diseases that evade human understanding.

To indicate that these funds will be used for research of birth defects and arthritus, to prevent other crippling diseases, as well as polio, the drive will be called the New March of Dimes this year.

The Teen Club, under the direction of Rhinehart Radant with Dale Tuckey, president, and Charles Baird will sell balloons and miniature crutches for the drive on Saturday morning in the downtown area.

In the evening a Teen Club dance will be held with the proceeds to be contributed to the fund.

DEFECTIVE BRAKES

Jules C. Mobley, 41, Tecumseh was arrested by Blissfield state police in Madison township. He is charged with driving without an operator's license and driving a car with defective brakes.

TRAFFIC SUMMONSES

Traffic summonses were issued this past week to Samuel J. Hamilton, 144 Cheever St., Britton, for a stop street violation; Samuel W. Meyers, 603 Herrick Park Drive, expired operator's license and Lester J. Ruhl, Jr., 302 W. Kilbuck St. for a stop street

Church Notes

+ 13 Members Have Belonged to Church for Over 50 Years

Altar flowers in the Methodist's worship service last Sunday were in memory of the 11 charter members of the church.

Carlos W. Jones, Lay Leader of the church, assisted the pastor, the Rev. James D. Nixon.

The order of worship, written especially for the celebration of the 175th Anniversary of Methodism, recalled great moments in the history of the denomination.

The Methodist Church in Tecumseh was founded in January of 1828. A Methodist circuit rider had been holding services in Tecumseh for 15 months before that.

The local congregation now begins its 133rd year.

The pastor read the names of living members who joined the church 50 or more years ago, and who continue as members today. Thirteen such names were included in the list.

Mrs. Duane Service joined early in 1910, Mrs. Ernest Robison in 1907, Mrs. Rose Service in 1906, Mrs. Lavern Austin in 1904, Wildred G. Waldron and Earl Updike both joined in 1904, Mabel Taylor in 1901.

Leon Williamson joined in 1899 Robert J. McCoy in 1896, Lavie Snedecor in 1895; Mrs. Earl Updike in 1894.

Lavern Austin joined in 1890, Elizabeth Beamish August 19, 1883 and has been a member for 76 years and four months.

In August of 1958 Miss Beamish was given special recognition on the 75th anniversary of joining the church.

+ 'What's Word for Today?'

The sermon Methodists in Tecumseh will hear next Sunday will have as its theme, "What's the Word for Today?"

"Last week we were engrossed in anniversaries, and next Sunday we want to face the coming of the '60s," said the Rev. James Nixon. "We'll be talking about important words for the '60s."

The Asbury Choir will sing the anthem.

+ Sermon Series Begins at Church of the Nazarene

The Rev. Fred Belleville, pastor of the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene, will begin a series of 12 sermons on faith, Sunday.

Text for the series, Galations 2:20, "I am crucified with Christ nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loveth me, and gave himself for me."

"Faith is a practical gift of God, which, like many others, is strengthened and increased by continual exercise," he says.

"It is the key that unlocks the cabinet of Gods treasures. It is nourished by meditation, prayer, and devoted reading of the Scriptures.

"The light which it diffuses becomes stronger and clearer by an uninterrupted converse with its object, and a faithful compliance with its dictates," the pastor states.

+ 100 Attend Watch Night

More than 100 persons were present for the New Year's Eve Watch Night service at the Friends Church.

A social hour of games was conducted by Marjorie Van Valkenburg and Ronald Johnson.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sommers and Mr. and Mrs. DeArle Brugger.

A film, "Something to Die For" was shown in the sanctuary and the Rev. John Brantingham of Milan, son of the pastor of the church, presented the devotional message.

As the New Year approached, an impressive candlelight service was conducted by Mrs. Naomi Sallows.

+ Annual Meeting at St. Peter's

Annual Parish meeting of St. Peter's Episcopal Church will be held Monday, Jan. 11, following a family potluck supper in the Parish Hall.

Work of the parish, during the preceeding 12 months, will be summarized, reports of guilds and organizations given, and the budget for the new year presented, discussed and voted on.

Parish meetings are required under the Canon Law of the Episcopal Church as a way of maintaining and expressing democratic participation of the congregation in the life of the church.

+ Women Meet

The United Lutheran Church Women of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church met Monday evening at the parish house. Mrs. Ed Bunge led the devotions. It was decided to give a contribution to the New March of Dimes. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Hadley Closes Store

After 15 years in the food business here, Fred Hadley is closing his small neighborhood store at 114 N. Pearl St. this week.

Dwindling business is the reason.

Fred and his son, Jack of Benton Harbor, are planning to buy a motel together.

They're leaving this weekend to check several possibilities in Florida. A motel in Detroit is also being considered.

While here, Fred not only ran his Pearl St. store, but for five years operated the Country Market on Occidental and Russell Rds.

He sold this in 1958 to Hugo Hoffmann and concentrated on his older operation.

☆

FRED ENTERED the grocery business while nine-years-old as a part-time employee of a store in his native Edinburgh, Scotland. At 13½ he completed his formal schooling and started working full-time.

His family migrated to Canada in 1920, where Fred met and married his wife.

In 1923, they came to the United States, where she was a citizen and Fred entered as a "Nickle immigrant" — it cost 5c for a ferry ride from Windsor to Detroit.

Fred pursued the grocery and meat business, mostly in Detroit, but he did get out to Oceanside, Calif. where he managed an A&P store.

When he decided to come to Tecumseh in 1945, Fred contracted the construction of his Pearl St. building, with the store on the street level and two apartments upstairs.

He helped bring Kiwanis to Tecumseh, was the club's charter president. A member of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, he belongs to the local Masonic Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield were honored by many relatives and friends at an open house Sunday, Dec. 27, at the Britton Methodist Church.

House Plants Are Brought for Shut-ins

Mrs. Wilbur Andrews entertained members of the Little Garden Club for the Christmas party at her home.

Each member brought a house plant for a shut-in and each told of her most memorable Christmas.

Mrs. Ira Montague read Peter Marshall's sermon on "Let's Keep Christmas." Recorded Christmas music was played.

Mrs. Herbert Newman, president of the Tecumseh Garden Club was a guest.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Montague, Mrs. Paul Burns and Mrs. Ted Templeton.

Mrs. Don Purkey will be hostess for the Jan. 19 meeting assisted by Mrs. Earl Baldwin.

WITH COKE MUSIC BOX (LEFT) PLAYING, THE REV. ALVIN BRAZEE TELLS STORY TO HIS CONGREGATION.

VFW Members Donate Blood to Ill Mother

Members of the Hall-Slater Post of the VFW recently donated blood to aid Mrs. Charles Duckworth, mother of Warren Duckworth, a post member.

Those donating were Melvin Wegner, Gaza Kish, Theodore Schmidt, Marion Pease, Roy Beasley, Warren Filter and Clarence Conklin.

The donations were made at Herrick Memorial Hospital and taken to an Ann Arbor hospital, where Mrs. Duckworth was a patient.

Commander Kish announced that the Post and Auxiliary sent three baskets of food to needy families at Christmas.

They were made up and delivered by Lloyd Stites and Clifford Curran.

Tecumseh's dean of clergymen, the Rev. Alvin Brazee, was given quite a lengthy story in the trade journal of the Coco-Cola soft drink company in the November-December issue.

His picture also appeared.

Several years ago, while thumbing through old magazines, Mr. Brazee came upon a 1919 issue of the Expositor, a minister's journal .

In it he found a full-page ad for Coca-Cola, which he clipped and sent to the company in Atlanta thinking they might like to have it for their records.

In appreciation the company sent a small music box, in the shape of a red cooler for coke to the minister, who used it in connection with his "sermonette" for children each Sunday morning.

One of the children was permitted to wind the box if it ran down during the telling of a story.

The journal reads in part "So important had the music box become in the story telling routine and so much wear had it received in constant youthful handling, that friends petitioned the company for a replacement.

"A successor, another bright red color went off post haste, and today plays its soft, tinkling "Brahm's Lullaby", while the Rev. Brazee continues to delight his hearers, both juvenile and adult, with the beauty and depth of his sermons."

The picture showed Rev. Brazee talking to the children in the Iron Creek Church with the music box in the side line.

John Deere Day To Attract 600

Nearly 600 rural folks will flock into Tecumseh Jan. 14 for the annual John Deere Day—being staged the 24th time by the Hoyt Whelan Implement Co.

"Guests will come from as far away as 40 miles to enjoy the movies and sumptuous noon meal.

The Whelan Co. has been putting on a "day" for its customers each January since 1925.

When the Deere Co. began offering special motion pictures for a Deere Day to dealers, it fit the Whelan promotion to a "T".

☆

THIS YEAR, one film that's expected to draw considerable interest will be a report on the new John Deere 435 diesel tractor.

Another item: developments in eight-row farming and graining drying.

A valuable educational feature will be the film on chemistry in farming, cotton for machine picking and stubble-mulch farming.

Nationally famous TV commentator Walter Kronkite will "emcee" the film presentation which includes musical numbers, thh popular "Oddities in Farming" and an eye-opening visit to the John Deere Plow Works to see precision automatic production of high-speed plow shares.

"Oddities in Farming" will take the audience from Arkansas to Minnesota, to see types of agriculture as unusual and varied as these states are far apartt.

The big feature of the unusual rice farm near Brinkley, Arkansas, is the rotation crop: carp of a size that would make any angler proud.

☆

THE YOUNGSTERS especially will like a visit to the Halvorsen Christhmas tree farm in Duluth, Minnesota.

They can watch the interesting steps by which tiny seedling trees grow to become the principal decoration of the Christmas season.

There'll be no secrets about how quality high-speed shares are made after John Deere Day visitors see the exciting film on this automatic, precision production line at the John Deere Plow Works in Moline, Illinois.

The color motion picture shows in rapid sequence every step from the shearing of the steel blanks to final packaging of the shares.

Novelty numbers and musical features round out the show.

Spirit Took Command

Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee Braves second baseman, is a fighter.

He doesn't give up easily, not even when there are three strikes against him. To Red, the game isn't over until the last man has been tagged out.

Red was happy, apparently healthy, and on top of the world when the World Series ended in 1958.

He had a family—three lovely girls and a fourth child on the way. At 35, he was tops in his career.

Then he found out that he had tuberculosis.

Red thought that he was finished for sure as a ball player and quite possibly would not even survive.

However, Red's natural competitive spirit took command.

This healthy outlook combined with the modern treatments for TB helped Red not only get out of bed, but even allowed him to put on a baseball uniform and play in some of the final games of last season.

This experience led Red to volunteer to be the first national honorary Christmas Seal chairman the tuberculosis associations have had.

He knows what TB can do and he knows what help Christmas Seals have provided in the fight against TB.

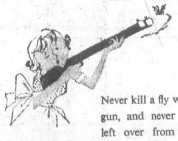
Sound Advice



Never kill a fly with a shotgun, and never use drugs left over from a serious illness for self-treatment of a similar ailment. In the first case, you'll blow your kitchen ceiling to smithereens along with the fly. In the second case—you get the point. You see, modern drugs are highly potent—that's why we dispense them only when your physician prescribes. If you dose yourself with leftovers, you may do serious damage. It's a good idea to pour the remains of old prescriptions down the drain and destroy the bottles.

IN OPERATION—The new Dundee Cement Co. plant started producing clinker from the No. 1 Kiln last week. Kiln No. 2 will be put into operation soon. The firm plans to be producing cement in about 14 days. Site of the $25 million plant is just north of Dundee. Photo is through courtesy of The Dundee Reporter.

No Dust at Dundee Industry

DUNDEE—A million dollars is being spent to control dust from stacks of the Dundee Cement Co.

So thorough will be the mechanism for dust prevention, that nothing but harmless smoke will be visible.

Roblee B. Martin, general manager, said a set of electrostatic precipitators operating like magnets to attract more than 99% of the cement dust, which is as fine as face powder, will catch the dust which would otherwise be expelled through the smokestacks of the plant.

The small amount of dust which does escape will be so small that it will not show a trace in the immediate neighborhood or in the village about a mile from the plant, Mr. Martin said.

The $1 million for dust control represents one-tenth of the total amount being spent for machinery in the plant.

Production at the plant which, when in full operation, will be able to produce five million barrels of cement a year, will begin early this year and the formal opening will be in the spring.

New Businesses Added

Statistics released by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reflect the growth of the business population in Lenawee county during the past year.

Figures obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January, 1960 totaled 1,152 manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers in this area as compared to 1,125 in January, 1958.

The book lists all manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit.

It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers.

Therefore, the figures for businesses in Lenawee county would actually be higher than the 1,152 quoted above.

Felton added that during the past year 78 changes were made in the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book listings of Lenawee county businesses, including 23 names added, 25 names deleted, and 29 changes in the ratings of continuing businesses.

Each Reference Book listing, which includes financial rating, is a condensed summary of the information contained in the Dun & Bradstreet credit report.

The report includes the following; a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement; and a record of how the business pays its bills.

While credit reports are primarily used by businessmen who want to evaluate the credit risk of a business before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters also use credit reports to review risks, rates, and coverage for fire and other types of insurance.

Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. has been reporting on American business since 1841 without cost of any kind to the business it reports on or lists in its Reference Book.

Deerfield Banker Is Being Honored

Among three Michigan citizens who will receive citations for distinguished service to agriculture during Michigan State University's 55th annual Farmers' Week will be Arthur J. Ingold of Blissfield.

Mr. Ingold is president of the Deerfield State Bank and is a feeder of cattle and producer of cash crops.

His citation points out that he was a strong influence in establishing the Lenawee county agricultural extension service and has helped many farmers secure credit beyond the capacity of his bank from other sources.

Awards will be presented at the Wednesday morning program, Feb. 3.

Hobby Becomes 'Big Business' for Clare Handy

Clare Handy started a hobby of collecting rare stones and minerals about a year and one-half ago.

Little did he realize at the time how it would grow.

First his wife and children became interested and soon it had become a family project.

Gradually friends joined in and before long many Tecumsehites were "mineraling."

The family opened a small rock and mineral shop in their home and interest began also teaching lapidary, which is the art of making costume jewelry with mineral stones.

This week the Handys are expanding operations, moving into a place at 4307 Comfort Rd., which is next door to their present home.

While not toiling at the hobby, Mr. Handy works the first shift in the white room at the Products.

Sales Gimmicks Will Decline

NEW YORK — Food prices should be stable in 1960 and help hold inflation in check, according to Ralph W. Burger, president and board chairman of A&P.

"Abundant food supplies will continue into the new year," said Mr. Burger, "and there is strong evidence that consumer prices will be similar to or slightly below the low levels reached during 1959."

The nation's leading food retailer also foresees an industry-wide leveling off in new store openings, oversized stores in many areas which are already overstored and the trend of the past decade toward the stocking of more and more non-food items.

He said he also expects the pulling power of promotional sales gimmicks and giveaways to decline.

"I believe the industry has just about reached the saturation point in construction of store units in certain areas," he observed.

"It has been growing faster than the population increase and population shifts. Of course, none of us can afford to ease up in our efforts to remain modern and to replace old stores with new ones."

Giveaway schemes have about "run their course, in Mr. Burger's opinion, "because the consuming public realizes there is no 'pie in the sky' and the expense of such promotions ultimately must be added to the cost of doing business."

In reviewing the past decade, Mr. Burger noted the sharp rise in demand for "convenience" foods including a revolution in frozen items and ready mixes as well as giant strides in the development of prepackaged merchandise, particularly in meats and fresh fruits and vegetables.

The biggest news for consumers during the past year, the A&P official said, was the marked decrease in food prices at a time when the overall cost of living index was reaching an all-time high along with a record personal income.

Mr. Burger attributed much of the food price index dip to lower retail prices for coffee, meat, poultry and fresh produce. Coffee prices dropped about 20% during 1959 and currently are only about half of the all-time high prices of June 1954.

Construction of the 28x45 cement block addition, directly behind the boiler room, is nearly complete.

Installation of equipment is expected to begin next week.

When ready to go, all laundry work will be handled here. At present, the hospital is spending about $1,600 a month to commercial sources for this work.

Mr. Gilbert states that the laundry is large enough to handle needs of a 125-bed institution. Herrick Memorial, at present, is of 78-bed size, excluding nursery capacity.

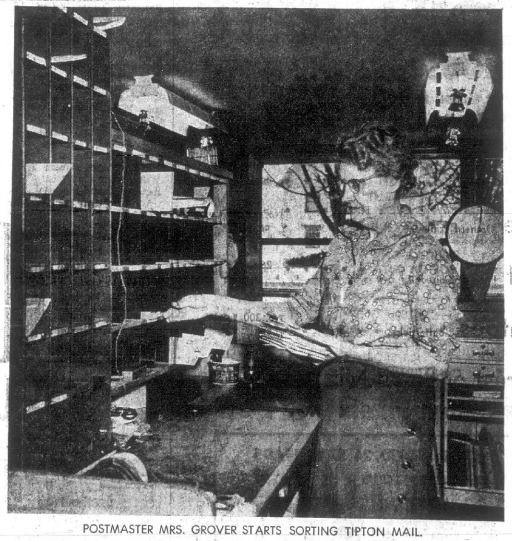
TIPTON FINALLY HAS ITS OWN POST OFFICE BUILDING.



POSTMASTER MRS. GROVER STARTS SORTING TIPTON MAIL.

Post Office in Tipton Has Own Location

After being located in almost every commercial building in Tipton, the community's post office finally has its own structure.

A 24x40' building of cement block, with a brick and sand stone front, it was constructed by Mr. and Mrs. Grover Swarts.

Mrs. Swarts is town postmaster. The interior is finished in Philipine mahogany with asphalt tile flooring. There is perimeter-type heating and flourescent lighting.

A post office was first established at Tipton June 6, 1834.

It moved from place to place over the years, being located in several private homes besides stores.

As amounts of mail going into and leaving Tipton increased, the Tipton office reached the stature of third class July 1, 1945. At that time Mrs. Vera Driffill was postmaster.

In 1955, she resigned and Mrs. Swarts was sworn in Jan. 1, 1956.

At present there is one rural route out of Tipton, carried by Edwin Deis. Dorothy Wisner is substitute carrier.

Clerks in the office are Myrtle Radant and Peggy Wilkins.

A formal dedication of the new building will be held in the spring.

The postmaster is busy compiling a history of the office and would appreciate any information or old pictures.

BOOK SHELVES

RIDER ON A WHITE HORSE
By Rosemary Sutcliff

In seventeenth century England, war a man's business. Wives and sweethearts were expected to remain at home. But Lady Anne Fairfax was no ordinary woman. When her husband rode off into the English Civil War, Anne, born a soldier's daughter and now a soldier's wife, determined to go with Sir Thomas wherever the fortunes of war might lead him. And so, with her five year old daughter she rode out of the comfortable existence she had known and into the greatest adventure of her life.

THE WITCH DOOR
By Elisabeth Ogilvie

A sleepy summer island off the Maine coast becomes the scene of baffling and terrifying events when Craig Atwood, after a mysterious eight-year absence, suddenly returns to his wife and children.

THE DARKNESS AND THE DAWN
By Thomas Costain

Portraying the days when the might of Attila the Hun hung over the civilized world like a black cloud, the author brings into sharp focus the loves and hates, ambitions and schemes of all the main characters: Attila, the Scourge of God, his many wives, his sons, his generals, and his fantastic court.

THE KING'S FOOL
By Margaret Barnes

Will Somers, with his flashing wit and natural exuberance of spirit, was his father's despair and his uncle's burden, the most expendable creature on the farm, yet by strange coincidence the King of England himself found Will "a witty, impudent knave." Many readers will say he won on the field of love as well.

CALL DOWN THE STORM
Lee Gette Blythe

Holly Grove is a great Carolina mansion; in many ways it is the South. For it has known changing cycles of tranquility and turbulence and the strange, hurtful conflict of belief and experience. Based on authentic background material, this novel is timely and controversial.

Here Is Where You Can Send Old Cards

Christmas cards are so nice to receive, bringing their greetings and meaningful reminders of the holiday season.

But after they have been read and re-read, what can the residents do with them?

The Herald office has had calls from Mrs. Howard Everhart and Judy Maynihan giving information of some worthy groups that make good use of these bright colored cards.

Below are printed the addresses of four such organizations.

Mothers of Crippled Children
% Mrs. Virginia Smith

Cost of mailing the cards is nominal and pleasure received by the children for whom they are intended is great.

Members of the Tecumseh Service Club also have need of used Christmas cards to make tags for their gifts each year.

Anyone that would like to donate their cards for this cause may leave them at the fire station.

Several families are enjoying their cards a second time over by making them into tags for next year for the Service Club's use.

Tecumseh in 30 Years?

City hall was a busy place Tuesday evening. Two sessions were being held simultaneously — one in the council chambers and the other in the city offices — both considering the long-range future of this community. One was the first annual gathering of the Tecumseh Community Chest Fund Foundation, which is preparing to embark on a program of financing public improvements. The other was a regular session of the city planning commission, which took its first peek at what downtown Tecumseh might look like in 30 years. Complete details of the two meetings appear immediately below.

★ ★ ★

Foundation Plans

Within 30 days, trustees of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation will appoint a Citizens Committee, which is going to examine a variety of answers to this question:

What does Tecumseh, as a community, need in public buildings?

A slate of nine trustees was named Tuesday evening at a public gathering of the Foundation in the city hall attended by about 50.

Trustees, in turn, will select the citizens group, which will probably have seven members.

Elected to the board and the years for which they were named to serve:

Three years: Mrs. Joe Galazzi, Mrs. Barnard Fero and the Rev. James Nixon.

Two years: Vern Manwaring, Virgil Tucker and Merlyn Downing.

One year: Mrs. H. H. Hanna, John Thompson and Owen Partridge.

The boardsmen choose Mr. Manwaring as president, Mr. Tucker as VP, Mr. Downing as treasurer and Mrs. Fero as both secretary and recording secretary General discussion of what the Foundation could do took up much of the evening.

Among some of the comments:

Hugh Donahue: "Let's consider an adequate park system."

Ray Herrick: "Our hospital is self-supporting, so can anything built by the Foundation if it is carefully studied first and well-managed later."

Les Bennett: "There is no place to put on a concert, no place to hear them. Culturally, we have an obligation to young people, citizens at large."

George Schumm: "A starting point might be to work with the city planning commission, fit into that picture, plan how the city will look in 25 years."

Griff Williams: "Any buildings (Foundation financed) should not become a burden on taxpayers."

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Attention, broken-down athletes with bulging waistlines.

There's still a chance for you—not to recapture the fleeting fame of your golden years—but to get back a little of that physical vim you enjoyed in decades gone by.

Starting this Thursday evening, from 7:30 until 6:30, adult phys ed classes will be held in the high school gym last week.

Eight sessions are planned and it will cost $3 per man for the stint.

It's being staged under the local adult education setup.

There'll be volley ball and other non-vigorous games to help pare off a few excess pounds.

Nothing like a regular workout to tone up those muscles.

Wives are advised to get in a supply of liniment.

Stories about a calamity always make fascinating reading. A volume, currently available at the local library, is no exception.

It made my skin crawl, my tongue dry, my eyes twitch.

Called "Holocaust," it tells of the 1942 Cocoanut Grove nightclub fire in Boston.

A Boston Globe writer was the author.

His finished product required tremendous research as he reconstructed the evening and the months which followed, charting the lives of many who were in the fire.

All told, 490 died as a result of the tragedy, when more than 1,000 jammed into the club on a gay war-time Saturday evening. Its authorized capacity: 460.

Writer Paul Benzaquin carefully recounted everything which happened in the Grove from the time the blaze began—accidently started when a 16-year-old busboy used a match to find a light socket in order to replace a bulb in the Club's Melody Lounge, which was in the basement.

The boy had no idea what was taking place. He never saw the low blue glow which flickered in the false ceiling as he concentrated on the chore at hand.

But at least one patron and a bartender observed the stange phenomenon. The barman grabbed a towel and attempted to swap out the seemingly trivial thing, as the gaity went on about him. But he couldn't get it under control.

What actually was happening was that the highly flamable decorations were smoldering and dissolving instead of bursting into flame because of low oxygen content near the ceiling.

As the phantom reached the stairwell and met oxygen, it turned into a red ball and was sucked upstairs. The stairs acted as a chimney.

From here, it shot into every portion of the club.

Fighting to get out—and not knowing exactly which was to go—patrons pushed and shoved. A poisonous gas created by the burning decorations, added to the treacherous situation.

One emergency door had been bolted shut . . . so that no patron could sneak out without covering his check.

The main entrance's revolving door became jammed for several vital seconds when the foot of one guest was caught. The dead and dying piled up like cordwood in front of it.

At another end, several guests managed to smash open a double door, which proved to be the best avenue of escape.

But even many who found their way into the street, collapsed and died from the gas.

First three reporters on the scene were so overwhelmed by what they saw, descriptions to their city desks were.

"Phil, My God, Phil. They're laying them on the sidewalk," the Globe man screamed.

"My God! They're all dead," said the Herald's representative.

"I'm at the Cocoanut Grove. It's terrible, terrible," were the Post reporter's only words.

Immediately, in every city room the desk men knew that a giant story was breaking. Seldom do reporters react in this way.

Looking back months later, they agreed it was one of Boston's biggest and most heartrending yarns.

As I read "Holocaust" I couldn't help but think, "Are all the public buildings in our community safe from this sort of tragedy?"

Our alliteration contest — a sentence of at least 10 words, each beginning with the same letter—has gotten underway.

So far, there's one entry. To get the ball rolling, we'll let you see it. This should start you to your typewriters to compose.

Remember, the first prize is a one-year subscription to The Herald. What more could anyone desire, eh?

Well, here's what Mrs. Ray Zimmerman, 721 N. Union St. dreamed up:

"Influx of fickle flu filches fleeting fragments of life from frenzied, frustrated, unfortified finites."

Et tu?

Final Cost: $700,000

Dale Clark, General Telephone district manager, reports that construction of the new Tecumseh building should be completed in early spring.

Located at the corner of E. Chicago Blvd. and Oneida Streets, the new $175,000 brick-and-concrete-block building has nearly 10,000 feet of floor space.

Room is provided for a customer business office and equipment for the dial and Direct Distance Dialing systems.

The conversion to dial and Direct Distance Dialing is scheduled for late 1960.

Construction of the building, installation of the equipment, cable projects and other related work will require a total investment of around $700,000.

Businessman Wiley McCann Dies Suddenly

A private funeral service was held Monday for Wiley F. McCann, former postmaster, who died suddenly at 3:30 p.m. Friday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been taken by ambulance only two hours earlier.

Mr. McCann was born Nov. 7, 1900, the son of Thomas and Anna McCann. He attended Ypsilanti Normal School and the Assumption College in Windsor.

He was 59-years-old at the time of his death and was a lifelong resident of the city.

Mr. McCann was owner of The Shopper Guide, an advertising publication printed at his home at 212 N. Maiden Lane.

He was previously associated with his father in the clothing business for many years.

☆

MR. McCANN is survived by his wife, Helen; three daughters, Mary Pat, a student at Eastern Michigan University, Anna Kay and Teresa, both at home, and a son, Michael, also at home.

He was preceded in death by a sister, Mrs. Eleanor Tressler and one brother, Harold.

The Rosary was recited at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home Sunday evening with the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins officiating.

Bearers were Hal Smith, Dr. Robert Mohr, Harry Weakly, Lee Phibbs, R. H. Miller and Clyde Drewyor.

Burial was in the Lenawee Hills Memorial Gardens.

Businessmen Hold Dinner

Members of the retail division, Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, will hold a dinner meeting Thursday, Jan. 21.

At the VFW Hall, it will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Retail promotion plans will be discussed for 1960.

Giant Block Could Encompass Business, Civic Center Areas

What will downtown Tecumseh look like in 1990?

One possibility was offered to the city planning commission by Jim Smith, local architect and a member of the group.

Mr. Smith's preliminary drawing was tentatively approved by the commission and he was authorized to make more detailed plans.

His prime job is to work out, for the city master plan, commercial and business zoning for Tecumseh. He has neatly tied this with a large section for civic buildings.

In his proposal, Mr. Smith advocates a giant area, now four blocks long (Pearl to Maumee) and two blocks deep (Pottawatamie to Logan) to be encompassed into a single block with no cross traffic.

This would include the present business district, with off-street parking being established along the rear portions of the stores. Chicago Blvd. and cross streets in the area would be transformed into malls.

At the east end—in the city hall area—would be a large park section in which various public buildings could be erected.

According to the plan, traffic on Chicago Blvd. would be deverted north and south to Logan or Pottawatamie, each of which would become one-way streets in different directions.

N. Evans St. would be rebuilt from St. Peter's Church southward to flow directly into W. Chicago Blvd. at Pearl. The railroad tracks along Evans would be deverted.

This is the first thrust at a 30-year plan for downtown Tecumseh.

25th Anniversary Being Celebrated

Just 25 years ago, a young Tecumseh man named Eddie Green became the Rev. Edward R. A. Green.

He had been ordained into the Episcopal Church priesthood.

The Rev. Mr. Green is returning to Tecumseh Sunday as part of the observance of his silver anniversary at St. Peter's, his first church.

Now the rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Dearborn, he will celebrate Holy Communion at the 11 a.m. service here.

The Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne, present rector, will act as Gospeler and preacher with Russell Cooper, lay reader, as Epistoler.

Following the service, the Episcopal churchwomen of St. Peter's will act as hostesses at a reception for Mr. Green in the Parish Hall.

A buffet luncheon will be served later, with those who were members of the parish during Mr. Green's rectorship as special guests.

Mr. Green was ordained Jan. 17, 1935 by the late Rt. Rev. Herman Page, D. D., then the bishop of the Diocese of Michigan St. Peter's had also been Dr. Page's first church.

☆

MR. GREEN came to Tecumseh in September, 1934, having been made a deacon the previous June at St. John's Church, Detroit, by Bishop Page.

ARROW INDICATES BEDROOM WHERE MURDER VICTIM WAS DISCOVERED TUESDAY.

Son May Have Murdered Mom

An ex-convict, who has lived in Tecumseh with his sister since September, may have murdered his mother here Tuesday morning

Tecumseh police chief George Kilbourn has signed a first degree murder warrant for the man.

Murdered by a stab wound on the right side of the neck was Mrs. Viola Lucas, age 74, visiting here from Blackburg, Va.

She was staying with her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Jennings, 303 E. Pottawatamie St. Her body was found at 12:15 p.m. by Mrs. Jennings, on the floor of an upstairs bedroom.

The son, unemployed, 23-year-old Henry Lee Lucas, who had been staying at the Jennings' home the past four months, was missing.

Mother and son had last been seen together at 9:30 p.m. Monday in a W. Chicago Blvd. tavern.

☆

THE MURDER probably happened at about 3:30 a.m. Tuesday when a renter, William Eldridge, an employee of Meyers Aircraft Co., who lived downstairs on the east side of the home, heard a loud thud that awakened him.

Chief Kilbourn states that a car theft the same night is probably tied in with the escape of Lucas.

A 1957 Ford was stolen sometime between 1:30 and 7 a.m. from Johnny's and Bill's Cities Service station 211 E. Patterson St.

An autopsy, performed by Dr. J. H. Ahroneheim of Jackson Tuesday afternoon, revealed death was a result of a wound by a thin, sharp instrument, probablyy a pen knife.

Evidence of choking was also detected.

☆

LUCAS HAS "spent more time in prison than out" according to the Tecumseh chief.

His FBI file, as reported by state police, dates back to 1945 when he was arrested for car theft in Fort Worth, Texas.

He later took an auto in Colorado and three in Virginia.

His record also includes breaking and enterings and burglary.

One of his car hoists landed Lucas in the federal reformatory in Atlanta, Ga.

He also spent two terms in the Richmond, Va. state prison.

LUCAS FIRST came to the attention of Tecumseh police in 1956 when he escaped from Richmond, while working on a road gang.

He came here, was picked up by local police and returned to Virginia.

His term there ended in late summer and he returned to Tecumseh to live with his sister.

At that time, a Richmond prison official wrote Mrs. Jennings that he had tried to arrange for a rehabilitiation program in Virginia for Lucas, but was unsuccessful. He said Lucas needed help.

According to police, Lucas had not worked since coming here, but had applied for a job at Meyers Aircraft and was to report there Tuesday.

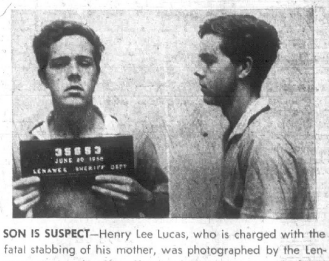
His application was found Tuesday morning in the front room of the Jennings' home.

The FBI dossier on Lucas lists at least two aliases he has used, Frank Smith and James Lee Triplett.

☆

SERVICES for Mrs. Lucas will be held Friday at 3:30 p.m. from the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home with the Rev. James Nixon officiating.

Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.



SON IS SUSPECT—Henry Lee Lucas, who is charged with the fatal stabbing of his mother, was photographed by the Lenawee county sheriff's office in June, 1956. Lucas had just been captured in Tecumseh after escaping from the Richmond, Va. state penitentiary. According to FBI records, as released by state police, his trouble with the law started in '45.

Chief Warns About Double Parking Habits

Police Chief George Kilbourn issued a warning to motorists and pedestrians.

He reminds Tecumseh drivers of an ordinance in regards to double parking which reads:

"No person shall stop or park a vehicle, except when necessary to avoid conflict with other traffic or in compliance with law or the direction of a police officer or traffic-control device, in any of the following places:

"On the highway side of any vehicle stopped or parked at the edge or curb of a street."

Chief Kilbourn states "Our trouble today is that we have forgotten the meaning of three simple words, which are time, respect and courtesy.

"If we will all slow down and take time to respect the rights and privileges of others, be a bit more courteous to our fellow men, we will be surprised how much better it will make us feel.

"When you are about to double park for a small errand, stop and think of the times you were delayed by a double parker.

"Due to the numerous complaints received on double parking, tickets will be issued to persons violating this ordance," the chief stated.

This applies to pedestrians, also. He must obey the pedestrian lights the same as the motorist is expected to obey the traffic signals. The city police are empowered to issue summons for jay-walking.

Chief Kilbourn reminds motorists that the center lane on Chicago Blvd. and Evans St. is for left turns only. Anyone using these lanes for through or right turns are subject to a summons, he warned.

4 More Street Lights Erected

Four more mercury-vapor street lights were installed Wednesday morning in downtown Tecumseh by Consumers Power Co.

Two went on N. Evans St., next to the bank and in front of Van-Mer's Dept. Store.

The other pair was erected on S. Evans St., along side the Watkins Shop and at The Herald office.

Offering double the illumination of the old street lights, the number of new lamps totals 26.

They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Forest Gray of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Mrs. Lawrence Faust, Sr. of Britton and Mrs. Glenwood Griewahn of 811 W. Russell Road; 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

25th ANNIVERSARY

In the Episcopal Church, a clergyman must be a deacon at least six months before he can be advanced to the priesthood.

The older members of St. Peter's Church always associate Mr. Green's ordination with the inclement weather which prevailed that Sunday 25 years ago.

Early in the day there was a severe sleet storm, and coupled with a high wind and falling temperature, it made driving hazardous and slow.

The service was scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., but the Bishop along with the participating clergy and many guests arrived almost an hour late.

However, despite these difficulties, the ordination service was a memorable occasion both in the long life of historic St. Peter's Church and in Mr. Green's ministry.

At the Diocesan Convention two weeks later when Bishop Page introduced the newly-ordained clergy, he remarked with his customary humor that he "slipped" Mr. Green into the priesthood.

Mr. Green also had the distinction at that time of being the youngest rector of the oldest church in the Diocese of Michigan.

☆

MR. GREEN is a native of Michigan, having been born in Lansing June 19, 1909. Following his graduation from the old Lansing Central High School.

He entered Michigan State University at East Lansing, graduating from there in June, 1931, with high honors and an AB degree.

The fall of 1931 he enrolled at the Seabury-Western Theological Seminary in Evanston, Illinois. He was graduated from there in June, 1934.

When Mr. Green came to St. Peter's Church in September, 1934, Tecumseh was beginning to emerge from the low economic conditions of the Great Depression.

The fabric of the century-old church had suffered since the depression prevented proper maintenance.

Hence, during his tenure a program of repairs and improvements was developed. Another emphasis was the strengthening of the Church School and youth work.

He was also active in community affairs. He served on several Boy Scout and youth committees. He belonged to the Tecumseh Rotary Club, and was the District Governor's representative when the Tecumseh Club started Rotary in the neighboring community of Clinton.

He was appointed to the original Board of Directors of the Tecumseh Community Hospital which later was renamed the Herrick Memorial Hospital.

☆

IN JUNE, 1933, Mr. Green was married to Fannie A. Nadler in the seminary chapel in Evanston, Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Grieves attended the wedding as representatives of the parish.

Mrs. Green, a native of Peru, Illinois, taught kindergarten in Milan, Mich. before coming as a bride into St. Peter's Rectory.

In July, 1941, Mr. and Mrs. Green left Tecumseh for Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, where Mr. Green became the rector of St. James Church.

January, 1949, he was called to be the canon pastor of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Detroit and in 1951, Mr. Green assumed his present position as rector of Christ Church, Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Green have three sons. The oldest, David Edward, was born while they were in Tecumseh. Frederick Michael and Robert Patrick were born in Sault Ste. Marie.

Mr. Green's mother, Mrs. C. F. Green, made her home with them when they lived in Tecumseh.

RECKLESS DRIVING

City police arrested Gary A. Fairbanks, 19, of Britton, Thursday and booked him in the county jail for reckless driving. He pleaded guilty before Justice Ernest Oliver and was fined $50 and costs of $4.30. He was arrested and booked at 9:27 p.m.

Mrs. Russell Cooper is parish secretary, Mrs. H. W. Dillon is organist and Keith Bailey, director of the choir.

Parish organization presidents are:

Mrs. A. J. Geisenhaver, Episcopal Churchwomen.

Mrs. Louis Schneider, Daughter of St. Peter's.

☆

Other Vestry members are Bruce Corley, Jack Curtiss, Wilbur Andrews, Mrs. Orville Laidlaw, George McCombs and Ray Shelton.

Following reports from the parish organizations, a summary of the life and work of St. Peter's was presented by the rector, the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne.

Senior Warden Philip Colgrove then explained the needs of the building program and announced that plans are being made for the eventual redecoration of the church.

St. Peter's is the oldest standing Episcopal Church building in Michigan, dating from 1833.

+ Adult Class Completes Course

The Rev. Edgar Owens reported that 26 adults of the Missionary Baptist Church have just completed a study course in the Books of Timothy.

There was an attendance of 97% for the morning and evening classes. Awards will be given those completing the course which was sponsored by the Sunday school.

Robert Maupin is the superintendent and Mrs. Wheeler Brown is the secretary.

Another study course will be presented in March sponsored by the Training Union Department.

The Rev. B. J. Furgason filled the pulpit of the Missionary Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening services during the absence of the Rev. Owen, who was called to Tennessee by the serious illness of his foster mother.

+ Giving Sermon About Funeral — His Own!

When the pastor of the Methodist Church in Tecumseh delivers a funeral sermon next Sunday it will not be the congregation's funeral but his own that he has in mind.

"Every accepted practice should be re-examined frequently in the light of what we believe," said the Rev. James D. Nixon.

His sermon this Sunday has for its theme, "Let's Make Funerals Christian!"

"Some funeral practices border on idolatry and paganism," said Mr. Nixon.

"Others are rich in meaning and serve to bring comfort to the bereaved. In this sermon there will be more of suggestion than of criticism. And I will outline the features of a Christian funeral, as I understand it."

"Come to think of it, I will be predicting what my own funeral will be like," he concluded.

Confirmation Class is Saturday at 11, and youth and adult membership classes are Sunday at 9 a.m. and 11:15.

+ Example of Love

The great example of love and sacrifice given by Christ Jesus and the good which results from following this example in daily life will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

BOB WOLLER, NEWCOMER TO TECUMSEH, MANAGES WAREHOUSE SALES.

Store Manager Named

Bob Woller, for 10 years the manager of a lumber yard in Marshall, has been named manager of Tecumseh Warehouse Sales.

Mr. Woller, with his wife, Florence, and their three children, have moved into 414 N. Maiden Lane.

Warehouse Sales, recently opened by W. S. Townsend of Marshall, is located behind the local office of Adrian Federal Savings & Loan. It is a building that once served as Schneider Bros. Chevrolet's agency service shop.

With Mr. Woller's arrival here, Warehouse Sales announces its regular hours: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 9 to 5:30 p.m. On Fridays and Saturdays, it will be open 9 until 9.

Tecumseh's newest business is selling a variety of merchandise, including furniture, appliances, shoes and clothing.

"We stand behind everything we sell," states Mr. Townsend, adding that all merchandise is guaranteed.

A grand opening sale is being planned for next weekend, reports Mr. Woller.

Art Teacher Is Needed

Twenty were present at the meeting of the committee for community achievement held Monday evening at the council room of city hall.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler read several success stories concerning what other cities are doing and asked for added needed improvement for Tecumseh.

Five were presented:

1. Full time art teacher for upper grades.
2. Program for better audience manners in the theater.
3. Suitable childrens movies for matinees and holidays.
4. Craft center for senior citizens.
5. Plant trees in our town.

Dale Tuckey spoke concerning the last suggestions saying that the Explorer Scouts, in connection with the Conservation Club, have been working on such a project and will certainly be able to bring it to completion.

Reports were given from each committee appointed at the last meeting.

☆

MEMBERS OF THE committee to investigate the school nurse situation were ill, but sent a report, telling of the survey made.

Most school officials thought a nurse would be an expensive project, the survey showed.

Earl Green, elementary school supervisor, told the group that the county nurse comes to Tecumseh schools two days a week and enrollment will be increased by only 600 in the next five years.

☆

DALE TUCKEY, an advisor of the Teen Club, told of the well-organized program with excellent adult supervision being carried on by that group.

He said that a table fennis tournament is being planned for Jan. 28. There is need for table tennis tables and better lighting for such activities.

The Hall-Slater Post of the VFW has donated one table and the club has received other donations of furniture in good repair. The group would like to rent or borrow tables for the tournament.

Mr. Tuckey announced that parents night for the Teen Club will be held Jan. 23 between 10 and 11 p.m.

Ollie Musch, Teen Club advisor from the Exchange Club, spoke about future plans for a French village for the club.

It was also announced that the Club has need of a small portable heater to heat one room for committee meetings rather than having to heat the whole suite. Meetings are always held with adult supervision.

THE COMMITTEE conducting the survey on the rest room situation reported that the bank had no immediate plans to provide rest rooms, perhaps in five or six years and that the merchants did not care to go to the added expense.

A park committee was appointed to work with the existing park committee from the planning board.

Those on the committee are Mrs. Larry Hart, Gene Tuckey, Wilfred Waldron, Mrs. Lee Purkey and Mrs. Knudson.

TEEN NEWS

Tecumseh High debators performed well at Grosse Ile on Friday. Both teams walked away with victories.

The affirmative team of Marilou Layton and Roger Mead had to debate in front of the whole Grosse Ile assembly.

Bob Dick and Jon Cook of the negative were allowed to present their discussion, "the federal government should substantially increase the regulation of the labor unions," in private.

The debate coach, John Babcock, told his affirmative team not to be so nervous about it because undoubtedly they would never see anyone from Grosse Ile again.

The next day, Marilou went to Ann Arbor to take her college board exams.

She was instantly recognized by a girl at her table. "Aren't you one of the debators from Tecumseh?" said the girl from Grosse Ile.

☆

The school newspaper, The Scout, will go on sale the end of this week. This is the first issue published for this school year.

Jon Cook and Kendra Frost are the co-editors with John Babcock as advisor.

Unsung THS Cagers Make Strings Sing

Two unsung members of Tecumseh's basketball team rallied the Indians to a 49-38 victory over Milan last Friday night.

The win also kept Coach Vic Lawson's cagers in a first place tie with Airport, both clubs sporting 4-1 records in the Huron League.

Jon Aho and Steve Kruger found the range in the third quarter against Milan to enable the Indians to enter the final quarter with a seven-point lead.

The surprising Aho popped in four field goals from the keyhole in the third stanza and added two more goals and a foul in the final for 13 points, tying Jim Poley for scoring honors.

Kruger, missing the early part of the season due to football injuries and playing his best game since a sophomore, netted six points, four coming in the third period.

His second goal put Tecumseh ahead to stay at the 33-31 mark.

The Indians, who host Ypsi Lincoln here Friday night, squandered away numerous scoring opportunities against Milan in the ragged fray.

Both clubs lost two players each via fouls—Bob Dick and Tom Walter were Tecumseh victims.

Milan, narrowed the gap late in the fourth quarter to six points but five straight Indian joints pulled Tecumseh out of danger.

Here's Hobby That Will Not Interfere with Your Travels

"Just so our hobby doesn't interfere with our traveling" smiles Mrs. Clyde Bailey in explaining why she and her husband got into weaving.

There are three looms in the basement of the Bailey ranch-style home at 202 Iroquois St.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bailey are skilled weavers. Working side by side on two of their looms, they can produce beautiful Irish linen table clothes, place mats, skirts, napkins, baby bonnets and bibs.

Weaving is a perfect hobby for folks who suddenly might decide to take a trip, as the Baileys often do.

Once the loom is "threaded" — 1,240 separate strands for a large table cloth—the job can be started.

Working steadily for two days would produce the finished product, but the Baileys like to do a little at a time.

The weaver can stop right in the middle, take a three-week trip and come back and simply pick up the task where he or she left off.

☆

HOW DOES someone get the weaving hobby?

The idea popped into Mrs. Bailey's mind many years ago when she took some youngsters from the Presbyterian Church on to Hartland, where the group visited a well-known shop which sells supplies and teaches weaving.

Mrs. Bailey immediately considered weaving as a hobby.

"At the time we were so busy doing other things, I just filed the idea away," she states.

In 1956, Mr. Bailey suffered a heart attack and had to take a leave of absence from his job as Mobil gasoline and oil bulk salesman for this area, a position he had held 34 years.

He never did go back to work, accepting full retirement at age 65 three years later.

As he regained his health, Mrs. Bailey thought about weaving again and so the couple took a trip to Hartland and began a training course.

Each was soon proficient at the loom and turning out a variety of items.

☆

THEY MAKE genuine Irish Linen, using the thread from Ireland, which is jobbed through a mill in New England.

For items made of wool and cotton, they purchase spools of yarn from the Lily Mills in North Carolina.

The third Bailey loom is a favorite with Clyde, who uses it exclusively for rag rugs.

While not partaking of their weaving hobby, the couple enjoys trips to the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Beal of Ann Arbor, where there are three granddaughters, ages seven, nine and 10.

They also get up to Gaylord where son Robert, a 1942 graduate of Tecumseh High School, teaches the fifth grade. Robert holds bachelor and master's degrees from Eastern Michigan University.

New England is another place the couple enjoys because of its many schools for weaving.

They have visited Berea College in Kentucky, which was established primarily to teach hill folks how to weave. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey are looking forward to a return trip there.

☆

THE OTHER evening, Mrs. Bailey made her first public appearance to explain her hobby. Members of the Monday Club, who had asked her to speak, were most impressed.

One asked if Mrs. Bailey ever taught weaving.

She replied she never had, but it might be fun.

Hearing her say it and watching her grin as she did, makes one think Mrs. Bailey certainly would. She'd have a ready teacher partner, too—husband Clyde.

Yule Baskets Given to 47

The group was assisted in the project by Tecumseh Jaycees, who repaired toys and also helped take baskets to the homes of needy families.

King-Size Present

Don Martin isn't going to have a cake for his 20th birthday as a Gamble's dealer—12 in Tecumseh—instead, he'll give himself a king-size present.

That present will be a brand new store, about 7,500 square feet of floor space, nearly twice the size of his present operation.

Last spring, Mr. Martin purchased the corner building at W. Chicago Blvd. and Pearl St. from C. O. Butler, former Ford dealer.

This building practically has been made completely over—a new building of new floors, walls and ceiling—and will quarter not only the new Gambles but also Woolworth's. Each business will have the same amount of floor space.

During the past few weeks, new lights and fixtures have been installed for Gambles and last week, new merchandise was moved in and readied for display. More is to come.

Don hasn't announced his opening date but from appearances, it can't be far off.

'New' March in Full Force

The "New" March of Dimes is going full force in Tecumseh with a variety of events.

Many Tecumseh area homes must have looked like "balloon factories", as one little girl remarked Saturday.

Tecumseh teenagers sold 1,400 balloons at a profit of $144. 81 for the New March of Dimes.

Dale Tuckey and Charles Baird of the Teen Club, assisted by Rhinehart Radant and Glen Work, supervised the sale assisted by many members of the club.

A profit of $40 from the dance in the evening was also donated by the Teen Club. Mrs. Mahlon Lord, Tecumseh chairman of the drive, informs the public of several other projects planned by various groups for the benefit of the New March of Dimes.

☆

ON JAN. 23 FROM 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. the Tecumseh Flying Club will fly people above the city for 2c per pound for the benefit of the March.

This event is sponsored by the CAP, Jacobs Flying Service and the Tecumseh Flying Club.

Jan. 30 has been set as an alternate date in case of rain.

The VFW Auxiliary have planned a bakeless bake sale for Jan. 14 with Mrs. Harold Meade as chairman assisted by Mrs. James Felton, Mrs. Roy Beasley and Mrs. Harlon Boyce.

Tickets for a drawing has been planned at the Airport Bowl for the weeks Jan. 18 through Jan. 31 by Royce Durkee and Ray Zimmerman. The drawing will be held Jan. 30 or 31.

☆

ON JAN. 23, a Polio Marathon will be held at the jail in Adrian with Tecumseh and Adrian joining forces for the drive.

The annual Mothers March will be held Jan. 28 conducted by members of the VFW Auxiliary and the American Legion.

Perhaps this year it will not be necessary to conduct an emergency drive with the help of Dads.

VFW PLAYS SANTA—VFW Commander Gaza Kish (right) and John Slick, community chairman for the Hall-Slater Post, presented their "adopted" boy, Ronald Burnett at the National Home at Eaton Rapids, with several gifts at Christmas, including the camera he is holding.

RIDDLE OF GENESIS COUNTY by Lynne Doyle. Search as you may, you will not find Genesis County, Indiana, in any atlas. But its people are as real as the people who made our history in the past and make our news today. The author writes with an intuitive understanding of the drama, the tragi-comedy of life and a power of presentation at once romatic and realistic.

SHADOWS ON THE WATER by Elizabeth Cadell. One of Mrs. Cadell's delightful characters tangles with a murderer in the very best circles of Lisbon. However, there is a most agreeable happy ending with many odd and wonderful things taking place in between. Justice and young love triumph, and there's more than a hint of not-so-young love triumphing as well.

BREAKFAST AT TIFFANY'S by Truman Capote. A short novel and three stories by an outstanding writer of this generation with themes and characterizations of a highly provocative nature.

THE LIGHTHEARTED QUEST by Ann Bridge. A fascinating excursion to an exotic, colorful and restless part of the world, Casablanca, Tangier, Fez, and through the Moroccan countryside. Here is adventure, political insight, and entertaining romance.

Ohio Dump Breaks into News

Tecumseh isn't the only community with a serious dump problem.

Among others struggling to find a solution is Defiance, O., which has considered the idea of compulsory refuse pickup.

The plan is meeting stiff opposition, with one objector even going so far as to say this arrangement is "an infringment on the freedom of the individual."

Here are portions of a story that appeared in Sunday's Toledo Blade regarding the Defiance situation.

"Defiance does not have a municipal garbage collection system. Instead, it has a franchise with the Defiance Sanitary Service to provide collections.

"The firm's contract with the city provides that it operate a land-fill dump three miles south of the city and make regular collections.

"But the franchise does not contain any agreement requiring mandatory collections.

"Both the company and the city over the years have had cause to regret this situation.

"For the company it resulted in reduced revenues and irregularity of pickups.

"As for the city, Mayor William E. Daoust said housewives complained that unrestricted burning resulted in dirty clothes on wash day.

"Others complained that uncollected garbage was a natural breeding grounds for rodents.

"The company serves some 2,800 paying clients. It has an estimated 3,900 to 4,000 potential customers.

"It also found that some families were avoiding payments by taking refuse to their neighbors on pickup days and even depositing refuse in downtown trash containers.

"So, the company and city tried to construct piece-by-piece a new ordinance.

"The company had suggested that increased collections could result in lower rather than higher charges for collections.

"Residents now pap $1.50 monthly for service twice a week during the summer and once a week during the winter.

"Customers are allowed two 20-gallon cans but the co-owners say this restriction was not enforced.

"The city also has agreed to do billing for the company along with water and sewer bilal.

"A $143 monthly payment which the city makes to the company for caring for the dump would in turn be eliminated.

"Now that the ordinance has been temporarily stymied, Mayor Raoust says it probably can be written to cover certain factors not previously considered.

"Among these would be provisions for pensioners, those persons with certain types of incinerators and possible exemption for homeowners with disposal units."

Constitutional Convention Is Goal of Jaycees

Jack Racklyeft of Garden City spoke to Tecumseh Jaycees last week about the state JC's major project:

★ A campaign for a new State Constitution.

Petitions on which 300,000 signatures could be collected to requre a special election have already been printed, the guest said.

However, there is a chance these may not have to be used.

If the legislature would call for a Constitution Convention vote through a special bill, the election could be held.

Mr. Racklyeft has met with several top legislators to propose this approach.

One of the chief stumbling blocks has been the way delegates to a Constitution Convention would be chosen—on the basis of senatorial districts.

The Republicans favor one idea and the Democrats another.

The Jaycees have proposed a compromise with one convention delegate per senator and one per representative.

If the legislature fails to call for another vote of the constitution question, the Jaycees will begin a state-wide drive to obtain the petition signatures and start the ball rolling on a special election.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin May Jr. and daughter Rene' of Angola, Indiana were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ernst.

Four Lose Licenses

Each week more than 25,000 reports of traffic convictions concerning Michigan licensed drivers flow into the central files of the Department of State in Lansing.

According to James M. Hare, Secretary of State, these driving conviction records for each motorist are kept up-to-date and when one has built up a twelve point total he is cited in for re-examination before a Driver Improvement expert in the county in which the erring driver resides.

During the past week the licenses of 377 Michigan drivers were suspended and those of 51 were revoked.

Among the Lenawee county drivers who lost their driving privileges were:

Lyman B. Cleveland, 507½ N. Evans St., Teecumseh.

Jack Arnold and Harold Caddy, both of Adrian, Loretta Moore of Manitou Beach, and Howard Sullins of Palmyra.

'Spirit of Man Is the Candle of the Lord

Mrs. Richard Coak presented devotions for the Baptist Women's Society Monday evening when 35 members met in the Youth House.

She used the topic, "The Spirit of Man is the Candle of the Lord" taken from the book, "Out of My Heart" by Agnes Slyh Turnball.

During the meeting, the date for the planning committee for the World Day of Prayer was set.

The meeting will be held Jan. 22 at the Gloria Dei United Lutheran Church.

The board meeting of the United Church Women will be held that same day at the Christian Church in Adrian.

Mrs. Anna Grigg asked that women bring rummage to the church rummage room as soon as possible for preparation for a sale soon.

☆

MRS. VERN MANWARING, Mrs. Stanley Cook and Mrs. Edie Kirkland were introduced as the Little Town Baptist Players and presented a playlet entitled, "Curtain Time." A gift of $32.46 was accepted.

Tall yellow tapers in exquisite crystal candelabra flanked a centerpiece of jonquils, dainty orchid pompoms and spikes of California heather on the serving table where Mrs. Floyd Bryan and Mrs. E. H. McConnell presided.

Mrs. John Surratt and committee furnished the refreshments.

Mrs. John Calhoun will be the speaker for the February meeting, telling of customs in her native country.

Mrs. Max Elliott will present the devotions and Mrs. Richard Lask will be hostess chairman.

Through My Window

ABOUT WINTER

Winter is many things to many people. To the child it is snowball fights, sleds and ice skates. To the motorist it is tire chains, icy roads and frozen-over windshields. To some of us, it is long periods of staying indoors and much, much good looking.

Winter wears many faces, has many changes of moods. From the inside looking out, we enjoy, not all of them, but certainly, a great many do make for interesting window pictures.

On dull overcast days, my view to the west is bleak and uninspiring. Dark, naked trees line the creek which runs brittle clear and icy.

If the creek is frozen over, it has a hard, steely grey surface; and if there is any snow, it sages over the ground looking limp, dingy and worn out.

This is a somber still scene—it is waiting for new snow.

An abrupt change of mood occurs when the snow arrives. In the throes of a blizzard the world outside my window becomes wild and unfriendly. As the icy snow particles whip through the trees, the limbs whistle and moan a tortured protest.

Angry wind-gusts lash the unprotected branches into gruesome wild ballets. Looking out one is doubly thankful for a comfortably warm and safe room.

☆

IF, HOWEVER, the snow comes down in large fleecy flakes, a quiet contentment settles over all. The ground smuggly snuggles under its new white blanket, the trees patiently wait for their clean white topcoat to be fitted and the creek turns inky black.

This is contented, still scene—one hopes that tomorrow will dawn clear and bright.

If fortune smiles and we are treated to one of Michigan's perfect winter days, the day after yesterday's snow will have sunshine and blue skies.

The bright sun will put diamonds in each snow flake and the world outside will be dazzling and brilliant.

Our post and rail fence will sport a cake frosting of white and the tree limbs will arch gracefully to hold their helping of white.

Don't, however, for a minute think that this scene is a static, black and white etching. There will be blue tinged shadows crisscrossing the new white carpet and as the sun moves across the sky, and the quality of the light changes, subtle shades of blue, pink and yellow will appear.

Finally to end a perfect day, if Mother Nature is really at her peak, the western sky will blaze in a vivid winter sunset. Scraping the last bit of color from the palette, our perfect days ends in a blaze of glory.

☆

BUT THIS, of course, is winter as it should be—cold and snowy. So far this year we have had woefully little of it.

Still speaking from a "looking" viewpoint, a warm, wet winter is miserable, dark, damp, bull and dreary! Rain does horrible things to my window pictures, absolutely horrible!

I will mention rain only briefly and as it pertains to the downfall we had immediately after Christmas. Wasn't it terrible!

In addition to being most unpleasant that rain was most unseasonable or at least, it produced these unseasonable. We had iris pushing little green leaves up to a height of an inch or so.

Thinking back, how often does it happen, that at this time of year, we go to bed at night with snow on the ground and wake in the morning to find it all gone?

Such crazy, mixed-up weather.

I understand that last week when The Editor saw what the title of this article was to be he wondered, "Where did she find out about it?"

"I remember, Tom."

But, maybe, if we don't get some cold and snow soon, my title, instead of being "About Winter!" should have been "What About Winter?"

Business of Farming Can Get Complicated

Look before you leap.

That old saying certainly applies to incorporating a farm business, says Elton B. Hill, agricultural economist at Michigan State University. Incorporating is a fairly quick, easy process.

Unincorporating may or may not be so quick and easy.

Mr. Hill recently wrote a bulletin on incorporation of the farm business. The publication also considers partnerships. And it briefly discusses land contracts —a farm transfer method that's on the increase in Michigan.

The publication—MSU Extension Bulletin 371—can be obtained free through county extension office.

Interest in incorporating farms has increased greatly in recent years, says Mr. Hill. He gives these reasons:

"Farmers are searching for ways to lessen the impact of taxes and legal costs in estate settlement.

"A 1956 federal law exempts certain small corporations from 'double taxation'. Until then, all corporation profits were taxed twice at the federal level—once as corporate profits and once as shareholders' income.

"Farms and farm investments are getting larger. This calls for new and better ways to organize the farm business."

☆

MR. HILL mentions these advantages of farm incorporation.

1. A business man may want to invest in a farm. He could buy a farm and hire a manager or bring in a tenant. But then he'd really assume financial responsibility for management and operation of the farm business.

The business could invest in a farm along with an established farmer and then incorporate. Then he'd be able to avoid responsibility for farm management and operation. In addition personal liability may be minimized.

2. In some cases, incorporation may aid farm transfer from one generation to the next. For one thing, parents can easily sell or give a few shares of stock to their children from time to time. Selling or giving a few acres of land might be more difficult.

Also, a land owner may want to start transferring the farm to his children before he gives up management control.

He can incorporate and sell or give shares to the children. We retains management control as long as more than 50% of the stock stays in either or both parents' names.

3. A "buy-and-sell" agreement between father and son sometimes helps the farm transfer go smoothly.

☆

"CORPORATIONS are no easy answer to all ownership problems," Mr. Hill asserts. "Belonging to a corporation doesn't change human nature."

Here are some of the disadvantages:

1. Setting up the organization isn't easy. An attorney and an account must handle details. Major stockholders and directors should read up on the legal and financial aspects of incorporation.

2. Operation involves a lot of accounting and book work even after the corporation gets going. Law requires certain records, an annual meeting of stockholders, and strict obedience to directors' orders. These items can prove irksome.

3. A transfer within the family may not run smoothly where a son or daughter who hopes to operate the farm becomes a minority stockholder.

4. The corporate profits tax and dissolution of the corporation may both present some pitfalls.

A SOUND MIND IN A SOUND BODY IS TO BE PRAYED FOR"

by Juvenal (65-140 A.D.)

In ancient days a sound body was truly a blessing for then known medicines gave very little help. Plagues would overnight decimate or wipe out cities. Any surgical operation was a death-defying ordeal.

Physicians can now prescribe effective medicines for which monarchs would have given their kingdoms in grateful payment. Yet these new drugs, many of which cost millions to research and perfect, are a few cents per treatment. They not only save lives, but by lessening sickness-time and requiring fewer visits from physicians, actually save you money.

Still Time To Donate for Seals

"If you have not yet sent in your contribution for your Christmas Seals, there is still time to do so," said Charlie "Paw Paw" Maxwell, Detroit Tiger outfielder and honorary state chairman for the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, to residents of Lenawee county.

"Latest Michigan Health Department figures to the middle of December show that 4,952 NEW cases were discovered in 1959 which proves that TB has not been licked.

At about 100 new cases a week, there will be more than 5,000 new cases for the year just ended."

All the activities of TB association, which go on year-round, are financed through the proceeds from Christmas Seals.

The many small donations all go together to make a powerful force to help fight this disease which still kills more persons each year than all other infectious diseases combined.

WHAT'S COOKING IN TECUMSEH

Speedy Chop Suey

Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt of Britton gives us her recipe for Speedy Chop Suey, which she says is a fine dish, especially for cooperative suppers.

Entertaining is one of Mrs. Eberhardt's main interests and when she is not planning a party for the pleasure of one of her daughters, she is busy cooking up something good for one of her neighbors.

Mrs. Don Judd, the oldest daughter, informs us that her Mom loves to have people around her and often invites friends and family in to eat because she likes it that way.

Pat, the youngest daughter, is a senior at Britton-Macon High School and thoroughly enjoys the hospitality her mother extends to her friends with pizza parties and many other types of fun.

Husband Elmer has been in the insurance business over 25 years, at the present location on W. Chicago Blvd., since 1952.

The Eberhardts are members of the Britton Congregational Church and its organizations.

A native of Britton, Mrs. Eberhardt belongs to Hospital Auxiliary, PTA, the Eastern Star and the Britton Women's Club.

She has taught church school for 25 years and public school for 9½ years before and after her marriage and is still on call as a substitute.

This past New Year's Eve, the Eberhardt's celebrated 29 years of happily-married life by having friends in to welcome 1960.

About that boulder in your eye

"Got something in my eye," the customer said. "Feels like a boulder. How about taking it out?" He was hurting and wanted help then and there. The pharmacist remembered hearing about another man whose "something" turned out to be a steel splinter embedded in his eyeball. He advised him to see his physician. Prompt surgery saved his sight. So, we're careful. And if we seem overly cautious sometimes, remember—we're pharmacists, not physicians. We work with doctors, dispensing the drugs and medications they prescribe. But we don't practice medicine.

Census District Office Is Opened as Project Starts

Establishment of a district office for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing at 109 Francis St. in Jackson, was announced today by regional office in Detroit.

Jack Thomson, Jr. will be supervisor of the district office.

He will direct a force of 25 crew leaders and 441 census takers in Jackson, Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe counties.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an advance census report form, a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics.

Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

In 1859, this stagecoach ran between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids. The journey was rough, dusty and tiring, but it was the best means of transportation available. In 1865, another historical event came to pass: the founding of Hastings Mutual Insurance Co., then known as Michigan Mutual Windstorm Ins. Co. Unlike the stagecoach, Hastings Mutual endures and continues to serve the best interests of Michigan farmers.

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED
. . . ATTEND CHURCH !

America is a land of bells!

Wedding bells, door bells, dinner bells, school bells, sleigh bells . . . all speak of a country where Freedom from tyranny exists.

Radio chimes keynote freedom of speech as commentators broadcast the news. Typewriter bells ring out freedom of the press. And church bells, whether they be the musical chimes from a cathedral's spire, or the ding dong from the steeple of a village chapel, typify freedom of religion.

Churches throughout the land are open to all. Inside their doors, we cast aside the fetters of worry that shackle our hearts in this atomic age. We find strength and courage to face the unknown future. Our faith, hope and trust in God, who says, "Fear not; for I am with thee," is renewed and peace fills our anxious souls.

Let us accept the invitation of the bells to "Come and worship," and go to church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

QUAKER OATS CO. RETIREE ORVILLE DEWEY SHOW FISHING PLUG TO FELLOW RETIREE OTTO TESKE

74 Years of Service

Two men, who between them gave 74 years of service to Quakers Oats here retired during the past year.

Both are 65-years-old.

1. Orville D. Dewey, completed 40 continuous years on Nov. 30.

2. Otto H. Teske, wound up 34 on Dec. 31.

Mr. Dewey was born Nov. 1, 1894 in Palmyra, began his employment with Quaker Oats Feb. 13, 1919.

His first duties involved various types of work in the press room. He became a macaroni press operator in 1933 and advanced to press room supervisor and head press operator in 1945, the position he held until retirement.

Mr. Dewey resides at 215 N. Pearl St.

While his plans for the future are not too definite, Mr. Dewey expects to spend much of his time at his cottage at Sand Lake, particularly during the summer weather and fishing season.

He likes traveling and may vacation in warmer climates in the south when the weather is cold in Michigan.

DEC. 25, 1894 WAS Mr. Teske's birth date in Raisin township and he started with the company Dec. 1, 1925.

He began in the packaging department working at several jobs in this department. He developed unusual skill adjusting and timing packaging machinery and was promoted to packaging machine attendant and supervisor of packaging operations in 1938.

At the time of his retirement Mr. Teske was foreman of packaging department.

Mr. Teske lives at 208 N. Democrat St.

According to his plans for the future, he will devote all of his time to taking care of his home, his large vegetable garden and church work. Mr. Teske is a member of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church in Tecumseh.

He is interested in religious activity and will devote much time to church work.

Mr. Teske is an ardent fisherman and whatever time he has left over from the above activities he will spend catching the big ones.

Alter Silver Being Blessed and Dedicated

A new set of altar silver for the Holy Communion will be blessed and dedicated at the 11 o'clock celebration of the Eucharist at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday.

The matched set consisting of Chalice, Paten, and Ciborium is a gift to the parish from the late Lydia Mills, in memory of her husband Gabriel.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills were former residents of Macon before moving to Lookout Mountain, Tenn.

The silver is sterling, hand crafted with a hammered finish bearing the hallmark of F. Osborne and the Wauthied Guild of London, England.

Each piece is gold plated on the inside surfaces. The pieces bear the memorial inscription and the name of the Church engraved on them.

Public Enemy on the Farm Mister Weed

Public enemy number one on the farms of Michigan might well be weeds.

Farmers spend thousands of dollars each year for chemicals, equipment and labor to keep them under control so crops can have a chance.

Sometimes it's little things a farmer does that makes a big difference in the number of weeds he has to control.

For instance, if he plows land that has been summer followed the season before, he is inviting weed trouble.

Boyd Churchill, farm crops researcher at Michigan State University, plowed part of a field that had been summer fallowed the year before.

Where he had plowed, there were ten times the weeds in the soybeans compared to where he hadn't plowed.

Information on soil acidity, phosphorus and potassium, along with knowledge of soil texture and drainage, will lenable profitable recommendations for use of lime and fertilizers.

As in the past, farmers can get their soil tested accurately at the county extension office in the courthouse. The county agricultural agent will make suitable lime and fertilizer recommendations for all soil samples tested.

The cost per sample has increased from 50c to 75c. This partially pays the cost of maintaining the soils lab, the rest of which is born by the county.

Coin-Operated Laundry Open 24 Hours Daily

Alton McGehee made a trip to the west coast to learn about techniques of bridge construction with pre-cast concrete.

He discovered something poles apart from the building game—the giant-sized, California do-it-yourself laundries open 24 hours a day.

The coin-operated, wash-and-dry game so fascinated Mr. McGehee, he started a tour that lasted seven months and took him into more than 1,000 such operations all over America.

He returned to his hometown of Hudson, where he is chairman of the board of M&S Manufacturing Co., with the idea of opening a chain of laundries.

His first two, at Hudson and Blissfield, soon had won their ways in the hearts of housewives in those communities.

Now, he's opening one in Tecumseh, west of town on M-50, directly across from the Kroger super market. It's in the former Jim McDowell residence.

☆

BUT, MR. McGEHEE isn't stopping at three.

His next layout is going to be in Jackson at the Southwest Shopping Plaza. This laundry will be the largest in the midwest, have 90 washers and 30 dryers.

In Tecumseh, there are at present 40 washers and 13 dryers, although the owner is already talking about possible plans for expansion next spring.

Called the All Day, All Night Laundromat, the local branch is fully equipped with Westinghouse appliances.

For a grand opening promotion, Mr. McGehee's place will offer free service on Friday from noon to 9 p.m. and on Saturday noon to 9 p.m. and on Saturday.

New Bridge Levy

The board of supervisors of Lenawee County was offered a plan to moderize rural bridges with a 2-mill tax levy Wednesday in Adrian.

Engineer Bill Burchfield outlined the plan which would require public approval in the November election.

It would yield $120,000 yearly. Mr. Burchfield said that the levy would be on state equalized valuation and would cost the taxpayers about 20c per $1,000 valuation.

CAUGHT BY POLICE— Henry Lee Lucas, facing a murder charge in the killing of his own mother in Tecumseh last week, was caught by Toledo police. State police detective Leslie Wykes (center) and Tecumseh police chief George Kilbourn brought him back to Michigan for trial. When the 23-year-old Lucas appeared in Clinton's justice court Tuesnoon, a Herald photographer and feature writer was on hand to record the scene. Loss of Recreation Funds Troubles Tecumseh Council

By JIM LINCOLN

Old familiar problems—ranging from house trailers to recreation program and to dogs—were on the council agenda Monday night. Council decided informally to investigate the Community Fund Board's decision not to assist financially in the city's recreation program after this year.

Discussion included increasing millage or going to the people for more money if the board's decision is final. Recreation expenses will run over $7,00.

House trailers were discussed at length, but no action was taken. Talk concerned trailers parked in residential areas.

Council approved publicizing the dog ordinance and warned of cracking down on owners of dogs who violate the ordinance.

Parts of the dog ordinance are published in this section of The Herald, and owners might save some fines and other troubles by acquainting themselves with the regulations controlling dogs.

Charles Howell's request to build a circular drive in front of his residence on W. Pottawatamie was delayed until council talked to architect Jim Smith, who is in charge of the city's master plan.

The Planning Commission rejected Howell's request to install the drive, saying that it did not conform to the master plan.

In other action, city attorney James Beardsley reported developments in the Templeton Construction Co. bankruptcy proceedings, and council authorized the Jaycees to hang a banner across M-50 to welcome state farmers here on March 5.

Who ever had the idea that the young man carrying daily newspapers to your front door is in a penny-ante business?

One Tecumseh carrier, with whom I visited last week, told me his 'Christmas tips last month topped $70!!

But don't run to apply for an easy, big money position as a newsboy.

That's the gravy for a year's job and when you realize it, certainly well earned.

These lads not only carry a bulky sack of papers each day, but also shoulder a great responsibility.

Millions of dollars are expended each year by giant metropolitan papers to gather and produce absorbing editions.

Then, the finished product is entrusted to a 12-year-old boy, who is the final link of a long chain.

Seldom does this boy let down his employer and customers.

The Free Press carriers are the ones who amaze me. Imagine popping out of bed about 5:30 a.m. on these murky, wintery mornings and then trudging around a route.

My hat is off to these lads and may each one's Christmas tips be doubled next year.

Come on you alliteration writers. Get your entry in for our 10-word sentence.

Here's an offering among those received last week. Mrs. L. A. VanGieson of rural Clinton is the "fiend" behind the typewriter:

"Daily dozen done deftly diminishes dumsions directly desistance deefreeze depredations."

First prize: a one-year subscription to The Herald (worth about $10, although we regularly only charge $3 in county, $4 outside.)

☆

Newspapering in a small community usually offers one obstacle:

Publicity chairman of women's groups always seem to insist in referring to members informally in their stories.

Thus, it's either Mrs. Jane Smith, or simply Jane Smith, instead of the correct Mrs. John Smith. This applies to widows as well.

Sometimes, organization reporters are upset when we change names to correct form.

But there is a reason. It's newspaper style, based on correct usage, as set down by such folks as Emily Post, recognized the world over.

We'd like to quote to you from Miss Post's "Blue Book of Social Usage," on this point:

"A man gives his name to his wife for life—or until she herself through remarriage relinquishes it. A widow, therefore, should always continue to use her husband's Christian names.

"She is Mrs. John Hunter Titherington Smith (or, Mrs. J. H. Titherington Smith), but never Mrs. Sarah Smith, if she cares at all about good taste.

"Correctly and properly a widow keeps her husband's name for always.

"If her son's wife, should have the same name, she becomes Mrs. James Town, Sr., or simply Mrs. Town, if there is no other in her community with the same name.

"Of course if, in a certain community, it is customary for widows to use Mrs. with their Christian names and they themselves have no objection, their names are certainly their own to use as they choose."

Over the months, our staff has worked out a fool-proof system of keeping appointments to take pictures for The Herald.

It really works beautifully, we never miss a time and date — unless the subject is Mrs. George Shumm.

About a month ago, Mrs. Lyle Grigg (oops, I almost wrote Dorothy Grigg, but luckily I remembered Emily's ruling on the subject) arranged a day and time for me to picture Mrs. Shumm for our Cook of the Week feature.

I was long-gone all day and missed the date completely.

Mrs. Grigg kindly smoothed things over. Then last week, she set it up again for 2 p.m. Monday, at the same time giving me a lecture on keeping on the ball.

About 2:30 Monday, as everyone worked diligently, the phone rang. Mrs. Shumm wondered if the photographerhr was coming.

"Oh, no," I heard Dorothy say, as she glanced over at my desk to see me hammering out a story.

Suddenly, everything was crystal clear and I shot straight up, pausing only long enough to snatch my equipment and race down W. Chicago Blvd. in the little blue Rambler Harvey Wilson has so graciously loaned me while repairing my older Chevy.

At the Shumm household, I dashed in, set up the picture and was already to shoot when I discovered I had forgotten to bring along a single film holder.

Like I say, we have a foolproof system here.

Detroit Driver Caught Carrying .38 Caliber Pistol

Two Tecumseh High School students escaped serious injury Friday night when they were hurled from their car on M-50, east of town, after it had crashed nearly head-on with another auto.

Although badly bruised and cut, neither Dennis Bryan, a junior from Britton, or Wayne Davis, a sophomore, suffered broken bones.

The pair was riding in the Bryan car; owned by Dennis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bryan, following Friday's basketball game in which Dennis had played with the junior varsity.

Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis, 605 Murray Dr.

The other vehicle, driven by Benjamin Bell of Detroit, swerved into the Bryan car and sent it careening off the highway, into a fence in front of the home of Dr. M. R. Blanden.

The two youths were thrown out along the edge of the road.

Bell and his companion, William French, also of Detroit, were unhurt.

State police discovered the men had a fully-loaded .38 caliber revolver in their possession, although one of them attempted to kick it under their car.

Bell was charged with reckless driving and the Detroit pair was held in Lenawee county jail

Soil Destroys Garments

By ROYAL WELCH

Everybody knows what a soiled garment is. And how it gets that way is no mystery either. Dust in the atmosphere, perspiration, skin oils and plain old dirt just get onto and then into a garment, and that's that.

Well, sir, it's pretty simple, you say, when it's soiled, take it to the cleaners. Y-e-s, but:

1. NEVER PRESS ANY GARMENT UNLESS IT'S CLEANED. A garment which is visibly soiled is seldom pressed. Often, however, a garment which has been worn or has hung in the closet, is pressed and worn again. This only serves to imbed the grime more deeply into the fabric and hasten deterioration.

2. Clean Clothes Often. By all tests known and applied, a garment cleaned often always outwears one that isn't by a wide margin. Aside from looking unpleasant, soil acts chemically on the fibers of the fabric and redhces their tensile strength. By laboratory test, 100 cleanings cause less deterioration than one week of wear while soiled!

3. Mere "cleaning" isn't by itself sufficient guarantee of cleanliness. To be thoroughly cleaned, the garment must be cleaned in fresh and potent solvents FOR A PRESCRIBED PERIOD OF TIME, thoroughly spotted before and after cleaning as required, then handled properly afterwards.

You'll find that we use fresh and potent solvents at all times. That our "before and after" spotting procedures are thorough. And that our handling of garments after cleaning precludes any resoiling before the garments come back to you. For honest, complete cleaning. —

Dr. George Burkhard is general chairman of the event, with members of the various churches working on the committee.

Those on the ticket committee are Roy Dahlke, Dean Hamilton, Duane Stegle, Ashley Chase and Robert Ries.

The program committee includes Coleman LaMaster, Harry Farrell, Carlos Jones, Richard Butler and John Saling.

It is expected that about 200 tickets will be sold for the banquet which will be served at 6:30 p.m. by ladies of the Baptist Church.

SISSON FIRES FOR TWO

Sisson Sparkles as Indians Fly Past Ypsilanti

By JIM LINCOLN

Coach Vic Lawson's high-flying Indians ran to an easy 74-53 victory last Friday night over visiting Ypsilanti Lincoln.

The victory boosted Tecumseh's record to 5-2 for the season and enabled the local cagers to hold a first-place tie with the Airport five, both sporting 5-1 records in Huron League play.

This Friday evening the Indians play at Grosse Isle, in the first of three away games. The next home tilt is with Flat Rock on Feb. 5.

☆

FORWARD JACK SISSON had his greatest night in basketball at the expense of Ypsi. The lanky six-foot senior netted eight field goals and six of 10 fouls, tops for both teams.

He collected 16 of his 22 points in the middle two quarters, when Tecumseh increased a one-point first-period lead to eight. Sisson also grabbed 11 rebounds before leaving the game late in the final quarter.

The Ypsi game was Tecumseh's best scoring effort by far. Not only did Sisson hit pre-season expectations, but Jim Poley and Steve Kruger continue to improve.

Poley, shackled with his fourth foul early in the third period, still managed 16 points while playing about only three quarters.

☆

KRUGER IN his only two games of the season gave the Indians scoring punch out front with 12 points.

The stocky guard, still hampered by football injuries, could provide the Indians with the momentum needed to sweep league laurels.

Ypsi stuck to within nine or 10 points through most of the game until late in the fourth stanza when the Indians struck for eight consecutive points.

At one time in the period, Tecumseh outscored its rivals, 16-2.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Artifical Ice Skating Rink?

Someone mentioned the need of an outdoor, artificial ice skating rink for Tecumseh at last week's gathering of the Community Fund Foundation.

A mighty fine idea, we'd say. After all, our city is the Refrigeration Capital of the World and where else would it be more fitting to have a rink?

As you'll note, whenever farm ponds freeze up, or during longer cold snaps, the city's two large ponds harden, the skaters turn out from all directions.

There are the five and six-year olds, teen-agers and the moms and dads — a smattering of grandfathers and mothers, we suspect. Just about everyone loves to skate, skimming across the mirrory surface, with the snapping, cold air nipping at one's cheeks.

For the male animal, young-in-heart, there's the game of hockey. Canada might have the prize players, but our neighbors to the north have no corner on enthusiasm for the sport.

It offers speed, skill, sharp competition and to those who want it, body checking, which can be every bit as rugged as football.

Need, we add that we're long gone on ice skating and its joys.

So, The Herald would like to see added to the list of things the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation is going to consider for our city, a large, artificial rnk.

It could easily be tied in with the civic center idea, being located next to the building, sort of like the ring at Rockefeller Center in New York, which is actually part of the surrounding structures.

Benefactors here would be kids from four to 84, who could pursue the sport of skating nine months of the year.

Plan Changed 6-Month Army Enlistment

ANN ARBOR—Six-month army duty enlistments for students graduating this month from high school and college are now being made without quota restrictions.

All restrictions have been lifted on the number of young men who may sign up under the special army program which permits their military obligation to be fulfilled with a half-year tour of duty at an army camp, followed by a period of service in a hometown reserve unit.

Those enlisting this month, Major Charles P. Trickett said, would be eligible to start their active duty assignment early in February, but may delay the starting date by as many as 120 days.

Details may be obtained at the army reserve center in Ann Arbor, 524 S. Main St. or by calling Normandy 2-0566.

CARD OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS —
In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, Stephen P. Hasted, who passed away one year ago Jan. 26th, 1959.
Dad bade no one a last farewell
He said goodby to none.
The heavenly angels gathered near
And a loving voice said, "Come."
To those who have a father
Cherish him with care.
You will never know how much you love him,
Until you find he isn't there.

Accused Killer Shows No Signs of Emotion

By TOM RIORDAN

Sitting before the desk he seemed like a little boy.

Although he had the body of a man and by the calendar is 23-years-old, Henry Lee Lucas has the mind of a boy — probably a third or fourth grader.

In and out of jails and prisons since he was 14, he now faces the most serious criminal charge of his life.

Before it was car theft, breaking and entering, burglary.

This time, the boyish-minded man is held on an "open" murder charge—the brutal slaying of his own mother.

The body of his parent was discovered last Tuesday by Lucas' sister, Mrs. Kenneth Jennings of rural Tecumseh.

She had been murdered in the bedroom of a home owned by her daughter at 303 E. Pottawatamie St., where Lucas was staying. His mother, who was visiting here from Blacksburg, Va., was spending a few days in the same house.

☆

LUCAS TOLD POLICE this story:

He and his 74-year-old mother had an arguement following an evening in a W. Chicago Blvd. tavern.

At the Pottawatamie residence, Lucas said he lashed out at his mother with a pocket knife.

He wasn't sure how seriously she was hurt and didn't stay to find out. Lucas walked three blocks to Johnny's & Bill's Cities Service on E. Patterson St., across from Tecumseh Products.

A 1957 Ford, at the locked-up station awaiting lubrication, provided Lucas with transportation.

He headed south through Ohio, abandoning the vehicle in Cincinnati, then hitching rides on to Blacksburg.

Ironically, his mother had been attempting to get him to return with her to their hometown and this could have been part of the cause for the late-night fight.

☆

LUCAS HAD BEEN living with his sister since September, when he was released from the state prison at Richmond, Va.

His original term had to be served to its maximum because he walked away from a prison road gang in 1956 and hitched his way to Tecumseh, where he was promptly picked up and returned.

Lucas moved from his sister's farm to the Pottawatamie place several weeks ago. In chatting with a roomer there, Lucas learned that he might get work at Meyers Aircraft.

He filled out an application form and was scheduled to be interviewed and possibly put to work at Meyers the day of the killing.

☆

AFTER REACHING BLACKSBURG last week, Lucas said he began to worry about his mother's condition — still apparently unaware of her death from a deep stab wound in her throat.

He started hitch-hiking back to Tecumseh.

In Toledo he was spotted by police Saturday and taken into custody.

Tecumseh police chief George Kilbourn and state police detective Leslie Wykes, 505 Nokomis St., picked up Lucas Monday morning, bringing him to Lenawee county jail in Adrian.

Lucas talked freely, admitting everything — much in the fashion of a six-year-old who is caught with jelly smeared on his face.

A preliminary hearing was held Tuesday noon in Clinton before Justice Leon VanDuesen. Lucas waived examination here, preferring to be arraigned in Washtenaw Circuit Court.

☆

IT WAS AT THIS Clinton session that I first met Henry.

With about a four-day growth of beard, dressed in rumpled, cheap clothing, Lucas sat before the desk of Justice VanDuesen.

He was not frightened, nor nervous. Probably facing representatives of the law was the one talent in which Lucas was well-versed and experienced.

"How many prisons have you been in?" this writer asked.

"Two," was his reply.

"What about jails?"

Chief Kilbourn turned toward his prisoner, "Quite a few, hasn't it been, Henry?"

Lucas grinned — sheepishly, like the little boy in trouble — and said yes, there had been quite a few.

"When did you quit school?"

"In the fifth grade," he said, without any sorrow in his voice or explanation of why.

☆

FROM CLINTON, officers Wykes and Kilbourn took Lucas to Ypsilanti State Hospital for a sanity hearing.

It's my opinion they'll find the man badly retarded, possibly even with a split personality — the meek, boy-like individual and the violent man, capable of any crime, including murder.

Year's Mother Sought

The search for the 1960 "Mother of the Year" has been launched by the Michigan Mothers Committee.

Candidates for the national honor as America's most outstanding mother are being sought in 50 states, District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

The Michigan Mothers Committee, seeking this state's representative, is sending out nominating blanks to clubs, churches, school districts, and business organizations.

Nomination blanks are available by writing to the:

Michigan Mothers Committee
P. O. Box 464
Pontiac, Michigan.

☆

CANDIDATES ARE judged on six points for Mother of the Year Honors:

1. She must be a successful mother, as evidenced by the character and achievements of her individual children.

2. She must be an active member of a religious body.

3. She must embody those traits highly regarded in mothers —courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding and homemaking ability.

4. She must exemplify in her life and conduct the precepts of the Golden Rule.

5. She must have a sense of responsibility in civic affairs and be active in service for public benefit.

6. She must be qualified to represent the Mothers of America in all responsibilities attached to her role as National Mother.

In addition to being eligible for consideration on the basis of those six points a nominee must have no children under 15 years of age.

Michigan's Mother of the Year will be submitted to the American Mothers Committee as a candidate for national honors.

In May, all of the state mothers will meet in New York for the national selection and week-long series of festivities.

Lucas Record Started in '51

The Herald regrets it was misinformed last week regarding the the prison record of Henry Lee Lucas, accused killer.

The state police file on Lucas also carried the record of an older man, with whom Lucas was arrested here after both had escaped form a Virginia prison work gang. That convict's name was James Lee Triplett.

It was Triplett, not Lucas, who was first arrested in Fort Worth, Texas in 1945 on car theft.

Lucas' first brush with the law came in 1951.

Several metropolitan papers erred when they reported that Lucas was a parolee of Jackson prison. According to Tecumseh police chief George Kilbourn, Lucas never served time in this state.

It's Compressor Night at Rotary

Cliff Knudson of Tecumseh Products Co. service department told about the construction and operation of compressors at a recent Rotary Club meeting.

This week's gathering was devoted to problems—present and future—of education here, with Jim McDowell as speaker.

Guests at the two meetings were Art Donaldson, Blissfield; Harold Marquis, Norman Walper, Bill Short and Al Woelfel of Adrian.

Make-ups were reported by Ed Boss, Bert Newman, Howard Trusdale, Bob French, Speck Simmons and Bob Karle.

Ralph Sager had as his guest Tuesday, Taisal Arabo of Irac.

Junior Goal: $300

BRITTON—Juniors of Britton-Macon High School—all 33 of them—will open "Operation Herald" Friday. Their objective: to earn up to $300 towards the expense of their trip to Washington a year from this spring.

CO-CHAIRMAN PAUL COOK AND GLORIA HUMMEL

Efforts will center on selling one-year subscriptions to The "new" Tecumseh Herald, which now features this "NEWS of BRITTON" page.

Every week, it will be loaded with stories and pictures, all pertaining to this community.

Each of the 612 homes, rural and village which receive mail through the Britton post office, has been sent a copy of this edition.

At present, there are about 150 Britton subscribers to The Herald. Juniors will ask for their renewals. For each sale they'll receive a 25c commission, no matter when the customer's subscription expires.

But more important, the third-year high students will be after new subscribers. For each one of these, the commission is $1.

☆

AT A CLASS meeting last week, when Tom Riordan, co-publisher of The Herald explained the campaign idea, the juniors voted to undertake "Operation Herald."

Opening Jan. 22, it extends to Feb. 13.

The juniors elected Gloria Hummel and Paul Cook as co-chairman of the event.

Gloria and Paul met later with Mr. Riordan and mapped out a potential selling area, breaking it into zones.

Members of the class will be assigned areas in which they'll go door-to-door, asking householders to sign up for The Herald.

The young sales folks will be working a territory which roughly is equivalent to the Britton-Macon school district.

☆

WORKING IN their favor is the absorbing NEWS of BRITTON, which will contain each week.

- Pictures of Britton people and scenes.
- Features and news stories of Britton clubs, council, churches, organizations.
- A Britton calendar of coming events.
- Britton-Macon school news.
- Personals, reporting comings and goings of Britton folks.

Foundation Picks Officers

BRITTON — Charles Patterson is the first President of the newly formed Britton-Macon Community Fund Foundation.

He was elected last week.

A series of informal meetings, for the purpose of combining charity with improvements of school and community into one drive, were held in recent months.

The Foundation is the result.

It was organized to solicit contributions for county, state and national charities.

Another purpose of the Foundation is to raise money for Britton-Macon projects and facilities now lacking in the community.

The American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Britton-Macon Camp Fire Girls, Wolverine Council Boy Scouts, Michigan United Fund, and Britton-Macon Boy Scouts are other groups that will benefit from the Foundation.

The Foundation held a meeting with its attorney, John Zeigler of Tecumseh and the committee accepted the by-laws which Mr. Zeigler presented.

Having received their charter from the state, the Britton-Macon Community Fund Foundation is now incorporated.

Officers chosen in addition to Mr. Patterson, are:

Mrs. Glenn Grpton—vice-president.

Russell Spalding — secretary.

Ronald Cheever — treasurer.

Others on the board of trustees are Mrs. Harley Hummel, Richard Linn, Mrs. Harold Osterhout, Elwood Palmer and Mike Papp.

Residents of the community, working at the Tecumseh Products, are cooperating with the Foundation by requesting that their donations be returned to their home community.

The community will not have the benefits of these funds until next year.

The committee announced that a public meeting of the Foundation will be held April 12. Its function will be explained at that time.

VILLAGE PRESIDENT DOUG FAIRBANKS IS HEAD MECHANIC AT KEELING MOTOR SALES.

The 'Ike' of Britton

BRITTON — Meet our village president, Douglas Fairbanks. Currently serving his second term, Doug—as most of Britton and the surrounding community knows him — was born and has lived here all his life.

He and his wife, Christine, and three children, Douglas, 11; David, 8; and Darlene, 2, reside at 360 N. Main St.

Doug is employed at Keeling Motor Sales, where he had been head mechanic for the past 12 years.

Aside from his duties as village president, he is active in the Christian Church, where he does anything from serving on the board of trustees to washing dishes after a church supper.

Recently Doug was appointed Cubmaster for Britton Pack 23.

He served two and one-half years in the navy during World War Two.

●

BRITTON—The village caucus will be held Monday, Feb. 15 in the council room.

Mr. Fairbanks urges the public to attend and show interest in their village government.

By becoming familiar with village affairs, the public will understand that the councilmen are limited as to what they can do based on the taxes available.

"This is the same as we as individuals are limited to our income," states Doug.

"See you at the caucus," he concludes.

Sale of Tabs for Licenses Runs Behind '59

Sales of 1960 vehicle license tabs are running 40% behind a year ago, reports Mrs. Ethel Hammack, branch manager of the Tecumseh office of the Michigan Department of State.

The Tecumseh office is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, Monday through Saturday, until March 1.

According to James M. Hare, sales reports from all 83 counties of Michigan show that total tab transactions are down 150,457 below the 1959 figure.

In 1959, sales reached 526,642 during the first 10 weeks of license sales. This year, only 376,185 tabs were sold during the same period.

"Unlike previous years," Hare said, "license buyers in 1960 are getting a small tab to cover the upper right hand corner of their 1959 plate.

"Since folks don't see a nice new plate on the car ahead of them to remind them to get their new resigtration, sales are off.

Mrs. Hammack reminded Tecumseh citizens that the use of the tab has saved the taxpayers of Michigan many hundreds of thousands of dollars and that money thus saved was used for highways, traffic safety programs and other essential state services.

The Internal Revenue Service announced plans for assisting taxpayers in preparing their 1959 Federal income tax returns.

This year, the various Internal Revenue offices will designate a Special Assistance Day.

A great number of taxpayers can save a trip by telephoning their local Internal Revenue office.

Taxpayers are urged to:

1. Read the instructions and start the return.

2. If you have a question, call your local Tax Information number.

3. If you need further help, visit your nearest Internal Revenue Service office on the Special Assistance Day.

"SUCCESS DEPENDS ON PREVIOUS PREPARATION"

To some, success means much money or outstanding accomplishment. To others achieving contentment is sufficient.

One thing is certain. It is difficult to enjoy any success without a healthy body. Just as you study to prepare your mind for success, you can also prepare your body. The first step is to visit your physician for a health checkup. Then, place the future health of your body in his care. Follow his suggestions for diet or weight control. Take the sustaining or corrective medicines he may prescribe. You can prepare now for future better health.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium-and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels
Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable
Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside; more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line
A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

27,600 Tests Handled by Lab at Hospital

When doctors at Herrick Memorial Hospital say tests are needed by their patients, that's where lab facilities come into the picture.

During 1959, more than 27,600 such tests were processed through the lab, presided over for the past six years by Ray Shelton.

That's a boost over '58 of nearly 6,000.

The continuing greater use was one factor in the recent relocation and enlargement of the lab.

What had been the medical records section, next to the outpatient desk in the west wing, has been turned into the hospital lab.

The remodeling job, along with purchase of new equipment, cost $7,500.

The new setup, far superior to the old basement location, offers three times as much floor space.

How the Chinese do it

米青禾申

Legend has it that Chinese doctors used to be paid only while their patients were healthy, got no fee during illness. It almost sounds reasonable. In fact, there are physicians today who specialize in keeping their patients healthy. Preventive medicine, it's called. All doctors practice it as much as they can. If you get regular checkups, your doctor has a chance to keep you from getting sick. Modern drugs play a large part in this practice, and that's where we pharmacists come in. But only you can make preventive medicine work—by getting into the habit of regular checkups. It's a very good idea.

THOSE FUNNY, FUNNY SQUIRRELS!

Had a problem the other morning. A big, fat, happy squirrel was enjoying a sunflower seed snack and our problem was that the inside of the window, which overlooks the feeder where the squirerl was eating, needed washing.

I hated to have the job started, the squirrel was having such a good time that it seemed a shame to disturb him, but still the window was badly in need of some attention.

We put it off as long as possible, but finally, squirrel or no squirrel, the streaks and smears just had to be cleaned off.

The Windex was sprayed on and I only hoped that the squirrel would not be too badly frightened—after all, the feeder is but a few feet from the window.

Frightened, ha ha. He wasn't the least bit afraid.

All the commotion of window washing, all the up and down, back and forth, around and around movements bothered him not a bit.

He showed not the least inclination to run. Several times he stopped eating, looked directly at the window and cocked his head first to one side and then the other.

His tiny nose twitched with curiosity — much like a rabbit's will — and we almost expected to see his forehead start to wrinkle. This obvious was his wondering.

Finally he backed away from the sunflower head — we were afraid he was going to bolt, but instead of running away, he merely jumped to the other feeder and continued to puzzle over "the peculiar things happening inside."

☆

HIS MANNER clearly showed that he was puzzled and curious. Although alert, he was not a bit tense, nervous nor frightened.

So it was that the job I had dreaded to see started turned out to be great fun.

Often thing turn out this way, don't they?)

Several days after the window washing bit, these furry acrobats afforded us more watching fun. Outstanding in our neighborhood squirrel population, which by the way is currently rather large, are two exceptionally good looking squirrels.

They are big fellows, quite noticeably larger than the others, their coats are so soft looking and such a rich brown color.

We can tell them apart by their tails—one is extra long and luxuriously bushy while the other is a bit shorter than usual and not quite as full. It was the former who watched the window washing but the second one started the other action.

☆

HE, SHORT-TAIL Sam, was busy munching in the corn-tree. A smaller squirrel came along but, in true squirrel manner, was quickly given to understand that he was an uninvited and unwanted luncheon guest.

Unpreturbed by the big one's selfishness, the little squirrel merely skipped away, came over to the post upon which is fastened the covered bird feeder and started climbing.

This feeder, containing scratch feed in one compartment and suet in the other, affords little room for squirrels but by crowding down and bunching up, he made it.

He was soon engrossed with his eating and didn't see our long tailed friend come bounding across the yard.

Instead of driving the smaller squirrel away, and being so much bigger he easily could have, he came up the post slowly and upon reaching the top, carefully sat down so that his lovely tail gracefully curved, on the feeder's sloping roof and hung over just Oh, just a very little bit.

☆

WHAT A SIGHT—three squirrels in my window picture and two of them at one feeder. Much excited, we waited to see what would happen.

For what seemed like ages, but, of course, was only a few minutes, nothing happened.

Short-tail Sam kept eating in the corn-tree, the little squirrel continued with his scratch feed treat and Big Bushy waited patiently.

All of a sudden, however the little guy straightened up and there, right in front of him, was the tip of the other squirrel's tail.

Oh, what a surprised little squirrel. For an instant he was shocked into immobility.

Then, in a flash, the spell was broken and he jumped to the other feeder and started running.

Half-way to the ground he slowed up and took a quick backward glance wondering, I suppose, how close his pursuer was.

☆

HIS SECOND surprise—there was no one after him. The joker had merely turned around and there he was, sitting on the feeder roof, watching and obviously enjoying how well his trick had turned out.

He looked so pleased with himself that it would not have been to surprising had he started to laugh outloud.

Bewildered by the prank, the little squirrel continued to climb to the ground. Just before scampering over the top of the creek bank, he turned around and looked back at the feeder.

Yes, Big Bushy was still there, just looking.

See what I mean about funny, funny squirrels?

Ever see a rocket riding the highway? Or a tankful of flour? Or a load of oxygen? . . . Most people — when they think of trucks—think only in terms of the van or pick-up models they see carrying miscellaneous freight. These are in the majority, it's true. But it takes literally dozens and dozens of different types of trucks —many very special and very costly—to serve America's broad and bustling economy . . . Trucks are designed to transport almost every kind of cargo you can imagine——and to do so safely and efficiently. Merchants Plan $100,000 Parking Project

Planning for a downtown Tecumseh off-street parking program that will cost nearly $100,000 was started Thursday evening.

Representatives of 25 business places, along with the entire city council and other local government officials were guests at a dinner meting in the VFW hall.

The session was called by the retail division of the local Chamber of Commerce.

"It's a mightly bold plan," Chamber secretary Don Murphy told the audience while explaining his ideas on possible financing.

He estimated that $100,000 would put all off-street parking areas in first rate shape, at the same time increasing free, downtown parking by nearly 100 spaces.

☆

THE PROPOSED program would:

1. Hardtop all off-street spaces, paint stalls, establish traffic patterns for lots.
2. Illuminate all lots with street-type lighting.
3. Erect "FREE PARKING" neon signs, showing how shoppers can easily locate off-street parking areas.

Referring to the parking study made for Tecumseh by a firm of Detroit consulting engineers three years ago, Mr. Murphy pointed out that the experts say there should be one square foot of parking for every square foot of business floorspace.

In this regard, he stated, downtown Tecumseh is badly in need of parking. Its ratio is nearly two-square-feet of mechantile area for every square foot of parking.

He explained that 300 square feet is required for one, off-street space, 10x30 feet. The additional length takes into account driveways, etc.

☆

AFTER BRIEF discussion about the need for more downtown free parking, the group heard Mr. Murphy's plan for financing.

Actual work, to complete all lots in the above manner, would begin this spring, with the downtown merchants borrowing the needed approximately $100,000.

Each business place would buy stock in this improvement plan. They'd pay 35c per square foot of floor space in their stores.

This total amount, plus interest, would be paid over a 5-year basis.

Using one medium-size shop as an example, Mr. Murphy said it covered 1,532 square feet. Total cost to the owner of the business would be $536.20, plus interest—his share of the $100,000 debt.

"It would cost this fellow $107.25 a year, plus interest, or about $10 a month to have a 100-space parking lot behind his store," explained the Chamber secretary.

☆

THERE IS another angle to the financial picture, which can be in the merchant's favor.

The city owns all the lots and the storemen would in reality be improving municipal property. However, revenue from on-street parking meters, which annually brings in about $5,000, would be available at the end of the year to be used in the project.

Bill Powell of the McCoy & Powell Real Estate firm was named chairman of the Chamber's off-street parking; committee.

Mr. Powell advanced another financing idea, which will be studied in future weeks. His thought: could merchants lease off-street land from city?

The committee will work towards a Feb. 18 deadline in gathering complete facts. On that evening, another dinner-meeting is to be held.

☆

BILL WRIGHT and Ralph Hodges, local drugists, were hosts last week to the group.

Mr. Wright, who served as parking committee chairman since the body was organized in 1957, expressed what was probably the thinking of most merchants present:

"This idea would be one of the best investments that a business can make."

Carl Lamb, chairman of the retail division and a pharmacist at Hodges Drug Store, conducted Thursday's session.

Mr. Lamb introduced retail executive boardmen present:

Al Snyder, A&P store manager.
Merle Hoag, Country Markets, Inc., manager.
Mr. Wright, Harold Green, owner of Green's Clothing.
Don Martin, owner of Gambles.
Claude Helms, owner of Helms Furniture.

Others on the board, who were unable to attend: Mrs. Sally Pope, owner of Gaston & Sons Jewelry and Cal Damon, owner of Cal's Tog Shop.

A Want Ad, Naturally

Ever use a want ad?

Hundreds and hundreds of Tecumseh folks have—and almost always found them real salesmen.

In cleaning out the attic, mother discovers a perfectly-good piece of furniture, or child's toy—they haven't been used in years.

"Could give a lot of use to someone," she might muse. "But how can I find that person?"

The answer: a want ad.

February has been dubbed WANT AD MONTH for The Herald and a giant 25c-per-ad campaign opens next week.

In conjunction with the sales effort is a cartoon contest, with readers writing the funny lines for three drawings and winning cash prizes.

Complete details on the event appear in a Herald on page two of the second section.

A blank, on which folks may submit 25c ads, runs with this week's classified advertising, page six of this section.

Little brother, Daniel, just four months, didn't seem the least bit interested in the snowman. Do you know of a taller one?

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

My sides still ache a bit after reading this note.

Dear Tom:

In reference to your alliteration contest, it is the writer's opinion that propitiously printed prose, presenting a purposefully profuse and preposterous proportionment of similar syllables, possibly promotes paralogical praise, but primarily precludes pleasant perusal.

Perhaps a prophetic proprietor presumes prevention of a prosaic paper by premeditatedly prescribing periodic printing of puns and profluent polyphony as a practice to proclaim a purely progressive publishing policy.

Eh?

L. E. Earling
508 Murray Dr.

The judges for this column's alliteration sentence are really in a tizzy now.

"We have so many fabulous entries from which to choose," spoke up one of them, the youngster who comes in evenings to sweep out the office and melt down last week's type.

(Note his careful use of that pesky preposition.)

"You know it!" chimed in another of the prize-deciding panel, a regular visitor to The Herald, the fellow who gathers our trash each week.

A third member (who goes unnamed) of the team, which has the weighty problem of deciding who is going to win the one-year subscription, muttered:

"Hey, youse guys, like what does this Earling mean anyhow?"

☆

We ran a tricky reader attention check in last week's paper and it showed you are an attentive lot.

The heading, "Herrick Memorial Hospital News" was carefully placed over the regular feature, "Heralds of Bygone Days."

Then, we sat back and waited as the papers were distributed.

Sure, enough, the phone rang promptly Thursday morning, shortly after the postman had ringeth.

Peels of laughter rolled out of the phone.

"That was the funniest thing I ever have seen," roared a dainty feminine reader.

"There you see," said backshop reader-interest scientist Lonal Bishop, "Folks really do read their Heralds."

Actually, the whole thing was a mistake.

☆

After attending last week's gathering of retail merchants concerning off-street parking, it's easy to see business row is planning big for '60.

And what could be better?

Storemen are regarding the 100,000-odd dollars they'll spend to polish up free parking facilities as a solid investment in themselves and the future.

"America goes on wheels," The Herald wrote in an editorial some months ago, in discussing the vital need for plenty of parking adjacent to business places.

It's so true and we're mighty glad our merchants are — as the teen agers might put it — "gung ho on this parking bit."

☆

Notice any change in The Herald reading type this week?

It's brand new.

The new font (or set or matrix) contains more than 1,200 individual brass letters, figures, punctuation marks.

For example, there are 20 lower case a's and 10 capital W's, not to mention commas, periods, colons, hyphens, etc.

Major change is a wider letter and a bold face (both light face and bold face are on each brass matrix) which has serifs.

These are the little fancy portions at tops and bottoms of letters. The bold face on the old body type had was sans serif, meaning no serifs.

(Of course our experts in French knew right away that sans means without in that language.)

Visit Hospital in Windy City

Seven members of the Future Nurses Club of Tecumseh High School went to Chicago to visit Michael Reese Hospital, second largest in that city, over last weekend.

They were Barbara Velandra, Jeanie Hohenstein, Anna K. McCann, Isabel McCombs, Carol Lowe, Helen Miller and Diane Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior G. French accompanied the group.

The girls were assigned rooms in the student's quarters of the hospital and enjoyed a buffet supper and movie, "Separate Tables" shown in the auditorium.

A lesson on "How to Give Shots" was presented Saturday morning and a 15-minute question-and-answer period was held with the nursing students.

After touring the hospital's 24 buildings, the Future Nurses were given an opportunity to shop or visit the "Museum of Natural History."

On Sunday, several of the group attended services at the St. James Church, oldest in the city.

They left Chicago by bus at 11 a.m. arriving in Clinton at 7 Sunday evening.

In March, another group of Future Nurses will be given the opportunity to spend a weekend at the same hospital.

—o—

Police Chief George Kilbourn states that the double parking ordinance which was printed in The Herald two weeks ago will be enforced.

Committee Is Called 'FACT'

A "What-Tecumseh-needs" committee was authorized and its duties discussed when the board of trustees of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation met at the United Savings Bank in Tecumseh Monday evening.

"Foundation Advisory Committee of Tecumseh" was the name given the new group.

The duties of "FACT" — an abreivation arrived at by taking the initials of the official designation — were discussed at length.

The following statement was adopted:

"It shall be the purpose of the Foundation Advisory Committee of Tecumseh to use whatever means seem advisable to discover the majority desire of the community as to what project should be undertaken by the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, and to report to its Board of Trustees."

☆

PRESIDENT Vern Manwaring requested the assistance of the board with the naming of the committee.

Two possible types of committee were discussed:

1. A committee that would be representative of the various interests and organizations of the community.

2. A committee of thoughtful and competent persons capable of hearing and weighing the views of representatives of various community interests and the citizenry at large.

It was determined to appoint a committee of the latter type, with seven members to be named.

"Thus, all interests, groups and citizens can be heard by this committee," observed several trustees.

Seven names were selected and those persons will be contacted by the president during the coming week. When they have been notified and have accepted, their names will be made public.

Several alternate names were suggested in the event any of the original seven cannot serve. The committee will be asked to report initial plans and progress to the board of trustees at its March 8 meeting.

☆

IN OTHER action of the board of trustees a newspaper article and reaction to it were discussed.

It was felt that certain facts were not clearly understood and should be restated relative to past and future support of the recreation program.

A letter was read in the meeting which was the request from the City of Tecumseh for $3,250 to be included in the budget for the current year.

This was an item equal to one-half the cost of the summer recreation program for 1959.

Exactly this amount was placed in the budget, and a check for this amount was forwarded to the city during the first week in January.

☆

AT A LATER date a letter was sent to the city, expressing the opinion of the board of trustees that this program ought to be financed by means other than through the Foundation in future years.

Reports of numerous personal reactions in favor of this action by local citizens were cited.

Moreover, it was pointed out that this item in the budget, as published in the October 15, 1959 issue of The Herald, was intended to assist the city in its summer recreation program.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Amid the slush and drizzle Wednesday morning was heard a robin's song on W. Logan St. It was a spirit, lifting sound as the skies seem to bow down with a heavy load of moisture which would certainly descend on Tecumseh either as snow or more rain.

Mary Snedecor, who lives on the south side of Red Mill Pond, tells us that a robin has been spending the winter—at least since mid-December — in their Mountain Ash, eating the dried berries and also apples from an old orchard.

Next Tuesday the ground hog will speak to the citizens as to just how much more of this winter weather we will be having. Everyone is invited to attend the ceremony under the Mountain Ash tree in the same old orchard.

Mrs. James Wilson, formerly Grace Moore, and daughter have arrived home from Frankfort, Germany. They flew with other servicemen's wives on a chartered plane with 50 babies on board

Because of weather conditions, they landed in Cleveland and came on from there by bus. Pfc. Wilson was to receive his discharge Wednesday at Ft. Sheridan, Ill.

Floyd Avery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Avery, left Jan. 10 to enlist in the army. He will receive his basic training at Ft. Knox.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Bowers were skiing on Mt. Holly at Summit, Mich. Sunday.

E. H. Van Fleet who has been a patient this last week at Herrick Memorial Hospital is improving gradually. Mrs. Van Vleet's sister, Mrs. Ethel Fricker, was a visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. B. O. Bashore spoke on "Christian Family Life" at the Congregational Church in Dundee Monday evening. She was a guest of Mrs. Paul Sheldon.

Mrs. Lewis Lake and Mrs. James Danforth represented the Tecumseh Music Club at a board meeting Friday in Jackson to make plans for the state convention which will be held in April.

Mrs. Orville Bishop's sister, Mrs. W. B. Jackson, and four children arrived Friday evening from Starkville, Miss. enroute to Swabaisch Gmund, Germany near Frankfort to be with her husband. The flu bug arrived at about the same time and the whole household has been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell were in Sawyer, Mich. Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McConnell and Stevie.

Mrs. James Winzler arrived home Monday from Herrick Memorial Hospital where she has been a patient with pneumonia for the past four weeks.

Walter Robison entered St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor Sunday. His address is Room 4052. Certainly he would enjoy cards from his friends, as would Emma Wilbar who entered the University Medical Center Monday for surgery.

Earl Bilby underwent surgery Monday at the Bixby Hospital in Adrian.

Doris Bilby of Mt. Clemens and Kenneth Nagorsen of Detroit were guests Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burchette and son were guests of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Patton and daughter, in Toledo Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Dicken wrote in a letter to the Bashores that the weather in Wyoming on Jan. 19 was 39 degrees below zero. The former Tecumseh pastor's health is improving and plans are being made for a new parsonage there. It is expected that the Parish Hall will be completed about March 1.

The Rev. Blair Bashore, with Harold Hough of Adrian, was in Lansing Tuesday on welfare business.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Linger, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Linger and Mrs. Edward Beal were in Paris, Ill. Monday to attend the funeral service of Roger Waring.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson of Hazardville, Conn. have returned to their home after an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson.

Ronald Wittrup, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wittrup, is starting work as Hospital Administrator at Douglas, Mich. He and his family were in Tecumseh over the weekend.

Mrs. Elliott McLain left last Wednesday accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart McLain of Downers Grove, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Raynor McLain of Maanitou Beach to go to Leicester, N.Y. where they attended the funeral Friday of their aunt, Mrs. Jennie Elliott McMann.

The funeral was held in Mt. Morris, N. Y. Mrs. McMann was a frequent visitor in Tecumseh and the area.

While there, the group visited cousins in Leicester and Geneseo and returned home Sunday evening.

Army Reservist on Active Duty for Three Months

FORT BENJAMIN HARRISON, Ind. — A Tecumseh army reservist, John H. Ipson III, 209 Adrian St., will report to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri on January 24, for three months active duty.

Mr. Ipson's civilian occupation has been classified by his Selective Service Board as a critical skill vital to national defense.

The Michigan reservist is one of a group of 12 from Sixth Corps who will fulfill a portion of his military obligation by being sent on the short duty tour.

Other army reservists have duty tours of six or 24 months.

The Reserve Forces Act of 1955 authorizes local induction boards to classify men with certain critical skills in a special category and permit them to go on a short active duty tour.

Better Cleaning Means Good Spotting

By ROYAL WELCH

Spotting — the most important single process in good cleaning—is an unappreciated art.

There are so many different kinds of spots (or stains) on so many different kinds of fabric, that the problem of removing a spot—hence, again, really a stain—is essentially one of:

First, diagnosis — determining what kind of substance caused it.

Second, what kind of treatment to give that spot—which of the chemicals, digesters, bleaches, solvents, rinses, or what to use, in what order, at what temperatures, and how to manipulate them so as to remove that spot entirely. A good "spotter" is a person who knows textiles, dyes and chemistry — and he's a good diagnostician and craftman as well.

When you're ill, you can tell a doctor what's wrong. He proceeds from there. A spot or stain cannot talk, and therefore diagnosis is sometimes pretty difficult.

In general, on washable garments you yourself can often rinse out the spot or stain immediately in clear, cool water. Nothing else.

On dry cleanable garments, leave them completely alone. AND PLEASE TELL US WHAT THE STAIN IS. This will assist us in getting it out entirely in every possible case.

Our spotting department is in the hands of competent craftsmen who know their business backwards and forwards. And any stain which can be removed will be removed when you BRING IT TO Welch Cleaners, 110 S. Maumee St.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

Several years ago, when we suggested that a community foundation be organized, it was with the past history of Tecumseh in mind, of the many conflicts between organizations and individuals—resulting in retarding the orderly development and improvement of Tecumseh.

It was suggested that the purpose of the Tecumseh Foundation should be:

1. To organize the economic and social resources of the community for the development and improvement in community living.

2. To act as a community trust to receive and administer personal bequests, gifts and community funds for the above purpose.

To do this it was suggested that:

1. The foundation should not perform any function now being done by any group or organization in the community.

2. To provide such aid, leadership or counsel needed by such organizations or groups to meet the needs of the community.

3. Resolving areas of conflict caused by duplication of programs and functions of the various groups and organizations.

A member of the audience (at last week's Foundation meeting) suggested that, the Foundation be broadened in an area surrounding Tecumseh.

This is a proper suggestion. Area studies are usually done by local Chambers of Commerce, who will make recommendations.

The writer has been accused as being a dreamer, to this he pleads guilty.

As a boy, 52 years ago, I listened with a group of men, standing on brim of Ben Franklins hat, on top of Philadelphia's city hall, to a dreamer and his dream for the future of the city.

I sat with dreamers in smog-laden Pittsburg; St. Louis, in Columbus, Circle New York, walked in the streets of Chicago with dreamers, watched dreamers in Detroit, each week listen to dreamers in many smaller communities.

Having lived long enough to see dreams put on paper and then become realities, convinces one that a city without dreamers develops living confusion or gradually fades away.

I am proud to live in the United States, a country founded by dreamers, the one country that can provide the world with an effective anti-dote for such fears as communism by developing its economic and social forces to meet the needs and satisfy the desire of its citizens.

The Community Foundation can be an effective means of bringing this about.

Together, God blessed the citizens of Tecumseh with the know-how and what-it-takes. All we need, is the will to do it together.

To The Editors:

I am a teen from here in town, and I would like to say a word in defense of teen-age drivers.

Early this week a friend of mine and I were returning from a nearby town during a violent snow storm.

The roads were almost impassable, limiting our speed to 20 miles per hour. However, two adult drivers, one of which we later saw in the ditch, passed us at excessive speeds.

Before adults or teens brand the other, we should all remember that three are bad drivers on both teams.

Especially at this time of year, we should all remember that any street or road could be a dead-end—if we don't drive carefully.

Sincerely,
Paul Surratt

Do you suppose you could send a few back issues to my mother? Would be appreciated very much.

I believe this is the first time in approximately 60 years she has missed it — of course it has been in family much longer time.

Do want to tell you the noticeable improvement in paper since change of ownership.

To The Editors:

Here goes one of those "letters to the editor" that Steve Allen use to dramatize so comically.

School consolidation for the sake of educational progress is fine, but connected with this progress are a few shortcomings. Long, long bus rides certainly fall into the shortcoming category.

How much longer are rural area children going to have to endure these long bus rides? My boy, a first grader, gets on the bus at eight o'clock in the morning and gets off the bus at five o'clock in the afternoon, nine days out of ten.

Perhaps I should have Dave McDonald or Walter Reuther state the case against a nine-hour day for a six year old child. I bet there would be some changes made!

If my childs nine-hour day was a rare case, an exception to the rule, I might not think this letter necessary.

However this nine-hour day for first graders has been a fact for three or four years. When, when is this situation going to be rectified?

Many people are not the least bit affected by bus schedules, consequently unconcerned.

However, anyone who has had to ride a crowded, stuffy bus for close to an hour can feel some compassion for the child who does this twice a day because of progress.

I could go on and mention other plus and minus factors concerning our school system, but the point I want to get across is that a nine-hour day is asking too much of a first-grade child, especially when you consider the near two hours a day on a bus, two hours devoid of physical or mental stimulation worth mentioning.

Perhaps this letter will be nothing more than a personal catharsis.

However a bit of publicity often is the spur needed to finding a solution to a problem. I hope this will be the case.

Thank you,
Mrs. Donna Howard
16301 Stalb Rd.

Party Honors 90th Birthday of Mrs. Jackson

TIPTON—In honor of the 90th birthday of Mrs. Emma Jackson an open house was held.

Her daughter, Mrs. John Cook, and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lembrick of Britton and Don Cook planned the party.

It was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cook in Tipton.

About 75 friends and relatives called during the afternoon to offer best wishes to the guest of honor.

Flower arrangements around the home were gifts to Mrs. Jackson, by many of her friends. She also received many cards.

A birthday cake, representing an open book, which was made and cut by Mrs. Dale Cook, centered an attractively decorated buffet table.

Mrs. Clayton Greenwald and Mrs. Harry Daniels were seated at the silver tea and coffee service at each end of the table.

They were assisted by Mrs. Harry Cook. The guest book was in charge of Vicki Cook.

Guests were present from Adrian, Tecumseh, Monroe, Troy, Clayton and Tipton.

Speaks about China

Richard Applegate, NBC news analyst and veteran foreign correspondent, will speak to members of Lenawee County Teachers Institute Friday, Feb. 5, at 2 p.m. in the Adrian High School gym.

Mr. Applegate spent 18 months in Red Chinese prisons in 1953-'54 after his yacht was seized on the high seas by the Chinese Communists.

He is an authority on that part of the world, with a personal acquaintance with many of the leaders who are making world news there today.

It was on a cruise around the world in his own boat, 2 42-foot steel-hulled auxiliary cutter, that he was dragged off to prison for the 18 months of "brainwashing."

This happened soon after he made the first direct broadcast from Hong Kong to the United States in 1953.

The institute sessions will begin with a coffee and doughnuts at 8:45 a.m. Group meetings will begin at 10 a.m.

Douglas Murdoch, history and citizenship teacher of Tecumseh High School, will be on a panel discussing "The Teacher and Public Relations."

WITH TECUMSEH TEENS

By MARY SEAGER

Whew! Exams are over for another four months. It's going to be nice to be able to watch "Wagon Train" without a guilty feeling because there's studying to do.

√

There is no school Friday because teachers will be recording the test grades.

√

There is an away game with Dundee this Friday. The basketball teams will travel to Ypsilanti Lincoln this coming Tuesday.

√

School will resume on the regular schedule on Monday with the report cards being given out during that week.

However, County Teachers' Institute will be held on Feb. 5, so the Tecumseh school students will have a day of welcome vacation.

√

Six "Scout" staff members spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening in Grosse Ile as guests of the Grosse Ile High School newspaper, "The Islander."

Mr. Babcock, the advisor for the "Scout," accompanied Jon Cook and Kendra Frost, the co-editors, Lee Britton, Roger Mead, Linda Baldwin, and Mary Seager.

The Tecumseh writers met the staff of the "Islander" and discussed common problems in distribution and finance.

After the meeting at the school, each of the Tecumsehites went home for dinner with a Grosse Islander.

Then they all went to the Tecumseh-Grosse Ile game. Despite Tecumseh's victory, the new friendships weren't dampened.

Everyone thought it was worthwhile and that it strengthened Huron League relations.

√

The Suppressed Desire Dance held at the Teen Club Saturday was a huge success.

There were over 50 adults attending the party to see what goes on at the Teen Club and the remainder of the club was packed with teen-agers dressed according to their suppressed desires.

It is hoped that through this dance the Tecumseh adults will have a better understanding of the purposes and activities of the Teen Club.

√

A ping-pong tournament will be held at the Teen Club Thursday night for the swinging squares. Let's everybody get out and play ping-pong to celebrate the end of exams.

With Our Churches

+ How Many Joined Ministry?

"How many men have gone from this church into the Christian ministry?" is a question that the Rev. James D. Nixon will ask of Methodists as they worship this Sunday.

He will be speaking on the theme, "Who's Calling, and Whose?"

"During Epiphany we think of how the Christ was shown to the whole world," said Mr. Nixon. "The coming of the Wise Men from afar suggests this."

In keeping with this, Sundays during Epiphany give recognition to both missions and missionaries.

During the service next Sunday there will be the sacrament of Baptism for youth and adults. This will be followewd by the reception of two groups of new members.

One is a group of high school youth; the other is a group of adults. Both have been undergoing training for membership in recent weeks.

Methodists will gather at the Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. Sunday to hear an address by Dr. D. Elton Trueblood.

"This event has been in our plans for the last 14 months," said Mr. Nixon. It is being sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association.

The public is invited.

+ Young People Conduct Service for Presbyterians

This will be Youth Sunday in the First Presbyterian Church. Young people taking part in the worship service:

Tom Dickinson—prayer of confession

Karen Hall — invocation and Lord's Prayer—Apostle's Creed

Ralph Helzerman — Scripture reading

Bruce Parrett—prayer

Carl Wilt—offering and benediction

Ushers for this service will include Tom Simmons, Ron O'Neill, Tom Barton and Bruce King.

The sermon title is — "Playing With Dynamite" and the theme: "Religion can be something that will provide an interesting little interlude in ones life, or it can be a powerful experience."

+ Seven Members of Missionary Baptist Attend

Seven members of the WMS of the Missionary Baptist Church attended the Women's Association meeting at Garden City last Thursday.

They were Mrs. Lewis Lake, Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Bernice Large, Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mrs. David House, Mrs. Edgar Owens and Mrs. Elmer House.

Tuesday evening the Mary Lee Circle of the Church met at the home of Mrs. Herman Jones. Mrs. Dalton Holt conducted the meeting and Mrs. Bernice Large, the devotions.

The program was presented by Mrs. Elmer House and refreshments were served by the hostess.

+ Friends Church Dad-Son Banquet Will Be March 5

Plans were considered for the annual Father-Son banquet March 5 at the meeting of the Friends Missionary Society Jan. 21, when Mrs. George Watson conducted the business session.

Project reports were given. Mrs. Ralph Comfort presented devotions and Mrs. Naomi Sallows gave the inspirational thoughts for the evening.

Mrs. Paul Brantingham conducted the feature of the program, "A Typical Day With Anna Nixon," who is a Friends missionary in India.

An interesting tape recording was played. Supposedly the events were taking place in India as Miss Nixon went about her duties of the day.

Various native workers and students were introduced and spoke, as did Miss Nixon. The voices, however, were recognized as "local talent" and this added interest to the playlet.

The sound effects were particularly well done. Mrs. Neri Collingsworth was in charge of making the recording.

As the Rev. Paul Brantingham, pastor of the church, entered the room, the group sang "Happy Birthday" to him, and he cut the birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Clarence Randolph.

The cake was in the shape of an open book with special greetings on each page. He was presented with some gifts.

The committee in charge of refreshments was Mrs. Arthur Hodge, Mrs. Oscar Meads and Mrs. Myron P. Dermyer.

SPORTS
OF THE HERALD

THURSDAY, JAN. 28, 1960

FROM THE PRESSBOX

With this issue, The Herald is starting a sports page. We know that the beginning, of necessity, must be humble, but as the weeks roll on, we hope to put together the type of page which will most interest you sport fans.

We'll, of course, need your cooperation in getting athletic news. Members of the coaching fraternity can be especially helpful, providing us with data on games, individual scoring, etc.

In addition to varsity action of Tecumseh, Britton and Boysville, we'd like to receive details of games and boxscores for junior varsity and junior high contests.

When the girls at THS and B-MHS go into action, we'd appreciate the results.

Bowling standings will be grouped together on this page. If something unusual happens on the alleys, we'd like to hear about that and fashion a separate story.

This past week The Herald camera was on hand as Britton stopped Clinton. When Tecumseh returns home against Flat Rock Feb. 5, that's where the shutter-snapping will take place.

Tecumseh Zips by Grosse Ile as Poley Stars

By JIM LINCOLN

A big third period broke up an unexpected tight game between Tecumseh and Grosse Ile last Friday night, with the Indians coming on to win 52-42.

GI, last in the Huron League, surprised Coach Vic Lawson's cagers for two periods, but then fell when the Indians tallied 18 points to GI's 9 in the third stanza.

This Friday night Tecumseh is at Dundee, and then next Tuesday evening, the Indians play at Ypsilanti Lincoln.

Both are league contests and both clubs were defeated by Tecumseh earlier in the season.

☆

THE INDIANS' outstanding center, Jim Poley, led the scorers with 16 points.

Gerald Quinn, a newcomer who has moved back to the area from Alabama, scored 11 counters in his second game for Tecumseh. Bob Dick netted eight points.

☆

THE LOCAL reserves swamped their GI rivals, 56-34.

BRITTON'S CHUCK KOMON, WHO SCORED 30 POINTS AGAINST CLINTON, AIMS ON FREE TOSS.

Tories Score Easy Victory

CLINTON — Those high-flying Britton Tories just weren't to be denied in their basketball battle with Clinton Friday.

The host five acted as if it was looking for an upset, but Britton finally shook loose and was out front 70-47 at the end.

Britton rolled to a 32-30 margin at halftime, but in the third period Clinton closed the gap to six.

"That's tight enough for us," the Tories seemed to think in unison.

Paced by Chuck Koman and Dick Seagret, Britton took complete control in the final stanza.

With Seagret clearing the offensive and defensive boards, Koman provided the scoring punch.

Torie total for the last period: 28 points.

Koman again led the individual parade with 30 markers.

Next stop, following Wednesday night's tilt with Waldron, is Adrian Catholic Central Tuesday.

In the junior varsity battle, the little Tories, led by Tom Short, walked away from Clinton's JVs, 46-29.

'Cool Cuban' Makes Debut

ADRIAN — Boysville's varsity band and glee club gave a combined concert at St. Joseph's Academy here Monday evening.

One of the features was the playing for the first time of "The Cool Cuban," written by Brother Philip.

Relatives Asked to Orientation

Each month a meeting of the relatives and friends of patients who have been admitted during the previous month is held here at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

Goal of these monthly sessions is to offer an opportunity to the folks who have recently suffered the admission of a dear one to the "State Hospital."

They'll learn what officials are doing to help that dear one towards recovery and return to the community and home.

During the month of December, 64 persons were admitted.

Ruth Ann Bryan celebrated her 19th birthday last Monday. Judy Hawkins of Macon was her guest.

Products Paymaster Bowls 300

Larry Goller, 25, joined the select "300" bowlers group last week when he unraveled 12 straight strikes in a pre-league game at Paulding, Ohio.

The 300 score was bowled prior to the matches and is not sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress.

The local kegler, who is a paymaster at the Tecumseh Products Co., finished his string of 12 straight strikes and then rolled five more consecutive strikes in league play.

His series total in the Traveling League match was 611 with games of 247-202-162.

He bowls here regularly at Airport Bowl in the House League, Tecumseh Products League and Preston Classic.

His average is about 190.

Library Has 400 'Customers'

BRITTON — This town's branch library, located on the second floor of the council rooms, is one of eight throughout the county with headquarters in Adrian.

Enrollment at the Britton branch is 400.

Mrs. William Kuster was the first librarian, being replaced in 1950 by Mrs. Fred Bryan.

Mrs. Milburn Preston (better known as Pat) began duties as Librarian Dec. 1 of last year, replacing Mrs. Charles Fairbanks, who served in that capacity for five years.

☆

THE LIBRARY now has more than 1,850 books including 1,100 teen-age and children's books, also a set of World Book Encyclopedia and two sets of children's Encyclopedias.

It also maintains a good number of weekly and monthly magazines for both children and adults, as well as many helpful pamphlets.

Available through the library are many fine film-strips, slides and records on practically any subject, and suitable for school, club meetings, churches and Sunday schools.

Each summer the library sponsors a children's reading club.

Last summer 30 children made the honor roll by each reading the required 10 books.

☆

TWICE A YEAR emphasis is placed on one particular subject for adult reading by way of silver-clip books.

The current subject is Africa and good fiction and non-fiction books are available to all.

Two years ago three volumes of "Memoirs of Lenawee County" and "The History of Monroe County" were donated to the library by Mr. Aubrey Pocklington of Britton.

A few things are needed at the library just now; more shelves for instance and perhaps an electric clock.

Pat lives with her husband on their farm north of Britton.

Besides serving as Sunday School Superintendent of Britton Baptist Church, she also teaches a young people's class in that Sunday School.

JOIN THE FUN!

WIN $2 FOR WRITING THE FUNNIEST LINE FOR ANY OF THESE CARTOONS

. . . and Help The Tecumseh Herald Sell More Classified Ads

The Herald is off on another "selling kick" and we'd like you, our readers, to join the fun. This time it's classified advertising that we'd like to beef up. You know, have more folks use those little "for sale" and "wanted" liners, which are so much fun to read. Someone once said a person can get as much news out of the classified columns as any place in a newspaper. We've decided to put on quite a classified campaign during February, the month of presidents and cupid—and now in the happy hamlet of Tecumseh, Michigan, want ads. In our want ad sales effort we are going to run a series of advertisements, using the cartoons shown here to help attract attention. Here's where you come in. Just think up a real funny line (yakky, if you can) for each or all of the drawings. Clip out and mail to The Herald by February 1. The only rule is that your captions must contain some reference to Herald wants ads. The best ones, as chosen by The Herald staff, will appear in our ads. For each winner there will be a crisp, new $2 bill as a prize. Better hurry, there isn't much time.

THANK GOODNESS FOR JOHN KIERAN

Thursday, January 14, 1960. So far the new year, which we started with such high hopes, had been just one great big disappointment. Weather-wise—ugh. Rain, fog, unseasonably warm temperatures—everything unpleasant.

As gloomy day followed gloomy day, we looked out on a world of dark, dismal drippy dampness. Depressing, discouraging, disheartening—the abominable weather really had us down, way down.

Truly, I was in a state.

As if the weather in itself weren't enough, the birds had deserted us too. Nothing was going on outside except bad weather. The well-stocked feeders were quiet, quiet, quiet.

Now, when I desperately needed help, they chose to forget past kindnesses. During all the bad weather last year, all the ice and snow, we faithfully kept the table set and this was our thanks.

Mad at the birds, at the weather, but most of all at myself for letting such things get under my skin, I was ready to flay apart at the seams.

☆

FORTUNATELY, I don't go into these tail-spins of depression often. Birds or books I can usually count on to chase the blues away.

Terrible Thursday, however, found me about at the end of my rope but just before bottom was reached, my inheritance of Scottish stubbornness came to the fore.

I had learned to depend on those fickle-feather characters and by golly, they might not know it, but they weren't going to let me down now. If not in person, then from the pages of books they were going to come to the rescue.

The first books on the bird shelf were far from the right ones. Roger Tory Peterson's, "Field Guide to the Birds," "The Audubon Bird Guide"; these and their companions are wonderful reference books but when I hadn't seen even the most familiar birds for days, books used for identification were not going to be very helpful. I had to look farther.

Next came some old National Geographic bird books. I love The Society and anything it does can only be described with superlatives.

Last year it was my great, great fortune to receive, as two separate gifts, copies of their early bird books.

Marvelous reading and how we appreciated the generosity which prompted good friends to part with, what must have been treasured books.

☆

WE HAVE enjoyed them so much, the articles, descriptive text and the pictures; however, as spirit lifters on this particular day, they were not satisfactory.

Searching for Golden Eagles in the rugged Rocky Mountains or sloshing through the bayous of Louisiana after the rare Ivory Bill Woodpeckers usually makes fascinating reading but in my present state of mind, it only emphasized the fact that my bird watching was restricted to a hospital bed, the wheel-chair or the car.

Ah, the next book which caught my eye was almost sure fire. "Wings At My Window" by Ada Clapham Govan. I have written about it before in these series.

So often have we been completely captivated by Mrs. Govan's charm and warmth as she writes about the birds who gladden her life that it came as a definite shock when "old faithful" failed.

Instead of cheering-up, her tales of Chick-a-dees, Purple Finches, Cardinals, etc. merely aggravated the situation. Salt rubbed into an open wound as it were.

☆

I WAS GETTING desparate. My resolve to break the mood through reading was waving. I was fast reaching the point where anything and everything having to do with birds was depressing.

There was nothing going on outside my window and even if a few birds did come, they probably would not be very exciting. Yes, I was just one step away from self-pity—and what a horrible and deplorable frame of mind that is.

Fortunately help was on the way. Still looking at the bookshelf, I noticed John Kieran's "Introduction To Nature."

Being exactly what the name implies, a simple introduction to common birds, wild flowers and trees, I almost passed it up.

After all, I had read it many times and really, I was hardly in the mood to read that a Robin belongs to the Thrush family, has a red breast, etc. However, Mr. Kieran is a favorite author and so just for old times sake, I asked that his book be put on my reading table.

Salvation—just listen to what happened as I leafed through the book. Of the first 22 birds listed all but one I have seen from my window and that one, the Mockingbird, doesn't even live in these parts.

☆

ALL TOLD, the book discussed 99 birds—45 of these we see, or have seen, in our yard; 18 more we have seen on rides through the country or on vacation; and of the others, many are non-residents whom we shall probably never encounter.

And glory be, a few of our free-loading guests, Mr. Kieran did not even mention.

In a happy state of mind and with spirits soaring high, we closed the book and concluded that our form of bird watching was mighty exciting after all. Now do you see why I say, "Thank goodness for John Kieran."

Democratic Principles Are Needed

At the annual meeting of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District Jan. 14 in Adrian, Wyn Harrison, assistant secretary to the Michigan State Soil Conservation committee, spoke on the importance of soil conservation districts and the democratic principles under which they function.

"Soil conservation work needs to be done at a local level by people on the land," he said, "otherwise the federal government will have to do the job."

"Since 1937, there have been 76 soil conservation districts formed in Michigan. There are nearly 3,000 districts covering 90% of the crop land in the United States.

"Not only are individual farms in need of soil and water conservation, but urban areas and cities depend upon an over-all land use program which will provide food, fiber and water to an exploding population in ample quantities and of the necessary quality.

"Locally governed soil conservation districts can provide the leadership to obtain these goals," he said.

Mrs. Lloyd Ruesink, president of the State Soil Conservation Districts Auxiliary, spoke briefly on the women's viewpoint concerning soil and water conservation.

"Women especially have a stake in conservation work. They are affected on the farm and in the home", she said, "by benefits of necessary conservation expenditures and by failure to realize benefits by not making such investments."

Michigan Week Chairman Named for This County

Roy B. Olson, comptroller and assistant treasurer for Sperti Farady, Inc., Adrian, will serve as 1960 Michigan Week chairman for Lenawee county.

Mr. Olson, in accepting the appointment, stated that county and community committees will be named soon "so that we can become fully acquainted with the general Michigan Week program and plan the most effective observance possible in Lenawee county."

Planning for the 1960 Michigan Week, to be held the third week in May, is already far advanced, according to T. Austin Saunders of Muskegon, president of the General Telephone company of Michigan and this year's state chairman.

"Michigan — Your Opportunity," the suggestion of a 15-year-old Lansing newspaper carrier, will be the slogan for the seven-day event, and the subject for special emphasis will be "People of Michigan."

VOICE of THE HERALD

Off - Street Parking

When you consider $100,000, you're regarding big money—no matter from which angle you're looking. This happens to be the amount Tecumseh merchants are about to commit themselves for in an off-street parking improvement program.

Yes, a real pile of cash is $100,000—but it's chicken feed when you stack it up against the investments these storemen have in their business places and the future of this area.

Inventory, fixtures, existing business, etc. can run anywhere from $5,000 in a tiny, one-man operation, to nearly a million in the bigger ones. One retailer, alone, carries well over $50,000 in reserve inventory.

These men, for the most part, are not "loaded" individually, but they are responsible for great sums. They respect money. It doesn't awe them, but they realize it must be protected so that it might grow bigger over the years.

They know that good—and whenever possible, free—parking is as vital to the future of their business places as is the blood in their body to their very lives.

It was put to them in stark, unvarnished terms: Tecumseh's downtown needs are inadequate, most off-street spaces are unimproved, muddy in wet weather, rutted in winter. You need $100,000 to do the job properly.

In summation, the merchants who heard the report replied: OK let's raise the money, start the job.

They figure "what could be a better investment in our future."

Family Income: Up 40%

Going hand-in-hand with the merchants' plans for the big off-street parking project is a report by a large American advertising agency.

McCann Erickson, Inc. has come up with a study, dubbed "The Decade of Incentive, 1960-69". It's almost too much to believe.

After doing considerable figuring, McCann-Erickson says the nation will grow economically as much in the next 10 years as it did in the previous 25.

The report predicts a 40% increase in family income—the average shooting from $7,500 to $9,500.

Its conclusion: "American business can look forward to the largest markets and the fastest rate of growth it has ever lived through."

MRS. GEORGE SCHUMM

What's Cookin'

KUCHEN

Mrs. George Schumm, 508 W. Chicago Blvd., the beloved grandmother of 15 grandchildren, is our cook this week.

Her kuchen has been the family favorite for many years and goes with her almost as much as her coat and hat, since she always takes a pan of this delicious hot bread along on her visits to relatives and friends

Having made kuchen at least once each week since she was a young lady of 15, getting the recipe was a bit of a problem, but Mrs. Schumm kindly consented to measure the ingredients so that other housewives may try to duplicate the delicacy.

Mrs. Schumm was born in Germany and came to the United States in 1907. She and Mr. Schumm, a publishers representative, now, were married one New Year's eve in Detroit and celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary this past holiday.

They brought their family to Tecumseh 18 years ago from Somerset Center.

The seven children are all living in Michigan with their families:

Mrs. Betty Wing with daughters, Joanne and Mary, are here in Tecumseh.

Mrs. Robert Osburne has three children in Tipton.

Another daughter, Alice lives in Saline.

George is in Wayne, Fred in Chelsea, Robert in Mt. Clemens and Albert in Birmingham.

☆

NEEDLESS TO SAY, Mrs. Schumm's hobby is her family and she often has them all home for dinner and the day. She also enjoys traveling with Mr. Schumm.

In 1955 with her sister, Mrs. Louise Bauman of 212 N. Wyandotte St., Mrs. Schumm went to Germany to visit relatives.

During World War II many packages of used clothing, as well as CARE packages found their way overseas, from the Schumm household.

Besides the apple kuchen pictured, that Herald office employees enjoyed with great relish, Mrs. Schumm makes cherry, plum and cottage cheese kuchen.

She says the most delicious one is made from fresh blue Italian plums, its really yummy.

KUCHEN

2 cups milk, scalded
½ cup butter or oleo
½ cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
2 small eggs
1 cake yeast or 1 pkg. dry yeast
6 cups flour
Grated lemon rind

Crumble yeast in luke warm milk, let stand a few minutes, then add butter, sugar, eggs, salt, grated lemon rind, flour, beat well or knead till smooth and elastic, cover with towel, let rise double its bulk in warm place.

When light, butter cookie sheet, lay any desired fruit peeled and sliced on dough, sprinkle with cinnamon sugar, let rise about one hour. Bake in 375 degree oven for 25 minutes.

If, in the case of apples, they are not thoroughly baked, put kuchen under broiler for five minutes.

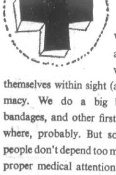
"A second thought on first aid"



We're constantly amazed at the number of children who cut, scrape and bruise themselves within sight (and sound) of our pharmacy. We do a big business in antiseptics, bandages, and other first-aid items. Same everywhere, probably. But sometimes we wonder if people don't depend too much on first aid—neglect proper medical attention. If there's the slightest question in your mind following what appears to be minor injuries, see your physician. First aid has definite limitations. You can only be sure of proper medical care by seeing your doctor. A prompt visit can save a half dozen later.

GO '60 GO CHEVY!

WITH SO MUCH THAT'S NEW,
SO MUCH THAT'S DIFFERENT
...AND SETS THE PACE WITH LOWER PRICES!

Chevrolet speaks of the Sixties like no other car—with a broad accent on spaciousness, stirring new concepts in styling and strong emphasis on spirit and thrift.

Step inside this superlative '60 and look at the worlds of room around you: head room, hip room, shoulder-squaring room. Note how Chevrolet's engineers have further flattened and narrowed the transmission tunnel to give the middle man more foot room. Chevrolet's greater roominess is inside where you want it—not outside in useless body overhang.

You'll find economy teamed with performance in a new standard V8, engineered to deliver up to 10% more miles for every gallon, or the strapping Hi-Thrift 6.

And riding comfort in the new one is a never-ending treat, thanks to Full Coil spring suspension. There are also thicker, newly designed body mounts that filter noise and vibration to the vanishing point, more rigid frame and many other engineering advances.

But you'll have to drive the Sixty sizzler yourself—that's the clincher.

TECUMSEH HERALD

LENAWEE COUNTY'S LARGEST WEEKLY

VOL. 109 — ONE HUNDRED TENTH YEAR — NUMBER 16 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, FEB. 4, 1960 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

OUR CARTOON-CAPTION writing contest has drawn quite a response.

This is the one tied in with our "February Is Want Ad Month in Tecumseh" celebration. Readers were invited to supply captions for any or all of three cartoons.

Writer of the best lines for each drawing will win a $2 bill. The cartoons and winning captions — with full credit to the authors—will appear in a series of ads we're running.

Only restriction was that Herald want ads had to be mentioned. Judging is presently going on.

As the original ad layout was being prepared, my third-grader said she'd get busy right away with her entries.

I hated to dampen her enthusiasm, but had to ask, "Do you think it would be fair if someone from a Herald family won?"

To this she answered, "But I need the money?"

Which brings to mind the response a Tecumseh first-grader made just before Christmas.

Teacher: "What gifts did the three wise men bring the Infant?"

Student: "Gold, Myrrh and Frankenmuth."

☆

JIM AND I ATTENDED THE annual Michigan Press Association convention in East Lansing this past weekend.

We heard Sylvia Porter (lots of interesting financial material, but not too much on delivery), Earl Wilson (lousey) and a Baptist minister, Dr. Carl Winters (who was terrific).

But to me, the highpoint was seeing a long-time and much respected friend, Jack Sinclair, owner of the weekly Hartford Day Spring in western Michigan, chosen president of the state press group.

Jack is a crackerjack newspaperman — having served with the Ann Arbor Daily News and Detroit Free Press before buying the Day Spring a dozen years ago.

His weekly has always been outstanding, well written, carefully edited. What's more, Jack spares no horses when it comes to crusading a cause.

JACK SINCLAIR

The sheriff in his county was woefully negelectful in his duties, among other things letting several prisoners escape and having a deputy who stopped motorists for minor traffic violations and threatened them with his pistol.

Jack has been blasting this guy in print for several months — so far with little success, but county officials are eventually bound to awake.

In recent weeks, Jack did some investigation into high school curriculum and discovered a weak pattern — promptly wrote what he found. Wham, in came the roof, but Jack just continued on his campaign, battling for the thing he knows is right.

Besides this ability as a newsman, Jack has became an expert in the field of printing since entering the weekly field and his shop is a model of modern efficiency.

His extremely capable wife, Helen, his college sweetheart, is Jack's good right arm and a major factor in his success.

You can appreciate our pride when the honor of leading Michigan's Press Association for the coming year went to Jack.

THE DEADLINE'S THE thing.

We've been running a rather flexible schedule in recent months, accepting late news and ad copy, forcing ourselves into overtime and vexed nerves.

This often happens to a paper as it grows and attempts to pack in as many last-minute items as possible.

But there's always a price to be paid — errors, frayed nerves, fatigue.

So we have come up with a definite schedule, including a series of deadlines for our contributors and our staff. (They appear elsewhere on this page.)

We put our part of it in operation last week and things rolled well — although the pattern did rub pretty hard. We could see, once the shakedown part was over, we'd be putting out a more orderly paper in a saner manner.

This rushing around late Wednesday, trying to piece together a story or ad is for the birds.

Our first press run is scheduled to be off by Tuesday at 5 p.m. The final one by Wednesday at 4 o'clock.

This gets the paper on newsstands (do you realize we now put out 950 papers Wednesday evening at 17 locations, mostly food and drug stores?)

It also gets those for mail patrons in the post office before 5 p.m. Wednesdays and this makes Jack Metcalf and his staff happy.

To maintain this schedule of deadlines, we'll need the help and cooperation of organization and church publicity chairmen. For this, we say, "Thanks in advance."

$17 Million Being Spent by Phone Co.

A record-breaking $17,000,000 expansion and improvement program for 1960—which includes the conversion to dial operation of Tecumseh and Tipton and 26 other exchanges—has been announced by the General Telephone Company of Michigan.

T. A. Saunders, president of General Telephone, point out that it represents a substantial increase over prior years and reflects a continuing investment program to improve and expand service in Michigan.

"Our objectives are to continue to meet the tremendous urban growth we are experiencing in Michigan, to expand and modernize our present system, and to do so we must maintain sufficient earnings to attract the investment capital needed to grow," Saunders said.

With the completion of the 1960 program, 87% of the total telephones with the company will be dial operated. The long range objective is to have 100% dial operation before the end of 1962.

Direct Distance Dialing will be available to 44,000 telephones in the 28 exchanges scheduled to receive this service in 1960. This will bring the total telephones with Direct Distance Dialing service to 86,000 by year end.

Consumers Power has announced nearly unrestricted gas heating for its southern Michigan territory by making available 60,000 heating permits.

Another Plan for Financing Lots Is Offered

Another financing arrangement for downtown off-street parking lots was discussed Monday evening by the Chamber of Commerce committee on parking.

Chairman Bill Powell introduced the thought of a civic improvement corporation, made up of business and professional people interested in bettering the city.

Each would buy stock, on a monthly-payment basis, in the organization.

Immediate objective would be to finance the $100,000 off-street program.

This is the project of hard topping, lighting and placing directional signs to all downtown off-street spaces.

The first idea on financing was voluntary assessments to merchants—35c per square foot of store space. This would cost the average merchants about $600, to be paid over a five-year period.

A majority of the 25 businessmen at a recent retail board meeting were satisfied with this idea.

Mr. Powell explained, in introducing the second idea, that this might be an easier method in producing necessary financing and to give more people an opportunity to share in various civic improvements.

Residents Protest Rates Now Being Charged at City Dump

BRICKING CHIMNEY—Lowell Reed of Adrian was busy bricking the chimney on Tecumseh's new General Telephone office at Chicago and Oneida Monday afternoon. All masonry work is expected to be completed this week and builders will begin finishing off the interior of the layout, which is going to bring dial telephones to the Tecumseh exchange this year. This structure is one segment of the $17 million expansion and improvement plan currently being carried out by General Telephone in Michigan.

Merchant Says $1 for Truck Is Too Much

By JIM LINCOLN

The city dump, as usual, became the chief subject at Monday's council meeting. It has been a troublesome topic with councilmen for months.

Claude Helms, local businessman and only one of many who have complained about the new and higher pickup rates, effective Feb. 1, not only questioned the commercial rates, but also the admisison charge now assessed.

He said that it is often necessary for his truck to take boxes and empty cartons to the dump two or three times a week, and the $1 charged for each entry is too high.

Chamber of Commerce secretary Don Murphy also confirmed reports that local merchants are squawking about the new commercial rates, which vary from $3 a month for a single pickup per week to $25 a month for six pickups per week of heavy volume.

Councilmen, apparently unaware of the commercial rates, requested that city manager Ed Nelson discuss the problem with Herb Dillon, owner of Tecumseh Hauling Company.

Mr. Dillon at a Chamber retail committee meeting Tuesday noon, said the new rates are necessary, but some concesisons can and will be made with merchants.

Some residents, not affected by the commercial rates, were grumbling publicly Monday about being charged to enter the dump. The admisison charges run from 25c for a passenger car to $1 for a stake truck, per entry.

'Moral Sag' of America

The "moral sag" of American stands in abrupt contract to the popularity of religion today, Dr. D. Elton Trueblood told a Tecumseh audience Sunday evening.

Dr. Trueblood spoke in critical judgement of some of our favorite pretensions in holding up to his hearers "the Dream that Possesses us."

The dream is the Christian Cause, as he termed the whole personal and social dynamic of the Christian religion.

Dr. Trueblood is professor of philosophy at Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana and is a writer and lecturer. He is a leader in several movements of the Quaker Church.

The occasion of his being in Tecumseh was to speak at a public meeting sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association, held at the Presbyterian Church.

☆

DR. TRUEBLOOD entered into his theme by pointing to the statistics which show that 96% of Americans over 13 years of age claim membership in some church or synagogue.

Yet it seems an inevitable conclusion an outstanding paradox that, in spite of membership and attendance, Americans do not have a great religious drive and accompanying sense of moral obligation.

He cited public interest in the VanDoren TV quiz scandal and that too often people said, "Why get excited about this? All he did was lie."

What was terrible about this, Dr. Trueblood pointed out, was not only the action of lying and cheating itself on the part of Van Doren and the TV producers and sponsors, but the low level of our morals in accepting it.

College cheating and last week's revelations of corruption in the Chicago police department are other examples of a lowering moral standard.

☆

THE RECORD shows that we look upon religious affiliation as trivial. This may be a sign that our civilization is on its way to dying.

"Civilizations go down not merely when people do wrong, but when they don't care that they or others do wrong," he warned.

"The Christian Cause is costly and demanding," Dr. Trueblood continued. "It means re-making our society."

The beginning is to see the vision, the "dream", and let it penetrate our lives in depth. Christian men and women will get caught up in the movement through prayer and reading of the Scriptures.

☆

"HOW BIG is your religion?" was a final challenge the speaker offered to his listeners.

"Is it just a Sunday morning affair? Anything but the most superficial Christianity moves out into all areas of life and is

Jaycee State Farmer Being Crowned Here

Plans are growing for the arrival of members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce chapters from all over Michigan.

They will be coming to Tecumseh for the crowning of the Young Farmer of the Year.

President Robert Laidlaw of the local group says "This is the fastest growing national project that Jaycees have ever had!"

Nearly 500 Jaycees are expected here for the March 5.

Local contests are being carried on throughout the nation this month, to culminate in selection of a local "Young Farmer of the Year" by each Jaycee group.

At the Tecumseh conclave, featuring a Saturday evening banquet, the state winner will be announced.

During the afternoon of that day a number of events will be taking place.

Men will tour local farms and industry while their wives will attend a cosmetics and hair-styling show at the Country Club.

They will join the men later in the day for a tour of Tecumseh Products Co.

A national selection will be made in April at Bakersfield, California, to be underwritten by American Petroleum Institute.

"Whether the Michigan entrant wins in California or not, we are planning to put Tecumseh on the map with the Michi-

OK Circular Drive

Architect Jim Smith told council that there is no real confliction with the city master plan regarding Charles Howe's project to install a circular drive at his residence on 100 W. Pottawatamie St.

Mr. Howe had intended to revamp his present home into a combination business and residence.

The front portion would become a drive-in dry cleaning establishment for Bancroft Cleaners and the rear made into an apartment in which Mr. Howe and his wife would reside.

A building permit was issued for the project in December and interior work on the apartment segment began last month.

Mr. Smith, who is working on the master plan, appeared at Monday night's meeting by request, after the planning commission via letter two weeks ago recommended to council that Howe's request be denied because it conflicted with the master plan.

Council overrode the commission and approved a circular drive for the area, which is zoned for business.

Councilmen and Mr. Smith agreed, however, that the drive intended for commercial use could become a nuisance and problem if traffic blocks the sidewalk.

Paul's Trailer Planning New 20-Acre Court

Don Maves of Paul's Trailer Sales announced plans for a 20-acre trailer court, just north of the present court, and asked council for water service.

Council delayed taking action until studied further. Maves was asked about being annexed to the city, curb-and-gutter, sidewalks, sewers and streets.

He said curb-and-gutter and other improvements would defeat the purpose of the trailer subdivision, a modern trailer court at the lowest cost for the working man.

Bridge Authorized

City Manager Ed Nelson was authorized to proceed with plans for a new bridge on N. Maumee St. over Evans Creek by Council.

Bridge cost estimates were around $32,000.

In other action, the Tecumseh Gardens Club, by letter, opposed the use of Adams Park for a new post office building and the library board requested one-half hour parking on S. Maiden Lane, next to the library.

Councilmen felt the park site was necessary for the post office and for development of the community, and rejected limited parking on S. Maiden Lane.

The library's problem was referred to the city engineer with the possibility of construction of a parking lot behind the library.

The local police crack-down on double-parking brought a letter of compliment from James McDowell, superintendent of schools.

APOLOGIES ACCEPTED — ALL IS FORGIVEN

Mother Nature must have been eaves-dropping as we dictated last week's article. And yes, I think she was a little ashamed of all the birdless days.

It took much thinking, but finally she came up with a perfect apology. For us, she couldn't have picked a better way to make amends.

Sunday, Jan. 13—a tremendous bird day. After such a dearth of birds we would, of course, have been excited at their return no matter when. But having "the great day" come on Sunday was absolutely perfect.

Sunday is the only day when both Mom and Dad are home and it was adding thrill upon thrill that they too could enjoy all the excitement.

And truly, excitement there was.

It started just after the drapes were opened, the coffee hadn't even perked yet.

Loud screaming — we could hardly believe our ears but there in the nearby wren tree, was a bluejay. Surprise!!

We hadn't seen a bluejay for weeks and weeks and weeks. As if satisfied that the raucous announcement of his presents had duly alerted an appreciative audience, down to the feeder he swooped.

Presently he is joined by another jay. To our shocked amazement, the two ate side by side. In a most un-bluejay like manner, they shared a breakfast of scratch feed and sunflower seeds. So it seemed that from the very beginning Mother Nature was out doing herself in trying to say, "I'm sorry!"

☆

WITH TIMING almost too good to be true, the bluejays finished their breakfast just as ours was ready. The percolator had just clicked off and the oven timer dinged that the coffee-cake was ready when the birds flew away.

As we started the happy job of eating, our spirits were soaring high—the day had hardly started, but already it was a smashing success. After so much nothing, just imagine having two bluejays at once—wow.

However, to be so easily satisfied and so quick to forgive was underestimating Mother Nature. Before the last crumbs of our breakfast were nibbed away, we had birds, birds, birds.

They were lined up in the wren tree waiting their turns. Cuddly little chickadees, perky and alert tufted titmice, Mr. and Mrs. Downey Woodpecker both so pretty in their black and white, mourning doves, happy carefree Juncos and, of course, sparrows in uncountable numbers.

All these came to entertain us and enjoy the offerings of the bird feeders.

☆

WELL, THERE was just so much going on that I am hard pressed to describe it all. Mother Nature was putting on a show the likes of which we hadn't thrilled to for ages.

After breakfast — both ours and theirs—things quieted down a little. We were satisfied, we would ask for no more excitement, but as it turned out the performance was not yet completed.

In the middle of the afternoon, the morning birds, perhaps remembering and being pleased with their earlier feasting, came back. They all returned and they brought company.

Cardinals—three of them. Of course, these red beauties always seem to keep themselves a little aloof from the rest of birddom and if shear handsomeness is any criterion, they have every right to behave as they do.

Then too, Mother Nature had to maintain a show of dignity and her apology could not become groveling—this she did by not showing us her whole bag of tricks.

The cardinals played in the trees, flitted from branth to branch, but did not come to the feeders. We saw them, however, and enjoyed the perfection with which they played their roles. It was enough.

☆

THERE WAS a newcomer to our feeder in the afternoon though—a little song sparrow. What a perfect ending for a most perfect day.

With the closing curtain of such a tremendous bird performance, we could only say that Mother Nature had certainly made up for all the preceeding weeks of unpleasantness.

Yes indeed, apologies accepted—all is forgiven.

A series of sermons on Christian beliefs will begin Sunday in the Methodist Church, reports the Rev. James D. Nixon of Tecumseh.

The sermon this week is called "We Believe in a Created World".

"Two forces in our generation prompt us to think more of the nature of our world," says Mr. Nixon. "One is the new exploration of outer space, and the other is the centennial of Darwin's writing of 'The Origin of Species'.

"Add to these the latest interest in unearthed Biblical manuscripts and we can see why many people are looking again at what they believe about the world."

Mr. Nixon will set forth what he believes to be the relation between biblical and geological descriptions of the origin of matter and the universe.

+ St. Peter's Holds Evensong Service

A candlelight service of Evensong will be held at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday evening at 7:30.

The service will be sung by the choir and congregation, with the choir, under the direction of Keith Bailey.

The service will observe The Feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which in the New Testament account in St. Luke's Gospel tells of the presentatio of the Christ Child in the Temple when his mother engaged in the Jewish ritual purification, following childbirth.

The Eastern Orthrodox Church calls the day "Hypapante", meaning "The Meeting" of our Lord and Simeon since the aged Simeon and Anna, who appear in the story, are representative of those pious Israelites who waited patiently for God's redemption of His people fore-told by the prophets.

Candles will be blessed and distributed to the congregation during the service. The feast day itself fell on Feb. 2 and was observed at St. Peter's with a celebration of the Holy Communion.

+ School Leaders

There will be an important meeting of all Presbyterian Sunday Church School superintendents and officers Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

This will be the first of a series, designed to help meet the total christian education needs of the church family.

+ Baptisms

David Keith Barron, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Barbon, was baptized last Sunday at the Presbyterian Church.

This Sunday, Richard Thomas Fielder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fielder, will be baptized. Also this Sunday, Mrs. F. F. Dickinson will be ordained and installed as a Ruling Elder.

+ Your Peace, Joy, Welfare Are Ours, Methodists Say

Last Sunday, Methodists joined in saying "your peace, joy, and welfare are now our own."

They were addressing the 15 new members who had just been received into the church and who were at that time facing the congregation.

All of the members present joined in the act of renewing their vows in this service.

Seven of the new members had been trained in a class for high school youth during the past few weeks.

These include Sally Vincre, Sharon Schultz, John Hartley, June Hartley, Sharlene Seitz, Carole Kilburn and Gary Hall.

The adults joining the church included Mrs. John Hartley, Mrs. Maude Bolender, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trickey, Mr. and Mrs. Ned VerHage, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hale.

The sacrament of baptism was received by Mr. Hale, Mrs. Hartley, John Hartley, June Hartley, Gladys Hartley, Sharon Schultz, Richard Michael Hale, James Carl Hale and Jeffrey Craig Hale.

The next concurrent series of youth and adult membership classes will be on the four Sundays of April, at 9 and 11:15 a.m., respectively.

The membership Sunday for these classes will come one week after Easter.

The Confirmation class meets Saturdays at 11 and will be received on Palm Sunday.

+ Brotherhood

Universal brotherhood will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services this Sunday. Peter's awakening to a higher sense of brotherhood highlights the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

+ Prayer, Problems

How prayer enables man to cope effectively with the problems of daily living will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

GORDON PEARSON

He's Greeted by Own Picture Four-Feet High

Gordon Pearson, native of Tecumseh, was awarded an all-expense-paid trip to New York City in January by International Business Machines.

He won the trip for his sales records in IBM's electric typewriter division.

Huge photographs, four feet square, showed the ten top men in sales in the United States at the meeting. This display greeted Gordon and the other winners at the NYC meeting room.

Though he knew about the trip, Mr. Pearson had not known that he led his division, which covers all of Michigan and parts of Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Mr. Pearson has been employed with IBM at the Dearborn office for about seven years.

He is the son of Mrs. Neal Pearson and the late Mr. Pearson of 501 W. Pottawatamie St.

Mr. Pearson is married and lives with his wife and one son and daughter in Farmington township.

He inherited his father's talent for using his hands and enjoys many hobbies including mosiac tiles.

One of his pictures is hung in the new IBM building in Dearborn.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editors:

Among the possibilities for civic programs, which we have in our thinking for the future, how about an annual pageant, festival or general celebration.

It would be something which would demand the participation of a lot of our citizens and attract visitors to our fair city.

In 1924, we staged a historical pageant for two days in honor of the Centennial of the settlement of the town.

There was a parade of floats. A well-planned and well-executed outdoor play was presented in a natural amphitheatre just east of the little powerhouse on Hayden Mill Pond.

We were blessed with good weather and the venture paid off to the tune of about $1,200. There was no carnival company interested, though a director was hired.

We had a very hardworking local committee and if I am not mistaken Mrs. Hazel Dickinson was one of the top planners. I do remember that Fred, Sr. was in the cast as General Brown.

It would seem that this would be one way our community could get together and put ourselves on the map.

To begin with, I would suggest that we would use part of the Legend of Hiawatha for a theme.

Namely the Story of Mondamin, the Spirit of the Corn. There are Tulip Festivals, Gladioli, Lilac and Apple Blossoms.

Why not corn? Sweet corn, pop corn, corn bread, pancakes, etc.

With the talent we have here in band, choruses, dancing and ability in general, I believe we could stage something that would show that Tecumseh really is the progressive little city that we know it is.

If we could have the big municipal park we are wishing for, that would be ideal. The athletic field is good but not as natural a background and parking would be a problem at the Athletic Field.

This is just a general suggestion which I realize would mean a lot of work and certainly would involve a large expense, but could show also a good cash balance in addition to the fun of participation.

Sincerely,
W. G. Waldron

Takes First Place

A fourth quarter surge carried Tecumseh past Dundee Friday night, 60-51, and into sole ownership of first place in the Huron League.

A surprising Dundee five refused to wilt before the visiting Indians until the waning minutes and at one time held a six-point lead with just slightly over four minutes to play.

This Friday night Tecumseh hosts Flat Rock, the only league club to hand the Indians a loss. Ypsilanti Lincoln tumbled Flt last week, 40-34.

Jim Poley and Jerry Quinn, in his second game for Coach Vic Lawson, paced the local cagers with 24 and 13 points respectively.

Quinn made most of his points in the first half while Poley scored most of his in the final two periods.

With slightly over four minutes to go, the Indians caught five to wipe out a Dundee lead and to win going away.

The Vikings scored only two points in the second half of the final stanza with both coming from the free throw line.

The local reserves dropped their second game of the season, 58-48.

Indians Are Lucky To Win Ypsilanti Tilt

By JIM LINCOLN

A lucky Tecumseh team floundered to a 39-38 victory over Ypsi Lincoln Tuesday night in the college arena at Ypsilanti.

The victory prevented the Indians from slipping out of first place in the Huron League and into a tie with Blissfield and Airport.

Jack Sisson and Jim Poley topped the local scorers with 11 points each. Bob Dick scored seven points, Gerald Quinn six, and Tom Walter four.

The game's leading scorer was Dave Sparrow with 14 points.

Ypsi led through most of the tilt until late in the third period, and at one time in second quarter held an eight-point margin.

A consecutive run of eight points in the third period gave the Indians a two-point lead they never relinquished.

Three Are Tied in Competition Amoung Cubs

Freddie Choske, Norman Beal and Dean Hebb finished in a three-way tie for first place for the space helmets as a Cub Scout Pack 4 project.

The Products Union Hall looked as though it had been invaded by outer space men and the helmets made by the Cubs were all so fine that judges had a difficult time choosing winners.

Den 5 conducted the flag ceremony and Wallace Whiting led the Pack in group singing.

Den 8 led by Mrs. Leslie Wykes staged a skit called, "Voyage into Space." Tin can Cubby was awarded to Den 9, led by Mrs. Ed Beal with 80% parent attendance.

Each den put on a science demonstration, Den 1 with studying the stars; Den 3, secret wirting with lemon juice; Den 4 showed how to float eggs in salt water and put eggs into milk bottles by using matches; Den 5 had dancing mothballs; Den 6 used balloons for static; Den 8 had electromagnet and Den 9 made some pretty coal gardens.

Henry Mensing, Scott Edward and Robert Powell all of Den 4 received their lion badges with a gold arrow.

Larry Saunders of Den 5 received his bear badge.

It was announced that the Blue and Gold Banquet will be held Feb. 20 at the Grange Hall at 6:30 p.m.

MASS MEETING

A mass meeting of veterans and their families interested in the new Veterans Administration pension law will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, February 14, at the Disabled American Veterans Memorial Home, 3744 East Michigan Avenue, Jackson.

WINDOWS ARE IN — Large windows in the Tecumseh Recreation Field press box are now installed. The press box is the first major project of the Tecumseh Sports Boosters, who have announced another membership campaign. The press box still isn't completely paid for and there are other objectives of the group still in the planning stage. Memberships are $1 each — although larger gifts are happily accepted. The press box was designed by Jim Smith, local architect.

31 Moms On Hand

BRITTON — Basketball Coach Sam Hamilton designated Tuesday evening as Mother's Night.

Thirty-one moms were on hand, seated together on the stage. But as it turned out, the lovely mothers of players and yell leaders didn't have too much to cheer about.

Ida cagers saw to that, winning three out of four games—varsity through seventh graders.

The varsity Tories were sailing smoothly, going into the final quarter with a comfortable 46-35 lead.

Ida caught fire in the last stanza, dumping in 21 points to Britton's eight and coming home 56-54.

Chuck Komon's 15 markers paced Britton.

In the junior varsity game, Ida snowed Britton, 45-29. Ken Southwell led Torie scorers with nine.

Britton's eight grade squad saved the day from ending in complete gloom, winning handily, 47-22. Pepper Griewahn peppered the twines for 20 tallies.

Ida's seventh graders came out on top, 25-16 Larry Henning's seven points were Britton's best.

Among mothers on hand were: Mrs. Howard Hass, Mrs. Anthony Ivan, Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. Cecil Servoss, Mrs. Charles Anspach, Mrs. Thelma Henning, Mrs. Harold Rohrback and Mrs. Maurice Papworth.

Mrs. Dave Cook, Mrs. Raymond Seagret, Mrs. Charles Komon, Mrs. Albert Bailey, Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, Mrs. Keith Bottoroff and Mrs. Donald Lutton.

Mrs. Lawrence Faust, Mrs. Paul Bailey, Mrs. Tom Short, Mrs. Percy Cadmus, Mrs. Robert McCrate, Mrs. Domingo Trevino, Mrs. Ken Soutwell and Mrs. Sam McCarthy.

Mrs. Gerald Richards, Mrs. Harley Hummel, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Mike Papp, Mrs. Forrest Barrett, Mrs. Carl McClue, Mrs. Harold Ousterhout and Mrs. Vern Neidlinger.

BRITTON SPORT BRIEFS

The GAC basketball teams lost to Napoleon, 21-15, last Tuesday.

The junior varsity played, but the score was not officially kept, but the Tories won.

Next game will be with Clinton Wednesday, 10, at Britton. First game starts at 7 p.m.

Everyone is welcome and no admission is charged.

The eighth grade Tories lost their first game last Friday to Summerfield, 34-31.

Pepper Genning was high point man with 18, Ronnie Mastie had seven and Phil Benedict six.

The seventh grade also lost to Summerfield, 23-18. Larry Henning had 11 points, Dick Papworth, four; and David Prill, two.

State-Ranked Britton Wins

BRITTON—State-ranked Britton-Macon copped victory No. 9 last week with an easy 55-31 win over Adrian Catholic Central at Adrian.

The Tories, listed at the 18th post in the AP poll last week, trounced the Irish desipte a so-so game, especially in their shooting.

Chuck Komon, top Britton scorer, made enough of his shots to lead both teams with 15 points.

Dave Servoss netted five field goals and one free throw for 11 points.

Britton's collapsing zone defense put the skids under the Irish's high scoring center Chet Hikes and held him to just 13 counters.

Coach Sam Hamilton emptied his bench early in the final stanza and resulted in 10 cagers entering the scoring column.

ACC won the reserve tilt, 39-26.

Indian Dancers Make Authentic Costumes

(Editor's note: This month Boy Scouts of America are celebrating the Golden Jubilee of their organization. Here is a feature story, telling of just one facet of the Britton Scout program.)

BRITTON — The American Indian is one of the least understood and most misrepresented of any group of people.

The Indians led adventuresome and picturesque life.

Today many of the arts and lore of the Indian are preserved only in written form.

Boy Scouts here are interested in Indian lore an dancing for the sheer enjoyment of learning of these people and to be able to present a picture in motion.

The boys do dances of the Sioux, Wennebago, Pawnee and Apache tribes

One is the "Pony Tail Dance" and part of the costume consists of real horse tails that a group of 12 wear while doing this dance.

These tails were located after an extensive search and were processed and prepared by the group.

Another is the hoop dance, which is a solo and shows the intricate and graceful dancing in a hoop. It takes many hours of practice to preform this one.

The dying eagle is another solo and is by all standards the most graceful.

The pigeon dance tells the story of the great fear the pigeons have for the eagle.

☆

THESE ARE preformed in the graceful rythm that the Indian excelled and each tell a story of some feat the individual or tribe had done.

Costumes are as near authentic as possible, each boy making his own. Some of the feather work requires several weeks to complete. All of the costumes are colorful and highly valued by the boys.

The boys range in age from 11 to 17 and all are serious and determined to be one of the finest Indian dance groups.

SIDNEY FORSYTH DOES THE DANCE OF THE EAGLE.

☆

LONG-RANGE plans are to be able to preform for groups and organizations.

First public appearance will be for the Britton-Macon PTA Monday, March 21.

The Scouts are also interested in the study of Indian relics and stones.

They have a small collection and are interested in adding any articles that may be found.

At a future date the boys would like to exhibit these collections to the public.

Scoutmaster Robert Auten and assistant Scoutmasters Allen Becker and Dick Lutton, would like to express their appreciation to the parents who have helped during the last year to get the group started.

Britton Boy Scouts of Troop 23:

Dick Sommers, Sid Forsyth, Gerry Rohra, Carl Bewers, Walter Anspach, Tom Yarchow and Tom Smetka.

Frank Forgas, Bill Kahle, Bill Baker, Joe Henphill, Larry Graham, Larry Baker and Steve Lutton.

BRITTON—New subscriptions continue to be sold by Britton-Macon High School juniors at a brisk pace and with each a $1 commission rolls into the class treasury.

As of Monday, 153 new families had been placed on The Tecumseh Herald rolls.

Renewals have totaled 24.

Big selling point for the juniors is this NEWS of BRITTON page, which has become a popular weekly feature of the Tecumseh paper.

Britton, now with an editor of its own in Mrs. Paul Rowlands, is being given picture and news coverage as it never has before.

The subscription drive continues until Feb. 13 and the juniors are gunning for a net of more than $300. Their earnings will help pay for the annual Washington trip when they're seniors.

Besides the cost of their subscriptions, five customers have also given special downtown donations to the class. This totals $7 so far.

In the weekly competition among the juniors — who sells the most new subscriptions each week—Gloria Hummel won the $5 bonus. Gloria signed up 23 families from Monday to Monday.

Janet Linn was runner-up with 20 and Nancy Brown turned in 13.

DR. HORACE DEWEY POINTED OUT PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Wives Hold Church Services in Home

BRITTON — Members of the Methodist Church were honored with the presence of Dr. Horace A. Dewey last week.

Dr. Dewey, missionary from the Orient, started out the evening by speaking to a group of young people.

He told them about the youth, like themselves, in other countries and how hard they are working to become educated and good Christians.

He explained the difficulties he and his wife had in mastering the Chinese language; how his son, at the age of 12, could speak four languages — French, Chinese, Russian and English.

Dr. Dewey taught the group a Filipino song and two of their favorite games: "My Auto-Mo-Pubble" and "Stoop", the most unforgetable game he ever played.

During the last game Dr. Dewey took a picture of the group in a very awkward position.

He intends to mail the picture back to see if they can find themselves.

The young people then had their supper at the church before leaving for the basketball game in Adrian.

Later that evening, Dr. Dewey spoke to the ladies of the WSCS. Here he introduced many points on the growth of communism in China, and how the Christian women have helped in preventing this growth.

He told that many churches in China are being use for warehouses.

Ministers are working in factories, he said, but their wives are having church services in their homes.

He stated that Americans are not as appreciative of teachers, ministers, doctors and agriculture experts because they have always had them. In foreign lands the people are so grateful for persons with educations, they show and express their thanks in every way possible.

He closed by asking the ladies to continue their good work as it is desperately needed and they shall be rewarded for their efforts.

OPERATING A PHARMACY IS NOT EASY.
The 1969 Drug Topics Red Book, just received, has 660 pages listing more than 150,000 different items made by more than 6,000 individual drug companies, of which 424 are new firms.
THERE ARE 13,842 NEW PRODUCTS.
There is a total of 2,966 product changes involving new prices or sizes.
OUR PROBLEM IS TO STOCK WHAT YOU MAY ASK FOR.
We try to always carry your favorite brands of medicines and health-aids. In our prescription department we must be able to compound medicines, even when prescribed by physicians in distant cities.
WE CAN'T CARRY 160,000 ITEMS.
Not even a wholesale drug house does. But, by careful stock control we usually have what you want.
WE WILL QUICKLY GET ANYTHING.
On the few occasions when we do not have what you ask for, we will get it and stock it for your future need! Unlike non-pharmacy outlets that only offer the profitable fast sellers, we carry many needed slow-turnover items. That is why we need and appreciate your preference on all medicine and health-aid purchases.

Snow Can Hurt Shrubs

Snow and ice of winter can pick off shrubs in your yard and garden.

Joe Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University, says damage often comes from the weight of the snow and ice. Branches are forced to droop, deforming them or causing them to split or break.

Cox suggests you tend to your shrubs immediately after a snow storm if you haven't given them advance protection. Gently shake the snow from the branches with a broom.

Low spreading evergreen shrubs can be protected by giving the branches some support—ahead of the storm. Lay boughs under the branches to buoy them up.

Cox suggests that snow can be used for this purpose also. As you shovel the walk, pile some of the snow under spreading branches to prevent them from bending to the ground.

Another method often seen in northern Michigan is the use of light, supporting crates, built from lath or other light-weight boards.

These structures can be painted dark green to blend with the shrubs, and they can be used year after year.

Upright-type plants can be protected by tying the spreading branches to the main stem with a soft cloth. It may help to add the support of a stake in the center of such plants before tying the branches.

Bumps and bruises from children and dogs romping through the yard are not kind to shrubs, so try to protect the plantings from this rough treatment. When branches are brittle, they break easily.

OPEN DAILY 2 TO 9 P.M. SATURDAY 11 A.M. TO 6 P.M.

THE MANSION by William Faulkner. This is the thid and final book in the Snopes family chronicle, altho it is a complete novel in itself.

JOHNNY SHILOH by James Rhodes. In the spring of 1861 a nine-year-old boy ran away from home to join the Union forces. His presence seemed to put starch into the men around him. He won his nickname by his courage at the famous battle of Shiloh.

CERTAIN HARVEST by Ruth Knight. A vivid panoramic picture of life in early New York and one of its most dynamic men—Peter Cooper. Here is the story of the country farm boy who built a commercial empire, and whose "Tom Thumb" locomotive spurred the success of the biggest railroad of its day, the Baltimore and Ohio.

DOCTOR IN CLOVER by Richard Gordon. The zany efforts of the irrepressible (if not exactly irresistible) Dr. Gaston Grimsdyke to live up to the Hippocratic oath while avoiding the marital oath.

THE LAST DAY by Helen Clarkson. It was just like any other lovely August day when Lois and Bill drove to the fishing village of Selsea for Bill's vacation. They were a little surprised to find no one else on the beach, but it did not really trouble them. It was late that night when they saw it—the vast glare,, the roar that rocked their eardrums.

WHAT END BUT LOVE by Gordon Webber. The Hobarts were pioneer farmers, a stubborn, eccentric clan, close in time of trouble, sundered and separate at other times. Michigan was a green wilderness when they settled there, but a boy could see the smokestacks of Flint's auto factories from the top of the barn in later years.

PEACOCKS AND AVARICE by Joyce Warren. In this gay, warm record of a happy childhood the reader grows to know a delightful family (whose personality is every bit as strong as the peacock's, Father's yearly gifts), the girl's many pets, and the many neighbors and relatives who wandered through the family's life, people often eccentric, always engaging.

Preventing Cold Wave Stains

By ROYAL WELCH

The popularity of the "cold wave permanent" is deserved. It does the job—puts the wave in your hair; and does it most economically.

At the same time, we see garments come into the plant on which cold waves have caused one or more of these three characteristic stains:

1. Bleaching
2. Color Change
3. Purple Spots.

As with many stains, a cold wave spot will often remain invisible until heat is applied or aging (hence, oxidation) reactivates the chemicals. Then a brown spot appears. This is, of course, a shame. So let us tell you how you can avoid this kind of thing.

Why not be smart and dress for the waving process in old or cast off clothes? But if you should spill cold wave solution on a valued garment, we recommend that with washable garments you sponge with clear water, being sure the spot is completely out before ironing.

With dry-cleanable garments, bring them in for cleaning as soon as possible. But, remember, because of the acid and bleach content of these solutions, a cold wave stain is likely to produce damage which may not be immediately preceptible.

And, naturally, you can always be sure of good cleaning when you BRING IT TO. Welch Cleaners 110 S. Maumee St.

MARY SEAGER'S
With Tecumseh TEENS

When THS students return to school after the first semester, or shortly thereafter, tables will be set up outside of Mrs. Service's room.

At these tables will be two yearbook staff members, eagerly waiting for forthcoming orders.

Most students and adults who buy school yearbooks or who look wistfully at them in future years, remembering their high school days, do not realize the extra-ordinary amount of work and effort that goes into these keepsakes.

Work on them starts the spring of the junior year when the staff is chosen.

The photographers and the editor-in-chief and associate editor begin under the expert direction of the adviser, Mrs. Service.

Snapshots are taken of all the spring sports, Mr. Dixon takes the formal portraits of the track, golf and baseball teams (that's why many graduates appear in these pictures), and the first dummy copy of the book is laid out.

This dummy will fit in the palm of your hand and all it shows is the page numbers and what will go on each of the pages. This serves as a guide when the larger dummy and the page envelopes are filled out.

In the fall, the fun and real work starts with a vengeance. Copy for endless amount of clubs, sports, activities and practically anything else you could name must be assigned, received, proofread, and typed with carbon copies and sent to Edwards Brothers (our yearbook manufacturer).

All photographs must be tabbed with numbers on sticky little pieces of paper and sent in for pre-screaming (a process which breaks the black and whites into little dots for printing.)

Having the copy and the photos set and pre-screened respectively takes about two weeks and if the timing isn't just right, that two lousy weeks can mean meeting a deadline or being woefully under it.

According to the illustrations in the dummy copy, the returned copy and snaps are pasted in position on boards which will be photographed and the plates used for printing.

Mistakes in this process are costly because 12 pages are photographed on one plate and any mistakes in one page mean that all 12 must be re-taken.

There are several customs that have grown up at THS which are followed in every annual.

Each year that we have a championship team in any sport, individual pictures of the players are taken, cut out, and used on a special "champs" page.

This year there will probably be two, one for football, and one for basketball.

In the faculty section, the teachers' pictures are arranged according to seniority, not alphabetically or by subjects. This seeming lack of order has puzzled hundreds of yearbook readers.

Every paste-up job on the pages must be repeated about 160 times (that's the number of pages in the book) in order to meet deadlines.

Besides the pages, the cover and end-sheets must be chosen and designed by the Art Editor.

After all this work, the book is sold about a month before graduation.

Next week, some of the new features of the 1960 Senior Echoes will be described.

In the table tennis tournament at the Teen Club Thursday night, competition among the teen-agers was lively.

At last, these people emerged as winners. In mixed double Evelyn Beeland and Dean Eddie reigned supreme.

John June and Dale Tuckey triumphed in boy's doubles.

Winning singles were Jon Cook and Nancy Smith.

There were real good crowds at the Club both Friday and Saturday nights.

☆

Plans for the 1960 senior trip to Washington are fast becoming more complete. All of the seniors who are planning on going have signed up during their government classes.

Charts for room-mates have been put and four students per room have begun to fill the blank spaces.

On Tuesday, the optional choices and the schedule for the trip were read during government.

The class will leave from Toledo the night of April 30 and return to Toledo the morning of May 5.

While there, they will visit the Capitol, the FBI, the Treasury, Mount Vernon, the Smithsonian Institute—and for fun, the Casino Royale. They will also take the Skyline Drive and see the Lu-Rae Caverns.

There was a class meeting Wednesday to discuss the trip further during sixth hour.

The Grosse Ile school newspaper staff has invited the "Scout" staff to visit Friday afternoon and discuss problems common to all school newspapers.

After the roundtable discussion, members of the Grosse Ile staff are taking the Tecumsehites home with them for dinner. They then will go to the Tecumseh-Grosse Ile game together.

This should promote greater co-operation and interest among the newspapers in the league.

STEP OUT IN IT

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

Supple Full Coil suspension—Coil springs at all four wheels melt bumps as no other suspension can. Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.

Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.

Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.

Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.

Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.

Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.

Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.

Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by eliminating vibration in this vital area—tire life is longer, too.

Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.

Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels.

Wide choice of power teams—Choose from 24 different power combinations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

Farmers' Week Slates Programs

A half-dozen special programs for youth have been arranged for Farmers' Week at Michigan State University, Feb. 1-5.

All are scheduled on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Regardless of which of the three days a youth attends, he will be able to take part in four of the programs, according to Farmers' Week officials.

The four programs that will be repeated on the three days cover college and careers in agriculture, getting acquainted and behind the scenes in a museum.

Farmers' Week officials point out that the time was when agriculture meant farming and ranching, and little else.

But today it means not only farming and ranching but opportunities in science, business, sales, industry, conservation, communication, education, etc. Farmers' Week youth programs will stress these many opportunities.

Interest and Dividends Must Be Included

The Internal Revenue Service issued a reminder to all taxpayers that all interest and dividends, whether paid directly to you or credited to your account, must be included on your income tax return.

R. I. Nixon district director of Internal Revenue, stated that there are certain exclusions and credits which will reduce the tax liability on dividends.

The director added that taxpayers should check the instruction booklet and follow carefully the schedule on the return to make sure that the benefits are claimed correctly.

Director Nixon stressed that before signing and filing your return, you should make sure that:

1. Your name and address is printed plainly.
2. All income is properly reported.
3. All allowable deductions are claimed.

They'll Compete If Employers Will Let Them

EAST LANSING — Older workers can compete in the job market if employers will give them the opportunity, says Michigan State University Professor Daniel H. Kruger.

Employer contentions to the contrary, many older workers can maintain production standards, meet physical standards, learn new techniques, and compete with younger workers on attendance records, opinions professor Kruger.

Nor, says Professor Kruger, need older workers cost the employer more for pensions or insurance, as is usually supposed.

James McDowell Is Among Those Attending Session

LANSING — James McDowell of Tecumseh will attend the quarterly meeting of nine of the commissions and committees of the Michigan Education Association Feb. 5 and 6 at Michigan State University.

Commissions and committees to meet are the finance and membership commission, publications commission, public relations commission, regional conference commission, professional problems commission, teacher education and professional standards commission, MEA services committee, resolutions committee and the tenure committee.

Bridge Will Change Road

LANSING—Low bidders will be determined here Feb. 17 on the state highway jobs.

In Lenawee county:

A bridge to carry relocated Sutton Rd. over the north branch of the Raisin river about four miles south of Tecumseh. Sutton Rd. is being relocated just south of the existing route here to eliminate sharp turns.

The new bridge will be 126 feet long and will carry a 25-foot roadway. Completion date is Sept. 1, 1960.

Orville Laidlaw Attends Meeting

O. W. Laidlaw was a guest of the Bismarck Hotel in Chicago, while attending a two-day sales conference presented by the American Seating Company.

During the meetings, he heard the Grand Rapids, Michigan firm, world's largest manufacturer of public seating equipment, outline 1960 marketing plans and viewed the latest developments in materials and product design concepts for classroom seating.

Presbyterian Youths Start Bowling Lessons

Richard Gartee will take a group of 10 young persons from the junior department of the Presbyterian Church, to the Airport Bowl for bowling lessons.

The cost will be 70c per child —this includes shoes and 2 games.

Instructors will be on hand to assist the young people. Each Saturday hereafter, Mr. Gartee will escort another group of 10 until the whole junior department has had an opportunity to take part.

Native of Iraq States Schools Are Being Built

Frank Aroba, an engineer with Clinton Engines Co. and formerly of Iraq, told about the conditions of that Middle East country at Rotary Tuesday.

Mr. Aroba talked mainly about changes in the country since its revolution in 1958.

Citizens there are now building schools, helping to wipe out the former wide-spread illiteracy.

Oil—with its $200 million annual income—is still the key to Iraq's future, he explained.

He was introduced by Ralph Sager.

Visiting Rotarians were Ed Lang and Al Woefle of Adrian.

Local members reporting make-ups were Dale Clark, Gale Fisher, the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, Lloyd Rhein, Maynard Lucas and Hugh Walter.

Ruins of Aztecs

MEXICO CITY—Amid the ancient ruins of the Aztecs and the Toltecs, William Lewis Lopshire a 1957 Tecumseh High School graduate from rural Clinton, is getting his education in an ultra-modern way.

Some of his classes are actually among the crumbling remains of one of the earliest civilizations in the Americas.

Lopshire is attending Mexico City College, situated high above the Valley of Mexico and overlooking the bustling capital city.

The college has a strong American tink, since it is a member of the Southern Association of U. S. Colleges.

Located in the shadow of the twin snow-capped volcanoes, Ixtaccihuatl and Popocatepetl, the college is only a few minutes drive from downtown Mexico City, the second largest metropolis in the continent.

Among these colorful surroundings, Lopshire sits side by side with scholars from all corners of the world.

☆

SON OF Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lopshire, he attended Michigan State University after finishing at THS. He is an economics major here.

Between studies, students can relax in various ways. On Sunday there is bullfighting and jai alai games. And the famed tourist resorts of Acapulco and Veracruz are within reach for a weekend trip.

Most Mexico City College students live in college-approved homes with Mexico families who reside in the area.

The college, only one of its kind offering United States-style degrees and courses taught in English, has mushroomed from a two-year junior college into its present size in only 20 years of operation.

☆

ACCORDING TO the Institute of International Education, MCC has more America students than any other college or university outside the United States, including Paris' famed Sorbonne.

Credits are transferrable to most U.S. colleges and many institutions now have a "quarter in Mexico" plan where a student can spend a winter term south of the border.

Although MCC is renowned for its foreign trade center, Spanish and anthropology departments, its art and creative writing centers have also grown in stature.

Courses of study, taught by a distinguished international faculty educated in Europe, Latin America and the United States, lead to the BA and MA degrees.

Average enrollment is around 850 each quarter.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD
LENAWEE COUNTY'S LARGEST WEEKLY

An independent newspaper, published every Thursday morning at 117 S. Evans Street, Tecumseh, Michigan. Entered at the Post Office in Tecumseh as second class matter.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Williams on Thin Ice?

When we read, in our large metropolitan papers, inside, top-secret information as written by such columnists as Drew Pearson, it's interesting to consider how he stumbled onto the information.

Actually, in the case of someone like Mr. Pearson, it isn't really stumbling. He has hundreds of news contacts who feed him these choice tidbits. They're often people "on the inside" who go unsuspected as "supply lines."

The weekly press, over the years, can build up similar contacts in a much smaller way—but to the little paper, there're as vital in putting together a puzzling picture as in the case of national columnist, even when certain items go unprinted.

While in East Lansing, we—and in this case, stumble is the proper verb—stumbled onto an interesting tidbit.

A fellow editor from another part of the state is a close friend of a top Michigan Democrat. He visited this fellow, who had only a few hours before attending a top-level Democratic session. About 15 were there, including Governor Williams and Gus Schoell.

Mr. Williams made several passionate pleas for policy that would help to unify state government officials of both parties. From the tact he took, according to our information, Soapy is to be congratulated.

But several of his fellow Democrats didn't react that way. One was slightly embittered and said he'd never go GOP.

The outcome: Williams is going to be dumped.

If this should happen, say you read it first in The Herald. If Soapy survives, forget the whole thing.

Everyone Is Happy Now

Some years ago, East Lansing businessmen and city officials saw the handwriting on the wall. With an explosive "population" —an enrollment of nearly 20,000 at Michigan State University plus hundreds and hundreds of new families moving into their community—something had to be done.

About parking, that is.

Business should be kept in East Lansing and should be made to grow. With an expanding economy, the city could provide better schools and more complete service to taxpayers.

So they turned to off-street parking as the answer. Numerous lots, behind business row, were purchased, buildings demolished and, hard-topped spaces provided.

In the case of East Lansing, the city owns and controls all lots, using meters to defray costs.

As the back-of-stores lots become more and more popular, there has been a secondary effect: storemen have begun installing attractive rear entrances. Some have put in elaborate windows. All have some type of signs, a few are huge beauties.

East Lansing housewives are happy with the parking facilities offered. City government is pleased as valuation of commercial property continues to climb. Storemen watch receipts go up, as much of their business pours in through the back door.

It's a happy situation all around.

We envision much the same for Tecumseh when its off-street parking program is complete.

MRS. JACK BROWN CUTS HER CAKE

What's Cookin'

Bee Sting Cake

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Mrs. Curtis (Jack) B. Brown of 7230 Milwaukee Rd., has a wonderful recipe for the cooking column this week. It's for Bee Sting Cake, that melts in your mouth.

When photographer Kim Dabe came back to the office he brought a full-size sample of this delectable offering and it didn't take long for the crew to get the coffee pot on and distribute the pieces, which were giving off a pleasant smell, much like the scent of honey.

The recipe originated in Germany and was given to Mrs. Brown by a neighbor, Mrs. Alvin Pollitz of Macon.

It has been adapted to modern methods for "lazy" women.

Well, this "lazy" woman columnist finds it a most helpful recipe because it can be made rapidly, doesn't require icing and also freezes well, according to Mrs. Brown.

☆

MANY PEOPLE in the city are familiar with Bee Sting Cake, having purchased it at the annual kitchen tour of the Episcopal Church, of which Mrs. Brown is a member.

The Browns have been married 13 years and have two children; Cathy, 12, a seventh grade student at the Tecumseh Junior High School and Marc, 7, who attends second grade classes at the Ridgeway school.

Mr. Brown is president of the Dundee Products Co. in Dundee which manufacturers steel tubing.

A stable of riding horses is of prime importance to the Brown family because they all enjoy riding.

They also raise sheep and are the owners of a beautiful Collie dog named Laddie.

☆

BESIDES COOKING and caring for her lovely home and family, Mrs. Brown enjoys sewing, knitting, oil painting, swimming, golf, bowling and travel.

She says, "We are very fond of the west and hope to spend lots of time there someday."

They enjoy pictures they have taken on trips to that part of teh country.

about the cost of drugs

FACT — New drug discoveries have greatly reduced morality rates of major infectious diseases—added seven years to life expectancy since 1940—trimmed medical expenses and lost wages by shortening periods of illness.

FACT — Price reductions are the rule rather than the exception in the pharmaceutical industry. Insulin originally cost the average diabetic $2.13 per day. Thirteen price reductions have reduced the average cost to 12.4 cents daily.

FACT — When penicillin was first introduced, 100,000 units cost $7.50; it now sells in tablet form for about 10 cents. Streptomycin, once more than $25 per gram, now costs about 50 cents.

FACT — The pharmaceutical profession is dedicated to the advancement of public health. Huge sums of money are spent annually to make obsolete the drug products which are in popular use.

FACT — Although the costs are high, research is productive. The result is better health, longer life, and shortened periods of illness for all.

SCHOOLS FACE NEW CASH CRISIS

Board Is Shocked by $5 Million Loss in State Valuation

By JIM LINCOLN

New state equalized evaluation has cut county and school taxes by approximately 20% for property owners in the City of Tecumseh. The school board was shocked by the news Monday night. Cal Zorn, city engineer and assessor, reported the evaluation adjustments which have placed the Tecumseh schools in a critical, financial situation.

Last fall, state assessors ruled the state equalized evaluation of Tecumseh at approximately $20,000,000 a reduction of about $5,000,000.

In operating tax money alone, the schools will lose about $45,000 at the present nine-mill rate, and an additional $31,000 in bond debt retirement funds at the present rate of 6.2 mills, of the total school tax.

The school board discussed asking the people for three mills this summer, which would raise about $90,000 and offset the unexpected $76,000 loss.

Boardman also talked of eliminating some school services, if there is insufficient money.

These could be:
Vocal and instrumental music
Hot Lunches
All bus transportation
All physical education
All athletics
All extracurricular activities
All school libraries
Driver education

☆

PASSAGE OF THREE MILLS would allow the schools to continue all of these services, conduct a 10-month school year (now 9½) and raise the base salaries of teachers from $4,200 to $4,500.

The board recommended a 10-month school year, classes commencing in September, as usual, but letting out about the middle of June instead of the first week.

The new school year would be an increase of 10 days, from 190 to 200. With this scheduling, it was felt that the schools could give a more complete education program.

Supt. James McDowell told the board that the present base salary for teachers had not been changed for two years and should be increased to bring the local schools in a favorable position for employing new teachers.

☆

THE SCHOOL FINANCIAL PICTURE for the rest of the present term and beginning operations next fall was handled by the board's approval of borrowing $100,000 in tax anticipation notes.

This borrowing became necessary due to failure to receive all state aid allocated here and current taxes not yet collected and received by the schools.

The change in state equalized evaluations does not affect city taxes since they are based on local assessment evaluations, which are unchanged.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

HEARING AN INSPIRING speaker or reading a story or articles loaded with impact can often change a person's life.

Words can sway the thinking of millions.

Christ's words certainly did that.

Hitler's did, too.

One for the good, one for the bad.

Today, as we go about the chore of casual living, we loose complete sight of a war that rages about our very land.

We stroll along—then, wham.

A visitor comes to Tecumseh, he speaks before a group of about 100, telling what he found out about the war going on 24 hours a day between a free land and a land of slaves.

The audience hangs on his every word, realizing here is a person with dignity, sincerity, wanting to help his fellow Americans.

These are words which can change our lives:

I was particularly fascinated and did my best to absorb each idea this speaker advanced, so as to pass them along to you our readers.

You'll find the report of this moving speech elsewhere on this page. An editorial appears on the back page of the last section.

A direct result of the words, spoken so well last week at this talk in Tecumseh, is a decision by The Herald to print a picture of the nation's flag in each edition.

☆

THE THREE JUDGES WE had working on this column's alliteration contest all quit in a huff last week.

"Unwarranted publicity," said the spokesman. "Our friends made fun of us, getting mixed up in such nonsense."

And off stalked all three of them.

Thus your writer was left with the chore. Carefully placing all entries in one stack, I began riffling through them.

A most unusual lot, I had to admit.

Before I realized it, the clock was striking midnight and my tongue had involuntary wound itself about my mouth like a corkscrew as I tried to repeat to myself such snazzy, super sentences.

The winner?

Here it is, submitted by Mrs. L. A. Van Gieson of rural Clinton.

"Aged are amazingly agile at attaining attention at appointed aaffairs, anent anniversaries, aquatic antics, areonautics and autocades."

Finishing in the runner-up post was Mrs. Harry Hart, 316 W. Cummins St., who submitted:

BILL EDWARDS, GUEST AT JAYCEES BOSSES NIGHT BANQUET, WAS DYNAMIC SPEAKER

Do You Believe?

By TOM RIORDAN

"Do you believe in God?" was a question asked a variety of communists in their native Russia by Bill Edwards of Saginaw last summer.

The answers—in all except one case—were unqualified rebuffs.

One went like this:

"You think I'm a fool?"

Another:

"Of course not, do you?"

Mr. Edwards, a radio and television executive, was speaker at last Thursday's Jaycee Bosses Night dinner in Tecumseh Country Club.

The one person, an elderly man, who acknowledged a Divine Being, was not actually a Russian, but rather a citizen of an Iron Curtain satellite nation.

☆

MR. EDWARDS made the junket into Russia with 19 businessmen. He was particularly interested in learning about religion there.

His opinion: there is none.

One of communism's first objective, he said, was to stamp out the church. In little over three decades this has been nearly accomplished.

In Moscow, a city of 5½ million there is one Protestant church.

This single house of worship fooled Billy Graham, Mr. Edwards feels. He too was impressed by the beautiful worship service—as was Mr. Graham—but this was a pinpoint of Christianity.

This Mr. Edwards thinks is a communistic ruse, the church actually being run by the state for propaganda purposes. When someone mentions religion, the Russian officials say, "Certainly we have freedom of worship."

Two members of the Saginaw party were Catholic and wanted to attend Mass while in Moscow. They were able to—in the apartment of a priest—after being checked by Red police.

(Editor's note: Monday's daily papers carried a story out of Moscow that a priest was able to preach in public for the first time in 10 years. It was so rare, the dispatch drew top attention across this nation.)

☆

"THE GREATEST impact of my trip to Russia is the extent to which religion had been obliterated," he told his audience.

Secondly was the fact that he found the Russians extremely patrjotic—toward the communist state.

"There's no chance of a revolution," the speaker said.

"I always thought men had to look to something higher. This is not true in Russia. The void left by lack of religion is filled with a worship of the state."

Not an evangelist, but merely a Method layman, Mr. Edwards commented, "Faith must be a part of you, broadening, ripening all your life. It takes continual working at your faith to keep it alive.

"You have to live and work at it."

He explained that in Russia indoctrination into atheism starts with at pre-school age. The story of Christ is merely a fairy tale.

If parents should object to this pattern of God-less education, they face the danger that the children might be taken from them.

It's that simple—this plan to trample religion into oblivion.

The World battle lines have been drawn:

Atheism and slavery versus freedom and the dignity of man.

Russia on one hand and the United States on the other.

The only trouble is that most citizens of America don't know the game is even on.

"We have a preoccupation for material things. We're pleasure seekers, comfort seekers. We want more liesure, less work," the guest went on.

His prediction: "We won't exist 25 years from now if we remain in the same frame of mind."

Military leaders say the average citizen doesn't seem to care about defense, he pointed out. There's a constant decline in percentage of people voting.

"The church is the strongest defense we have against communism," was his opinion.

☆

MR. EDWARDS wasn't completely pessimistic.

Here was his conclusion:

"We can meet this, the greatest of all challenges—with the Lord's help.

"We must rededicate ourselves, must take more interest in government, inflation, in our children. All this, as church goers.

"We have to get back to the basics of Americanism."

2 Young Men of '59 Named

Two "Young Men of the Year" were presented plaques and praised at last week's Jaycee Bosses Night.

Those honored:

James Woodworth, 34, of rural Clinton, outstanding Young Farmer.

Don Brazee, 34, Distinguished Service Award, for being outstanding young man in Tecumseh during 1959.

Searching out these winners has become an annual project of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce. Announcement of the winners has become a highlight of the yearly banquet in which members have their bosses as guests.

Mr. Woodworth, who operates on 200 acres, has been farming since 1943, when he graduated from Clinton High School. His farm is on US-112.

His wife's name is Alma and they have three children, Mary Ann, 12; Jim, 8 and Janie, 4.

The winner was lauded for his excellent farm practices and also for his service to church and community.

Mr. Woodward attends St. Domonic's Catholic Church in Clinton and is a member of the Knights of Columbus in Manchester. He has been Deputy Grand Knight in the K of C.

A member of Farm Bureau, he is on the Franklin Township board of review for his school; he was active in FFA and in 1944 attended a short course in agriculture at Michigan State University.

☆

MR. BRAZEE, a social studies instructor at Tecumseh High School, was cited for his dedicated work with youth and service to city government.

With his wife, Marjorie, and then three youngsters, Linda, 11; Arthur, 9 and Jeanne, 8, Mr. Brazee makes his home at 601 Ternes St.

He has been a member of the city council four years, always contributing suggestions as the group tackles a wide variety of problems.

After school hours, he devotes much of his time to coaching, has been varsity track tutor for three seasons and last year organized the relay, which attracted nearly 20 schools.

Mr. Brazee supervises intramural basketball, is official scorer for varsity and reserve games.

Fishing is his hobby and he teaches Sunday School at the Iron Creek United Church in Manchester, where his father, the Rev. Alvin Brazee, is pastor.

Need 6 Teachers

In reporting minimum needs for next year Supt. James McDowell cited an increase of at least six new teachers, one each in the elementary and junior high and four for the high school.

Present enumeration figures show an elementary enrollment increase of 56; junior high, 28, and high school, 133.

The expected hike of 133 pupils in the high school would push enrollment there to around 780, and it could go higher.

Since last Sept. 1, the schools have gained a total of 57 students.

Join Class A League?

High school principal Neville Hart reported to the school board that overtures have been made to Tecumseh for joining a new sports league, of which all would be Class A schools.

Schools included are Lansing Everett, East Lansing, Adrian, Battle Creek Lakeview, new Jackson high school and Tecumseh.

Mr. Hart said, as far as Tecumseh is concerned, formation of the league is about two or three years away, about the time Tecumseh joins the Class A ranks.

Tecumseh is in the Huron League now, a group composed mainly of small Class B and C schools.

School Getting 5c Cut on Gas

In school board action approval to rent land from Lee Purkey for a 10,000-gallon gasoline storage tank was granted.

The gasoline, for school buses, will be purchased from Mobile at tank-truck rates and at a 5-cent per gallon savings.

Close Locker

The Tecumseh Locker, owned by Whelan Implements will be closed Feb. 29. Faye Whelan explains that the 2,800-sq. ft. building will then be available for sale or lease.

Spaghetti Dinner

Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro will again preside over the spaghetti sauce for the fifth annual dinner at the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

It will be Wednesday, Feb. 24, sponsored by the Altar Society.

Serving will begin at 4 and continue until 7:30 p.m. Tickets for adults are $1.25 and for Children 12 and under 50c.

Legion Auxiliary Served 120 Coffee

Mrs. Otto Baaske reported that there are now 128 paid-up auxiliary members. A total of 7,200 poppies were ordered for the annual sale in May. It was also decided to order streamers to be worn by the workers this year.

Members voted to put meeting dates on the Band Boosters calendar.

Mrs. Richard Beasley, president, reported having visited Veteran's Hospital and brought back word of the appreciation with which the gifts, sent there from the Auxiliary at Christmas, were received.

March 18 is the date of the Underwood-Orr American Legion birthday party and the Auxiliary will furnish ham, coffee, rolls and birthday cake.

Mrs. John Ladd was welcomed as a new member.

Members sang a happy birthday to Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, whose birthday occured that day.

Ten canteen books, requested by the VA hospital, have been sent.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Donald Mayes, Mrs. Douglas Mayes, Mrs. Otto Baaske and Mrs. Harold Green.

Chicken Dinner for GOPs

Ticket chairmen Mrs. Charles Howe and Mrs. Yale Kerby report much county-wide interest in the banquet being held Thursday, Feb. 11 at the Products Union Hall.

Ardale Ferguson, treasurer of the state Republican party, is the principal speaker on the program of this Lincoln Day Dinner.

Congressman George Meader of the 2nd District will give a short talk.

The ninety-voice chorus of Tecumseh High School, under the direction of Leslie Bennett, will perform.

Republican state, county and local officials will be on the reception committee.

A family style chicken dinner will be served at 7:15 p.m. and the committee reports tickets may be purchased at the door to accomodate late arrivals.

Price of the tickets are $3.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

St. Valentine's Day arrives on Sunday this year and by turning the card counters of the shops upside down this writer found a love missive which seemed appropriate for the occasion.

Dashing back to the typewriter, I read the verse to the editor on the way.

His remark. "Such slush" could have been about the weather, but it wasn't.

To my way of thinking, hearts and flowers and pretty lacy love missives filled with sentimentality, are in order. This is the verse I found.

To The One I Love
Just an old fashioned love note
An old fashioned way
To tell you I love you
On Valentine's Day.

My editor friend skimmed over this, then whammered away at his typewriter. I waited expectantly. Here's his offering, which I have to admire because he wrote it himself.

They tell us Valentine Day's a time
To send your best gal a loving line;
Wouldn't it be fun if just once
She'd let you sleep, then fix you brunch?
Perhaps it's best if we leave it to you, the reader, to decide just what is appropriate on St. Valentine's day.

Humor and Pathos

Mrs. Leslie Calhoun was guest speaker for the Women's Society of the First Baptist Church Monday evening.

With humor and pathos, she proved to be a good will ambassador from her native home of Mexico City.

She had the unique privilege of being reared in a home of practiced "good neighbor" policies.

Her father was chief of customs and regularly brought home people of all nations.

As the great Will Rogers once said, Mrs. Calhoun mused, "I never met a person I didn't like." She always finds the friendly hand extended because she looks for the good in humanity.

She will always be grateful for the gracious hospitality afforded her in America, her adopted home.

We Honor Abe Lincoln

By ROYAL WELCH

When I was in about the eighth grade our teacher asked us to write about Abe Lincoln — particularly, she said, the thing that we admired most about him.

Well, you know how it is when someone asks you to write. You don't know exactly what to say first. Your mind is full of many things. For example, Abe Lincoln was a very tall man and he had a beard; he lived in a log cabin and walked miles to school every day and studied by candlelight. Yes, and he was very, very poor.

But he grew up to be President of the United States. Can you imagine how much he wanted to learn? How hard he must have studied? How precious knowledge was to him?

Now, as I write this, I begin to ponder the meaning of "poor". I suppose you might say it means not having enough money for food and clothing. In that sense it is true; Lincoln, the boy, was "poor". But, in another sense, think of all the "wealth" he had. The "wealth" of curiosity, understanding, humility, ambition, love for his fellow man. Aren't these, really, our real and our only "wealth"? And yet, so many of us are bankrupt in this kind of "wealth" at too early a stage in life.

At this point, you might say, "What has this to do with drycleaning?" The answer is: "Nothing. Nothing at all." Except that, as a man and citizen, as well as a drycleaner, I feel that to pause and think is a good thing.

Join me in honoring Abe Lincoln.

Open House at Credit Union

An open house, to show off the new office of the Tecumseh Products Employees Credit Union, is being held Saturday from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Designed and built by Elliott Construction Co. of Tecumseh, it is located at 417 S. Maumee St., next door to the Products Union Hall.

The Credit Union, for folks who work at the Products, was organized in 1956.

At the end of its first month of operation, 664 employees had joined.

This number has since swelled to more than 1,700 and a current membership drive, in conjunction with the opening of the new facilities, is expected to push the share holder list higher.

Almost 4,000 are eligible to join.

The Credit Union offers its members an opportunity to save and borrow. During the last two years, interest rate on accounts was 4%.

Over its 3½ years of operation, the Credit Union has granted loans of $1,147,919 to members.

Its income last year, from interest charged, was $42,000 and after expenses of $20,000, the organization realized a net profit of $22,000.

Russell Langham, president of the Credit Union, states that there will be door prizes at the open house, as well as souvenirs for everyone who drops in.

Church News

+ Methodists Take Part in Conferences

Ten Methodist have participated in three different conferences within the past week.

Their themes had to do with such widely scattered subjects as vocations, race, church finance, and political action.

Seven members of the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship attended the Mid-Winter Institute of the Ann Arbor District MYF in Ann Arbor from Friday afternoon through Sunday morning.

They were entertained in the homes of members of First Methodist Church, Ann Arbor, host church for the conference.

The resource person was the Rev. Robert P. Crosby, Methodist director of camping and summer institutes for the Detroit Conference.

The morning sermon on Sunday was given by the Rev. Dr. Hoover Rupert, pastor of the church.

Those attending included Bob Bonner, Sally Hunt, Susan Nichols, Louise Anderson, Betty Marine, Jackie Dunn and Cynthia Poley.

On Saturday, Susan Harris and the Rev. James D. Nixon attended a Conference Workshop on Christian Social Concerns at Mt. Olivet Methodist Church in Dearborn.

Dr. John Marvin of Adrian spoke on social concerns to receive attention in the General Conference of the Methodist Church convening in Denver on April 27.

Dr. Homer Jack of Evanston, Illinois spoke on Africa which he termed the "awakening giant".

Discussion groups dealt with such matters as political action, world peace, economic questions. Susan Harris participated in the group studying racial segregation and housing. Mr. Nixon was in the group on social welfare.

Miss Pearl Haist of the welfare department in Adrian was also in that group.

On Tuesday, Mr. Nixon was accompanied by Richard Hicks to Birmingham for training as assistants to churches planning financial drives.

+ Rev. Gero Speaks to Luther League

The Rev. Laszo Gero spoke to Luther League members Sunday evening at the Parish House of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

His subject was "European Education."

A devotional period was held preceding the business session.

A new lecturne, made by Clark Crumrine, was used for the first time this past Sunday at the church.

The Holy Communion was celebrated during the worship hour.

+ Presbyterians To Hear Sermon, 'Crumbling Walls'

Sermon title this Sunday at the Presbyterian Church will be "Crumbling Walls."

Modern man, like his forefathers, is an active wall builder. Some walls provide shelter and privacy. These are the visible walls. They are good.

But modern man is also very actively building walls of another nature — invisible walls — that are not so good. These are the walls that separate, divide, create misunderstanding, suspicion and fear.

This Sunday's sermon will be concerned with brotherhood — the tearing down of these invisible walls — which is one of the fundamental responses in the Christian faith, but yet, one that is so lacking in our day.

The Session of the Presbyterian Church will meet Thursday, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Center.

The Women's Association will gather next Wednesday evening, Feb. 17 at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Center.

The Junior Choir, under the direction of Millard Cates, will sing this Sunday morning during the regular morning worship service.

The Rev. and Mrs. Julian Gresham will meet with the following fellowship groups during the coming week:

Monday, Feb. 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Max Smith.

Thursday, Feb. 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Osburn.

+ Inspired Scriptures

A sermon on the scriptures will be heard next Sunday at the Methodist Church when the pastor takes the theme, "We Believe in Inspired Scriptures".

This is the second in a pre-Lent sermon series dealing with things we believe.

Last Sunday, Methodists considered the relation between revelations of science and religion.

This Sunday they will examine the meaning of "inspiration" for scriptures and for the common life.

Race Relations Sunday was observed last week at the Methodist Church.

"But we will gvie that theme additional attention this Sunday, along with other Christian churches," said the pastor.

"Pockets of exclusive white residencey are bound to vanish in north and south," said Mr. Nixon, "and it is important for church people to lead in helping every community prepare to face the change with the spirit of brotherhood."

+ St. Peter's Sends Representatives to Convention

The 127th Annual Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan waas held last Wednesday in Detroit.

Representatives from St. Peter's Church were The Rev. Frank Hawthorne, Russell Cooper, Bruce Corley and Mrs. Orville Laidlaw.

Delegates to the convention of Episcopal Churchwomen meeting at the same time as the business meeting of the Diocese were Mrs. Louis Schneider, Mrs. Cecile Smith and Mrs. Frank Hawthorne.

Of the more important questions brought before the Convention were a second Suffragan Bishop to assist Bishop Emrich and Bishop Crowley and the needs of the inner city parishes.

+ Spiritual Means

Healing through spiritual means as practiced by Christ Jesus will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Engineer Is Speaker

Dr. Donald L. Katz, of Ann Arbor member of the advisory committee for Chemical Technology at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, will appear Thursday evening, Feb. 11, at the Layman's banquet.

Dr. Katz will speak on "Degrees of Integrity" following the dinner served at 6:30 p.m. in the Youth House by the ladies of the First Baptist church.

The engagement of Carol Sathmary to Robert Arthur Brady, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brady of 2980 Russell Rd. is annouced by her mother, Mrs. Caroline Sathmary of 301 West Patterson St. A March 5 wedding is planned.

Dr. Katz has served over 40 companies and governmental organizations during the past 20 years, including current work for Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, Natural Gas Storage Co. and Northern Illinois Gas Co.

He was born near Jackson, Mich. in 1907. His son is a graduate student in chemical engineering at the U. of M. and his daughter a junior at the U. of M.

Dr. Katz, prominent in the field of chemical engineering, has always taken an equally prominent place in the Ann Arbor Council of Churches.

He was president from 1944 until 1946 and president of the Ann Arbor District Board of Methodist Church Extension from 1953 to 1955.

At present he is chairman of the official board of the Ann Arbor Methodist church.

Will Double Its Floor Space

Plans for expansion are under way to make Osborne's Department Store the largest in Tecumseh, and one of the largest in this area.

Jim and Dorothy Osborne, owners, announce that they have leased the east side of the former Gamble store, the section next to their present business, in downtown Tecumseh.

The addition will be completely redecorated, including a new tile floor, and will quarter the store's shoe department and men's wear.

In area, the expansion will add 2,150 square feet, boosting the total first floor in merchandizing for Osborne's to over 55,000 square feet and practically doubling the store's present size.

A 78x20-foot basement area gives Mr. and Mrs. Osborne over 6,500 square feet of sales space.

The Osbornes have been progressive Tecumseh merchants since they started here in 1949.

In 1954, they expanded with a 60-foot addition, nearly doubling the size of the original store.

Now, about five years later, the owners are making their second expansion, which when completed this spring, will be approximately four times the size of the 1949 store.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne have been local residents for 25 years. He was first employed at Tecumseh Products Co., later operated a gasoline station and the Tecumseh Poolroom.

During the third quarter, Sacred Heart came to life and shot within two points.

The fourth quarter was nip and tuck with St. Elizabeth leading, 21-20 then Mike Wilkins was fouled twice in the last 22 seconds.

Mike sank both his free throws to put the Cubs ahead at 23-20.

Dave Dziachan and Mike Wilkins took scoring honors for the day with Dave making 13 points and Mike scoring 10.

John Garcia, John Lindstrom, Jay Osburn and Eric Wilkins rounded out the lineup.

Keep up the good work boys, we're proud of you.

Skipper Lawson Happy with SS Tecumseh Cruise

(Editor's note: Due to sickness, The Herald's basketball writer was unable to attend last week's Tecumseh-Flat Rock game. In his place, the paper's naval editor was sent to cover the event. Here is his dispatch.)

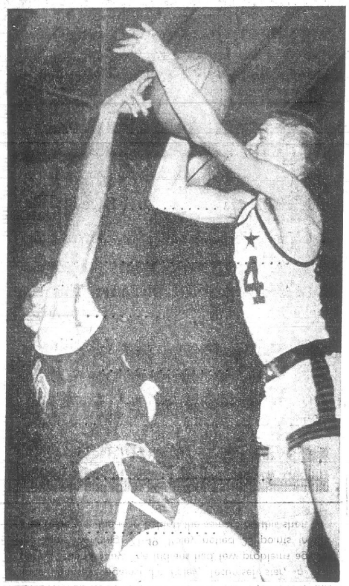
Skipper Vic Lawson took his ship Tecumseh Indian on a shake-down cruise Friday evening and found his vessel in good order.

All hands reported in promptly at 20 hundred hours and the junket began. The SS Flat Rock came along, but never could quite keep pace with the Indians.

This was a basketball game, son, and Tecumseh romped in, 71-49.

Bosun's mate Jim Poley piped the chief aboard and then proceeded to take over bossing the evening's activity.

Skipper Lawson was perfectly content about the way his mate did his job — especially during gunnery drill. Poley hit the mark for 23 points and was chief rebounder for THS.



HERALD PHOTO

ONE-FINGER STOP—Burt Griswold of Flat Rock made this one-digit save against Jin Poley, Tecumseh star, in first-period action Friday. The Indians had few problems against the Rams, winning, 71-49. Poley netted 23 points in the Kim Dabe was the man behind the camera on this shot.

But Poley wasn't the whole show.

Seamen first class Jack Sisson and Bob Dick were at the mate's elbows most of the cruise, making valuable contributions.

Dick is rapidly proving himself the crew's playmaker. Besides setting up scoring opportunities, he has become "top gun" in the backcourt, dribbling and changing course with extreme ease.

Twice, as Dick was bringing the oval into play, the shifty seaman saw daylight and drove all the way into the keyhole for lazy lay-up shots.

☆

UP FRONT, Seaman Sisson manned the short range guns and clipped the strings for five bullseyes, a total of 10 tallies.

Besides this, Jack did a quick, accurate job of passing the ammunition to mate Poley and others positioned near the hoop.

One of those "others" was a recruit gob named Gerald Quinn, who proved to the skipper during the cruise he enjoys the job of providing the high trajectory shots.

Gerry was loose and easy as he triggered 12 points home.

Out of sickbay and still hobbling on a bum knee from fall maneuvers, hustled old timer Steve Kruger, already serving his third hitch on the good ship Tecumseh.

Steve smartly saluted his skipper as he arrived on deck, then went to work on the back line with Dick.

Although only nipping the target twice, Steve showed flashes of his first year in service, when he helped blast a variety of top-flight enemy vessels into oblivion.

As the Tecumseh returned to its mooring a little before 22 hundred hours, Skipper Lawson was grinning.

His final order, "Seaman Koffron and Breitenwischer, lash the lines to the pilings."

The CO made his last entry on the log: "Shakedown went well. Blissfield will arrive Tuesday. Probably decide who is top dog in Huron League fleet."

What's Cookin'

CHERRY PUDDING

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Mrs. Glen Van Vleet of 7506 E. Monroe Rd. is featured as our cook of the week with a recipe for cherry pudding.

Her son, Robbie, 13 years, voted this his most favorite recipe of the things you use recipes for" he told his mother.

Mrs. Van Vleet, no doubt uses the pinch of this and handful of that method for a lot of her cooking.

She is the manager of the cafeteria at the Ridgeway School.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Vleet and Robert live on a farm on M-50 between Tecumseh and Ridgeway where dairying and poultry are included in the general farming pattern.

Mrs. Van Vleet is an avid reader and gardener. She is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, where she teaches a class and is currently a member of the session.

She is an assistant leader of the Ridgeway Sunny Rays 4-H Club.

The Van Vleets are members of the Tecumseh Grange. They enjoy travel when the farm work permits it.

Robert is an eighth grade student in the Tecumseh Junior High School where he is interested in band. He also enjoys bowling and 4-H projects.

Printed below is the recipe for Cherry Grunt pudding that has been in the family for over 40 years.

CHERRY GRUNT PUDDING

Cream ½ cup butter and 1¼ cups sugar. Add 1 egg. Alternate 1½ cups of sifted flour and ½ cup milk. Add 1 tsp. baking powder, ½ tsp. salt and ½ tsp. almond extract.

Place two cups drained canned cherries in bottom of greased pan and cover with the batter. Bake in 325 degree oven for about 40 minutes. When done tip upside down on plate and sprinkle 1 cup of sugar over top of cherries.

Equipment Will Arrive in February

Construction of the equipment room of the new Tecumseh General Telephone building will be finished this week, states D. W. Clark, Company District Manager.

Telephone equipment for the room is to be received late this month and installation is planned for March Mr. Clark said.

The $175,000 brick and concrete building is slated for completion in May.

Conversion of Tecumseh phones to dial and Direct Distance Dialing is scheduled for late 1960.

Building construction, equipment installation, cable placing and other related work will cost approximately $700,000.

"This investment," Mr. Clark pointed out, "is part of the General Telephone's $17,000,000 1960 expansion and improvement program which will bring dial phones to nine and Direct Distance Dialing to 28 exchanges."

Land Was Selling for $1.25

ANN ARBOR—Back in 1830, Michigan was "out of this world."

"You write to me of 'your outlandish country' and 'out of the world Michigan,' " says Quaker girl Elizabeth Chandler, whose letters are in The University of Michigan Historical Collections. Elizabeth Chandler came from Philadelphia in 1830, when she was then 21, with her brother Thomas and Aunt Ruth Evans to settle in a log cabin in rolling country between Adrian and Tecumseh.

Describing her new life in Michigan Territory, Elizabeth wrote Jane Howell, another aunt, in Philadelphia;

"Our house is by no means despicable. The logs, both inside and out, have been squared off by an expert axman. The doors are walnut, which is in very common use here.

"The windows are neatly framed and glazed, which latter operation was performed by Aunt Ruth and myself. Our bedstead and the straw mattress, on which I assure thee we sleep very comfortably, are both of my brother's manufacture.

"We had a barn-raising several weeks ago. It went up snugly and safely. There was a large number of hands, between 40 and 50 all together, and if thee had happened to step in on the afternoon or morning before the raising, thee would have found Aunt Ruth and me quite deeply immersed in the preparation of pies, puddings and cake.

"The report of land selling here at 50c and acre is not correct," Elizabeth relates. "At least we have not heard of it in Michigan. Emigration is rapid enough at $1.25 an acre. But half lots (40 acres) are now sold to actual settlers, but not less than 80 acres to those who purchase for speculation.

"There has been a great deal of good sleighing here this winter, but we have not availed ourselves of it as much as we probably should have done had we been provided with some better means of conveyance than our ox sleigh. It is too slow a way of traveling, unless for quite a short distance.

"We shall not keep sheep for a year or two as they are rather troublesome for a new settler on account of the wolves.

"It is softer and more bellike, and in the stillness of the night sounds not unmusical. But it is a strange contrast with the 'past twelve o'clock' of the watchman."

Once again Rambler proves it is America's Economy King! Under official NASCAR supervision, the Rambler American won over all other U.S. economy cars to sweep the Compact Car Class in the Pure Oil Economy Trials held at the Daytona International Speedway Public Proving Grounds, February 1-3.

But gasoline mileage is only one measure of Rambler economy. Rambler owners save, too, on lowest prices, lowest upkeep, and highest resale value.

Discover Rambler's all-around economy yourself. See your Rambler dealer today.

HERE ARE THE OFFICIAL PURE OIL ECONOMY TRIAL RESULTS

RAMBLER AMERICAN	51.281 Miles Per Gallon
FALCON	44.614 MPG—Rambler gave 14.9% more mileage
VALIANT	41.801 MPG—Rambler gave 22.7% more mileage

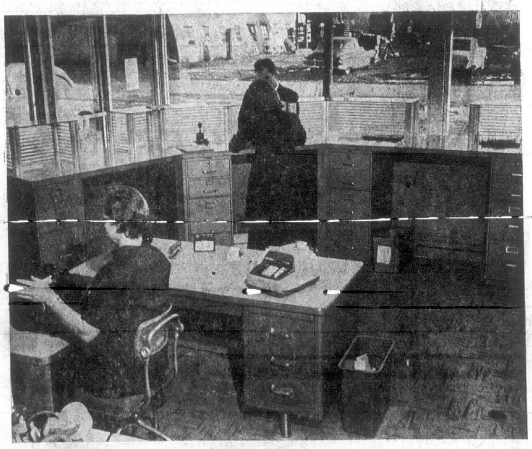
Credit Union Founded in 1956

The Employees Credit Union, for folks working at Tecumseh Products Co., was organized in August of 1956. At the end of the first month, 664 had joined and share holdings totaled $7,479.25. Fifteen loans had been granted in the amount of $3,413.30. By the year's end, there were 360 loans totaling $60,961.58. Membership had swelled to 944 and holdings reached $48,797.88. Since then, the Credit Union has enjoyed a steady growth and in both 1958 and 1959 it paid share holders dividends of 4%.

It's Easy To Become A Shareholder

If you're an employee of Tecumseh Products, you may join the Credit Union. Once you have joined, any member of your family — whether an employee or not—may also sign up. It's simple to join . . . merely stop at our new office, 417 S. Maumee St., next door to the Products Union Hall. Sign a membership card and, if you desire, a payroll deduction card. Payroll deduction is not compulsory, but most members have found it the most convenient way to save. See the table below at right.

JOYCE STUART ASSISTS ONE OF CREDIT UNION'S S H A R E HOLDERS.



HOW YOUR MONEY GROWS

WHEN YOU SAVE EACH WEEK	YOU WILL HAVE AT END OF 5 years	10 years
$1	$ 280	$ 604
$3	$ 840	$1,812
$5	$1,400	$3,020
$10	$2,800	$6,040

These figures are based on an annual dividend of 3%. Money left in a share account at 3% will nearly double itself in 20 years.

Shareholders Can Borrow

Loans are granted to members upon approval of loan applications by a three-man credit committee. Interest of 1% per month is paid on unpaid balance of a Credit Union loan. With each payment on principal, the borrower owes less two ways—less on principal, less on amount of interest with next payment. If larger amounts are paid or payments made at shorter intervals than the schedule calls for, cost of the loan is reduced even more.

Insurance Coverage Is FREE

At no charge to share holders, the Credit Union gives up to $2,000 in insurance coverage, to each member. Based on the member's age and account, up to $2,000, is given the beneficiary in addition to his shares. Here's how it works:

ACCOUNT	AGE	OUR INSURANCE PAYS	TOTAL PAID TO BENEFICIARY
$2,000	Prior to 54	$2,000 — 100%	$4,000
$2,000	55 thru 59	$1,500 — 75%	3,500
$2,000	60 thru 64	$1,000 — 50%	3,000
$2,000	65 thru 69	$ 500 — 25%	2,500

It is not necessary to have a full $2,000 on account in order to take advantage of this coverage. Any amount up to $2,000 is covered the same way.

Thru My Window

A SNEAK PREVIEW

'Well, I wonder what will happen today?" This is the question we ask ourselves almost every morning. One of the joys of bird watching is that one always expects something to happen.

Often that which happens is a complete surprise but it may be a "looked for" thing.

Little previews of things to come are important and do much to help build and maintain the excitement of our window birding.

For instance — several Mondays ago, Eddie dropped in for a cup of afternoon tea. We were sipping the hot brew, chatting about this and that when suddenly, and apparently both at the same time, we looked out just as something flew into Doctor's big evergreen tree.

Our "look" was a brief one but as Eddie rushed for the bird books, I was quite sure that I knew where she should look.

It must have been a sparrow hawk and yes, when she found the description, it checked.

At such a distance and being in sight for such a tantalizing short time, the bird did not show us his pretty blue facial markings.

But his size, the appearance of his wings as he glided into the tree, his wide blunt tail and his brown, tending toward reddish, color—well, it just had to be a sparrow hawk.

☆

WHILE SHE WAS buried in the books my attention was rivited to the tree—oh, how we wished for a second and better look.

Mr. Sparrow Hawk, however, did not cooperate. In just a few minutes he sailed out of the tree, ducked back of Marsh's house and was out of sight. Eddie had not finished her book checking and the flash of wings I saw was so brief that it barely counted.

Although the name Sparrow Hawk conjures up horrible pictures of big villainous birds savagely preying on poor defenseless sparrows, this according to "Birds of America", is not the case.

These small falcons live on diets consisting mainly of mice during the winter months and grasshoppers, crickets, etc. in warm weather.

They pose little threat to the bird population.

Actually, we are so overrun with English sparrows that had our tea-time visitor wished to take one or two for dessert, they would hardly have been missed.

The error in this thinking I suppose is that if he should develop a taste for birds, he will not differentiate between Sparrows and the more desirable chick-a-dees, titmice, etc.

☆

THE NEXT AFTERNOON, at about the same time too, we saw the sparrow hawk again. This visit was even more exciting than the other, it was also more frustrating too.

For some minutes he perched on one of our fence posts — that close he was, but did we have a good look at him? No.

The post he picked was the end one near the driveway and looking through my south window, this post is directly in back of a big clump of barberry bushes.

We looked out just seconds too late to see him "come in for a landing." We did see him fold his wings and settle into a comfortable position, but although he held the post for some minutes, the thick berry ladened branches obscured our view.

From the living room, the folks had a good look at this.

So it was that Mondays visit was a preview of Tuesdays—we hoped that Tuesday would prove to be only a preview too, but the sparrow hawk has not been back and it is beginning to look as if his second visit were the big performance. A mighty short and unsatisfying one I might add.

☆

OF COURSE, if one is of the right frame of mind, special meaning can be found in anything and ridiculous as it may seem, as far back as Jan. 24, we had a preview of spring.

A robin!

We could hardly believe our eyes, but there he was, sitting in the wren tree—he was a big handsome fellow with such a bright and cheery red breast. A wonderful surprise, we were so thrilled with our first Robin of the year.

Twice that day he flew into our window picture and what lovely thoughts of springtime he inspired.

(To us robins and springtime are so closely associated that automatically our January visitor became a preview. We never even thought of him as being the Snedecor's robin.

The bird we saw was a harbinger of spring, even though that lovely season is so many months away. He just couldn't have been the poor misguided soul who is spending the winter in Brownville.)

So it is that the cold winds can blow and much snow may still fall but spring is definitely on its way and we have had a sneak preview of it! See how helpful these little glimpses of things to come can be?

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES!
List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.

Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftiest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Sill's lower for easier loading.

Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

With Tecumseh Teens

By Mary Seager

Flash bulbs glimmered like heat lightning during Johnny Mathis' torried performance in Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor recently.

The slim graceful Negro played to a full house of attentive usually critical college students.

However, as far as they were concerned, he could do no wrong Applause followed every song and interrupted some of the better known ones.

His personality and great vocal range seemed to show up to a much better advantage in personal appearance than on records.

His athletic training showed up in his controlled actions.

He proved that he could sing not only ballads, but also up-tempo songs. A great deal of humor on Mathis' part was aimed at the lighting which prevented unusual effects.

Background music was provided by three violins, a cello, a viola, drums, bass and a piano.

Since the "fiddlers" had no lights over their music and this was their first performance with Mathis', lights on the stage had to be kept on.

At one point during a tender ballad, the lights went off and the violins began to fade.

Singing all the while, Johnny strolled over to them, the magenta spot following him.

Stopping next to one of them, he inserted, "I think you're about here," as he pointed out the correct place.

During the remainder of the song, he begged between phrases, "Turn on the lights." This brought the house down.

A clever arrangement of "Let's Misbehave" which he sang with sly humor was a highlight of the performance.

Other high spots were his medley from "My Fair Lady" and the songs that made him a star: "Wonderful, Wonderful", "Chances Are", "Come To Me", "Wild Is the Wind", "Twelfth of Never", and "It's Not for Me To Say".

The enthusiastic audience called Johnny Mathis, balladeer extraordinaire, back for two curtain calls and an encore.

Markings Help Cut Accidents

The next time you are on the highway at night, you probably will see the results of a new traffic safety development being used by many bus and truck owners, particularly the operators of big fleets.

It is helping to reduce the rear-end collisions that account for about one-third of all accidents involving trucks.

Essentially, the development involves putting the truck company's name, trademark, product picture or some other large mark on the back and sides of each truck in a material that reflects headlights.

Then, at night, when most of the rear-end collisions happen, these large emblems or marks on the trucks stand out brilliantly in the headlights, although the truck bodies themselves are nothing but black blobs on dark roadway.

Operators of low-silhouette tanker trucks were among the first to recognize the value of reflective barrier markings across truck backs to prevent rear-end smash-ups.

These first markings were slanted, thick red-and-white dash lines across the truck rears.

The national association of truck operators now urges the use of similar tailgate markings on all over-the-road vehicles.

The material that makes the markings visible at night is similar to that used on traffic signs.

Several of the pioneer truck and bus users of reflective markings, including the Greyhound bus lines and the U.S. Post Office Department — which operates the country's biggest truck fleet—found in careful tests that rear-end collisions were cut sharply after glow-in-the-dark markings were installed.

This novel safety development is a big step in the right direction, and more and more truckers have indicated plans to use it.

This is one safety device that has some valuable secondary benefits that seemingly will hasten its widespread use.

Never Burn Valuable Corn Stalks

Lenawee county farmers produce about 400,000 tons dry weight of corn stalks per year while growing their $8,000,000 corn crop.

Some of this goes into the silo as feed, but over two-thirds remains on the fields after picking, as a mulch and soil builder.

There are many values in the 2½ tons of stalks left on a typical Lenawee county corn field.

As far as nutritents are concerned, there are 36 pounds of nitrogen, 15 pounds of phosphate and 38 pounds of potash. The value of these based on commercial fertilizer prices is about $8.25 per acre.

The nitrogen in the stalks does not make them a nitrogen fertilizer such as plowed down legumes would be. This nitrogen will be required in decomposition of the stalks after plowing.

Stalks need not be chopped or shredded in order to fully benefit the soil. If the plow is adjusted properly stalks usually turn under with little trouble.

Look at what you started, Mr. Edison

If Thomas A. Edison were alive today he would doubtless be amazed by our modern electrical world. Foresighted as he was he would hardly recognize the industry he founded 79 years ago.

Today that industry looks ahead to a decade of electrical living that staggers the imagination. Many homes will be totally electric, built around a push-button climate, light and color control center.

It will be possible, through automation in the home, to cook food exactly as desired without human effort of any kind. Refrigerated drawers that can be converted into ovens by reversing the flow of current may replace present type refrigerators.

Dishes will be washed by sound waves, electric blankets will both heat and cool. Dusting will be done with an electro-static wand. Conventional lighting will be replaced by the installation of luminous panel walls and ceilings.

Transportation and industry will be revolutionized as the kilowatt is put to more and better use.

All indications point to a fabulous new decade as . . .

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH !

THE KEY —and the OPEN DOOR

One of the disturbing discoveries of life is that the truth one man cherishes seems a mystery to another.

But is that surprising? We live in a world of doors and locks. To the man with the key a door opens. To another it remains closed.

Among the keys to spiritual truth is one called HUMILITY. It accounts for many of the millions who worship God every Sunday in the churches of our land.

An American President once said, "I have been driven many times to my knees by the knowledge that my own strength, and that of all around me, was insufficient for that day."

He ruled a nation divided. But neither Blue nor Gray ever questioned the humility of the man who signed his name, "A. Lincoln."

Not only the portal, but the Truth of God's House, is every Sunday an Open Door to humble men!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3). For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

LENAWEE COUNTY'S LARGEST WEEKLY

An independent newspaper, published every Thursday morning at 117 S. Evans Street, Tecumseh, Michigan. Entered at the Post Office in Tecumseh as second class matter.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Just a Flag

"Just a flag, any size flag," thought the man during the night as he lay in a Stalingrad hotel bed. It was the eve of July Fourth last summer. He was an American, visiting Soviet Russia.

"I never owned a flag," he told himself, "I have never had a desire to get one."

This United States citizen, thousands of miles from him home, made a solemn promise: 'The first thing I'll do upon returning to the United States will be to buy a flag."

At first glance, this might seem like a rather maudlin, overly-patriotic act.

You wouldn't think so if you heard the man, Bill Edwards, a radio and television executive from Saginaw, tell of his experience last week while guest speaker at Jaycees Bosses Night.

Nor would you think it mushy if you look into your own heart and regard this simple fact: What does the flag mean to me?

To Bill Edwards, after discovering the real Russia on his summer junket there, the Godless state, dedicated to world domination, he found certain things in his life needed to be radically readjusted.

One among them—the simple item of owning a flag—became vitally important.

Bill has started a one-man crusade to jar Americans into thinking more seriously about the conflict between the free world and communism.

He is giving freely of his time and newly-found knowledge to his fellow Americans. Whomever asks him to speak, as the Tecumseh Jaycees did, he replies, "Gladly", if it's humanly possible. Bill is at present booked through October.

The broadcasting executive isn't trying to sell the idea of everyone getting a flag. His objectives go much deeper than that.

But this sounds like an excellent starting point for us, the average Joes and Janes in this great land, to help resight and refocus on our goals in this life.

We take our nation and its great freedoms so much for granted. Blithfully, we go about the pursuit of the dollar, the second car, gadgets for the kitchen, the shorter work week.

When the odd moment comes in which we turn our attention to government — whether federal, state or city—it's usually only to register some petty complaint.

Never do we ask ourselves, "How could I help, how could I play a role in combating communism?"

Our suggestion, as a starting point, would be to contemplate a simple question: "What does the flag mean to me?"

You might be interested to know that one of the city's Boy Scout troops is working on a plan, in cooperation with merchants, to turn downtown Chicago Blvd. in an "Avenue of Flags" on national holidays.

Special standards, which can be fitted onto the parking meters, would bend over the street, forming on arc of flags.

We hope our merchants go along with the idea.

Then we wish that each house in the community—there are about more than 1,800 —would have its own flag. Each would be proudly flown on the appointed days.

Tecumseh might eventually become known as "The City of Flags."

Beyond this we harbor another dream, one almost too fantastic to set down on paper.

Want to hear it?

After Tecumseh folks come to love, revere and fly their flags, could it ever come to pass that on election days, with every front porch or lawn pole adorned with the Stars and Stripes, each eligible citizen would vote?

A 100% turnout?

Could Tecumseh not only be "The City of Flags," but also the small, midwestern community where every person over 21 casts a ballot each time the polls are opened?

Yellowed Memorandum Tells Story

What the weather was like St. Valentine's Day, 55 years ago, is told on a yellowed memorandum found recently by Miss Mary Whitelock, 502 W. Chicago Blvd.

Written by her cousin, Miss Frances Hyde, on the back of a leaf torn from a 1905 calendar, it reads—

"February 1905 has been a pretty cold month. The morning of the 14th was the coldest, 16° below zero at our place. It snowed and the wind blew hard all day.

"The snow drifted badly and the trains were all late. There have been no trains over the DT and M since Wednesday morning and this is Saturday noon."

"The train from Jackson on the Lake Shore, due at 7:11 in the morning, did not reach here until after 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

"There was a freight train off the track near Jackson so the passenger train had to wait for that.

"Then when they reached Tecumseh, they had to stay here until about 8 o'clock Saturday morning and go over the Detroit track to Adrian as there was a freight of 15 cars in a snow drift down by what used to be the old Lee place. It got stuck there some time Thursday night and is still there this noon."

The "old Lee place" was about two miles south of Tecumseh and the Lake Shore is now the New York Central.

Miss Hyde's account shows the emphasis was on railroads rather than highways in 1905.

Retail Division Dues Covers All Promotion Costs

Dues structure for business people belonging to the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce was discussed Tuesday.

Retail dues for 1960 will be $60, explained Bill Wright, chairman of the dues committee. This covers costs of all promotions for the year.

Retail members will be billed at $155 per quarter. If they wish to make a lump payment, there is a 5% discount.

To belong to the retail division, storemen must be members in good standing of the Chamber. A business need not join both and may merely sign up for the Chamber.

3 Candidates File for Race

Three candidates, one a present councilman, have taken petitions from the city clerk to file for election to council.

Harold Easton is seeking his second term.

Newcomers are Royal Welch, local dry cleaning store owner, and Clayton Greenwald, owner of Greenwald's Laundry.

Donald Brazee, present councilman, reportedly is not seeking re-election.

There are five seats up for grabs, those now occupied by Easton, Brazee, Art Schwartz, Ray Schlegel and H. H. Hanna.

The deadline for filing is Feb. 15. Petitions may be obtained from city clerk Naomi Sallows.

Rehearsals To Start Feb. 11

Mr. and Mrs. James Danforth will begin rehearsals with members of the Junior Choir of the First Baptist Church on Thursday, Feb. 11 in Youth House from 5 to 5:45 p.m.

The choir will include all children who attend Youth Church, ages 6 to 12.

WHY SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE PAY BILLS BY CHECK

They don't want to risk loss by carrying large sunms of money around with them. They don't want to waste time running all over town to pay bills in cash. They do want a bonafide receipt (their cancelled checks) for every payment they make. They do want a clear record of how much they spent for what.

Quaker Oats Closing Tecumseh Operations

After 43 years in Tecumseh, the Quaker Oats Co. will discontinue operations here by the end of June.

Employees were told of the decision at a meeting Tuesday noon by plant manager Donald T. Nixon.

A marketing problem, which has made the distribution of macaroni products from the Tecumseh plant economically unsound, was the reason.

Biggest markets for Quaker's macaroni, spaghetti and noodles are far removed from Tecumseh, Mr. Nixon said.

High costs of supplying these markets have reduced profitability of the company's plant here below a sound operating level, he added.

Continuous, intensive studies have brought no solution, the plant manager said, and special efforts to develop markets closer to the Tecumseh plant have not been sufficiently successful.

"We are grateful for the effort of our people here in Tecumseh, and are deeply sorry that many of them must end long association with The Quaker Oats Company because of changing business conditions over which they had no control," Mr. Nixon said.

"We realize how seriously this decision will affect the men and women who have served the company so loyally."

☆

NIXON STATED that the company would provide seperation allowances for all employees who remain as long as they are needed.

Each employee would receive one week's pay for each year of service up to 20 years, plus two weeks' pay for each year of service beyond 20 years.

Some employees will also be eligible for benefits under the company's retirement plan. Certain adjustments would also be made in other company benefit plans.

Mr. Nixon also announced that the company is attempting to sell the plant to a purchaser that will continue to provide employment in Tecumseh.

The Quaker Oats Company began operations in Tecumseh in 1917. At present the plant has 23 employees on the payroll.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

"Keep pumping at it," said the lady on the telephone Monday.

She said last week's flag editorial was just wonderful, which of course pleased us to no end.

In case you didn't see the piece, it told of the American man who was in Russia last summer the night of July 3.

He suddenly thought that he never had owned a flag and it became an obsession with him to get one. Upon his return to the States, one of the first things he did was get a flag.

Our editorial went on to say that wouldn't it be wonderful if every home in Tecumseh had a flag and flew it on the appointed days.

Eventually, Tecumseh would be known as "The City of Flags," we wrote.

I hope there are many more folks in our community who reacted to the editorial as did the woman who called.

Last Friday was Lincoln's birthday and according to a hasty check, only one downtown business had a flag out (and it wasn't The Herald, of all things.)

It's apparent now that we should have added at the conclusion of our words that Feb. 12 would have been an ideal time to start the flags flying.

However, we do have recourse, fortunately, with Washington's birthday coming next Monday.

So, those who have the Stars and Stripes should get them out the first thing the morning of Feb. 22.

☆

Equally as thrilling as the above-mentioned phone call was the final tabulation for The Herald subscription campaign staged by juniors of Britton-Macon High School.

Total new subs sold: 284.

That shoved The Herald's total circulation to over 3,100 — an all-time high for the present management.

Which means well over 9,000 folks are reading this newspaper each week.

☆

MEMBERS OF LES BENnett's THS Chorus almost stole the show from the politicians at last week's Republican Lincoln Day Dinner in Tecumseh.

About 150 folks attended the affair in Union Hall, which featured a talk by Ardale Ferguson, GOP state finance chairman.

Mr. Ferguson told about Honest Abe, founder of the party, then reviewed the Republican Century of Progress.

But probably the most remembered item about the affair was the performance of the Chorus.

As always, Mr. Bennett had something special up his musical sleeve — this time, words by Bennett, sung to an old favorite with University of Michigan students, the name of which escapes me (being a Cow College lad myself).

One of the verses which really tickled the crowd, that included Bill Conlin and Elmer Porter of the Legislature, went something like this:

"We thought the state was going bust, then we dug into veterans' trust."

If the GOP wants a real organizer for these parts, they'd do well to snatch up director Bennett.

☆

AT LEAST ONE TECUMSEH small boat owner is doing a slow burn these days.

In the summer of 1958, he purchased two craft and duly had them registered and was assigned numbers.

Each permit was marked "good for the life of the boat."

Now along comes a new regulation, which states all Michigan boats must be re-licensed and re-numbered.

This little move, of course, will net our scanty state treasury some hundreds of thousands of dollars — which to Lansing looks just grand.

But what about the fellows who get tapped for the tariff?

Ah, government.

CIVIL DEFENSE IS DOING a real service for Tecumseh in providing the weekly Tuesday night first aid course in the city hall. Taught by a state policeman, its lessons are priceless. Time: 7:30 p.m. Drop in if you're interested.

HERE FOR DINNER — Among guests at last week's GOP Lincoln Day Banquet here were state Representative Bill Conlin and Representative to Congress George Meader, who proved their support for the Grand Old Party.

Nine Will Vie for 5 Openings on City Council

Nine residents, four of them businessmen, filed petitions for the five council seats to be selected at the April 6 election.

Incumbents filing were Harold Easton, H. H. Hanna, and Arthur Schwartz.

Newcomers are Royal Welch, Clayton Greenwald, Carl Lamb, Oscar Meads, Fred Nash and William Frownfelder.

Both Meads and Frownfelder have sought council positions previously.

Donald Brazee and Ray Schlegel, incumbents, did not seek re-election. Schlegel and Schwartz were appointed to their seats during the past term to fill vacancies caused by resignations.

Businessmen running are Easton, Greenwald, Lamb and Welch.

500 Are Guests at Credit Union Affair Saturday

An estimated 500 persons attended the open house of the Tecumseh Products Credit Union Saturday.

Nineteen new members were signed up.

Cake, coffee and milk were served throughout the four-hour period.

The transitor radios were won by:

Mrs. Eulah Pickford, a former employee who is the wife of a plant guard.

Clayton Freshcorn, an employee since 1942.

A large number of floral arrangements decorated the new offices as congratulatory gifts.

Get the Habit
Or Take Home
Mister Rabbit

Obstacles Are Removed To Switch Post Office

FIRST VICTIM — Joe Mannino, although smiling here, was first victim of the Kiwanis club's new gimmick to keep attendance high —"Get the habit or take home the rabbit." Joe missed the group's meeting two weeks ago and when he showed up last Thursday was promptly presented with this bunny. "What's its name?" the photographer ask Joe. "What I called it last night," he chortled, "You couldn't print in the paper." The bunny was weighed just before Joe took over as its "master" and will be checked again this Thursday night when he gratefully brings it to the Kiwanis session. Joe will get rid of the cottontail, but if Mr. Bunny lost weight, Kiwanian Mannino will be fined.

City Will Exchange Adams Park Property for Downtown Lot

All obstacles were removed at Monday night's council meeting for the post office to relocate and be built across from city hall in Adams Park.

The government, by letter, asked that certain restrictions requested by council be eliminated before government approval be made.

In exchange for Adams Park, except a small south portion, the city will own the parking lot behind Adrian Federal Savings and Loan in the southwest downtown business block.

Federal postal officials made no mention of when they intend to have a new building constructed for Tecumseh. Lease on the present post office, owned by Howard Truesdale, expires in September of 1961.

☆

FOUR MEMBERS OF THE Tecumseh Community Foundation board — Vern Manwaring, Virgil Tucker, the Rev. James Nixon and Owen Partridge — discussed financing the summer and winter recreation program with council without reaching a decision.

The Foundation, by a previous letter, told council that after this year it did not intend to help finance the program. The city has received $3,250 from the Foundation for this year.

Other routine problems were handled by council, including the scheduling of curb and gutter construction and the appointment of Carl Zorn, city engineer, as street administrator.

FFA Week Opens Sunday

Future Farmer's of America members throughout the nation are scheduling special activities to focus public attention on the work of their organization during National FFA week, Feb. 21-27.

Locally, members of the Tecumseh FFA chapter have many group projects such as the broiler project.

The boys buy 150 chicks, raise to a certain age then sell them.

They have a pig chain. Feeder pigs are given to chapter members and they in turn give a certain number of animals back.

Another project planned is a sheep chain.

The annual parent and son banquet is a highlight each year.

Membership in the FFA is made up of farm boys who are students of vocational agriculture in high school.

The organization's activities are designed primarily to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, to stimulate boys to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishments in farming.

☆

THE TECUMSEH FFA chapter has 43 members.

Officers are:

President—Richard Williams.

Vice-president — Ron Mukenstrum.

Secretary—Edsel Brooks.

Treasurer—Dan Wiemer.

Reporter — Don Linden.

Sentinel — Arnold Neuman.

Paul Burns, vocational agriculture instructor in Tecumseh High School, serves as adviser of the FFA chapter.

☆

THE NATIONAL Future Farmer's organization has 380,000 members, with 9,000 local chapters in the 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Future Farmer's choose the week of George Washington's birthday each year for the observance of National FFA week.

Although usually recognized as a Revolutionary War general and our first president, Washington's first love was the farm he called Mount Vernon.

There, he was one of the first in the nation to practice contour farming, crop rotarians, fertilization and other soil conservation and improvement methods.

It was more than a century after Washington's death before general use was made of many of the sound agricultural practices that he advocated.

Girls Bake, Then Decorate Pastry

Girls of Troop 30, first-year Intermediate Scouts, sponsored extermediate Scouts, sponsored by the Monday Club, baked cakes and decorated them for Valentine's day.

Mrs. Merton Boss who has had cake decoration experience, showed the girls how to do the work.

Mrs. Franklin Fergus was assisted by Mrs. Howard Wilson, leader of the troop.

Three Methods for Financing Being Discussed

Retail merchants will hold a dinner meeting Thursday, Feb. 25 in the VFW hall.

Discussion will center on the improvement of the downtown business area with emphasis on off-street parking improvements.

Merchants will talk about the three methods which can be used to provide the approximately $100,000 needed to fashion city parking into A-1 shape.

This means hard-topping, painting stall, lighting and posting neon directional signs to lots.

The possible methods of financing being considered are:

1. Storemen paying about 35c per square foot of floor space in their business place on a voluntary assessment plan.

2. Members of Chamber forming a profit group, with each paying $10 per month for stock.

3. Metering all improved off-street spaces.

Missionary Is Speaker

Mrs. Lawrence Ehinger, returned missionary from Africa, was the speaker for the Missionary Society of the Friends Church Thursday evening. Her topic was "Missionary Life and Problems of Africa."

Naomi Sallows, Mildred Chase and Serena McClure were the hostesses who served refreshments.

Grange Plans Minstrel Show

Plans for a minstrel show were made by Tecumseh Grange Saturday evening following a potluck supper.

It was also decided to buy more dishes for the fish supper to be held Feb. 25 at 5 p.m.

A card party will be held Feb. 20 at the hall at 8 p.m. with Mr. and Mrs. Mills Swick and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett in charge.

Chief Kilbourn Entering Race for Sheriff Post

Tecumseh police chief George Kilbourn has announced he'll seek election as Lenawee county sheriff.

Running in the Aug. 2 Republican primary, Mr. Kilbourn will face some pretty stiff competition.

He'll be opposed by current sheriff, Bob Stites, and Carl Franz of Dover township — and possibly others.

Both Stites and Franz have said they're in the race to carry the GOP colors.

Mr. Kilbourn has served as Tecumseh chief the past eight years.

Prior to that, he was a deputy sheriff and dog warden for three years and before this, an Adrian city patrolman from 1945 to 1949.

Now 47, Mr. Kilbourn and his wife, parents of three, will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary this spring.

Mr. Kilbourn was born in Adrian and has spent his entire life in Lenawee county.

"Between 30 and 40 robins, all big and fat and pretty," she said. This was Mrs. Frank Horan on the telephone Tuesday. She was caling to tell us about the robin convention held on Matthews Hwy. near Newburg — and to order a subscription for The Herald (love that gal).

Mrs. Horan said the birds were feeding in a cornfield with a number of turtle doves. They were there on Sunday and again on Monday afternoon.

Upon calling our bird authority, Marda Gene Duncan, we learned that the robins that stay here in the winter months do often stay in flocks but usually not of the size of this one. Isn't it interesting to contemplate just what the festival must be all about.

Changing Pattern Of Hospital Use . . .

New and improved drugs save for the patient in ways seldom considered. Quicker and better recoveries have shortened the average hospital stay—by-one half or more.

According to the Health Information Foundation, while admissions increased, hospital days per thousand of population have decreased by one-half in the past 12 years—due principally to improved techniques and medicines, —the drugs your Doctor prescribes from the Wright Drug Store.

Presbyterians' Future Schedule Will Be Busy One

The Story of Gideon, from the book of Judges, forms the basis for Sunday's sermon entitled "A Faithful Few" at the Presbyterian Church.

It is the story of how Gideon, with a small band of 300 men, defeated an army of Midianites and Amalekites.

Fascinating, it is one of the few in history where an army about to go into battle is reduced instead of expanded for the conflict.

Instead of taking 32,000 men, Gideon takes 300 into battle. This Sunday's sermon will show how the story of Gideon speaks to modern man and the conclusions we can draw from it for today's living.

Family Night will be on Wednesday, March 2, at 6:30 p.m. for the entire church family, sponsored by the deacons in the Fellowship Center.

The meat dish will be provided by the deacons, followed by a program featuring Jack Lama who will speak on refugee work in the near East.

Mr. Lama, now in his third year at Adrian College, a native of Bethlehem, Jordan, has worked with the refugee program in his native country and will give a first-hand account of how moneys given to the "One Great Hour of Sharing" are used to help the peoples in that area.

On Tuesday, February 23 at 7:30 p.m. the feature film "The Mark of the Hawk" will be shown in the Fellowship Center.

Members of the church and community are invited to see this excellent movie, featuring Eartha Kitt.

Dealing with contemporary situations in Africa, it is the first movie of its kind to be produced in conjunction with a religious body.

The movie is being sponsored by the young people of the church.

Through this effort, they hope to secure a number of books in good condition that can be sent to Africa for use in a library being equipped in Nairobi.

The building was donated, the Aga Kahn has given $5,000 for building shelves and painting the interior of the building, and the library is now seeking books.

The Rev. and Mrs. Gresham met with the following Groups this past week:

Mr. and Mrs. John Saling

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hamilton, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Smith.

Their schedule for the coming week will be as follows:

Feb. 18 — Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Osburn.

Feb. 22 — Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Gilbert.

Feb. 25 — Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hodges.

Feb. 29 — Mr. and Mrs. William Frownfelder.

Sermon Series Being Completed for Methodists

For the past two Sundays, Methodists in Tecumseh have heard sermons to interpret the Christian faith. Next Sunday a sermon on the Trinity completes the current series.

"This sermon will be called 'We Believe in Three In And One', admittedly an ambiguous title," said the Rev. James D. Nixon.

"Other religions have accused Christians of worshiping three Gods, and at times our words have sounded like it," said Mr. Nixon.

"It is time to look again at the faith beginning with Abraham who saw that God was One."

In addition to being the second Sunday before Lent, next Sunday is observed around the world as "Universal Day of Prayer for Students" and this theme will be observed by special prayers during this service.

Nursery service is provided during worship. Church School is at 9 and 11:15.

The Intermediate Methodist Youth Fellowship meets at 5:30 p.m. with Corky Squires and Mary Ann Mead in charge. The Senior MYF meets with Sally Hunt at her home. In charge will be Doris Nash, Mary Leetka and Jim Dahlke.

Sunday Speaker Recently Returned from Africa

The Tecumseh Friends congregation will hear Lawrence Ehinger at both the 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ehinger and son Larry are well known to Friends in this area.

The Ehingers have recently returned from a successful term of missionary service in Urundi, Africa.

Mrs. Ehinger was engaged in teaching and supervision of mission schools while Mr. Ehinger was considered one of the best technical missionaries, as well as an able minister.

While on the field Mr. Ehinger rebuilt and maintained the electrical power supply equipment for their area.

Friends of the Tecumseh community will welcome this opportunity to meet and hear Mr. Ehinger.

Methodists Hold Mid-Week Services During Lent

Weekly mid-week services will be held at the Methodist Church in Tecumseh during Lent.

The first will be on Wednesday, all others on Thursday evenings at 8 p.m.

Ash Wednesday, March 2, will be marked with the sacrament of Holy Communion with sermon by the pastor.

Thursday, March 10, begins a series which will bring Methodist ministers as guest preachers.

In order of their appearances they will be the Rev. Thurston Taylor of Carleton (formerly at Britton), the Rev. P. Ray Norton of Clinton, the Rev. Allen Wittrup of Birmingham, the Rev. Dr. Oliver Collins of Adrian and the Rev. Charles Cookingham of Blissfield.

"None of these men have spoken in this church before," said the Rev. James D. Nixon.

"Mr. Wittrup is a brother of George Wittrup of Tecumseh and is the associate pastor at First Methodist Church in Birmingham.

"The other men are in the first year of their present pastorates, all new to the Tecumseh area. We thought this would be an excellent way to get acquainted."

Mrs. Carlos Jones, chairman of the membership and evangelism commission of the church, announces that women of the three circles will serve as welcomers, ushers and hostesses for the services.

The regular ushers will serve at the Ash Wednesday and Maundy Thursday services of Holy Communion.

The Mabel Lawrence Circle will serve March 10 and 17, the Mary Foster Circle on March 24 and 31, and the Irene Circle will sing at each of these services.

The public is invited.

BUSY INTERVIEWER — Amid the clutter of a new store being set up, Mrs. F. M. Speller, a traveling personnel supervisor for Woolworth's, interviewed potential employees last week. As young ladies from the area concentrated on special tests, workers were hustling about, bringing in counters, setting them up. Mrs. Speller says she hopes to employ all local women, will be here to help train them. The Woolworth store will be holding its grand opening in late March.

God-Given Ability

Man's God-given ability to think and act rightly will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

ANN ARBOR—Some of Michigan's early settlers lost their reckoning of time out there in the "back woods," according to Quaker girl Elizabeth Chandler, whose letters are in The University of Michigan Historical Collections.

"One of our neighbors, last winter, went out the seventh day morning, as he thought, to do a pretty good day's work in the woods, while his wife at home was busy baking and scrubbing," Elizabeth wrote friends back in Philadelphia in 1832.

"She had just got the house tidied up in the afternoon, though the floor was still wet, when her sister came in and in some surprise asked her why she was not at the meeting.

"She, equally surprised that her sister should have been there, replied that she expected to go the next day and was not a little struck of a heap' to find that herself and her liege lord had been so outrageously occupied on the Sabbath."

Elizabeth, then 21, had come with her brother Thomas and Aunt Ruth Evans to settle in a log cabin in rolling country halfway between Adrian and Tecumseh.

In an earlier letter her brother Thomas described the appearance of the Michigan Territory:

"The oak openings present a different appearance from any other country I have seen. The trees are generally not large but stright and tall. In some places they are almost free from underbrush with the ground covered by grass and wild flowers.

"In the early part of the season these openings are said to represent a wide flower garden and now in the early part of September the variety of wild flowers is very considerable.

"Aunt Ruth and Elizabeth have sometimes wandered in the woods without fear. There are said to be no rattle snakes except in the swamps and wild beasts are seldom seen. I have seen several wild turkeys since coming here when I have had no gun with me, and pigeons in abundance.

"Since coming here I have seen but one wolf and very few snakes, all harmless. There are some wolves but they will always run from a man, a few bears, but no panthers.

"Deer are not very plentiful, yet they are frequently seen. Raccoons are quite numerous. There are some muskrats. Remains of beaver dams are numerous but apparently there are no beavers left.

"Pigeons, partridges, pheasants, wild turkeys, geese and ducks may be said to be as plentiful here as in almost any other place."

Hot Rodders?

A lot of people in this community have the idea that any teenager that has a car is a hot-rod.

But are they?

We don't think so.

Who are we? We are a new car club that has been started to promote safety and the wheel in the younger set.

We are called the Ruff Riders and we have about 20 new members.

One of our rules in the charter, that we had approved by the City police, states anyone who receives a ticket for anything other than over-parking is automatically out of the club. The Chief of Police, George Kilbourn is our sponser, and we hope to prove ourselves in this community.

LUCINIE by M. Dasque. A beautiful and subtly-wrought novel, remarkable for its insight into a profound religious experience. It is centered on Sister Lucinie, the youngest member of a small community of French nursing Sisters in Algeria and her deepening sense of an abiding Presence which enable her to be a worker of miracles.

THE SHIP THAT DIED OF SHAME by Nicholas Monsarrat. Here are ten superb stories by one of the most talented and versatile authors of our time, each written with narrative intensity and fascinating content.

THE LANTERN BEARERS by Rosemary Sutcliff. When the last of the Roman Auxiliaries set sail in their galleys and left Britain forever, they abandoned the country to internal strife and to the menace of invasion by the Saxons. These were exciting days for Aquila, a young Roman officer.

A MIDWEST STORY by Augusta Walker. This is a story about the midwest today; the comfortable, secure life of a midwest town with its quiet streets. It is also the story of what lies behind the cool pleasant facade of this region.

EVERY DAY IS SUNDAY. Breathes there a man with soul so dead who never has dreamed of chucking it all while still young enough to enjoy the life of retirement? Sam Jessup, fifty-one, did it. He sold his house, kissed his grown-up kids good-bye, climbed into the family car beside his wife, and set off for sunny Florida and a life of ease without a worry in the world. He walked smack into the biggest headache since Mr. Blandings contemplated his dream house!

Jubilant Blissfield Upsets Tecumseh

A jubilant Blissfield basketball team upset Tecumseh on its own floor Tuesday night, 55-54, and moved into a first place tie with the Indians in the Huron League.

Only two games remain on the schedule for the local five with Friday's tilt at Milan and the finale here with Grosse Ile Feb. 26.

Tecumseh had numerous chances to turn back Blissfield and sink the Royals' hopes for loop honors.

Twice, with less than a minute to play, the Indians gained control of the ball and ended up each time losing it without taking a single shot.

The visitors doggedly trailed Tecumseh through most of the contest, and once in the third stanza by as much as six points, the biggest lead enjoyed by either club.

The Royals once led Coach Vic Lawson's team by four points in the first quarter and then took over the lead once more at the 4:20 mark in the final period for good.

Jim Poley took scoring honores with 16 points. Bob Dick and Jack Sisson each scored 12. Four Royals talied nine points.

Dutch Averages 207 in Last 5 Outings

One of Tecumseh's finest bowlers, Dutch Creger, is currently enjoying his hottest streak of the season.

The past five Monday nights, while keggling in the Airport Bowl House League for Eggleston's Jewelers, Dutch has averaged 207 pins a game

His string of series include 654, 652, 641, 632 and 737.

This week(Creger paced his mates who amassed a fabulous 3,150 actual pinfall. Adjusted, it reached 3,339.

Creger's 737 featured a 267 line.

Larry Goller finished with 638, his high game being 230.

Bob Beevers' 609 included a 243.

Denny Goller captured a 194 line as he totaled 560 for the evening.

Ray Zimmerman chipped in a 606, his top game being 214.

Dutch is currently bowling in four leagues, including the every-other-week mixed doubles when he teams with his wife, Mary Helen, who herself carries a neat 152 average.

Indian Gals Win Two

The Tecumseh girls basketball teams won their opening games last Thursday night against Milan.

The varsity won, 31-7, and the JVs were victors, 55-21.

The Tecumseh varsity guards monopolized the rebounds from the Milan back board throughout the game.

The Milan team suffered a severe handicap in that their players had had little practice time previous to the game and as a result a small percent of their shots were successful.

The Tecumseh guarding threesome of Camilla Grigg, Sandy Howard and Susie Morden was outstanding. Jean Packard was a capable defensive substitute.

Mary Roberts was high scorer with 16 points for the night. She was assisted by Mary Colgrove, Peg Robinette, Dianne Fuller and Nancy Smith. Brown was high scorer for Milan with a total of 5 points.

☆

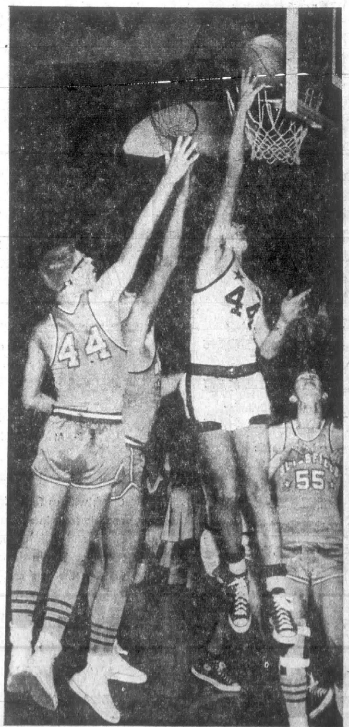
THE JVs PLAYED a rough game. Linda McMichael, Joy Bays and Shelia O'Neil did a good job of controlling the rebounds off the Milan backboard.

Jackie Barth was high scorer with 23. She was followed by Nancy George with 12.

Nancy Goodin — 6.
Sherry Packard — 3.
Brenda Whelan — 10.
Betty Barth — 1.

The next game will be played with Dundee on Feb. 22 in Tecumseh.

Peggy Pocklington is coach for the reserve team and Arlene Bierley coach for the varsity team.



NICE SHOT — Jim Poley swung under the hoop and then leaped high in the finel frame to dunk a layup shot.

A City Which Stood Still for 100 Years

Jim Smith, local architect and member of the city planning commission, revealed to the Kiwanis Club the need for community planning.

Mr. Smith said, "For 100 years Tecumseh neither krew in population nor decreased in number, yet within a span of 20 years it could triple in population."

Commissioned by the city council to present plans to the planning commission, Mr. Smith mentioned many possibilities for routing traffic and even the possibility of a small mall down the boulevard, which would encougage foot traffic to shop at leisure and cross from street to street.

The meeting was conducted by President John Pobuda who introduced attendance and program chairman Gene Tuckey who revealed the "get the habit or get the rabbit" project.

Ag Teachers Asked To Caution Farmers

The following letter was recently sent to Paul Burns, Tecumseh vocational agriculture teacher, and other instructors of this subject throughout Michigan.

"We are all well aware of the recent fear and confusion that resulted from the announcement of possible cancer from eating cranberries sprayed with aminotriazole.

"The Agricultural Curriculum Committee, in its January 14 meeting, recognized the problem and recommended that we alert all vocational agricultural teachers to do everything in their power to prevent a similar occurrence in some phase of Michigan agriculture.

"Farmers must continue to use chemicals or give up the fight against various pests and diseases. They, of course, cannot give up the fight if we are to continue to eat.

"We are, therefore, asking that you give special attention to warning farmers of the dangers present to their own health and economic security as well as the health of the consumer.

"We are asking that as you work with adult farmers, young farmers and high school students you emphasize the importance of reading labels and following directions carefully. Labels on products carried over from the previous year must be checked to see that they meet the latest regulations.

"Farmers have the responsibility of following these directions carefully. Particular attention is necessary in following the recommended amounts or dosages and time of application especially in regard to the amount of time that must elapse between the last application and harvest or use.

"The farmer should not kid himself into thinking that small amounts will get by. New techniques are in use that will detect one molecule of DDT in a quart of milk, for example.

"Whether a farmer agrees or disagrees with regulations, it is important that he realize the seriousness of the situation and that the misuse of a product on the part of even a few farmers may jeopardize the whole industry as well as the sale of his own products.

Sincerely yours,
Harry E. Nesman, Chief
Agricultural Education

Airport Jets Upset THS Hoopsters, 55-51

By JIM LINCOLN

Coach Vic Lawson's team outscored the victors from the field, canning 20 field goals to the Jets' 17, but bowed at the free throw line.

Airport netted 21 of 33 foul line tosses to Tecumseh's 11 of 16.

100,000 Books Going to Africa

The Rev. Dr. James H. Robinson of New York proposed a plan at the Lansing Presbytery Senior High Conference this past summer.

It was a project of raising, collecting, screening and shipping up to 100,000 books to Kenya, East Africa.

This idea, known as the Books for Africa Project, was approved by the Synod Christian Education Committee at its annual meeting.

Local Presbyterian Westminster Fellowship groups have been encouraged to use every device at their disposal to collect books.

Volumns on history, science, geology, health, mathmatics, theology, physiology and agriculture.

Storybooks, biographies, novels, religious books, encyclopedias, books about the Bible and almanacs are also sought.

The local groups will ship the books to Alma College where the student body will act as a screening committee and will prepare them for shipment to New York.

From there, Dr. Robinson will see to it that they are shipped to Nairobi, the capital of Kenya, to be placed in what amounts to the first public library for adults and children in all of East Africa.

All education in Kenya is in English so that the books sent from the U.S. can be read by the native Africans.

Persons desiring to donate books for this project may contact the Presbyterian Church here, phone 408, or Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, phone 542W.

Monetary donations will also be welcomed. These will be used to buy new books and to pay shipping expenses.

Through My Window

A STIFF NECK—OUCH, BUT OH, MY

During the day when I am sitting up, I try, if only out of the corner of my eye, to keep track of what is going on in the creek and along the bank. At anytime something interesting is apt to happen, but recently the late morning hours, from about 10 to 12, have been extra productive.

It is during this time that we are most likely to see the muskrat. Yes, again this year, Old Friend Muskrat is providing some of our most exciting window watching.

The first few times we saw him, he was merely a dark brown head swimming upstream, mastering with ease the fast flowing current and leaving as his wake a wide spreading v-shaped ripple of waves.

His swimming ability was amazing, his progress was a smooth effortless glide. One day as we were watching, he swam into a little patch of sunlight and the soft rich luxurious fur of his head and neck was breathtaking.

☆

SEVERAL DAYS later we saw him again, but this time the skies were dark and gloomy and a sudden cold snap had started shelves of ice forming along the creek's edge.

In some spots, away from the current, the ice extended far out In fact, most of the stiller water was frozen over. It was a new ice, clear and transparent.

Until it moved, we thought the dark hunk of something at the edge of this thin ice was a piece of wood or some other debris which had been washed up.

The movement of course, showed that it was a muskrat—our first look at him completely odt of water.

His actions were amusing. As he walked along, stopping every few seconds to peer into the water, he looked for all the world as if he were shuddering at the thought of diving into the icy stream.

☆

WE ALMOST expected him gingerly to reach into the water with his little front paw, instantly draw it back, shudder and say, "Burr!"

This is nonsense of course, because the muskrat's beautiful fur affords him perfect insulation and protection. He minds the cold water not a bit.

As if proving this point, he soon slid into the water and slid is the proper word—this movement was as graceful and effortless as his swimming. We watched his progress, swimming and diving and dodging small ice patches until he rounded the bend and was out of sight.

It was a good and most satisfyingly long look.

Our next muskrat treat was even longer, more exciting and lead to the stiff neck. Saturday morning, about 10:45, we noticed him bobbing down stream.

☆

IT MUST HAVE been a fun ride, he floated in the current just letting it whisk him along.

There was just the merest edging of ice along the creek bank this day and when he finally swam out of the current and came to the bank, there was not enough "shelf" for him to sit on.

It didn't matter though, he was interested in lunch so he just stood in the shallow water and nibbled away.

I'm not sure what he found to eat, but apparently it was tasty because his lunch was a long one. Bending down and reaching into the water, he would get a bite of food, straighten up, settle back on his haunches and use his little front paws to hold the tidbit.

Except that he was in frigid water, it was an amazingly squirrel-like performance. Up and down the creek edge he ate and happy for us, much of the time he was facing in our direction.

☆

NEEDLESS to say, it was fascinating. We hardly dared take our eyes off him for fear of missing something or worse still what if he should leave.

Not willing to chance it we watched and as he ate and ate and ate it became apparent that his appetite was holding out better than were my neck and eyes.

Straining to keep a small object under surveilance for my length of time is tiring and, checked by the clock, Friend Muskrat lunched for better than twenty minutes.

We are not complaining though —after all, who wouldn't trade a stiff neck for the wonderful fun of watching a muskrat? We will any day.

As for the stiff neck — we might wince a little and say, "Ouch"! but quickly following will come a contented sigh of satisfaction, "Oh, my!"

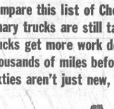
WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!

Compare this list of Chevy advances with the features ordinary trucks are still talking about. You'll see why Chevy trucks get more work done in a day... why they go extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. These Sturdi-Bilt Sixties aren't just new, they're a full scale revolution!



TORSION-SPRING RIDE

Each front wheel, suspended independently of the other, is free to step individually over bumps. And shockproof torsion springs up front soak up the jars and jolts before they reach the body. With three rugged new tailored-to-the-truck rear suspensions to further reduce road shocks, Chevy gives you the smoothest truck ride you've ever felt.

NO SHIMMY, NO WHEEL FIGHT

Drive a '60 Chevy. Just once. Right away you'll notice the absence of I-beam shimmy and wheel fight common on ordinary trucks.

With independent front suspension there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel.

CABS FOR BIG GUYS

Big guys get a bigger break in a Chevy cab. There's plenty of space inside to stretch out and relax; more room for hats and hips, more room for wide shoulders and long legs. There's horizon-wide visibility through a windshield with 26% more glass area; a new see-at-a-glance instrument panel. Cabs are safer, too, up to 67% more rigid.

6'S SWORN TO SAVE

Chevy's 6-cylinder engines are set to squeeze extra miles out of every drop of fuel. They're long famous for low fuel consumption, high performance.

SHORT STROKE V8'S

Power-packed for peak performance, Chevy's husky V8's make child's play out of the toughest hauls. They have a mind tuned to economy, too, that keeps costs down, profits up.

SLICK NEW SUBURBAN CARRYALLS

These handsome new handy haulers "double-in brass"—can transport eight passengers or up to 950 lbs. of payload. Rear and center seats are easy to remove and replace when necessary. For work or for pleasure, these double-duty beauties are best for both!

NEW DOLLAR-SAVING PRICES

Chevrolet's low prices make big truck news for '60. They mean money in your pocket on model after model. Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Also, prices have been reduced on all optional V8's.

SEE YOUR DEALER

It could be the most important visit you make in '60. When you've been these new Chevies, you'll agree they're the world's most advanced trucks. Then drive one and find out why.

Farmers Use More Fertilizer

Michigan farmers use three times as much fertilizer now as they did in 1950.

"That's one of many marked changes in fertilizer technology over the last decade or two," Ray L. Cook, head of the Michigan State University soil science department, said during the 45th annual M.S.U. Farmers' Week in early February.

"Back in the 1930's," Cook stated, "many farmers used little or no fertilizer. Low-grade ammonium sulfate supplied most of the nitrogen. Superphosphate provided the phosphorus. No one had ever heard of using more than 250 pounds per acre."

Now, ammonium sulfate has largely given way to ammonium phosphates, ammonium nitrates, urea, ammonium solutions and anhydrous ammonia. Anhydrous contains 82 per cent nitrogen.

"What's more," added Cook, "300-600 pound total applications have become common."

"Non-legume crops used to starve for nitrogen unless they followed legumes," he recalled. "Corn often suffered that fate."

Today, non-legumes are replacing legumes on many farms. Acres that once got 5 pounds of nitrogen now receive 100 to 150 pounds from commercial fertilizers.

"Soils once needed more of almost all nutrients," the scientist said. "Balance between fertilizer elements didn't seem important."

But nowadays, nurtient balance gets plenty of attention. Soil residues are building up. They may reach dangerous levels as applications increase.

"The good manager fertilizers in proportion to yield," Cook pointed out. "That is, he puts the most plant food on his best soils. Soil tests play a big part here."

Safety Is No Accident

With Michigan continuing to rank high on the list in traffic deaths, it is time each of us who drives a motor vehicle takes a solemn oath to do something about it . . . Like the professional truck driver who makes his livelihood piloting a truck or truck-trailer over our streets and highways, we need to know the rules of safe driving and practice them. Safety is no accident—it's planned that way . . . Obey all traffic laws, be courteous, drive "defensively" (trying to anticipate the other fellow's move), be sure your vehicle is in good mechanical condition. There are other sound rules, but these are four of the most important and if you'll practice them conscientiously you'll help to save a life—and it may be yours!

MARY SEAGER'S

With Tecumseh TEENS

The Future Teachers Club traveled to Adrian last Tuesday evening for its regular monthly meeting. Tecumseh members were guests of the Adrian chapter.

An interesting speaker was heard and refreshments were served.

The club left from the circle drive at 7 p.m. being accompanied by their adviser, Mr. Doug Murdock, and returning later in the evening.

√

The Spanish Club met last Wednesday to present a play given by the members to the members.

Naturally, it was given in Spanish and it took several weeks to prepare.

It was called "The Daughters of the Barber" and describes the attempts of the barber and his wife to marry off their seven daughters.

The barber brings one of his customers home who has two nephews. The old man and his two nephews spend a pleasant evening until the parade of eligible girls begins.

They all appear one by one to show off their varied talents. However, neither of the nephews sees any one to his liking and says as much.

The barber beats them and chases them out of his house.

THE CAST

Margaret Horvath — the barber's wife
Bruce Le Fevre — the barber
Thomas Hicks — the old man
Tom Simmonds, John Aho — the nephews
The daughters:
Kendra Frost — a cook
Brenda Bugbee — an opera singer
Nancy Smith — a painter
Diane Damon — a ballerina
Barb Velandra — a journalist
Susan Frost — a nurse

All of the girls were dressed in appropriate costumes and their actions were carefully directed by the club's adviser, Mrs. Patterson.

The play was hilarious and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Thursday afternoon, the Tecumseh High debaters lost two close decisions to Coldwater on the labor controversy. Marilou Layton and Roger Mead and Jon Cook and Bob Dick made up the losing teams.

√

The Teen Club was open to a good-sized crowd last Friday night due to the away game.

√

Girls asked the boys to the "Cupid's Caper" at the Teen Club, which was held last Saturday night. Prices were not raised, but free refreshments were served.

√

A pep meeting was held Tuesday afternoon before the Blissfield game.

The cheerleaders presented a skit entitled "Man in the Street". It was supposed to have taken place in Tecumseh's downtown area.

Janet Murphy appeared as a German immigrant followed by Mary Colgrove as a glamour girl.

A competent carrer woman was portrayed by Suzie Owen, who contrasted to Kendra Ringman as a beatnik.

A sewer cleaner, portrayed by Jeanie Hohenstein, was followed by Vickie Baughey, as a little girl.

Acting as moderator was Suzie Morden.

This pep meeting, the first in a long time, added greatly to the school spirit needed for such an important game.

Don't forget the game at Milan this Friday. It's a league tilt and the team needs all the support it can get.

√

The 1960 Tecumseh High School yearbook, "Senior Echoes" has been changed in format considerably and should be one of the best.

This will be the first year that the school population has expanded and that the yearbook order has not also been enlarged. Therefore everyone should get their order in early.

Orders are being taken in the upper hall of the high school near room 35. The price of the annual is $3.50. Those who order copies may either pay the full amount, or $2.50 now and $1 when the books arrive.

Anyone not in school, who wishes to order a yearbook, should call Mr. Hart's office or send a check made out to annual staff, to Mrs. Service at the high school.

The Teen Club will be open this weekend for dances.

We Honor George Washington

By ROYAL WELCH

Out of curosity I have been going around asking people what they think of when I mention the name of George Washington. Here are some of the answers I got:

He was the first President of the United States. He chopped down a cherry tree. He never told a lie. He crossed the Delaware in a little bit of a boat.

Of all these statements, the first is the one I would like to discuss. He was the first President of the United States. That sounds mighty important now—and it is. But what did it mean in the year 1789 when Washington was inaugurated? What was this United States? Was it very important then?

Physically it was the 13 colonies who revolted against a tyrannical government, and won their freedom with a ragged citizen army of backwoodsmen, farmers, tradesmen and merchants, armed most of the time with little more than sheer courage. Led by General George Washington, they might never have emerged victorious but for his persistence and dogged determination.

But more than a military victory, it was a victory for the freedom to speak, to worship, to work, to assemble, and to choose those who would govern us.

And yet, even in the instant of victory, disunity threatened. The good fortune of the United States was that at this moment all could agree on one man to rule them while they made their dream a reality.

That is why we honor George Washington.

Photographs Show Symptons of Fruit Disease

A stitch in time saves nine. And early recognition of diseases can often save an entire crop of small fruit.

A new Michigan State University bulletin called "Small Fruit Diseases in Michigan" describes symptoms of 42 important small-fruit diseases. "Photographs show symptoms of almost all these maladies.

The publication doesn't stop at symptoms. It covers the importance, causative organism, disease cycle and control methods of each disease. This type of information helps a contral program.

Disease lowers fruit quality as well as yield, Louis G. Hall, county extension director, points out. Diseased conditions sometimes make plants susceptible to winter injury.

Lenawee county extension office has copies of the bulletin. A copy is free for the asking. ported.

"OF ALL DANGERS THE GREATEST IS TO THINK LIGHTLY OF THE FOE"
by Lao-Tse
(604-518 B.C.)

Ever present, constantly about us, are countless numbers of germs and virus awaiting the opportunity of attacking our body. Some unknown blind instinct urges them to multiply their numbers and if this increase is not stopped life is endangered.

Fortunately we now have potent antibiotics and sulfa compounds. If taken before these germs and virus have had sufficient time to weaken the body's resistance, a cure usually results. Therefore, it is extremely important, that at the very first symptoms of any recurring ailment, a physician be consulted. It is dangerous to treat any sickness carelessly.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Take a Lesson from Joe

This fiasco over Jack Parr boarders on the ridiculous.

What entertainer is so tremendous that he and he alone can do a given chore? Mr. Parr tells us how rough it is to keep the conversations going once he and his guests are on camera, intimating that he's the indispensable man.

Parr's plight brings to mind the words of a truly great entertainer, who enjoyed many years of great success and never was one to single himself out as a unique performer.

That person is Joe E. Brown.

Most folks think of Brown as a comic and that's about all. Joe is much more, a lot more.

Mr. Brown said something in 1943, during a 30-minute curtain chat with an audience in Detroit, following a performance there in "The Show Off," which has never been forgotten by us.

"I have never used smutty or suggestive material," Joe told folks present.

How many people in the entertainment field — especially among comedians — who could make a similar statement?

We've watched Parr and feel sure he couldn't. At least one daily newspaper entertainment writer agrees and made the statement that Parr was skilled at pushing along a situation where there were double meanings.

It was a double-meaning skit which was clipped from his taped show and caused him to stalk off stage like a sulking schoolboy. Parr cried "censored", but he was off base. He had strayed from the path of good taste and had no right to squawk.

A newspaper or magazine isn't being censored when an editor chops up a story, which is in bad taste. That's the responsibility of a free press.

We suspect that comics like Parr feel they should scramble along the tightrope of risque conversation and go as far as they can — not thinking of the consequences their remarks might have on youthful viewers.

The network man pulled the carpet from under Parr. We hope it makes an impression on his attitude in the future and on others appearing on TV and in public places.

Joe E. Brown had it right when he said that smut had no place in the repertoire of an entertainer.

'No Greater Sacrifice . . .'

"No greater sacrifice can a man make than to lay down his life for his fellow man."

THE HOLY BIBLE

Three people risked their lives to save a navy reserve pilot who crash-landed his plane near Birmingham Saturday.

As a fourth person shouted for them to stay back because the escaping high-octane aviation gasoline might suddenly cause an explosion, the trio rushed forward.

The helpless pilot dangled upside down, trapped in his ship by his safety belt.

His rescuers, heedless to the dangers which could snuff out their lives, included a man and his wife and another man. The two fellows half climbed into the airship to unfasten the belt and then dragged the badly-shocked pilot a safe distance from the still potentially dangerous plane.

"Was there anyone else with you?" they asked the dazed airman.

"I don't know," he answered, although he actually was alone on the flight, but was so befuddled he couldn't say so. Immediately, one of the men dashed back to make sure no one had been trapped inside, risking his life a second time.

As the scripture says, "No greater sacrifice can a man make . . . "

To us, this type of heroism is truly the zenith in love of one man for another.

CAUSES COMMOTION—When Joe Layton (in sunglasses), Tecumseh Products Co. president, pulled this 300-pound marlin out of Acapulco Bay, he caused "quite a commotion", writes George M. Gordon from Mexico. It took 1½ hours to land the catch and was "the largest marlin Acapulco had seen for months, since sail fish are the common species and only small marlins are caught," wrote Mr. Gordon.

Wins Trophy Again

At Thursday evening's meeting of the Underwood-Orr Post of the American Legion, it was announced that the post had again won the Louis S. Schneider Memorial Trophy.

This trophy is presented to the post in the 2nd District that has the most boys participating in activities at Boys State.

This Post has won the trophy two years in succession and if it repeats next year, the cup will become permanent property of the post.

It was announced that the District Oratorical Contest will be held in Tecumseh on March 4.

Members voted to sponsor two boys to Boys State again this year.

A membership of 295 was reported.

Peru Pictures Shown to Circle

Earl Greene presented pictures of his trip to Peru for members of the Mary Foster Circle of the Methodist Church Monday evening.

The group met at the home of Mrs. John Cameron.

His talk concerning the trip was enlightening and interesting as many facts about life in South America, previously unknown to the group, were explained.

Devotions were presented by Bertha LaPointe and refreshments served by Mrs. Frank Wroblewski, Lillian Cannon and Mrs. Erwin Buss.

Sandra Richardson, formerly of Lansing, is now residing at the home of her mother, Mrs. Harry Richard. Miss Richardson is a senior in high school.

Michigan's Young Farmer Being Named Here Next Week

Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce members will descend on Tecumseh next week to learn who the state's outstanding young farmer of the year is.

The annual awards banquet at which Michigan's top young farmer will be named will be at 6:30 p.m. in the high school.

The dinner is open to the public.

"Our committees have been at work for six months to provide an unforgettable day for Michigan Jaycees," said Dyke Helms, local arrangement chairman.

The main speaker will be Merritt D. Hill, vice-president and general manager of Ford Tractor.

James Woodward of rural Clinton is the Tecumseh Jaycee entry in the competition.

The local Jaycee Auxiliary has set plans for the ladies at the Country Club in the afternoon. They will see demonstrations of cosmetics and hair styles, and will join the men for a tour later in the afternoon and the evening banquet.

Michigan's Outstanding Young Farmer will be entered in the National Contest at Bakersfield, Calif.

Dr. Robert Murray, judges committee chairman, announces that " a terrific list of contestants has been entered."

Judges will be Myron Grinnell, editor of Michigan Farmer Magazine; Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, and Dean Allen, 4-H leader of the MSU extension department.

"After touring Kitty Kurtis' Beef Farm and seeing 700 head of cattle fed by automatic machinery, we will be ready for the home-style roast beef dinner served by the Tecumseh Grange," said Chairman Helm.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

As a souvenir of World War II, I picked up one of those giant Nazi flags left in a street at Bamberg, Germany, shortly after that city had fallen to the Allies.

This Nazi bunting is the kind that was hung out of second story windows and nearly reached the ground.

Several weeks ago, when this hooliganism of painting swatikas on buildings and the junior edition of Nazi parties becoming known, I was tempted to burn it.

But I didn't. Now I think the rag might come in handy.

Washington's birthday dawned bright and sunny, an excellent day to fly our flags.

Not too many in the downtown were out by mid-morning, so our two front-office gals volunteered to go up and down Main Street and remind every store that its flag should be up.

As they left The Herald, I suddenly had a fiendish idea and blurted out,

"Tell 'em if they won't get out their flags, I'll hang the Nazi swastika from the stop light at the four corners."

This certainly is not a very nice thought, but it might jar a few of us loose from the lethargic mental attitude many have had about patriotism.

More new Linotype mats arrived at The Herald last week and they were immediately put to work with this issue.

Just as the lady who dons a new hat is thrilled and proud, so are the publishers of your hometown weekly newspaper when something extra is added.

These are what we call display type or faces — larger sizes, mainly for advertising copy and headlines on news stories.

Here are some sample lines. This one is called Spartan Black in straight up and down letters:

Nice, eh?

We also now have it in the same size in italic.

Real cool.

We have Spartan Heavy, which is quite a bit like the Black, in a smaller size:

Clean, Modern

Then, there's the Spartan Book:

Swell for ads.

This latter is an excellent body type for ads and also looks good on heads, which pertain to weddings and women's news.

A visitor at The Herald last week was Mrs. Edith Smith of Saline, who said she liked our editorials and wanted to submit an idea for future consideration.

Mrs. Smith is fed up, she said, with the type of movies being shown in metropolitan areas — especially with the sort of advertising that goes with the product.

"Jack the Ripper" was particularly bad, she opinioned, and I agreed.

The thought which arises when kids get in trouble: no wonder, this sort of thing "inspires" them

JOHN DAY, FORMERLY OF ASHLAND, O., IS MANAGER OF THE NEW WOOLWORTH'S STORE, WHICH OPENS IN LATE MARCH.

Woolworth's Manager Is Firm Veteran

While a student at Redford High School in 1954, John Day wandered into the local Woolworth's store to see if there was some part-time work.

John was hired and thus began an interesting career.

When he got his prep diploma, he started full-time with Woolworth's.

He served in three Detroit stores, several in the area, then was placed in the Lansing outlet and about two years ago was named manager of the Ashland, O. store.

When Woolworth's decided on an outlet for Tecumseh, top management studied qualified personnel to decide who should have the key position in the new store.

John Day, now 24, was given the nod.

☆

JOHN'S FUTURE Tecumseh customers will see him as he is pictured above. But for the past two weeks, he has been just another worker, helping set up the store, moving in merchandise.

Originally from Essex, England, John has been an American citizen for three years.

He and his wife, June, also 24, now reside at 311 S. Maiden Lane.

Assisting Mr. Day is Leon Herman, who comes here from Woolworth's at Jackson.

Picked for the job as cashier was Mrs. Clyde Smith, 116 W. Kilbuck St. She's being trained for the role by Mrs. Edward Bartelme of Detroit, an eight-year veteran with the company, who'll be in Tecumseh for the next six weeks.

Poster Winners Are Announced

Co-chairmen for the Herrick Park PTA card party, Feb. 27, are Mrs. Robert Kennedy and Mrs. Herbert Simon.

Poster winners have been determined and $1 prizes were awarded to each winner in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

They are, Bradley Brees, Tom Cubberly and Mike Zorn and Fred Kachur, who submitted a poster together.

A number of prizes and a door prize will be awarded during the evening.

'Bonus Days' Pry Lid Off Promotion Calendar Staged by City Stores

The first of many promotions planned for 1960 by the Chamber of Commerce will be held next week by Tecumseh merchants.

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Bonus Days" for hundreds of local and area shoppers — and it won't cost the patrons a cent.

Each participating Tecumseh merchant will give away a valuable prize FREE. All shoppers have to do is simply clip out coupons in The Herald, fill in their names and addresses and deposit in boxes at the respective stores.

Each retail member of the Chamber will have a box for its coupon. After "Bonus Days" end Saturday night, each merchant will draw a coupon from the box for the store's winner.

Winning names will be posted on windows of the stores Monday morning, and winners then may pick up their prizes.

FACT Committee Is Named by Trustees

Vern Manwaring, president of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, announced this week the names of the persons forming the new Foundation Advisory Committee of Tecumseh.

FACT is to "use whatever means seem advisable to discover the majority desire of the community as to what project should be undertaken by the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation and to report to its board of trustees," said the board in its last meeting authorizing FACT.

Appointed to FACT are:

Dr. Robert Laidlaw, chairman
Frank Purcell
Robert W. Bonner
Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne
Mrs. Donald Cobb
Mrs. Richard Coak

FACT has been requested to meet and report initial plans and progress to the board of trustees at its March meeting.

Reliable Class Attended by 22

Mrs. George Green, Sr. entertained 20 members of the Reliable Class of the Methodist Church and two gifts Thursday evening.

Edith Ingersol and Mrs. Grace Coffey were the guests.

Birthday anniversaries of Elizabeth Beamish and Miss Ingersol were remembered.

School District Planning Is Explained

The Tecumseh School District's financial crisis and future planning were explained to Kiwanias Club members last week by Supt. James McDowell.

He said that taxpayers within the city limits can pay less than they did last year and still meet the school's obligations.

The school official reported the reduction is given the taxpayer in the city by the recent dip in equalizing evaluation. A proposed three-mill increase, if approved, would still leave city taxes approximately $2 a thousand less than will be paid this year.

He said the schools can retain all present activities and services even though the State Equalization Board reduced Tecumseh's evaluation by about $5 million —if the three mill increase is approved.

Although taxpayers inside the city would be less affected by the three mills, those outside the limits would have an increase of about $5 per thousand assessed evaluation.

(Editor's Note—It's not known whether rural state equalized evaluation is being changed. Rural assessors contacted by The Herald were unable to give the information.)

Carl Lamb was program chairman.

Attendance chairman Gene Tuckey awarded the club's rabbit to Dr. George Burkhard to keep for a week.

The rabbit is given to a member for poor attendance record and last week's recipient was Joe Mannino.

250,000 PHONES

General Telephone Company of Michigan installed its quarter-millionth telephone Friday at Muskegon, according to Company officials.

Patterson Fair Theme: 'Easter Festival'

"Easter Festival" is the theme of the annual Patterson School Fair to be held April 2 from 12 to 5 p.m.

The date of the event has been rescheduled, due to a conflict with the Scoutorama.

This year's fair will close at 5 p.m. rather than 7, as was the case in previous years.

A committee meeting was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ted Pihl with Mrs. Byron Goodman, Mrs. Richard Loughney, Mrs. Allan Russell and Mrs. Kenneth Hinkleman and Mrs. Lowell Edwards from last year's planning board.

Students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the school are engaged in poster competition and awards will be presented for the two best posters from each room.

In addition there will be one grand prize.

Posters will be judged according to appeal, artistic ability, originality and neatness.

Girl Scouts of 3 Counties Form Irish Hills Council

Girl Scout organizations in Lenawee, Hillsdale and Jackson counties have been formed into the Irish Hills Council, following three years of discussion and planning.

Mrs. Frank Ames of Hudson, a long-time Scout leader, is chairman of the development committee. The council's work will be carried out under guidance of National Girl Scout headquarters in Chicago.

The idea for the new council comes from within the three-county area and has the full support of Tecumseh leaders.

Jackson county has been operating as a council, which will be dissolved in order to become a part of Irish Hills.

☆

THE NEW COUNCIL will provide unified Girl Scout programing for 3,849 girls now registered, in the three counties, and for 1,000 potential new Girl Scouts in the first year.

Irish Hills council will provide:

1. Better camping opportunities.
2. Regional, national and international program opportunities for the girls and adult leaders.
3. Better training for new and experienced volunteers through 52 training events the first year.
4. Professional staff, to help volunteers through training, conferences, neighborhood meetings.
5. One office, to coordinate the work of volunteers, maintain central registration and records, conduct council business and serve as staff headquarters.

☆

IN THE OLD Jackson county council and in lone troop communities in Hillsdale and Lenawee counties, Girl Scouting has been supported by United Funds, Community Chests, sponsoring groups and through independent fund raising.

This will continue.

The Jackson County Community Chest will support the Jackson County share of the total operating budget for the new council.

Lenawee and Hillsdale counties will conduct a fund-raising campaign to meet their share of the total operating budget for the new council.

The tentative dates for the Lenawee-Hillsdale drive will be April 1 through 9.

1960 'Week' Plans Begun

A meeting was held Thursday evening at the library by the planning committee for Library Week, which will be April 3-9.

Residents Learning First-Aid Techniques

Experience is an excellent teacher—that's why state policeman Irwin Stoddard of the Clinton post does such a fine job in instructing first aid classes.

He has been through the mill.

Trooper Stoddard holds a weekly first aid session in Tecumseh Tuesday evenings at 7:30 in the city hall.

It is primarily for members of the local Civil Defense, but other citizens are taking it, too, reports Steve Illeck, local CD chief.

Altogether, there are 37 attending.

A veteran of many first aid jobs while on duty, Trooper Stoddard really knows his subject, states Mr. Illeck.

Another class begins Monday at 9 a.m., mainly for Tecumseh Products employees who work on the owl shift.

All sessions are two hours long and the entire course is ten hours.

This qualifies graduates for a Red Cross first aid identification certificate.

After the preliminary course has been completed there will be an advanced course for the members of C D.

This will entail an additional 16 hours and is part of the requirements for Civil Defense.

Three-Year-Old Hurt in Wreck

William Clark, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clark of rural Adrian, was treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital in Tecumseh for cuts on his nose and hand.

He received them in an accident Sunday at 11:45 a.m., a mile south of Tecumseh on Occidental Hwy.

He was a passenger in a car driven by his brother, Lawrence, 16.

Two other passengers in the car were uninjured.

Sharon Gallent Marries David Merillat

Sharon L. Gallant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Gallant, Jr. of 214 Pine St., and David R. Merillat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Merillat of 504 Orchard Lane, were united in marriage Feb. 20 at the St. Elizabeth's Church.

The Rev. Fr. J. A. Herlihy, visiting priest, performed the ceremony before 150 guests. Wallace Whiting sang "Ave Marie" accompanied by Mrs. Don Johnson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of chantilly lace with a waltz length scalloped skirt featuring an apron effect.

A flowered tiara held her finger tip veil with scalloped edges in place and she wore pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations, centered with red rosettes and edged with white tulle.

Karen Golat was maid-of-honor, wearing a gown of red velvet, fashioned with rounded neckline, cap sleeves and full skirt.

She wore a red velvet hat and carried Frenched carnations edged with red tulle.

MRS. DAVID MERILLAT

Brenda Gallant was her sister's brides maid, wearing a gown similar to the maid-of-honor with matching hat and flowers of the same design.

The attendants gowns were made by Mrs. Theodore Golat.

Douglas LeFevre served as best man and the guests were seated by Jim Merillat and Dick Covell.

Krystar Merillat and Mary Beth Gallant were flower girls, dressed in white organdy. Their dresses were made by Mrs. James Merillat.

Tommy John Gallant carried the rings for his sister's wedding.

About 300 attended the reception held at the VFW Hall when Doris Mukenstrun and Emma Howard presided at the tea and coffee services.

The young couple are both graduates of Tecumseh High School and the groom completed two years service with the Marine Corps in April of 1959.

What has annoyed me about "Ripper" advertising is the line which goes something like this: "Here is a crime that Scotland Yard has never been able to solve."

Who said there isn't a perfect crime?

Here's the movie to prove it. Hogwash! Let's get some good taste in the approach to film making and exploiting.

SANDING DOWN NEW GLORIA DEI CHURCH PEWS ARE STAN RENTSCHLER, EDWIN BUNGE AND ED SSOLARSKI

Another major improvement is being made at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in Tecumseh.

Founded a little over two years ago, the congregation has been working hard ever since.

The latest addition: pews, complete with soft, maroon covered cushions.

When initially organized, Gloria Dei services were held in Tecumseh High School.

From the start, the congregation had its collective heart set on a church of its own.

In 1958 when the Tecumseh school district disposed of several small elementary buildings, which were no longer needed, the folks of Gloria Dei purchased the Brownville structure, located at Evans and Brown Sts.

They later acquired the home next door for a youth house.

The church needed plenty of work and the men and women in the congregation were most willing to pitch in.

The interior was completely remodeled and lighted. Clark Crumrine of Killary Lake, who is in his seventies, did much of the carpentry work for the chancel as his donation.

A large entry way was added to the front of the building the past summer.

But pews seemed out of reach until several members spied a newspaper classified ad, which said the Britton Congregational Church had some used ones for sale.

They were purchased and during the last few weeks members have been busy installing, sanding and refinishing the pews. While the men did this, the ladies custom-made the cushions.

When the congregation joins together this Sunday for service, it will be in the shining "new" pews.

Come As You Are -- And They Did

About 32 members and friends of the BYF of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a "come as you are" party Sunday evening at the Youth House.

Several members with cars went to various homes inviting guests to "come" and then took them back to the Youth House.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beland prepared and served lunch, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Buehrer, the advisors.

Ralph Comfort presented pictures of the Friends Foreign Missions work in India.

The group is working on its main project for the year—the Italian Street Fair, which will be held March 12.

Stories Told of Civil War Selections

Mrs. Clarence Damon presented a musical program of Union and Confederate songs for the Abi-Evans Chapter of the DAR for Lincoln's birthday Feb. 12.

She used two recordings to illustrate the topic and distributed mimeographed copies of the history and composers of the songs, as well as how each was used.

It was pointed out that songs of that era were playful as well as serious.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Keyser with Edith Ingersol as program leader.

Jellied fruit salad and Saltines were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. F. C. Dickinson, Mrs. James Artman, Mrs. Leon Rosacrans and Mrs. Joseph H. Smith.

Saturday evening, nine members accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Buehrer and the Rev. Blair Bashore were in Monroe to attend the association's George Washington banquet.

The speaker was the pastor of the Federated Church at Grass Lake who told of the horse ranch belonging to the Firestone family, which has recently been deeded to the Michigan Baptist Convention for use as a summer camp.

The ranch of 33 acres is located in the Waterloo area near Grass Lake. There are three homes and a large barn on the ranch suitable for camp facilities.

Decorations? Naturally – Red, White and Blue

Carol Kilbourn entertained 30 members of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls at a Washington birthday party Monday evening at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Shimmins.

The evening was spent in games and dancing.

The decorations were in keeping with the day — red, white and blue.

MR. AND MRS. COLLINS

Business Women Donating Ten Litter Cans

Mrs. Duane Service reported on the litter-can project for the Civic Achievement Group at its meeting Monday evening in city hall.

She said that the Business and Professional Women's Club have added 10 trash cans to the number for the downtown area and have four covers, but they are asking for assistance from other groups in purchasing more lids.

Each cover costs $14.68. Six more are needed.

It is hoped that the new litter cans may be placed in time for Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week.

The group expressed appreciation for the school's cooperation in the litter campaign, by stressing that students pick up and drop paper in containers.

When new ideas were considered, the suggestion of a hostess committee to welcome newcomers was discussed.

Dale Tuckey reported for the Teen Club and expressed appreciation for the assistance given to the club by the VFW.

Don Morely reported for the rest room committee, saying that though many places have been considered, no definite plans have been made. The committee will investigate the situation further.

Mrs. Neal Brazee volunteered to assist the committee to investigate more suitable movies for children matinees on Saturdays and Sundays.

About 20 were present, including Ed Nelson, Carl Zorn and Don Murphy, who were able to give first-hand information on many projects.

The next meeting will be held March 28.

Macon Couple Celebrating Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Collins of Macon will observe their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, Feb. 28, with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Macon Methodist Church.

Russell Collins of Macon and Frances Wilson of Tecumseh were married March 2, 1935 by the Rev. Thomas Davies in the Methodist parsonage in Angola, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins have five sons, Russell Jr. of Baltimore Md., Jack of Sacramento, Cal., Gordon Dean of Cleveland, O. Timothy and James at home. They also have four grandsons.

They have lived all their married life in Macon.

Neighbors, friends and relatives are invited to call at the church on Sunday.

Program Planned

A planned program for the coming year was read and approved at the meeting of the Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Fred Ward reported that the Girl Pioneers will attend the Achievement Day activities in Monroe Feb. 28 and that the Michigan district meeting of the group will be held in Tecumseh on April 3.

Mrs. James Nichols volunteered as the new member of the council for the Pioneers.

Mrs. Al Schwede reported on the sauerkraut supper Feb. 18.

The Northwestern choir will be stopping over at Grace Lutheran church on Good Friday. Mrs. Harry Hans and Mrs. James Nichols are chairman for this event.

☆

THE PASTORS Conference will be held in Tecumseh April 25 and 26 with the Ladies Aid serving the meals.

A recipe book is being compiled by the ladies and each one is asked to give her favorite recipe to Mrs. Arthur Macham or Mrs. Richard Whelan.

The members are sending a box of clothing to the mission in Japan, each is asked to contribute both clothing and old religious Christmas cards.

Mrs. Rhae Henkel and Mrs. Wynne Matteson were appointed on the sunshine committee. Members may assist by bringing small items for the sunshine box to the next meeting.

The Rev. Curt Koeplin gave a short quiz on the Bible, following the business session.

The meeting was adjourned with the Lords Prayer and refreshments were served by Mrs. Koeplin, Mrs. Schwede, Mrs. Leon Covell and Mrs. Hazel Coller.

Day Camp Discussed

When the Tecumseh Exchange Club met last Monday night at the Methodist Church a capacity attendance was present to hear Arnett Cole, YMCA executive secretary of Adrian.

He told of YMCA work in general and day camping in particular.

The latter part of his talk was illustrated with slides of summer day camp activities.

Secretary Earl Greene, presiding for president William Powell, announced plans for Ladies' Night on Feb. 29 at 6:30.

"Leap day is a pretty appropriate date for this event," he opined.

During the meeting, guests Barnard Fero and Ivan Maynard were introduced. Carl Barnes was welcomed back into the club.

Tecumseh Man Facing Charge of Manslaughter

Cecil James Rhoden, 23, of 311½ Cummins St. was arraigned Wednesday morning in Jackson on a charge of manslaughter in connection with a hit-and-run auto fatality Sunday.

The mishap happened on M-50, six miles southeast of Jackson.

His companion Lewis Partee, 35, also of Tecumseh, was cleared in Lansing as the result of a lie detector test.

Killed in the accident was Harold E. Moore, 22, of Napoleon, a passenger in a car driven by Virgil Kurtz, 18, of Michigan Center.

Nursery Class Attends Session

The kitchen of Mrs. Leslie Bennett's home was a busy place last Thursday morning.

Pre-schoolers of her nursery class mixed flour, eggs, sugar and all the rest of the ingredients needed to make cookies.

More fun was added by cutting out all kinds of cookie shapes — animals, gingerbread boys, even Christmas trees.

Not only did they "learn by doing", but it was a good experience in learning to take turns in a cooperative effort in making something for all.

Other "first-hand" experiences planned for this spring are a trip to a dairy farm, planting a garden and a small-sized concert on a pipe organ by a never-the-less, accomplished organist.

The present group of three and four-year-olds meet twice a week for group experience.

If any parents are interested in sending their child for one morning a week, contact Mrs. Bennett at 7052 R.

+ 'Bing' Crosby Speaking Sunday to Methodists

Not a special solo, but a special speaker will be featured at the Methodist Church Sunday.

The Rev. Robert P. Crosby, director of camping and summer institutes of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church will preach the sermon.

"Bob is known throughout the United States for progressive leadership in the development of small-group church camping," said the Rev. James D. Nixon, pastor. "And he is better known as 'Bing' than by his own name," he added.

Mr. Crosby will have a chance to meet many people personally during the day. After preaching in the service at 10 a.m., he will meet with the high school class at 11:15 a.m.

"Don Murphy is the teacher of that class and plans a question period on camping at the close of the hour."

The children of grades four through nine will gather with their parents and teachers for a pot-luck dinner at 1 o'clock with Mr. Crosby. He will show pictures of 60 different camps and institutes which he will direct this summer at eight different camp sites in Michigan.

Last Sunday the Junior Choir sang during the service. The sermon about the Fourth Commandment was addressed to the young people.

For the adults, in two sessions, Confirmation instructions were started by Pastor Laszo Gero.

It will be continuing for eight weeks on Thursday evening at 7 p.m. or on Sunday morning at 9:15 a.m. in the parish house.

"Everyone, who is interested in the Lutheran faith, is cordially invited and welcomed," states Dr. Gero.

+ Thank Offering

The United Lutheran Church Women of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church will meet at the Parish House Monday evening at 8 p.m. The women are to bring their thank offering at this meeting.

+ Sectional Rally Is Held

The Rev. D. L. MacPherson and family represented the Tecumseh Assemblies of God at a Sectional Rally held in Saline last Monday evening.

A potluck supper was served in the basement of the new parsonage, with the Rev. George Moore and Mrs. Moore as hosts.

The worship service was held following the supper with the Rev. Carl Graves of Lansing bringing the message on Home Missions.

+ Baptists Hold Lent Discussions

In accordance with the general program of the American Baptist Convention, the local Church will hold discussion meetings during the Sunday evenings of Lent at 7:30.

Questions such as: "What distinguishes — or should distinguish the Church from other institutions in the Community?"

"What is the Church supposed to be doing"?

"What, if anything, has it to offer to today's troubled world?"

A text will be used — "Members One of Another" by Robert T. Handy.

Regular services are each Sunday; Church School at 10 a.m. Morning Worship and Junior Church and Nursery are at 11 a.m.

+ 'Saints, Sinners' Is Sermon Theme

The sermon title for Sunday is "Saints and Sinners" at the Presbyterian Church. The scripture is taken from Luke and deals with the various attitudes that people have towards other people in comparison with the attitude which God has towards us.

The theme of the sermon is the grace of God and how God changes us from sinner to saint.

The Rev. Julian and Mrs. Gresham met with the following Fellowship groups this past week:

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Osburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Gilbert.

The schedule for the coming week will be:

Feb. 25—Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hodges.

Feb. 29—Mr. and Mrs. William Frownfelder.

March 3—Mr. and Mrs. Herb Maynard.

Next Tuesday evening at 6:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Center, there will be a family night for all members and friends.

This supper is being sponsored by the Deacons in conjunction with the "One Great Hour of Sharing" program.

Plans call for the Deacons to provide the meat dish, rolls and beverage. Individuals are asked to bring vegetables and/or dessert dishes, and their own table setting.

The speaker for the evening will be Jack Lama from Bethlehem, Jordan.

Mr. Lama has worked with the refugee program in his native country and will give a first-hand account of how "One Great Hour of Sharing" contributions are used to help the peoples in that area.

A Communicants class for young people will begin Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. at the minister's office in the church.

The classes will last for approximately eight weeks and the time of the classes will be set at the first meeting for the convenience of those participating.

+ His Mission

Christ Jesus' inspiring mission of healing and redemption will be the central topic at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

With Tecumseh Teens

A happy crowd celebrated Tecumseh's victory over Milan at the Teen Club Friday night.

There was also a good turnout for the dance Saturday night.

Congratulations are in order to the Tecumseh adults and students who supported the team so well at Milan.

One of the cheerleaders especially commended their rendering of the school song without accompaniment.

This sounds more like the old Tecumseh school spirit.

Let's keep up the good work at the Grosse Ile game here Friday night. It's an important one we need a victory to get the championship.

There will be a dance after the game sponsored by the G-AA and chaperoned by Miss Bierly and Mr. Babcock.

Old Pictures of Tecumseh Are Shown

Bertha LaPointe, last week's program leader for the Monday Club, presented Jim Beardsley, who spoke and showed pictures of Tecumseh, dating from 1867.

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron presided and gave a short report on the county board meeting held recently in Adrian.

Mrs. John Hamilton told of the need for books to be sent to Kenya, Africa for a library there and asked for contributions from the members.

Mrs. Waldron and Mrs. Hamilton played a two piano duet, "March from Tannhauser."

Mrs. C. W. Allen and committee served tea from a table, decorated with white hyacinths with Mrs. Earl Wickwire and Mrs. Arch Wray presiding.

The next meeting Feb. 29 will be held at the Aebersold Hostess House with Mrs. Ralph Westgate as leader.

Jackson Group Stages 'Sunrise'

"Sunrise at Campobello," the poignant, inspiring dramatization of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's determined battle with the crippling effects of polio, is being presented February 26 and 27 at the West Intermediate Auditorium in Jackson, by the Jackson Community Theater.

Curtain time is 815 pm.

Tickets are $1.50, 75c for students.

Ladies Honor Miss Beamish on Birthday

Seventeen ladies of the Bible Class taught by Edith Ingersol were entertained Friday at the Ingersol home honoring the 92 birthday of Elizabeth Beamish.

Refreshments featured a decorated birthday cake made by Rose Service.

Mrs. Lynn Harris presided at the lace-covered table.

Indian Hoopsters Can Share Huron League Title By Stopping GI

By JIM LINCOLN

Only a weak Grosse Ile five stands between Tecumseh and a share of the Huron League championship after the Indians trimmed Milan last Friday night, 53-48.

Tecumseh 10-3 in the loop, could take top honors if Blissfield and Airport were bounced in their remaining games. The Indians wind up the regular season here with Grosse Ile Friday night.

Although Tecumseh whipped Milan by only five points, the Indians had little trouble turning in their second victory over their neighbors this season.

Most of the second half saw Tecumseh holding a 10 to 14-point lead.

Jon Aho and Jack Sisson topped the local scorers with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Jim Poley, the league's leading point maker, hit for nine points as did Jim Curth.

The THS reserves also won, 63-55.

District Tournament Begins on Tuesday

Tecumseh High School will again host District No. 10 Basketball Tournament here next week with Class B and C games scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday nights and the championship finals Friday evening.

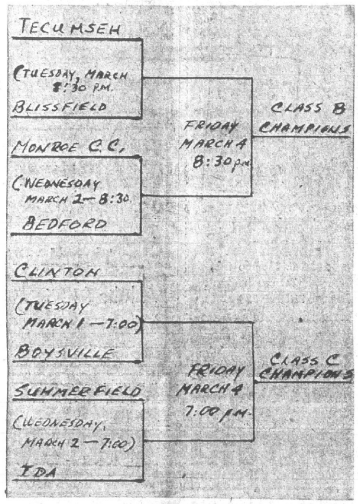
Clinton will be an underdog in the tourney opener Tuesday against Boysville, and the Tecumseh-Blissfield clash is a tossup.

Wednesday night, highly touted Ida meets Summerfield in the first game and Monroe Catholic Central plays Bedford in the second tilt.

Class C teams will open play each night at 7 p.m. and the B clubs at 8:30.

Admission prices for adults is 75c and students 50c. The tickets will be sold at the southeast entrance.

Doors will open each night at 6:30.



Feminine Basketball Squads Continue Undefeated Ways

Continuing their winning streak, the Tecumseh GAA girls varsity basketball team defeated Dundee, 32-13, Monday.

Tecumseh Jaycees also won, 47-9.

In the JV game, Jackie Barth was again high scorer with 20 points, followed by Sherry Packard's 10 and Brenda Whelan's seven.

The guards, Shelia O'Neil, Zaiga Roberts and Lois Handy, showed their usual fine defensive work.

Following a slow start by the varsity, in which THS girls were held to six points in the first quarter, the slack was taken up and they came back strong.

Mary Colgrove was high scorer with 11 points, followed by Mary Roberts with 10, Sylvia Knight with seven, Peg Robinette with two, and Diane Fuller with two.

Nancy Smith and Rudy Roberts did not score, but they assisted on many shots.

The guards Sandy Howard, Camilla Grigg and Jean Packard along, with three newcomers, Joy Bays, Linda McMichael and Ruth Frost, contributed their usual great defense as Dundee was unable to crack their zone for one whole quarter.

After the game, cake and milk was served in the cafeteria to the members of both teams.

Scouts Skate

About 184 Scouts and Brownies attended a skating party Saturday at the Skate Arena accompanied by 20 leaders, assistant leaders and mothers. Games were played and prizes awarded. Balloons were distributed as favors.

Junior High Tournament Has Started

Dundee's seventh and eighth grade squads played genial hosts to Tecumseh teams last week, but insisted in whining both games.

Dundee's eighth graders scored a 32-23 victory and the seventh unit finished ahead, 27-21.

Jim Baker's eight points were tops for local eighth graders and Gregg Allen popped in nine for the seventh.

Attention now swings to the Tecumseh Invitational Junior High tournament, which opened Wednesday afternoon.

Second round will be Thursday at 7 p.m. with the finals slated for Saturday, starting at 7.

Admission is 50c for adults and 25c for students.

FUNNY WINTER—This has been sort of an unusual one, cold and snow a couple of days, then warm and sunny. Remember last year when it dropped to near zero about October and stayed that way until March? The poor old family buggy started about one out of three mornings. But that's history. Currently we have a fairly mild time of it, although there have been a few days like the one shown above—but not many. Now watch for a blizzard this weekend.

Home Room Mothers Hold Fun Carnival

RIDGEWAY — Homeroom Mothers of Ridgeway and Macon schools have planned a Fun Carnival at the Ridgeway school on March 5 from 5 to 10 p.m.

Each room is to be in charge of a booth.

The morning kindergarten will have the sale of comic books and white elephants while the afternoon class will have charge of the cake walk.

Macon first grade will operate the fish pond and Ridgeway first grade will have ring toss and other games.

Popcorn, candy and weight guessing will be the project of the Macon second grade and cartoons and other movies will be shown by the Ridgeway second grade.

A sock hop will be conducted in the gym and the PTA board will take charge of the refreshments.

A 10c donation will admit patrons to the building and enable them to have a chance at the many door prizes.

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . . ."
—Tom McCahill, Mechanix Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the headroom was greater in the Corvair than in some standard size cars. . . ."
—L. H. Houck, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a car! full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

"There is none of the typical "whine normally associated with rear-engined vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny."
—John R. Bond, Road & Track

"No written word can suffice for the genuine pleasure that you will receive behind the wheel of America's newest and most advanced contribution to transportation. . . . It is a great car."
—Don Stewart, Motor Life

SQUIRRELY BUSINESS

We get so mad at the fox squirrels—why must they be so stupid. Like great big over-grown oafs, they are all the time knuckling under to the tiny red squirrels. It is absolutely ridiculous.

Althou much bigger, they do absolutely nothing by way of standing up for their own rights.

If once, just once, one would stand his ground—but no, day after day we watch the degrading sight of a big fox squirrel running from one of the little reds.

When we see a big squirrel suddenly stop what he is doing—whether it be eating in the corntree, playing on the post and rail fence or just scampering thru the trees enjoying a nice day—when ever his normal activities stop and he starts to frantically run away from something, it is almost a sure thing that the something is a little red squirrel.

Likewise, when a red squirrel freezes, his body becoming tense and his funny, bottle-brush-type tail sticking straight up, almost certainly he has spotted a fox squirrel.

Of course, the state of suspended animation doesn't last long because, in far less time than it takes to tell, Little Red flashes into action and the chase is on.

And what a chase it is.

☆

UP AND DOWN, around and around and back and forth they go. The poor old fox squirrels always run as if for their lives and their tormentors have a field day.

It is a sad spectacle. If just once but no, the big squirrels keep running away and the Little Reds get more and more obnoxious.

Although we are often disguested with the cocky little tyrants it must be admitted that, at times, they are cute. Just lately they have found the corntree.

For them there is no slipping and sliding and twisting, they decide from which ear of corn they are going to eat and then proceed to sit on it.

They are so small that sitting on the bottom ear and eating from the top or even balancing on the top and reaching down for the kernels of corn is no trick at all.

Strange, but as faar as we know, neither Little Red has discovered what great delicacies are sunflower seeds. The big squirrels love them and will, much to our consternation because after all the seeds are intended for the birds, sit on the feeder and completely strip a sunflower head.

☆

WE ARE wondering how long it will take the red squirrels to catch on.

Of course, they aren't especially fond of the big feeder, it is apparently a little too open and too close to the house for their sense of safety.

They visit it occasionally, however, and the other day one was most funny. Several times he tried to come up but always, just as he got to the top his courage failed.

A little ear, the tip of a tiny nose and an incredibly bright eye daintly outlined with white —this was all the Little Red that we saw. He peeked over the sunflower, but just could not force himself to come on farther.

☆

AND SPEAKING of our furry friends' appetites, the big squirrels have posed quite a question.

The love apples. Shiny red ones, cut in half and placed on the feeder, they gobble up, and we watch them in Doctor's yard enjoying the yellowish-green ones, which fall from his tree.

The difficulty arises when we put those apples on our feeder—the squirrels will have absolutely nothing to do with them, yellow apples on our feeder are completely ignored.

Why? Why do they insist upon red apples from us but appear happy and satisfied with the green ones when across the street?

Emergencies For Acid Stains

By ROYAL WELCH

There is one acid which is more frequently encountered in everyday activities than is generally realized.

That is sulfuric acid. The same acid that you find in automobile batteries. It is often brushed against. Working on the car, in the garage, sometimes in the garden or at home, your clothing is often exposed to it. Cuticle remover and corn remover are sometimes a source of this acid in some commercial preparations, etc., etc.

Remember, nearly everything is either acid or alkaline. Acids will either harm a fabric or the dye in it, or both.

When a garment is stained with an acid fluid, particularly one of the stronger acids, RINSE OUT IMMEDIATELY IN CLEAR WATER TO WHICH YOU'VE ADDED A LITTLE BAKING SODA. This will neutralize the acid and prevent any further action on its part. Then rinse out or sponge out with clear water.

This procedure is advised for all types of garments, wet washable and drycleanable alike. Better to risk a slight spot than a hole!

Next, bring the garment in to be cleaned as soon as possible after staining. TELL US ABOUT THE STAIN.

That way we can take what remaining action might still be required and probably prevent any further damage.

If the garment can be saved, we'll do so. Meantime, the above suggestion can serve you as an emergency measure. The sooner you neutralize the acid, the less risk you run of permanent damage.

To be certain of good cleaning, be sure to BRING IT TO Welch Cleaners, 1105 Maumee St.

HOW MUCH PROFIT DO YOU THINK a pharmacy earns on each sale? Very few people realize how reasonable drug store service really is.

AUTHENTIC STATISTICS REVEAL

1. The actual wholesale cost to the pharmacy, of everything you get from us, averages 65.4c of every dollar you spend. This leaves 34.6c for all expenses and profits.
2. Salaries or wages in the average pharmacy are 19.2 cents per dollar of sales. This leaves 15.4c.
3. Other expenses like rent, heat, insurance, telephone, advertising, repairs, license fees, electricity, deliveries and state taxes amount to 11.4c of every sales dollar.

THIS LEAVES 3.7c NET PROFIT.

Which means that, if the average pharmacy were to reduce all prices only 4c on each dollar, it would lose money.

ARE WE COMPLAINING?

Of course not. We try to achieve this national average to be competitive and depend on increasing volume for satisfactory total profit.

If something is sold below its cost plus overhead expense, then other articles must be excessively priced. Personally we prefer to make a fair profit on each sale, instead of raising prices on unfamiliar items.

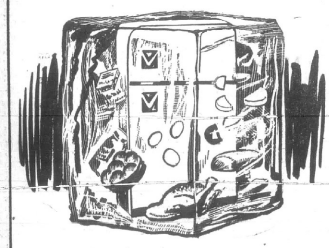
Natural GAS
YOUR SILENT SERVANT



Mother Nature Helps Get Frost From Flame

The process of using natural gas to chill a refrigerator turned out to be a matter of applying some of Mother Nature's laws.

Chemicals are heated over a tiny gas flame until they become a vapor. The vapor condenses as it absorbs the heat and causes quick cold. The liquid refrigerant is drawn back to the flame by gravity and the cycle begins again.

Nearly three million families today enjoy the smooth, silent, automatic operation of gas refrigerators. Since gas refrigerators use less fuel and have no moving parts to wear out they spell real economy.

Only GAS does so much, so well ... the modern fuel for automatic cooking . . . refrigeration . . . water-heating . . . house-heating . . . air conditioning . . . clothes-drying . . . incineration.

BUT I THOUGHT HE WAS GOING TO STOP—Each week there are half a dozen minor accidents around city streets. Involved are every type of driver, young and old. Each one considers himself capable while behind the wheel, yet the accidents prove at least half of them wrong. Usual results are crumpled fenders, smashed bumpers and sometimes merely dented egos. But these auto mishaps could be much more serious. This means that everyone who drives a car should be constantly on the alert for an accident situation. We should never find ourselves in the situations depicted here, telling an officer, "But I thought he was going to stop." The scene above, pictured by Kim Dabe, showed the scene minutes after a recent crackup. Below's shot, in which one of the three cars that collided last week at Logan and Evans Sts. being hauled away, was made by Ronald Dixon.

Ads Are Dishonest, Guest Tells Laymen

About 109 attended the Lay men's Dinner at the First Baptist Church when Dr. Donald Katz was the guest speaker.

Dr. Katz spoke on "Degrees of Integrity" illustrating his topic with many stories.

He said, "Some people say that the greatness of the United States is due to the utilization of its natural resources, but I say that its greatness is due to its Christian heritage given to it by our forefathers.

"Basic honesty is one of the facets of this heritage.

"Today we seem to have lost sight of this important quality evidenced by your advertising field, where great claims are made for the products of our factories and manufacturing concerns.

"According to the engineers that have designed the products, advertising claims) are grossly overstated and not true."

Aspirin Too, Was A Wonder Drug . . . !

Not so long ago, if you had a headache, you simply sufefred. Most drugs for relief of pain also had some harmful side effects. In some cases, the cure was worse than the pain.

Then the discovery and acceptance of aspirin really brought a new era to medicine, a new day in carefree and pleasant living. Commonplace now, it stands as one of the first of the "wonder drugs."

Dairymen Are Warned of Dangers

By JIM WALLINGTON
Special to The Herald

EAST LANSING — Even though Michigan's dairy industry is sound, there is still room for improvement, a Farm Bureau official told a Farmers Week audience here last week.

Ward Cooper of the Farm Bureau joined two other speakers in discussing "State Milk Control."

The others were Glenn Lake, president of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, and John Sander of the Minnesota attorney general's office.

Steady prices, balance of supply and demand and considerable competition contribute to the soundness of the state dairy picture, Cooper said.

He proposed four improvements that are needed for the milk industry to capitalize on an expected population boom.

☆

THEY ARE:

1. Further strengthening of bargaining powers. Dairymen should unite into a tri-state organization, Cooper said.

2. Looking beyond present boundaries. Michigan dairymen cannot afford not to look at problems and advantages of surrounding dairy states, he warned.

3. Elimination of unfair trade practices. The small farmer should be allowed to survive, Cooper said. Selling below costs hurts the small farmer and the dairy industry.

4. More cooperation between bargaining groups. Distributor, farm co-operatives and independent national firms could form a sound and an aggressive bargaining organization which would tend to set standards for the industry, he said.

Cooper warned of too much legislation which could force an economic strait jacket on the industry. He opposes price fixing and production controls.

☆

LAKE, WHO is president of the Great Lakes bargaining federation, also, justified price wars from the businessman's stand point.

It is natural to counter with lower prices when a competitor drops his, he said.

"But this breeds and feeds on itself," Lake said, "creating a viscious circle of price drops."

Dairymen, producers and consumers do not profit from a lowering price spiral, he said. It is the retailers who profit.

They gain by attracting a volume of business and marking up prices of other commodities to compensate for the dairy product profit loss.

"Price wars and unfair practices undermine negotiations for better prices from the dairies," the MMPA head said.

He advocated legislation that would help stabilize prices.

☆

SANDER, WHO keeps tab on unfair dairy practices in Minnesota, warned that dairy laws are far from perfect.

He said Michigan can gain in formulating milk laws by seeing Minnesota's mistakes.

"Dairy legislation can be successful, though," he said, "if it is coordinated with the Federal government."

VOICE of THE HERALD

We'd Like To Disagree

We violently disagree with some statements made by the guest speaker at the recent Layman's Dinner, held by seven local churches.

Dr. Donald Katz was talking about basic honesty and bemoaning the fact that "we seem to have lost sight of this important quality."

There is much truth to this statement — many of us will try to get away with everything we can (a la Jack Parr, as was brought out in this space last week, in the field of entertainment).

But is lack of honesty a trait in a majority of the nation's citizens? We think not, in fact we'd guess only about 15% or 20% of the population qualifies for the dubious catagory of "dishonest."

Another remark Dr. Katz made was an almost blanket inditement against the advertising business "where great claims are made for the products . . . grossly overstated and not true."

We know, we've heard about LIFE cigaretts and shaving sandpaper with a certain lather.

Folks who presented the distorted claims about these products were wrong . . . as were the people who staged rigged television quiz shows.

But what about the hundreds of thousands of other beautifully and honestly-presented advertisements which appear in our newspapers—both daily and weekly in — magazines and on TV?

We would say 98% of the ad dollars spent go toward this type of presentation.

The sensational, the untrue and offbeat, the dishonest advertisements eventually are doused with the glare of adverse publicity—as they should be.

Do you think our large publications would hurl attention and criticism only at certain advertising which is "grossly overstated and untrue?"

No paper or magazine could, because eventualy one would trip up the other. The fact is that all report all of the bad things about advertising—and that's probably no more than a small portion of 1% of all advertising products in these United States.

If our estimation is incorrect, we'd like to hear from anyone who feels they have one more accurate.

There's Little That We Could Add

Efforts to point the spotlight on the current Brotherhood Week are well organized. You've probably seen in daily papers the stories, editorials and cartoons reminding us that we must live together as brothers.

There's little which we could add to those powerful words and illustrations, except to go back to requote Christ when he told his Apostles what the second greatest commandment was:

"Love thy neighbor as thyself."

BUY THAT DREAM . . . WITH A LOW-COST LOAN

Dreaming about a modern kitchen, an extra bathroom or any other home improvement? You can make that dream come true NOW. All the money you'll need, you can get promptly on a low-cost loan from us. Terms will be arranged so that you can readily repay the loan out of income. Or, if you have an adequate equity in your home, we can re-finance your present mortgage to provide the needed funds.

Trip to California

An excited, happy young man will begin plans for a trip to Bakersfield, Calif. sometime Saturday evening about 8:15.

That's when the name of Michigan's Young Farmers of the Year will be announced at a banquet in Tecumseh High School.

It's being staged by local Jaycees, who expect the 18 finalists and about 300 others from all over the state to be on hand.

The winner gets an all-expense-paid junket to Bakersfield, where he'll compete for the national title.

The general public is invited to the banquet, which will start at 6:30 with a roast beef dinner, being prepared and served by the Tecumseh Grange.

Following the meal, the state's young farmer of 1960 will be announced by A. Fred Warner, Michigan Jaycee president from Sandusky.

Merritt D. Hill, a vice-president of Ford Motor Company, will be the speaker of the evening.

As general manager of the Tractor and Implement Division, he returned to the field he had known as a 12-year-old boy in Clarkston, Mich., where he had helped his father, who was a farm implement dealer.

Mr. Hill has been active in sales, management and merchandising field for 30 years.

He is now director-at-large of National Sales Executive Inc. and serves as chairman of its Farm Youth Sub-committee.

He and Mrs. Hill live in Birmingham. They have two married sons, Charles and Richard.

MERRITT D. HILL

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Your attention is called this week to a letter, which appears on the editorial page.

Written by two Tecumseh ministers, it takes The Herald to task for our story and an editorial about the recent Layman's Dinner.

It's human nature not to want to be criticized and I'm no exception. Since I wrote the editorial that disagreed with statements made by the speaker at the event, I have to accept the lumps.

It is pointed out that The Herald gave a vastly wrong impression. The story headline, "Ads Are Dishonest, Guest Tells Layman", was off base.

In retrospect I can see that the treatment which was given this particular event was unfortunate and I'm sorry.

At the same time, this brings into focus another, and to me, a most heartening aspect.

The Herald is the community's newspaper — literally as well as figuratively.

This means that when people take exception to what we write, as did the two clergymen, they have a perfect right to present their opinions unedited by us.

And we, as your publishers, are more than happy to print them — even when a blow is struck at our pride.

Temporarily, our feelings are wounded, but this is quickly erased by the realization that by keeping the columns of our paper open to all, we are better serving our readers.

I have always felt that the editorial section of a newspaper, whether it be a small weekly or a large metropolitan daily, is the very heart of the publication.

A paper without editorials is scarcely breathing.

Readers know that an editorial is the opinion of the management and likely will be one-sided.

By taking a particular angle, editorial writers must always expect that some readers, who view the situation differently, will either be convinced to change their opinion or be stimulated to voice opposition.

These counter viewpoints should be put into print.

That will make the community newspaper a real paper of the community.

☆

Royal Welch brought a genuine, Nazi swastika armband into the office Monday, saying as he dropped it on the desk,

"Wear this when you hang up your flag."

(If you didn't catch last week's column, you have no idea what I'm talking about. Stop down, we'll give you a copy.)

☆

The other day I was in Ridgeway School and popped my head into the gymnasium in search of some ladies who were to pose for pictures.

The gals weren't there (having been stuck in a snowbank) so I chatted with physical education teacher Mrs. James Keller as her sixth grade girls were playing an unusual game.

At each end of the gym, a row of wooden dumbells was lined up, about 10 feet apart.

The youngsters were divided into two teams, each restricted to half of the floor. Four rubber balls were in play and these were being thrown towards the sticks at the opposite ends.

There was a real flurry of activity as the young ladies did their best to block their opponents throws, catching and bouncing the ball, then aiming return tosses — sort of a combination hockey and basketball.

Mrs. Keller pointed out that this is a game which helps introduce her charges to girls basketball. Each player was allowed two dribbles (as in the feminine hoop game) before letting fly.

We'll haave to keep an eye on these progress of these girls.

☆

Steve Hunt, a sixth grader at Patterson School, was quite concerned about the recent intermural basketball tournament being staged there.

He'd seen some commercials about an all-powerful vitamin advertised on TV and just knew it would give him that needed extra strength to play whirlwind ball.

He persuaded his mother, Mrs. Kenton Hunt, to get him some and she almost did — until she found they cost $7.50 a bottle.

She told son Steve it might be best if he started his vitamin-munching career with a smaller variety, which she just happened to have on hand.

Steve agreed.

A few days later, his team went into action and scored a victory. Steve was overjoyed and has been on a vitamin kick ever since.

Score one for Mom.

☆

Here's a new twist — buying a car by telephone, sight unseen.

It happened twice Thursday to Harvey Wilson, the first day of his used car Sell-A-Rama.

Two parties called, said they saw his full-page ad in The Herald and wanted specific cars. They were afraid these models would be gone before they could get out.

Shortly afterwards, the buyers arrived and paid cash.

Nice dealing, eh?

☆

Weather forcasting is not our forte, although last week we seemed unknowingly to have done a perfect job.

In getting together the first eight-page run on Tuesday there was room for a four-column picture.

Digging into a group of engravings we had made several weeks ago, one of snow-bound W. Chicago Blvd. caught my eye.

It was promptly snatched up by the back shop. Then came the task of preparing a caption.

So I tapped out a short opus as to the fact this had been a mild winter, nothing at all like last year . . . lots of sunny days, seldom snow, falls like the one pictured.

As a more-or-less afterthought, I added, "Now watch for a blizzard this weekend."

☆

If you're looking for a fine family-type movie, see "Dog of Flanders," which opens this Sunday at the Strand Theatre.

Filmed in Holland, it features the dog which starred in "Old Yeller".

Thinking Day Attracts 70

About 60 Intermediate Girl Scouts and 10 leaders attended the Thinking Day service at the Presbyterian Church Fellowship Center Tuesday.

Ann Cameron and Peggy Porter of Clinton showed a film of the Girl Scout Round-Up, which they attended in Colorado last summer.

Pennies for the World Friendship Fund were placed in the miniature chalet.

Ronald E. Kinsman, one-time General Telephone Co. office manager here, has been named assistant Eastern Division manager of the firm.

His office will be in Adrian and he replaces I. L. Fry, who retires in June.

Mr. Kinsman began his career with the Company in 1949 as a lineman in Muskegon.

In April, 1951 his title was changed to installer-repairman and the following month he was transferred to Three Rivers as a combination man.

He became a testman there in May, 1952, and then went to Sturgis in July, 1953, occupying the same position.

In December of that year, he was transferred to Tecumseh and appointed district plant supervisor serving in this capacity until August, 1954, when he became the Tecumseh district manager.

Kinsman remained in Tecumseh until October, 1955 before transferring to Muskegon.

He has been in Muskegon since, occupying positions as wire chief, general plant construction supervisor, general installation and maintenance supervisor and general plant supervisor.

Until he assumes his assistant division manager's post on May 1, Mr. Kinsman will divide his work between Muskegon and Adrian.

Formerly associated with the D&C store for five years, Mr. Kilbourn opened his business March 6, 1959.

Off-Street Parking Plan Given OK by Merchants

Local Chamber of Commerce businessmen have approved a plan to construct and finish three downtown off-street parking lots.

The plan, projected by Cal Zorn, city engineer, was endorsed last Thursday night at a dinner-meeting in the VFW.

Mr. Zorn said two parking lots could be put in this summer, and possibly a third in the northwest business block.

Plans include blacktopping the present lot behind Adrian Federal Savings and Loan and the lot behind the fire station between Evans and Ottawa streets.

Councilmen will be asked at Monday night's meeting to approve the plan, authorize the sale of $40,000 of revenue bonds and a purchase of about 400 parking meters.

Meter revenue would allow the city to pay off the cost of the meters and retirement of the revenue bonds. Money derived from the revenue bonds would be used to buy property for a parking lot in the northwest block.

Construction of two lots—blacktopped, lighted, mark-off for automobiles—would be started and finished this summer.

All 14 businessmen at the meeting objected to the use of meters, but all generally agreed that meters were the only solution to finance the lots.

31 Cartons of Goodies Being Packed

Nineteen attended the Harmony Homemakers Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Howlett Wednesday.

Dinner preceded the business session.

During the meeting, conducted by Mrs. Eddie Kirkland, members voted to bring candy and cookies to the next meeting, March 23, at the home of Mrs. Claude Sebring.

The goodies will be used to pack 31 boxes for the State Hospital at Easter.

Get-well cards were signed for Pamela Smith, John Snow and Irving W. Boltz.

Co-hostesses for the March meeting will be Mrs. V. Voorhees and Mrs. Henry Smith.

Gregory Opens City's Newest Barber Shop

It's hard to picture a gas station being turned into a sparkling, paneled barber shop.

But as in the "They said it couldn't be done" commercial, someone did it.

He's Joe Gregory, a fellow who has been barbering in Tecumseh for six years.

Joe bought the gas station — the former Standard Oil Co. outlet at Chicago and Ottawa — and anounced he'd have it turned into a barber shop.

Howard Truesdale was given the contracting task and he completely made over the interior. Only those with long memories can picture it was a service station.

Joe and his fellow hair trimmers, Ben McWilliams and James Hargrave, went into action this week.

Official opening will be Friday with free coffee and donuts to all customers.

Shaking Hands with Governor

Senior Girl Scouts went on an educational tour to Lansing.

There were 17 girls and three leaders, Mrs. John Cameron, Mrs. Julius Vincze and Mrs. Orville Bishop. They toured the capitol and the State Treasury Department.

They were introduced to the Legislature by Senator Elmer Porter of Blissfield and Rep. Bill Conlin of Tipton.

The Scouts and leaders watched the senate in session.

The highlight of the tour was shaking hands with G. Mennen Williams, Governor of Michigan.

Lawson Resigns Coaching Post

Tecumseh High School will have a new basketball coach next year. Vic Lawson, athletic director and head hoop mentor the past eight seasons, resigned as cage coach last week.

He will continue his duties as athletic director and a teacher, also assist in football.

Coach Lawson, whose Tecumseh teams have won league or district championships seven of the eight years he coached, has an overall record of 87 wins and 57 loses here.

Before coming to Tecumseh, he coached basketball at Jonesville for two seasons and in Greenville for one. In those three campaigns he compiled a 26-and-26 mark.

He received his bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University and his master's in physical education from the University of Michigan in 1955.

Currently he teaches classes in general mathmetics, geography and phys ed.

As yet, no one has been named to fill the role of head basketball coach, although speculation runs to Doug Murdock, who serves as junior varsity mentor.

Some ticket holders will be awarded the many door prizes at the 7:30 and 9 p.m. drawing.

The committee is grateful to the many Tecumseh merchants who have donated door prizes.

Sports Boosters Will Stage Dance Friday, March 18

Tecumseh Sports will hold a benefit dance to complete payment for the press box.

Tim Neil, chairman of the project, states the dance will be at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall Friday, March 18, from 9 to 12 p.m.

Hal Broderick and his 13-piece band will furnish the music. Admission will be a $1 donation.

"The club has other projects in mind, but must finish the press box first. This is just an example of what we can do," said Don Murphy, secretary of the Boosters.

Youngsters Hear Marion Anderson Sing Spirituals

Members of the junior department of the Church School of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a recording of Marion Anderson's voice Sunday.

Tonga Island to Bering Sea

The 1960 World Day of Prayer will be observed on Friday, beginning just west of the international date line at dawn in the Tonga Islands, and circling the globe until final prayers are said on St. Lawrence Island in the Bering Sea.

Tecumseh will observe this 74th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer on this first Friday of Lent with a service at 1:30 p.m. in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

This service is the result of combined efforts of women from Presbyterian, Baptist, Friends, Methodist, Episcopal, Missionary Baptist, Nazarene, Assembly of God and Gloria Dei Lutheran churches.

The speaker will be the Rev. Victor I. Gruhn, former interim pastor of the Gloria Dei church.

A Fellowship hour will follow in the Parish House.

☆

THIS OBSERVANCE dates back to 1887 when a group of Presbyterian women designated the first day of Lent as a day of prayer for home missions.

Since then it has grown to encompass 145 geographical areas on six continents and their neighboring islands. United Church Women have sponsored the day since 1941.

Women of different countries prepare the worship service and choose the theme each year. This year's theme is "Labourers Together with God", and was prepared by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

Canadian church women themselves joined in World Day of Prayer 39 years ago, and will take part in 1960 from the Atlantic to the Pacific and to the frozen north.

☆

OFFERINGS FROM the World Day of Prayer are equally divided between Home and Foreign Missions.

Part of this year's receipts will help support RAVEMCCO, an overseas broadcasting unit, to help build Christian broadcasting facilities in Africa. Among other overseas projects are 11 Christian colleges in the Far East and literacy training in underdeveloping countries.

In the United States, support will be continued for the migrant ministry, chaplaincy service in government hospitals in Alaska, the training of Indian lay leaders and a small demonstration farm in Puerto Rico.

"Through these projects, which our yearly observance makes possible," notes Mrs. James Evans, national director of the Day for United Church Women, "we demonstrate to the world the unlimited power of prayer and the depth of our concern for God's children everywhere".

Band Boosters Are Planning Awards Banquet

Forty-four members attended the Band Boosters meeting Thursday evening when it was voted to hold an awards banquet May 20 for the High School Band, followed by a dance for all high school students and guests.

The community calendar project is progressing well and the group would like to express its appreciation to the public for cooperation.

Anyone desiring to list birth dates, anniversary dates or meeting dates may still do so by calling Mrs. Don Beevers or Mrs. John Surraatt.

With the Teens

By MARY SEAGER

School spirit was greatly aided by the pep meeting held Friday afternoon before the Grosse Ile game.

The six cheerleaders led the cheers and school songs.

√

The Rev. B. O. Bashore spoke at an assembly Wednesday during third hour.

This was another in the series of the town's prominent men's speeches about adjusting to adult life.

√

The GAA sponsored the well-attended victory dance after the Grosse Ile game. Mr. and Mrs. John Babcock and Arlene Bierly were the chaperones.

This was the last after-game dance for the 1959-60 school year.

√

The Teen Club was open Sat-urday night to a capacity crowd.

√

Representatives from some of the smaller colleges in the state have been coming around to the high school to talk to the seniors interested in their schools.

The representative from Adrian College came on Monday with the man from Alma coming on Tuesday.

Michigan Tech will be represented on Thursday.

√

The sale of the Senior Echoes has been extended until the end of this week.

All checks should be made out for the exact amount of either the total amount of $3.50 or the partial amount of $2.50 and payable to the Annual Staff, not to the high school or the Senior class.

√

The extra-curricular clubs of Tecumseh High School are running the concessions at the District Tournament March 1, 2 and 4. The profits will be used to buy equipment for their various activities.

√

The juniors will take the all-important National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test Tuesday, March 8. This test will test English and mathematics aptitudes. It does not necessarily test knowledge acquired throughout the high school years.

√

The Michigan mathematics test will be given this Thursday to the advanced math students.

Methodists Dads, Daughters Gather for Annual Banquet

Last Saturday evening was the long-awaited Father and Daughter Banquet staged by Methodist Men.

"It had been put on the calendar at our August Church Planning Conference," said John Babcock, club president.

One-hundred-ten fathers and daughters gathered for a roast beef dinner.

Waiters in white shirts with towels over one arm were Jim Curth, Bob Dick, Roger Mead, Mike Fero, Kent Lucas, Gary Hall, and John Perry.

Jim Dahlke worked all day in the kitchen on preparations and operated the dish-washer.

At the speaker's table were three men on the program, all of whom had daughters, but no sons.

These three had their daughters with them—eight in all.

Gerald Janousek with two daughters, Debbie and Susan, served as toastmaster.

Mary Lectka gave a "toast to fathers", and the response was given by Duncan Lectka. Ann Lectka was there to make it complete.

Giving the invocation and benediction was Don Purkey, who was chaperoned by his four daughters—Debbie, Donna, Pam, and Betsey.

Because it was Ann Cameron's birthday, Mrs. John Cameron made individually frosted birthday cakes for everyone. Each had its own pink rosebud.

Mr. Babcock and vice-president Duane Steele were ably helped in banquet preparations by their wives.

Mrs. Bernice Furbush, who operates her own doll hospital on Sutton Rd., gave the program.

She showed many kinds of dolls, told of their history, and then described how dolls are made today. She held up a slack doll-skin ready for stuffing.

She showed how the neck-plug is put in place for attaching the head.

Methodist Men announce that their next meeting for members will be a pancake supper on March 16 at 6:30 at the church.

"No dolls or fancy programs this next time," said President Babcock, "just some fancy buckwheat eating!"

400 Books Are Donated So Far

Members and advisers of the Senior High Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church announce that approximately 400 books have been collected in their "Books For America" campaign.

The young people have set a goal of 1,000 books from Tecumseh, so check your attics and book shelves to see if you have any suitable books in good condition that you would be willing to contribute to this worthy cause.

If so, bring them to the church and leave them in the Fellowship Center.

"Remember, in all of Africa there is but one book per 1,000 population!" states one of the group.

Mustard and Ketchup Stains

By ROYAL WELCH

There are just four things to remember about mustard and ketchup stains which will help you save your garments from unsightly brown stains.

1. If the mustard or ketchup has been spilled on a washable garment, sponge out with clear water. DO NOT USE SOAP. DO NOT PRESS THE GARMENT UNTIL THE STAIN HAS BEEN COMPLETELY REMOVED.

2. DO NOT, if at all possible, merely allow the stain to dry out and then let the garment hang in the closet for a long time. These stains develop with age and then they're almost impossible to get out.

3. If the mustard or ketchup gets on a "cleanable" garment, DO NOTHING. ABOVE ALL, DO NOT RUB OR WIPE IN ANY WAY. This only forces the stain deeper into the fabric fibers and makes it more difficult to remove.

4. ALWAYS TELL US ABOUT THE STAIN. We can then employ special spotting and "spot-digesting" techniques prior to regular cleaning. Unless it's an extra-ordinarily complex procedure, there is no extra charge for this extra service. And you'll get your garment back in better condition.

The main thing about all stains is that it isn't usually the stains themselves that cause damage. It's the aging or handling afterwards.

So — again, please — DON'T RUB . . . DON'T USE A HOT IRON . . . TELL US . . . and, if it's washable — SPONGE OUT WITH CLEAR WATER ONLY. And of course, you'll always be safe with all your clothes when you call or bring them to Welch's Cleaners.

+ Presbyterian Women Starting Lenten Series

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church announces that the weekly Lenten study groups will use Psalms as the focus of study for the year.

A study guide booklet "The Hymn book of the Ages" by Dr. Paul Warren, will serve as an introduction and as an interpreter.

Mrs. Al Helzerman will be hostess to one of the three groups to meet in her home Thursday, March 3.

Mrs. Stanley Kruse will be hostess to another group, which meets the same day.

Mrs. Carlton Cook will open her home to a third group to meet Wednesday, March 2.

All sessions will be from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

A nursery will be provided at the Cook home for those wishing to bring their children.

All women and friends of the church are invited to attend one of those groups.

The first chapter of the study guide book will be used at the opening meetings. "Persons who have attended in the past years have gained a more meaningful lenten season by participating in them and in the preparation at home" says Mrs. Orrie Gilbert of the group.

Mrs. M. R. Blanden, Mrs. Julian Gresham and Al Merz presented an interesting program on "The Faith We Proclaim" for members at their meeting recently.

The group sang "Faith of Our Fathers", devotions were conducted by Mary McWilliams.

A candlelight service was presented by Mrs. Howard Truesdale, Mrs. John Lott and Mrs. John Saling honoring Mrs. Al Williams and Mrs. Stanley Kruse who were chosen for honorary memberships in Christian Education and National Missions.

Future events are:

Mar. 2 — 8:30 p.m. Family Night at the church. Speaker, Jack Lama from Bethlehem, Jordon and a student at Adrian college.

Mar. 4—1:30 p.m. World Day of Prayer at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

April 19—Choral group from Louisville, Ky. sponsored by Ministerial Association.

April 21 — Lansing Presbyterian at local church.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stanley Kruse and her committee.

+ Congo Film Is Family Night Feature Wednesday

"Footsteps of Livingstone," a 28-minute motion picture, made in the Congo, will be presented at the Methodist Church Wednesday.

The film is part of the program for the quarterly Family Night, which starts at 6:30 p.m.

A potluck dinner will precede the program.

Special guests will be the 22 persons who have joined the church since last June.

Excerpts from Livingstone's diary comprise the thread of this film, as the camera reveals the Congo of today, with its pattern of change and promise.

The viewer sees the work of Scripture translation and distribution, interwoven with rhythmic chants and tribal dances.

"Footsteps of Livingstone" was produced by the American Bible Society.

The society translates, publishes and distributes the Scriptures in many languages around the world, is actively supported by the Methodist Church and other major denominations.

An added feature of this Family Night will be a "Slave Auction" by the two Methodist Youth Fellowships. Members will put their various services up for sale to the highest bidder.

Proceeds will go to the MYF missions fund.

+ Power of God

How the power of God brings man protection and strength will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man" which will be read at Christian Science services this Sunday.

+ 'Words We Ought To Recapture'

"Methodists will consider the meaning of the word 'surrender' when they gather for worship in Tecumseh this Sunday," said the Rev. James D. Nixon, pastor.

This is the first in a series of three sermons on "Words We Ought to Recapture."

The first Sunday in Lent is marked as Day of Dedication by Methodists throughout the world.

As such they contribute to a special offering, Methodisms part in the One Great Hour of Sharing Program. This goes for world relief and special emergency missions needs.

Purple on the altar during Lent is a reminder of the penitential season. Ash Wednesday Holy Communion at 8 o'clock that evening will usher in Lent.

Church School on Sunday is at 9 a.m. and 11:15 Intermediate Youth Fellowship is at 5:30 p.m., Senior MYF at 6 p.m.

+ Lenten Meeting Begin This Week for Baptists

Lenten meetings will begin Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church and will continue at the same time each week until Easter.

"Members One of Another" is the name of the study book which will be used.

The sessions during April will be devoted to the instruction for those who will be joining the church at Easter.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church will be the guest speaker on March 13.

The annual church meeting will be held March 16, preceded by a cooperative supper served at 6:15 p.m. under the direction of the ladies society.

The nominating committee for officers for the coming year will be elected and the annual missions goal will be set.

Since the Happy Home Builders Class would regularly meet on the same evening that meeting has been postponed until March 23.

+ Guest in Clinton

Next Sunday evening, the Rev. James Nixon will speak at the Methodist Church in Clinton. Last Saturday, he spoke at a Father and Son Banquet in Plainville, Michigan on the theme, "The Physiology of Humor."

Steinke Paintings Entered in Show

Russ Steinke has two oil paintings entered in the Ann Arbor Artists Association Member's Show.

They're on display, with other entries, in the Raskham Building.

When the show closes March 18, the two will be placed on exhibition in Don's Grill.

THE REV. STANLEY DODGE

'Population Explosion' Is Topic

"Population Explosion" will be the subject of a talk by the Rev. Stanley D. Dodge of Ann Arbor at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday evening.

This is a community meeting, open to both the public and to members of neighboring Episcopal parishes.

The program and discussion will follow regular evening prayer at 7:30 in the Church, at which Dr. Dodge will read the lessons.

Those who attend are invited to come either in time for evening prayer or for the program itself at 7:45 in the Parish Hall. Light refreshments will be served following the meeting.

"Since there has been so much written and said about 'population explosion' in the press and on the radio and TV, we thought it would be interesting to get some of our questions answered by an expert," stated the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne, Rector of St. Peter's.

"The issues are not only the 'practical' ones of feeding and housing a growing population, but also moral issues are at stake," he added.

Dr. Dodge is well known as Professor of Geography at the University of Michigan and in recent years has become known as a priest of the Episcopal Church.

He still maintains his full-time teaching position and assists at St. Andrew's Church in Ann Arbor on Sundays.

He made the decision to study for Holy Orders in 1945 and after completing the course with the Examining Chaplain's was ordained to the priesthood in 1954. He presently serves as Dean of the Huron Valley Convocation.

He was born in New York City and was educated in schools in New York and Connecticut. He graduated from the University of Chicago in 1922 after having been in the Army during the first World War.

In 1926 he was awarded the PhD degree from the University of Chicago after having started his teaching career at the University of Michigan in the fall of 1925.

Tonga Island to Bering Sea

The 1960 World Day of Prayer will be observed on Friday, beginning just west of the international date line at dawn in the Tonga Islands, and circling the globe until final prayers are said on St. Lawrence Island in the Bering Sea.

Tecumseh will observe this 74th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer on this first Friday of Lent with a service at 1:30 p.m. in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

This service is the result of combined efforts of women from Presbyterian, Baptist, Friends, Methodist, Episcopal, Missionary Baptist, Nazarene, Assembly of God and Gloria Dei Lutheran churches.

The speaker will be the Rev. Victor I. Gruhn, former interim pastor of the Gloria Dei church. A Fellowship hour will follow in the Parish House.

☆

THIS OBSERVANCE dates back to 1887 when a group of Presbyterian women designated the first day of Lent as a day of prayer for home missions.

Since then it has grown to encompass 145 geographical areas on six continents and their neighboring islands. United Church Women have sponsored the day since 1941.

Women of different countries prepare the worship service and choose the theme each year. This year's theme is "Labourers Together with God", and was prepared by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

Canadian church women themselves joined in World Day of Prayer 39 years ago, and will take part in 1960 from the Atlantic to the Pacific and to the frozen north.

☆

OFFERINGS FROM the World Day of Prayer are equally divided between Home and Foreign Missions.

Part of this year's receipts will help support RAVEMCCO, an overseas broadcasting unit, to help build Christian broadcasting facilities in Africa. Among other overseas projects are 11 Christian colleges in the Far East and literacy training in underdeveloping countries.

In the United States, support will be continued for the migrant ministry, chaplaincy service in government hospitals in Alaska, the training of Indian lay leaders and a small demonstration farm in Puerto Rico.

"Through these projects, which our yearly observance makes possible," notes Mrs. James Evans, national director of the Day for United Church Women, "we demonstrate to the world the unlimited power of prayer and the depth of our concern for God's children everywhere".

Methodists Dads, Daughters Gather for Annual Banquet

Last Saturday evening was the long-awaited Father and Daughter Banquet staged by Methodist Men.

"It had been put on the calendar at our August Church Planning Conference," said John Babcock, club president.

One-hundred-ten fathers and daughters gathered for a roast beef dinner.

Waiters in white shirts with towels over one arm were Jim Curth, Bob Dick, Roger Mead, Mike Fero, Kent Lucas, Gary Hall, and John Perry.

Jim Dahlke worked all day in the kitchen on preparations and operated the dish-washer.

At the speaker's table were three men on the program, all of whom had daughters, but no sons.

These three had their daughters with them—eight in all.

Gerald Janousek with two daughters, Debbie and Susan, served as toastmaster.

Mary Lectka gave a "toast to fathers", and the response was given by Duncan Lectka. Ann Lectka was there to make it complete.

Giving the invocation and benediction was Don Purkey, who was chaperoned by his four daughters—Debbie, Donna, Pam, and Betsey.

Because it was Ann Cameron's birthday, Mrs. John Cameron made individually frosted birthday cakes for everyone. Each had its own pink rosebud.

Mr. Babcock and vice-president Duane Steele were ably helped in banquet preparations by their wives.

Mrs. Bernice Furbush, who operates her own doll hospital on Sutton Rd., gave the program.

She showed many kinds of dolls, told of their history, and then described how dolls are made today. She held up a slack doll-skin ready for stuffing.

She showed how the neck-plug is put in place for attaching the head.

Methodist Men announce that their next meeting for members will be a pancake supper on March 16 at 6:30 at the church.

"No dolls or fancy programs this next time," said President Babcock, "just some fancy buckwheat eating!"

400 Books Are Donated So Far

Members and advisers of the Senior High Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church announce that approximately 400 books have been collected in their "Books For America" campaign.

The young people have set a goal of 1,000 books from Tecumseh, so check your attics and book shelves to see if you have any suitable books in good condition that you would be willing to contribute to this worthy cause.

If so, bring them to the church and leave them in the Fellowship Center.

"Remember, in all of Africa there is but one book per 1,000 population!" states one of the group.

Mustard and Ketchup Stains

By ROYAL WELCH

There are just four things to remember about mustard and ketchup stains which will help you save your garments from unsightly brown stains.

1. If the mustard or ketchup has been spilled on a washable garment, sponge out with clear water. DO NOT USE SOAP. DO NOT PRESS THE GARMENT UNTIL THE STAIN HAS BEEN COMPLETELY REMOVED.

2. DO NOT, if at all possible, merely allow the stain to dry out and then let the garment hang in the closet for a long time. These stains develop with age and then they're almost impossible to get out.

3. If the mustard or ketchup gets on a "cleanable" garment, DO NOTHING. ABOVE ALL, DO NOT RUB OR WIPE IN ANY WAY. This only forces the stain deeper into the fabric fibers and makes it more difficult to remove.

4. ALWAYS TELL US ABOUT THE STAIN. We can then employ special spotting and "spot-digesting" techniques prior to regular cleaning. Unless it's an extra-ordinarily complex procedure, there is no extra charge for this extra service. And you'll get your garment back in better condition.

The main thing about all stains is that it isn't usually the stains themselves that cause damage. It's the aging or handling afterwards.

So — again, please — DON'T RUB . . . DON'T USE A HOT IRON . . . TELL US . . . and, if it's washable — SPONGE OUT WITH CLEAR WATER ONLY. And of course, you'll always be safe with all your clothes when you call or bring them to Welch's Cleaners.

+ Presbyterian Women Starting Lenten Series

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church announces that the weekly Lenten study groups will use Psalms as the focus of study for the year.

A study guide booklet "The Hymn book of the Ages" by Dr. Paul Warren, will serve as an introduction and as an interpreter.

Mrs. Al Helzerman will be hostess to one of the three groups to meet in her home Thursday, March 3.

Mrs. Stanley Kruse will be hostess to another group, which meets the same day.

Mrs. Carlton Cook will open her home to a third group to meet Wednesday, March 2.

All sessions will be from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

A nursery will be provided at the Cook home for those wishing to bring their children.

All women and friends of the church are invited to attend one of those groups.

The first chapter of the study guide book will be used at the opening meetings. "Persons who have attended in the past years have gained a more meaningful lenten season by participating in them and in the preparation at home" says Mrs. Orrie Gilbert of the group.

Mrs. M. R. Blanden, Mrs. Julian Gresham and Al Merz presented an interesting program on "The Faith We Proclaim" for members at their meeting recently.

The group sang "Faith of Our Fathers"; devotions were conducted by Mary McWilliams.

A candlelight service was presented by Mrs. Howard Truesdale, Mrs. John Lott and Mrs. John Saling honoring Mrs. Al Williams and Mrs. Stanley Kruse who were chosen for honorary memberships in Christian Education and National Missions.

Future events are:

Mar. 2 — 6:30 p.m. Family Night at the church. Speaker, Jack Lama from Bethlehem, Jordon and a student at Adrian college.

Mar. 4—1:30 p.m. World Day of Prayer at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

April 19—Choral group from Louisville, Ky. sponsored by Ministerial Association.

April 21—Lansing Presbyterian at local church.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stanley Kruse and her committee.

+ Congo Film Is Family Night Feature Wednesday

"Footsteps of Livingstone," a 28-minute motion picture, made in the Congo, will be presented at the Methodist Church Wednesday.

The film is part of the program for the quarterly Family Night, which starts at 6:30 p.m.

A potluck dinner will precede the program.

Special guests will be the 22 persons who have joined the church since last June.

Excerpts from Livingstone's diary comprise the thread of this film, as the camera reveals the Congo of today, with its pattern of change and promise.

The viewer sees the work of Scripture translation and distribution, interwoven with rhythmic chants and tribal dances.

"Footsteps of Livingstone" was produced by the American Bible Society.

The society translates, publishes and distributes the Scriptures in many languages around the world, is actively supported by the Methodist Church and other major denominations.

An added feature of this Family Night will be a "Slave Auction" by the two Methodist Youth Fellowships. Members will put their various services up for sale to the highest bidder.

Proceeds will go to the MYF missions fund.

+ Power of God

How the power of God brings man protection and strength will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man" which will be read at Christian Science services this Sunday.

+ 'Words We Ought To Recapture'

"Methodists will consider the meaning of the word 'surrender' when they gather for worship in Tecumseh this Sunday," said the Rev. James D. Nixon, pastor.

This is the first in a series of three sermons on "Words We Ought to Recapture."

The first Sunday in Lent is marked as Day of Dedication by Methodists throughout the world.

As such they contribute to a special offering, Methodisms part in the One Great Hour of Sharing Program. This goes for world relief and special emergency missions needs.

Purple on the altar during Lent is a reminder of the penitential season. Ash Wednesday Holy Communion at 8 o'clock that evening will usher in Lent.

Church School on Sunday is at 9 a.m. and 11:15 Intermediate Youth Fellowship is at 5:30 p.m., Senior MYF at 6 p.m.

+ Lenten Meeting Begin This Week for Baptists

Lenten meetings will begin Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church and will continue at the same time each week until Easter.

"Members One of Another" is the name of the study book which will be used.

The sessions during April will be devoted to the instruction for those who will be joining the church at Easter.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church will be the guest speaker on March 13.

The annual church meeting will be held March 16, preceded by a cooperative supper served at 6:15 p.m. under the direction of the ladies society.

The nominating committee for officers for the coming year will be elected and the annual missions goal will be set.

Since the Happy Home Builders Class would regularly meet on the same evening that meeting has been postponed until March 23.

+ Guest in Clinton

Next Sunday evening, the Rev. James Nixon will speak at the Methodist Church in Clinton. Last Saturday, he spoke at a Father and Son Banquet in Plainville, Michigan on the theme, "The Physiology of Humor."

Steinke Paintings Entered in Show

Russ Steinke has two oil paintings entered in the Ann Arbor Artists Association Member's Show.

They're on display, with other entries, in the Raskham Building.

When the show closes March 18, the two will be placed on exhibition in Don's Grill.

THE REV. STANLEY DODGE

'Population Explosion' Is Topic

"Population Explosion" will be the subject of a talk by the Rev. Stanley D. Dodge of Ann Arbor at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday evening.

This is a community meeting, open to both the public and to members of neighboring Episcopal parishes.

The program and discussion will follow regular evening prayer at 7:30 in the Church, at which Dr. Dodge will read the lessons.

Those who attend are invited to come either in time for evening prayer or for the program itself at 7:45 in the Parish Hall. Light refreshments will be served following the meeting.

"Since there has been so much written and said about 'population explosion' in the press and on the radio and TV, we thought it would be interesting to get some of our questions answered by an expert," stated the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne, Rector of St. Peter's.

"The issues are not only the 'practical' ones of feeding and housing a growing population, but also moral issues are at stake," he added.

Dr. Dodge is well known as Professor of Geography at the University of Michigan and in recent years has become known as a priest of the Episcopal Church.

He still maintains his full-time teaching position and assists at St. Andrew's Church in Ann Arbor on Sundays.

He made the decision to study for Holy Orders in 1945 and after completing the course with the Examining Chaplain's was ordained to the priesthood in 1954. He presently serves as Dean of the Huron Valley Convocation.

He was born in New York City and was educated in schools in New York and Connecticut. He graduated from the University of Chicago in 1922 after having been in the Army during the first World War.

In 1926 he was awarded the PhD degree from the University of Chicago after having started his teaching career at the University of Michigan in the fall of 1925.

It's 4-H Week

"Learn, Live, Serve, Through 4-H" is the theme of National 4-H Club Week March 5-12. Over two and one-half million 4-H'ers and their leaders in America will be observing the week.

There are 1,200 4-H members in Lenawee county and 220 4-H leaders.

All local youth, 10-21 years of age, are invited to visit a 4-H club in their area. Four-H is not limited to farm boys and girls.

There are clubs in villages, and cities throughout the United States, as well as in rural areas.

There is only one requirement for joining a 4-H club. A member must be willing to devote his time and efforts to becoming a better American. The four H's stand for the development of head, heart, hands and health.

Each 4-H Club has one or more voluntary adult leaders.

There are many types of 4-H projects including clothing, handicraft, gunsafety, photography, livestock, conservation, foods and personal improvement.

In the fall, projects are exhibited at the County Fair and reports on projects are given to leaders.

Clubs in this area are:

Britton-Suttonaires, Lloyd Wagner.

Country Hi-Steppers, Mrs. Russell Mitzner.

Holloway Homemakers, Mrs. Glen Mumaw.

Indians Share League Championship

By JIM LINCOLN

Hanging on by the thinnest of margins, Tecumseh won a share of the Huron League championship last Friday night with a 68-67 victory over visiting Grosse Ile.

The final minutes and seconds turned a comfortable Tecumseh lead into a nightmare for Coach Vic Lawson.

Loss of Jim Poley and Jack Sisson via fouls in the last minutes added to the local mentor's problems.

Tom Walters, senior forward, paved the way for league laurals with two free throws. The Indians had missed four straight foul tosses previously, and should have wrapped up the contest without any trouble from the foul line.

Tecumseh, Blissfield and Airport finished the league season with identical marks of 11-3 to share the title.

With approximately four minutes to play, the Indians fell completely apart while holding a 12-point lead.

Leading 64 to 52, Tecumseh tallied only four more points, a field goal by Sisson just before he retired, and two fouls by Walters in the final 32 seconds.

After a close first half, Tecumseh broke loose in the third stanza for 19 points to the Red Devils' nine.

GI then tallied nine straight points while Tecumseh stood still. The visitors again closed the gap with six more points before the Indians scored on Walters' running free throws.

The local reserves wrapped up the season also on a swimming note, trouncing their opponents 68-51.

Tecumseh, Blissfield, and Airport finished the league, season with identical marks of 11-3 to share the title.

Blissfield Wins Before 1,508

An abrupt ending to the basketball season for Tecumseh occurred Tuesday night when Blissfield clobbered the Indians in the 10th District Tourney, 62-48.

The gym was filled to overflow with perhaps a third of the 1,508 present being from Blissfield.

Tecumseh, occasionally showing flashes of catching up with the Royals, trailed throughout the game after the first three minutes.

The Royals controlled both boards from a zone defense which clogged the middle and forced Tecumseh to shoot from the outside.

Coach Vic Lawson, coaching his final game at THS, saw his players fail to hit consistently and also missed 18 of 36 free throws. Blissfield scored on 20 of 26 foul shots.

Ron Marks of the Royals led both teams with 16 points. Jon Aho tallied 12 for Tecumseh, while teammate Jim Poley netted 10.

Clinton surprised Boysville in the opening Class C game, 41-36. Harry Roummell and Clifford Rogers each had 10 points for the winners. Boysville's Bill Venn netted nine.

Clayton Church Hoopsters Win

Tournament play got under way Monday night for the Inter-County Church Basketball League in the Clayton gymnasium.

In the first game, Clayton Presbyterian edged past Britton Baptist 41-39 when Vic Palpant tossed in a field goal with five seconds remaining.

Gary Williams had tied it up for Britton just seconds before with his only basket of the game.

Palpant had 16 for Clayton and Glenn Williams paced Britton with 23.

Hudson, which drew a first round bye, will meet Clayton next week and the winner of that game will play Canandaigua the next week for the championship.

Brotherhood Week Is Topic

Mrs. Bert Klappich entertained 11 members of the Holloway Presbyterian Church ladies aid at her home Thursday when Mrs. Leslie Calhoun was the speaker.

"Brotherhood Week" was the topic of Mrs. Calhoun's address.

Mrs. Walter German read an article on "Prayer."

During the business session, preceded by dessert luncheon, yearbooks were distributed.

President Mrs. Kenneth Kopka announced that the Rev. George Kind of New York state would be the speaker for the Sunday worship service at the church.

He is a candidate for the ministry there.

Blissfield, Dundee Win Junior Hi Championships

Blissfield eighth graders and Dundee's seventh grade squad walked off with top honors in last week's Tecumseh Invitational Junior High Tournament.

In the finals, Blissfield stepped past Milan, 49 to 16 and Dundee snowed Milan, 43-26.

Tecumseh seventh graders survived the first round, besting Blissfield, 31-14, but lost a heartbreaker to Dundee in the semi-finals, 16-15.

The latter contest was especially hard to take since a one-point scorebook mistake, which showed the game actually ending in a 16-all tie, turned up later. But the 16-15 count had been signed by referees and it stood.

Eighth graders from Tecumseh were eliminated in the opening round by Blissfield, 25-11.

Camp Fire Program Introduced in Britton 13 Years Ago

BRITTON — Camp Fire Girls all across the nation are celebrating their organization's 50th anniversary this month.

This national group was founded March 17, 1910 by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick in New York. It was incorporated in 1912.

Started here in 1947 with 47 girls, the Britton units have grown and flourished over the years and now includes 100 members.

There are three divisions:

1. Blue Birds, ages seven to nine.
2. Camp Fire Girls, ages 10 to 14.
3. Horizon Club, ages 15 to 18.

Slogan for the groups is WOHELO, made up of the first two letters of the words: work, health, love.

Mrs. Herman Miller introduced Camp Fire Girls to the area. She underwent the leadership training through the Tuckabatchee Council in Adrian, headed by Margaurite Emmerson.

This prepared her for five years of camping, hiking, handicraft, etc. she spent as original leader. She is now an honorary member.

☆

WHEN THE Britton Camp Fire Girls started, the young ladies were divided into two groups of Blue Birds. The following year, 1948, the oldest of these were Fly-Ups into Camp Fire.

In starting, the organization received this financial help:

Kiwanis Club, $55.

American Legion Auxiliary, $50.

Millie's Restaurant, $5.

Boy Scouts, $50.

The Britton Women's Club was first sponsoring group. Along with the Legion Auxiliary, it still is a sponsor.

Among the Horizon Club now are girls who originally started in 1947 as Blue Birds. The girls feel a great nostaligia about leaving with graduation from high school this spring.

"Perhaps they'll be our future leaders," states Mrs. Harley Hummel, who herself is a veteran leader.

☆

DOWN THROUGH the years the Camp Fire Girls here have participated in a variety of community efforts, giving time and donations to the March of Dimes, Red Cross, Poppy Sale, candy sale, parades and Christmas caroling.

There are currently 10 active groups:

Four Blue Bird units, with 41 girls.

Four Camp Fire groups with 43.

Two Horizon Club with 16.

So far, 15 have passed Torch Bearer rank, the highest achievement in Camp Fire.

The various groups meet each Tuesday afternoon.

Adult leadership totals 18, aided by 16 sponsors. Several have served from five to eight years.

Leaders and sponsors gather the second Monday of each month to help plan activities in co-ordination with county and national activities.

"By adult cooperation, the groups work together smoothly and help solve any problems which arise," states Mrs. Hummel.

County-wide, there are nearly 1,000 girls in Camp Fire programs.

SCHOOL NOTES

By SUSAN ROWLANDS

At last week's pep session, the yell leaders held another cheering contest among the seventh through the twelfth grades.

A tie existed between the eighth, ninth and twelfth grades.

In cheering again the judges then picked the twelfth grade.

Yvonne Osterhout was master of ceremony for the Truth of Consequences game played at the pep session.

First, Kathy Bailey was chosen from the student body. Kathy did not answer her question before Beluah the Buzzer rang. So Kathy had to lead her class in a cheer.

Paul Cook was the second contestant. He also did not answer his question before Beluah the Buzzer rang. So Paul had to throw a basketball into the air and every time it bounced his class had to say "fight".

√

The fifth and sixth grade basketball players were in action last Friday during the half-time of the Britton Madison game.

The boys played for six minutes and after their hard battle neither had scored.

Everyone enjoyed the performance that the little Tories gave.

√

The Business Education Club's bowling league recently tossed their last set of games for the season.

Judy McClue's team won five, the team's average is 89.

Nancy Ehlert's team won two, lost three, her team's average is 93.

Connie Godzina's won three, lost two, the team's average is 88.

Phyllis Lutton's team won two, lost three, her team's average is 88.

Nina Crutchfield's won three, lost two, her team's average is 86.

Bette Bailey's team lost five, her team's average is 70.

The following girls had the five highest averages for the season:

Susan Rowlands, 115.
Janet Papp, 108.
Carol Barrett, 107.
Donna Ivan, 100.
Janice Ehlert, 96.

Each team consisted of five players.

The girls held their league at Airport Bowl in Tecumseh.

√

The Girls Athletic Club played Milan last Wednesday evening on Britton's court.

Airman Third Class Leroy W. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Radant, 210 Iroquois Dr., has reported for duty with the 56th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron Sawyer Air Force Base in northern Michigan.

Airman King, a helicopter mechanic, will take his place along side other specialists in USAF Air Defense Command's newest link in the chain of installations guarding America's northern frontier.

King joined the United States Air Force July 21, 1959 and later served at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas.

Airman King graduated from Tecumseh High School.

Already the F-101B "Voodoo" fighters fly out of K. I. Sawyer AFB.

Sawyer Air Base, located 23 miles southeast of Marquette and Lake Superior, boasts a 12,300 foot runway capable of accomodating the huge eight jet B-52 bombers, KC-135 jet tankers and F-101B fighter-interceptor aircraft based there.

Both the Air Defense Command and Strategic Air Command work together at Sawyer in the common defense.

The huge bombers and air refueling tankers employed by the Strategic Air Command are scheduled to arrive at the base soon.

The Sault Ste. Marie Air Defense Sector, a nerve center in control of defense fighters and missiles, is located at Sawyer also.

This detection and control system, capable of identifying and, if necessary, destroying enemy aircraft combined with SAC's potent retaliatory bomber and tanker capability at the base make up a formidable defense of America's middle west.

It's wonderful to feel cared for dead it again, Grandpa. And Grandpa does . . . again and again. The same funny-sounding words and the same fascinating pictures. Yet each time, a little girl's feeling of confidence and an old man's sense of importance come alive. What would you say this confidence is worth? How much would you pay for the feeling of importance? Oddly enough, some people never care . . . until it's too late. Others, like a small child with her favorite book and her faithful Grandpa, know. Confidence in Blue Cross and Blue Shield and the importance of being a subscriber have been the valued possessions of millions, from birth through retirement. They even check their wallets . . . again and again . . . to make sure the Blue Cross-Blue Shield card is there. Is yours?

Let Children Help with the Dishes

Let little Carol help with the dishes, mother!

Betty Garlick, who is in charge of the Spartan Nursery school at Michigan State University, says it takes actual participation in real work for a child to appreciate what work means.

Encouraging children to help around the house can bring a feeling of personal significance and sense of achievement that comes in no other way.

A child is easily interested in a new project. Introduce them to small tasks by showing interest and enthusiasm in the task yourself.

Remember that doing the dishes won't fascinate Suzi if you dislike doing dishes — and show it.

Caring for pets, watering flowers, helping dry dishes, answering the telephone, setting the table and helping to care for their own rooms, are simple jobs a child can do with instruction and help from grown-ups.

A word of warning to Mother.

Don't expect a child to do the job as well as you can and do expect a short attention span.

Be generous with approval and use a minimum of criticism to keep him interested.

Be prepared to explain over and over why a particular method is a good way to do things.

Anticipate a certain amount of playing around and allow the child to develop habits of neatness and orderliness.

Miss Garlicks adds that working together should be fun for both of you. The sense of confidence, independence and achievement your child gains is of far more value than the amount of work accomplished.

School and Taxes Is Meeting Topic

Over half the taxes collected by the state of Michigan go back to local units of government. Still there are not enough local tax dollars to go around.

Where does this 1.2 billions of local tax dollars go? Property taxes are the only other source of local taxes. Can the tax dollars required for schools and an additional 70,000 elementary school children enrolling each year, be met?

"You, School and Taxes," will be discussed by Robert Bevins, Agricultural Economist, Michigan State University Extension Service, at a meeting Tuesday in Adrian High School.

3 Photo Shows Open at Museum

A spring exhibition of more than 350 pictures by some of America's greatest photographers will open at Henry Ford Museum on Friday.

The show combines for the first time in one place three nationally-known traveling photographic exhibitions.

They are "Photography in the Fine Arts," sponsored by the American Federation of Arts; "The World of Edward Weston," circulated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service; and "Sequence 13—Return to the Bud," featuring the work of Minor White and presented by the George Eastman House of Photography.

It will be the first showing in the midwest for all three shows.

Boat Owners Can Retain Last 4 Digits

Although most Michigan watercraft owners won't be getting their boats into the water for a couple of months, many old registration numbers on their boats are not valid.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare hundreds of people, many of whom own properly registered watercraft, write to his boat licensing office for information in the cooperative Federal-Michigan law.

During the 1959 Session the Michigan Legislature passed Act 245, which established rules and procedures relative to the registration and operation of motorboats within the jurisdiction of the State of Michigan in conformance with the requirements of the Federal Boating Act.

"Nearly a quarter of a million boatsmen who registered their craft at a fee of $2 under the original Michigan law have been re-registered at no additional cost to them," Hare said.

"This reassignment process started last October after the Department of State had set up our plan of operation in agreement with Federal officials."

In nearly all cases (with the exception of persons whose original number ended in four zeros) Michigan boat owners were permitted to retain their last four digits as part of their number under the new law.

This made it possible for water craft owners to use four of the six original numbers they had affixed or painted on their boats. Thus a number like 137-677 could now become something like MC 7677AC.

Current registrations will be good for three years and will expire on December 31, 1962.

Local Hobbiests Entered in Show

The Michigan Gem and Mineral Club will hold a rock and mineral show at St. John's school in Jackson on May 14 and 15.

Several families from Lenawee County will have displays of rare minerals, carvings, jewelry and fossils.

Mrs. Clare Handy is the librarian for this group. If anyone desires any information on the Rockarama, they may call Tec. 7028W.

For hundreds of years the Christian Church has set aside the six weeks before Easter and has designated them "the Lenten season."

The purpose of this special season is to give Christians an opportunity to recall the consequences of sin and the assurance of redemption. It provides Christian churches with an opportunity to tell the unchurched residents of their communities of the central fact of the Christian faith—the death of the Son of God to atone for the sins of the world.

The message of Lent is to Christianity what a spring is to a watch, what a motor is to a car. Take the message of Christ's life and death out of the Christian religion and you have only a worthless shell.

The message of Lent is still the message of Paul: "Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures."

During these weeks thousands of churches throughout the nation are bringing this fundamental Bible fact into sharp focus. If you have not yet found forgiveness for your sins through faith in Christ, we extend a hearty invitation to you to attend our Lenten services.

THE OLD WIDOWER HAS COMPANY

The saga of Gertie's ducks continues. Since his mate was killed, the Widower has lived a solitary life on our creek. He has been alone a long time and although quite self-sufficient, it must have been lonely.

The picure has changed now, however, the old Widower has company. With the addition of two lovely ladies, the duck population now numbers three—come spring we are hoping it will be more.

When the news reached us that the two females were on their way, we could not help but wonder what their reception would be.

After all, the Widower had been having everything his own way for quite sometime, there had been none to consider, but himself.

Most of all he had not shared his domain with anyone. Was he too old and set in his ways for a change?

The gals arrived late one afternoon and by the middle of the next day all questions had been answered.

All fears and any misgivings vanished.

The Widower took to the idea of having company — I'll be strong and not yield to the temptation to say that he took to the idea as a duck takes to water — shall we just say that he was happy!

☆

ACTUALLY, HAPPY is an understatement. By the middle of the next afternoon the Widower was really living it up, he was having a ball.

It was most evident that being alone for so long had not dulled his line at all—such a fast worker.

In less than 24 hours the Widower had the situation well in hand and everything going his way.

Fortunately that seventh sense which does such a marvelous job of directing my attention outside when something worth seeing is going on, was working well and what a performance.

The Widower was sitting on his throne half-way up Gertie's creek-bank and looking every inch (or should we say every feather) like the highest of monkey-monks.

Oh, he was a grand sight and how well he knew it.

Full of dignity and so very, very superior, he was just the greatest thing that had ever happened to the newcomers—that at least was the picture he presented and from their actions, he had completely convinced them.

☆

AS FOR THE ladies, they were in the creek directly in front of the Widower.

Their performance, and really it was a true spectacular, was obviously intended for his benefit. They splashed and thrashed, dipped and dived, beat the water with their wings and somersaulted over again and again-plainly, each was trying to out-do the other and gain the favor of the Widower.

He, of course, was luxuriating in so much attention.

Using diplomatic tactfulness, which we did not know he possessed, the Widower somshow managed to please both ladies and keep peace in the family.

There has been no renewal of "the anything-you-can-do-I-can-do-better" type rivalry and the three ducks paddling up and down the creek present a happy close knit group.

No doubt about it, the Widower is more than pleased with his company.

$4 Million Is Program Cost

Consumers Power Co. will invest more than $4,000,000 in its Jackson Division in 1960 on projects to expand and improve its electric and natural gas services.

Projects outlined for the division are in addition to construction of a 26-inch gas transmission line, now under way, connecting the Consumers system with that of the Trunkline Gas Co. of Houston, Texas, at White Pigeon, southwest of Coldwater.

This line traverses many miles of division territory south of Jackson.

Many in Community Help Make Projects of FFA Click, Says Paul Burns

Tecumseh FFA, in conjunction with National Future Farmers Week, is reviewing local group activities.

This year's group activities include the farming of 14 acres. The boys have set up a 10-acre crop rotation of corn, soybeans, oats and wheat.

The plots lay with the contour of the land and are 40 feet wide. The FFA boys also have a four-acre plot at the sewage disposal plant, which has had continuous corn on it for six years with no decrease in yield.

The Rotary Club purchased a registered Duroc gilt for the boys nine years ago. At the present time the chain has grown to ten pigs.

The pigs are given out to interested boys and after the pig farrows the boy returns two pigs to the chapter.

The chapter feeds off one pig along with two more which they buy, and gives the other to another interested boy.

The chapter just purchased a registered Landrace gilt to start another chain. Dean VanNeste has the Landrace pig.

☆

TWO YEARS ago the Kiwanis Club assisted the club in starting a Dorset Horned sheep chain. This has grown to three registered sheep at the present time. Dennis Martinus has the sheep.

Dorset sheep were chosen for the chain since they have young twice a year, whereas other sheep have young only once.

The local FFA boys also raise, dress and market 150 broilers three times a year. Gary Spreeman has the broilers at the present time.

The reason for the group projects states Paul Burns, the local agriculture teacher and FFA adviser, is to give the boys practical instruction which may then be related to work in the classroom.

The group projects also help teach the boys cooperation and gives them a feeling of responsibility.

The boys work on these projects throughout the summer as well as during the school year.

☆

THE PROJECTS also finance other chapter activities such as buying machinery. The boys own a tractor and a complete line of machinery except for a combine and corn picker to do field work.

The local implement dealers help the boys with their harvesting.

The FFA boys also use the profits for a trip to the Livestock and Dairy show in Chicago every other year and to send their officers to a leadership training camp in the summer.

In 1959, the Chapter was given a silver award from the state office of Vocational Education for outstanding FFA activities.

Mr. Burns states that it must be noted here that this educational program could not be carried out as it is if it were not for the great understanding and cooperation of a great many people namely:

1. The boys parents.
2. Principal Nevill Hart.
3. Supt. James McDowell.
4. The board of education.
5. Local service clubs.
6. Implement dealers.

Michigan's Fraternal Order of Police announced that the Lodge is sponsoring an Essay Contest among high school students in Michigan on the subject, "The Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency"

The contest is intended to stimulate the thinking of teen-agers at the high school level on the subject of juvenile delinquency and, through writing and research on the subject, allow them to become better acquainted with the conditions and circumstances that usually lead to delinquency.

A total of $500 in cash prizes will be awarded to the writers of the three best essays. The first place winner will receive $300, the second place winner will receive $150 and the third place winner will receive $50.

A complete outline of the rules of the contest has been mailed to all high school English departments in the state.

For further information on the contest, students are requested to contact Dean Fox, president Fraternal Order of Police, State Lodge of Michigan, 918 Clearview St., Kalamazoo, Michigan.

"COMMON SENSE IS THE KNACK OF DOING THINGS AS THEY OUGHT TO BE DONE"
by C. E. Stowe (1802-1886)

When purchasing clothing, machinery, household gadgets etc., a mistake in buying judgment simply means that you have obtained less value than was possible. Only your money is involved.

When securing medicines and health-aids, a buying error can cause irreparable damage to your health. Common sense dictates that the safe place to obtain any medicine or health-aid is from a pharmacist. We are pledged to consider your welfare more important than greater profits. We are taught the knowledge needed to properly answer questions and caution you against improperly using any medicine or health-aid.

VOICE of THE HERALD

But, Oh, That 52nd Week

Selling license plates is a zany business at best.

For 51 weeks out of the year, deputy registrars have a liesurely time of it—but, oh, that 52nd.

This was Mrs. Ethel Hammack's first time around as Tecumseh registrar during that final, frenzied week. She has been operating the office from her home on W. Chicago Blvd. since last fall.

The really bad rush got underway Friday and continued Saturday and Monday. Motorists parked next to the Hammack home and the overflow along both sides of the highway.

There was a serious accident hazard until late yesterday when Mrs. Hammack received permission from the owners of the A&W Drive-In to utilize their parking area for her clients.

The Herald asked Mrs. Hammack if next year she might rent downtown facilities in the final week before deadline, but she explained there isn't enough profit in the venture to warrent this. Using A&W parking is the solution, she feels.

This sounds logical, if license buyers will park there and stay off the berm of M-50.

Play the Game for All It's Worth

We especially enjoyed a Free Press editorial this week about the winter Olympic games.

The gist: if our statesmen could learn to get along with one another as well as the great athletes from all over the world, peace would be much easier to come by.

Maybe we should tap some of these international sport figures to do our diplomatic chores. Actually, what better training ground is there for this sort of thing than the field of athletics?

Here we learn good sportsmanship, the value of team work, the virtue of clean play. Sounds like qualities you'd like to see in international dealings?

But, back to the Olympics. Everything wasn't perfect, of course, and it would have to be a Michigan entrant—the lady skater from Detroit—who raised a rhubarb about ice conditions and coaching.

We noted that she blew off, after finishing a dismal 14th or 15th, which sounds like sour grapes to us. This was underlined, when a former Olympic skater said a few days later that the American skating coach was tops.

Too often do we find the coach being blamed by an athlete, who is unhappy over his own lack of success.

About the best advise a parent or friend can give such a player: keep your mouth shut, play the game for all it's worth and forget trying to find a scapegoat. This attitude can do wonders for someone participating in competitive sports.

'Cover Guy'

H. J. Lowry, president of Michigan Mutual Liability Co., received special recognition in the February issue of the Michigan Manufacturers and Financial Record.

Beside a full-page picture of Mr.Lowry on the cover, the magazine carried a complete story of the executive's life from the time he was born in Tecumseh in 1899 until the present.

The president of the state's largest mutual casualty insurance company is the brother of Margaret Lowry of 404 W. Kilbuck St., Tecumseh.

Mr. Lowry attended Tecumseh schools and after graduation entered the University of Michigan with the intention of becoming a doctor.

After two years of pre-medic work, he left college to enter the navy during World War I, and at its completion returned to Tecumseh, where he became associated with the hometown bank.

Two years later, he decided to return to the University, but switched his course to Business Administration. He graduated with a degree in 1922.

While working at the bank in Tecumseh, young Lowry became acquainted with P.W.A. Fitzsimmons, a director of the bank and president of the Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

Mr. Fitzsimmons persuaded Mr. Lowry to accept a position with the company as an accountant and the farmer Tecumseh man's rise through the ranks of the company paralleled the continuous growth of the firm over the same period.

For the past 25 years, the casualty company has dominated the compensation field in Michigan, writing nearly twice as much volume as its nearest competitor.

Like most business and industrial leaders, Mr. Lowry takes an active part in outside interests, civic and charitable endeavors.

He and Mrs. Lowry live in Bloomfield Village where she is an avid gardener and where Margaret, his sister, spends many pleasant weekends and summer vacations.

Letter to The Editor

TO THE EDITORS:

We would like to go on public record to say that we disagree with the editorial "We'd Like to Disagree" in last week's Tecumseh Herald.

We do not believe that the editor intended to discredit the very fine Churchmen's Banquet, the first such undertaking here in a number of years.

We do not believe that the editor holds any personal ill will toward Dr. Donald Katz, chairman of the department of petroleum engineering of Chemical Engineers.

Nor do we believe that the editor maliciously withheld a part of the report of the address which was submitted to The Herald and which was the occasion for the editorial.

But because Dr. Katz should not be misunderstood and because the leadership sponsoring the banquet should be encouraged, we are writing to shed light on this subject.

Dr. Katz did not give a blanket indictment of "the nation's citizens." The report of the meeting which was sent to The Herald stated that one of his early illustrations was to quote a Lebonese student who was amazed at the way clerks in stores are entrusted with so much money "and no one watches them."

Dr. Katz paid tribute in this way to the integrity of most Americans.

Nor did Dr. Katz make "an almost blanket indictment against the advertising business." What he said was that he knew many engineers of large industries who did not believe the advertising claims of the products of their own companies.

One would have to know these same engineers or question the intregity of Dr. Katz to refute that claim.

He cited many areas where integrity is needed. One of these was political speechmaking.

What he did not cite, but might well have, was the large number of cases before the Federal Trade Commission and the Federal Communications Commission charging false and misleading advertising.

If the editor wished to defend local advertisers he might better have done so by pointing out their high level of merchandising integrity which the nation as a whole might well emulate.

If the editor wished to increase readership he might better do it through constructive editorializing.

Inasmuch as he could not be present to hear the address which Dr. Katz gave to men of seven of our churches, he might have checked with several persons to see if he was giving a fair picture of what actually was said.

Yours truly,
James D. Nixon

We are writing, hoping we can obtain a recent issue of your newspaper, which will be part of our "Michigan Week" exhibit.

It was with a great deal of pleasure that I read your editorial "Just a Flag" in a recent Herald.

You are to be complimented on bringing this message to all of us in the community. I am hoping that it will be the means of awakening all of us to our responsibilities as Americans.

We have a wonderful heritage and it is worth our efforts to maintain our way of life.

So I hope every one in Tecumseh will fly their flags on holidays and special days too.

Enclosed is $1 to continue the subscription for Ramon Aylesworth.

We thought you would be interested to learn, that when Ramon received his first issue of The Herald, he wrote home wanting to know who had started his subscription.

He is extremely pleased to be receiving his copy regularly, and finds himself looking forward to the mail each week. The pictures of the city and people, keep his memory fresh of his home town.

Therefore, we want to be certain not to let him miss any issues of The Herald.

Thanking you for your sincere efforts to the servicemen, we remain.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Herald, under present management, has always maintained a policy of providing one-year subscriptions for all Tecumseh area men and women in uniform for $1. This defrays mailing costs. If there is a serviceman or women in your family, who is not getting the paper, we'd be happy to add them to our list.)

To the Editors:

Harrah for the stand you take on the Jack Paar story! TV is too full of suggestive material and low, low cut dresses.

I myself, turn on very few shows but other adults in the house do.

The trouble is probably you and I and him and her. We just don't make our feelings known, we ignore and keep quiet.

When the name of this particular censor appeared in the Detroit paper, I wrote and commended him for paying some heed to good taste.

Maybe if more of us wrote to TV stations we would have more shows suitable for family viewing.

I agree with you Will Rogers and Joe E Brown were of the best, more power to you! !

To the Editors:

I would like to extend the appreciation and sincere thanks of the Tecumseh Area Church Laymen's Association for the publicity and coverage you gave our recent banquet.

Wishing you continued good success in your endeavors, I remain.

To the Editors:

Please renew my subscription to The Herald. I am enclosing a check for $4.00.

I look forward each week to receiving the "hometown news". You are doing a fine job, especially the pictures.

I am a member of the class of 1942 and I was so glad to see a picture of the old football team. What a grand year that was!

BETTER-BRAKES...BUICK '60

BRAKES HATE HEAT!

Buick's fin-cooled Aluminum Drums get rid of heat quicker so you're safer!

Brakes generate their own worst enemy—terrific heat. Excessive heat is bad because it may cause brakes to lose part of their effectiveness. So the faster you can dissipate it, the better off you are.

Buick gets rid of heat faster by using fin-cooled brake drums. On the front wheels, where most of the braking is done, the drums are aluminum. They cost more to make but they shrug off heat much faster than drums made of ordinary metal. Buick is the only American car that makes them standard, at no extra cost, because you will be safer with them.

Best time to buy a Buick '60 is now because you will get top dollar on your old car and have a wide selection of colors and body styles from which to choose. You can own a quality Buick for less than you might think, and your Buick Dealer can arrange terms to suit your budget.

Could Tecumseh Become Site for New Theatre?

Could Tecumseh become a center for a new professional theatre which is being formed?

Is it possible that this city might gain the stature of Stratford, Ontario, where Shakespearian presentations each summer draw $500,000 in gate receipts?

Dr. Tyrone Guthrie, internationally known legimate theatre director, is a driving force in the effort. He's the man who will name the site.

Tecumseh has put its bid in—along with other communities all across the nation, including San Francisco, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Boston

That's pretty stiff competition, yet one thing the new theatre must have, according to Dr. Guthrie, is a location where there is great civic pride and willingness of the citizens to work together.

Dr. Guthrie was the first director in Stratford and supervised the beginning of the Shakespeare Festival, serving there for three years. Success in the Ontario city was phenomenal with its 2,300 seat theatre nearly filled for each '59 performance.

Dr. Guthrie would be artistic director of the new theatre during its first three seasons and would, as in Stratford, use that period to develop a staff qualified to carry on the program.

This would not be an amatuer company, but rather all qualified profesisonal actors and actresses. If located in this area, it would be expected to draw patrons from Detroit, Jackson, Toledo and even Chicago—just as Stratford brings audiences from long distances.

The founders have stated that it is of major importance that their theatre become fully identified with the community in which it is located.

Financing for such a venture is staggering. The first season would require a budget of $300,000 after a proper theatre has been erected. This building would take $1½ millions, according to the estimates of Dr. Guthrie, with a seating capacity of between 1,000 and 1,500.

Several organizations in Tecumseh have kept close to the project and entered a bid for this city.

A meeting to explain fully the theatre is being held in the social room of the Tecumseh Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Interested persons are invited to attend.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Several persons have spoken to me about the possibility of teaching a short course in photography.

They would like to get some simple instructions on the operations of the family camera and maybe a little on composition and posing.

It would be fun and although I seem to have difficulty getting an evening at home more than a couple of nights a week, I probably could set something up.

If you happen to be interested drop me a line. There probably would be four or five sessions.

☆

This idea of making Tecumseh a sort of Stratford, Ontario, with its fame from a summer theatre, sounds mighty fascinating.

Mystery of the annual Christmas card from Ireland to a family in Tecumseh — who doesn't know anyone in the Emerald Isle — still isn't solved.

The story first appeared in this column in early January and I sent a note to Belfast for help — directing it to that city's daily newspaper.

That's The Belfast Telegraph and in this week's mail came a note from the paper's news editor, Frederick Jamkle, who said.

"I am afraid we have to confess that your Christmas card mystery must remain an unsolved riddle. Efforts we have made to track it down have been without success.

"In a column which I write each Saturday, under the name of John Pepper, I gave the details of those who began the quest and also reproduced the front of the Christmas card. I did not receive a single reply.

"I might explain that we have a daily circulation of close on 200,000 and in a city with a population of something over half-a-million there are not many who do not read the Telegraph.

"So there it is, Mr. and Mrs. Grigg look as if their Yuletides will go on pleasantly bewildering them."

Yours sincerely,
Frederick Jamkle
News Editor

The column item by John Pepper read:

"An appeal reaches me from the co-publisher of The Tecumseh Herald, Michigan, U.S.A.:

" 'There's a little mystery in this American city of 7,500 population you might be able to help solve.

" 'For several years Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Grigg, of Tecumseh have been receiving a Christmas card from Belfast. It is signed simply 'Margaret'.

" 'They are the only L. Griggs in town and the post office always delivers the card to them but they do not know any Margaret in Belfast. Could you help to track her down?'

"I reproduce the card they received last Christmas, and if anyone can help in clearing up the riddle I will be glad to tell The Tecumseh Herald about it."

Fund Board Agrees To Aid Recreation

Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation support of the city recreation program was carefully discussed and previous action reconsidered when the Board of Trustees met Tuesday evening.

A motion made by John Thompson, seconded by Mrs. H. H. Hanna, read that, "the Board of Trustees has reconsidered the previous action and is willing to contribute to the Tecumseh City Recreation Department."

In order to comply with the charter and by-laws of the Foundation, the motion continued that "before so-doing it (the Board) will expect to be fully advised of the expenditures of the Recreation Fund to the date of their request for further funds."

This motion was unanimously adopted.

A report was made of citizen reaction to the previously announced policy of curtailing such funds next year.

A full report of a recent meeting of four of the Trustees with the City Council was made.

"It should be the function of the Community Fund in Tecumseh to fill the gaps when other agencies are not able to do this," said members of the Board of Trustees.

"It should be clearly understood that the budgeted item of $3,250 for the city recreation program this summer has already been paid from funds collected in the recent campaign," said President Vern Manwaring.

Dr. Robert Laidlaw, chairman, for FACT—Foundation Advisory Committee of Tecumseh, presented an outline of procedures adopted by his committee.

"Public meetings to be held sometime in April will be announced later this month," he said.

"Our target date for a full report of findings and our recommendations to the Board is mid-June," he concluded.

Off-Street Plan Slowed Monday by City Council

By JIM LINCOLN

Hopes for quick passage of the businessmen's parking lot proposal slipped a notch Monday night when council balked at plans presented by city engineer Cal Zorn.

Only action taken was the authorization granted Mr. Zorn to secure options on property behind Baldwin's Hardware in the northeast business block.

Council wanted the options to determine costs in buying the property and for possible sale of revenue bonds.

No action was taken on Tecumseh businessmen's proposal to meter and improve other downtown parking lots.

These meters could be purchased, installed and paid for without cost to the city, according to Mr. Zorn, who presented the plan at a recent Chamber of Commerce meeting.

He said the meter company would sell the meters on the condition that half of the revenue collected would in turn be used to pay for them.

☆

AN OFFER to purchase the property just west of city hall on W. Chicago Blvd. was informally agreed upon. Final decision will be made at the March 21 meeting.

The property is 99x198 feet and is owned by Eugene Kossey.

Del King, local realtor, offered the lot and discussed with council the prospects for a city hall parking lot.

☆

CHAMBER secretary Don Murphy asked if the water hazard in the gravel pit behind Tecumseh Acres school had been eliminated and if anything had been done about business signs in residential districts.

City manager Ed Nelson reported nothing had been done with the pit, but officials will watch it closely this spring and eliminate any accumulation of water by dynamiting it or pushing in the pit's sides with a bulldozer.

Last year, a youngster fell into the pit and nearly drowned.

The problem of business signs had been turned over to the Planning Commission.

Permission was granted to the retail division of the Chamber to hood all parking meters on March 26 for the opening of the new Woolworth store, Gambles new store and for the remodeling and expansion of Osborne's Dept. store.

Dick Eggleston and Don Martin also were authorized to hood the meters on March 25.

Mr. Martin will kickoff his grand opening celebration that day for the Gambles store, and Mr. Eggleston' will be marking his eleventh anniversary in the jewelry business.

COUNCIL passed a resolution for subdividers, making it necessary that future subdivision streets be covered with bituminous concrete.

The city will pay one-third and the subdivider two-thirds of the cost.

☆

A LETTER (unsigned) was received from the DAR, voicing disapproval of using Adams Park for the new post office building.

It's the second letter received by council in opposition to relocating the postal building at the park site.

Re-Zoning Proposal Is Tabled

Objections were made at Tuesday night's planning commision hearing regarding re-zoning an area along N. Evans St. so that multi-dwelling units could be constructed there.

The commission heard the discussions, then decided to table the proposal until next month at its April 5 meeting.

Paul Clauda a Tecumseh plumber, had petitioned for the change in zoning of a five-acre plot he recently purchased along Evans Creek, running north from the rear of the VFW property to the Gloria Dei Church on Brown St.

His desire is to build approximately 22 one- and two-story units. They would be located about 270 feet west of Evans, entry being made by a 60-foot wide road.

About 15 residents of the area were on hand to voice opinions.

The commission does not have the actual power to rezone, but submits its opinion to council, which has the authority to take official action.

City Gets $10,070

Tecumseh will receive $10,070.42 from the State Highway Department for the fourth quarter of the 1959 Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections. Lenawee county gets $186,676.19 from the collections.

Ray White Takes Job at Red Run

Ray White has resigned as manager of Tecumseh Country Club.

After five years here, Mr. White is leaving April 15 to accept the position of assistant manager at Red Run Country Club in Detroit.

"Going to Red Run gives me an excellent opportunity to learn more about my profesison," Ray said.

Red Run is furnishing Mr. White and his family a home located on the edge of the course.

A 1951 graduate of Michigan State University, majoring in Hotel administration, Mr. White came to Tecumseh in 1954.

He and his wife have three children.

Tecumseh Country Club's board of directors has not as yet named a replacement for the post here.

Holloway Meeting Postponed

The congregational meeting of the Holloway Presbyterian Church, which was to have been held Sunday morning, March 13, has been postponed until a later date.

The winners class of the church met Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Sawyer for a business session and entertainment.

Lunch was served by the hosts assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cadmus.

Florist Speaking

Mrs. Don Ketteman will be the hostess for the Little Garden Club Tuesday, March 15, when Allie Musch will be the speaker.

"From Greenhouse to Garden" will be the topic and a trip to the greenhouse will follow the business meeting.

Marshall Farmer Wins

Ray Knapp, a 35-year-old dairy farmer from Marshall, was crowned Jaycee Michigan Young Farmer of 1960 in Tecumseh Saturday.

He'll travel to Bakersfield, Calif. in April to compete for national honors.

Great secrecy surrounded the announcement of the winner and three runner-up.

At the banquet, attended by 400 including all 18 finalists for the state honor, Michigan Jaycee president Fred Warner of Sandusky asked two Tecumseh police officers to bring in a safe containing the plaques.

Don Rodahaver and Gene Skinner, in full uniform, marched down the center aisle to a table at the front of the gymnasium. Merlyn Downing was called forward and he carefully opened the lock.

From it he produced the plaques, one at a time.

Finishing behind Mr. Knapp were:

Second—Don Albosta, 34, general farmer from St. Charles.

Third—Ronald Erickson, 34, dairy farmer from Hastings.

Fourth — Daniel Landberg, dairy farmer from Croswell.

Winner Knapp has a herd of 34 dairy cows, averaged 13,443 pounds of milk in 1959. His 50 acres of corn averaged 95 bushels to the acre, 32 acres of wheat with an average of 41½ bushels, 34 acres of oats with 47 bushels and 55 acres of alfalfa, three tons to the acre.

His community activities include Farm Bureau, member of school board, Masonic lodge and milk producers association. He belongs to the Methodist Church.

Besides announcement of the winners, a program highlight was singing of the 94-voice Tecumseh High School Chorus with Les Bennett directing.

The Tecumseh Grange prepared and served a roast beef dinner.

Jaycees president Dr. Bob Laidlaw introduced the toastmaster, Dick Meyerson of Kalamazoo, and Mayor H. H. Hanna, welcomed the guests.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore gave invocation and benediction.

'More Than Existing'

"You are doing something more than just existing," Merritt Hill, Ford executive, told Jaycees from throughout the state at Saturday's banquet here to announce Michigan's Outstanding Young Farmer.

Local Jaycees were hosts to 400 guests.

"You are the active citizens of today and the leaders of tomorrow.

"Effective participation in the Jaycee program enables you to discover your true worth. You are investing your life in the lives around you," the speaker added.

He underlined the importance of young men in business taking roles in civic activities.

"Just as isolationism is a thing of the past for our nation, so is the viewpoint that business had no responsibilities outside of the profit and loss ledger.

"Our society is too closely interwoven, our business our recreation our civic and our worship ties are too intertwined to permit anything resembling complete independence of action and interest" the guest said.

"Any businessman who sincerely wants the good-will and respect of the community in which he operates must earn that good-will by being a good citizen and a good neighbor" he stated.

Mr. Hill pointed out that Ford Motor encourages its employees to take part in civic affairs—and also politics as a member of the party of their choice.

When a Fordman is elected to office he is given a leave of absence just as when he goes into military service, and upon his returns, is placed in his same job or one of comparable stature.

The guest urged the Jaycees to continue to spread enthusiasm and make people realize they have responsibilities in civic activities.

Pesky Fire

Two Tuesday fires in town — one that started a second time — kept local smoke easters busy.

The garage owned by Eugene Kossey, 307 E. Chicago Blvd., was a total loss in a noontime blaze.

The department was called out again to the same building when it began burning once more at 4:10 p.m.

At 3:30 Tuesday morning, they snuffed out a fire that started in the filters of an oil furnace in the Ronald Marsh home, 5561 Green Hwy.

The Marsh home suffered considerable smoke damage.

DIRECTING DRIVE—Girl Scouts Mary Cook of Hillsdale and Michelle Anderson of Tecumseh show a campaign sign to top chairman of the coming $20,000-drive being staged for the Irish Hills Council. General chairman Joe Fortunato is flanked by Richard Goodrich (left), Lenawee County head man, and Glenn Welch, Hillsdale County leader.

Hochrein Is Named Treasurer

Walt Hochrein, owner of Porter Printing Co. in Tecumseh, has been appointed treasurer of the coming two-county drive to raise $20,000 for the new Irish Hills Girl Scout Council.

He was appointed by Joe Fortunato, who serves as general chairman.

Mr. Fortunato also announced county leaders:

Lenawee—Richard Goodrich of Hudson, public relations and personnel director for M&S Manufacturing Co.

Hillsdale — Glenn Welch, of Hillsdale, assistant manager of the Federal Land Bank.

These chairmen are selecting area leaders and workers.

The drive opens April 1.

Everything Swedish

Sweden was the theme of the International Dinner held recently in connection with Thinking Day by the Junior High Girl Scout Intermediate troops.

Mrs. Don Johnson and Troop 10 were hostesses and chairmen for the dinner held at the Scout cabin when 65 attended.

Swedish meat balls and cookies highlighted the meal, made by the girls from the various troops.

The hostesses arranged the centerpieces around the customs of Sweden using crowns made of Styrafoam to depict Saint Lucia, who rose early to serve coffee to the members of her household.

Troop 20 led by Mrs. Don Creger performed a Swedish ballroom dance during the program which followed the dinner.

Troop 23, led by Mrs. Robert Rumpf, gave the customs for different events during the year.

Mrs. Merrill Murphy, with Troop 22, gave a question and answer quiz on Scouting in Sweden.

Mrs. Howard Morris with Troop 8 told of the bright colorful dresses of the Swedes. They displayed two paper dolls dressed as the Swedish scouts.

Mrs. Ward Perso with Troop 21 gave an accounting of the government of Sweden.

Mrs. Anna Grigg with Troop 13 told of the foods of Sweden. The recipe for meat balls used by this group was an original Swedish recipe.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler attended the dinner as a guest.

Pennies for the World Friendship Fund were deposited in a miniature Swiss Chalet and Mexican cabana.

The girls formed a good-night circle and sang "Taps" to conclude the evening.

Sin Before Easter

Do sin before Easter. That's one approach to Lent. Carnival and Mardi Gras are a result—have one last fling before custom decrees a more sober approach to life.

Don't sin before Easter. That's another approach to Lent. Give up some things that you're perfectly willing to do at other times. Do some extra things that you don't feel called upon to perform any other time of the year.

Before Easter sin should be your concern! The real purpose of Lent is to make it so. Yet the point is not what we do about it. Lent's point is what God has done about it through Jesus Christ, the world's Savior. God wants us to realize His stern judgment against our actions and thoughts that disobey His will. More than that, He asks us to accept the tremendous love and forgiveness He shows us in the giving of the life of His Son, Jesus.

Give attention to your sin this Lent—gain a greater devotion to Jesus Christ—meet a crucified and risen Savior. The Lutheran church invites you now—before Easter—to prepare for Easter.

More than 400 persons from all over Michigan converged on Tecumseh last weekend for the Jaycee affair, at which the leading young farmers of Michigan were announced. There were tours of nearby farms, for the men, cosmetics classes for the gals at the Country Club. But the real climax came about 8:30 p.m. when the winners were named.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Corinthians	6	19-20
Monday	Romans	12	3-8
Tuesday	Luke	12	22-39
Wednesday	Psalm	77	11-15
Thursday	Ecclesiastes	3	11-15
Friday	Mark	4	14-25
Saturday	I Corinthians	16	1-2
			13-14

It's a good idea to have a check up every so often. And the idea ought to be extended to our spiritual as well as our physical health.

For instance, how much are we thinking about the truths our churches teach us? Do we understand God . . . His love for men . . . the sacrifice of Christ for our sins . . . the way of Christian living?

And how much are we doing for God and our own souls? Are we worshipping every Sunday . . . rearing our children in the Faith . . . serving the Church and fellowmen according to our talents and physical strength?

And how much are we giving for God to use? Do we promise Him a fair proportion of our income . . . do we set it aside regularly as a sum that belongs to God and to those who need our help . . . do we have the courage and faith to strengthen our Church by more generous support?

Accelerator Sticks, Car Clips Pump

A car knocked over a gasoline pump at the Lee Purkey & Sons garage on W. Chicago Blvd. at 11:05 a.m. Saturday.

The accident started a fire, which was well under control, when the fire department arrived.

There was extensive damage to the pump as well as the front of the car.

It was covered with insurance.

David Dick, driver of the car, said the accelerator of his auto had stuck and he was attempting to brake it while turning into the driveway for repair when he skidded into the pump.

GOOSE TATUM

Goose Returns To Face JC '5'

Whether you like your basketball straight or served up with a side dish of laughs, you can have both on Wednesday, March 16 at Tecumseh High School.

That's when world-famous Reece (Goose) Tatum and Sweetwater Clifton and their Harlem Stars clash with the Tecumseh Jaycee squad, recently-crowned champions of the Adrian City League.

In professional basketball, the boys have long been separated from the men. Tatum is considered the greatest box office attraction in the business according to New York sports editor Jimmy Powers.

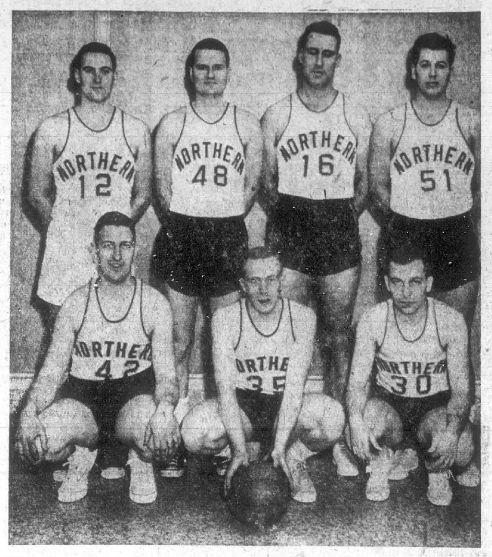
Not only has Tatum set scoring records in practically every country of the world; many of them stand today as memorials to his proven ability.

The "Clown Prince" of the court, Tatum dishes out the laughs while his sidekick Clifton — of the New York Knickerbockers and Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball League — gives the game a rich sauce of amazing ball handling. The six-eighter is par excellent with the ball.

Supporting Goose and Sweetwater are some of the greatest Negro cagers in basketball — "Tiny" Brown and King Solomon — dribbling wizards; Ramon Wilkinson, six-seven star from the University of Michigan; Willie Scarbrough, of Detroit U., along with Ernest Wagner of Wayne University.

Bold Buie, former outstanding star of Tennessee State College, and the only one-armed player in professional basketball, is a member of the Harlem Stars.

Advance tickets for the Harlem Stars appearence are available at Hodges Drug Store, Joe's Market and Country Markets, Inc.



HERALD PHOTO

MEET HARLEM STARS—Tecumseh Jaycee hoopsters face Goose Tatum and his Harlem Stars in Tecumseh High School Wednesday, March 16, hoping to make up for the loss suffered last winter. The Jaycees won eight and lost none in the Adrian City League. In front are Dike Helms, Al Barrett and Jerry Barton. Standing are Ed Lewis, Tom Jacoby, Harry Brown and Doug Wilson. Bruce Corley was also on the team, but broke his wrist early in the year. John Cavas, former Adrian college cage captain, performed, too.

FROM THE PRESSBOX

When Vic Lawson told Supt. James McDowell that he was resigning as Tecumseh head basketball coach, the superintendent thought Vic was kidding.

"No, this is it," Vic said.

Thus ends an eight-year career of tutoring the hardwood sport here for Vic, who'll now devote his after-school hours to duties as athletic director and autumn afternoon to helping in football.

When Vic came to Tecumseh, after stints in Jonesville and Greenville, he headed up both cage and gridiron staffs. After his first year, he was chosen director of athletics and passed along the football chores in order to concentrate on basketball.

Vic's hardwood teams have turned in some really outstanding performances over the years. He has developed many great players.

Who, in Vic's opinion were his best? He named Ken Millerm, Bill Hanson, John Elliott, Mike Sisson, Val Spangler, Jim Wilson, Bill Benham and from his 1959-'60 squad, Jim Poley.

Speaking for Tecumseh fans and former basketball players, we'd like to tell Vic "thanks" for your hours of devoted duty and "all good luck" for the future.

Donation of $1 Gets Dancers In

"Spin your best girl around the dance floor and help the Tecumseh Sports Boosters pay for the football field press box."

So say Tim Neil, who is chairman of the affair, which is open to all. It will be Friday, March 18.

Place: Products Union Hall.
Time. 9 to 12 midnight.
Hal Broderick's 13-piece orchestra will provide the music.

Tim explains that the new press box is not completely paid for and receipts from the dance should turn the trick.

Any surplus will go into the treasury for future projects.

A donation of $1 will get dancers into the hall.

GOP NET $150

Vale L. Kerby reports that a profit of $150 was netted from the Lincoln Day dinner held here at the Union Hall. Mr. Kerby is chairman for the Lenawee county Republicans.

He's Big Blast

Bob Beevers was the big blast in the annual Tecumseh Products league bowling tournament.

There was a jackpot of $797 and Bob cut himself a slice of it in four divisions.

He captured the all-events for $15, finished fourth in singles with a 666 series to net $17, won the doubles with Harold Gibson (splitting a $40 prize) and added $5 for highest three games.

The affair was rolled on the Airport Bowl alleys Feb. 27 and 28.

St. Elizabeth NEWSETTES

By DONNA WAGNER

A 46-voice choir under the direction of Sister Anne Xauier sang in honor of Father Thomas J. Collins feast day, March 7.

The choir sang selections including "I Believe," May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," and I May Never Pass This Way Again."

The school children also presented Father a spiritual bouquet.

St. Thomas Aquinas, who is Father's patron saint, was one of the great intellectuals of the church.

As a young man he asked "What is God"? and he spent his life time researching his question.

This saint attained many titles, two of which are: "Doctor of the Church" and "Angelic Doctor."

St. Thomas was declared patron of all Catholic Schools by Pope Leo XIII.

St. Elizabeths basketball team played Boysville last Monday, Boysville winning by two points 29-27.

Our cubs showed little action in the first three quarters, but "Sparky" invaded their spirit at the last quarter.

Spare Part Needed — Pug Is Sent After It

BRITTON — Last summer, a part broke on the tomato sprayer at the George Brablec farm.

A long delay—24 hours is a long time in the tomato business—could have been costly, waiting for the necessary replacement part to be sent from Lansing.

"Pug, why don't you go down there and pick one up?" Mr. Brablec said as he turned towards his son, Barry — better known as "Pug".

"Sure," smiled the youth, who grabbed one of his younger brothers and told him, "Come on along."

Did Pug head for the family car? Certainly not.

He trotted out behind the barn, started to kick over the engine of his airplane. As he did this, his dad phoned the supplier in the state capital and told him to hustle the part to the airport there.

Pug and his brother were quickly airborne and actually touched down on the strip in Lansing before the delivery arrived.

The Brablec plane was back home in quick order and the sprayer at work by mid-afternoon.

Unique? That's for sure.

But then the flying career of 18-year-old Pug is even more so.

He was a junior at Britton-Macon High School two years ago when he announced he wanted to learn to fly.

Pug had gone to a dentist in Milan and on the way home, he stopped to look over the planes at the airport there. He revisited the place several times and then calmly announced to his dad.

"I'd like to take flying lessons."

He was just 16.

Dad Brablec just as casually responded, "OK, go ahead."

Within 10 days after he started, under the tutorage of Ralph Every at Milan, Pug soloed.

In short order he had his pilot's license and almost as quickly he had a plane of his own—four-place Stinson—and a landing strip 3,000 feet long on the family farm.

Pug has just returned from Miami, Fla., where he recently scored another milestone in his career, qualifying for his commercial and instrument rating at Emboy-Riddle Aeoratical Institute. It was a two-month course.

For a youngster only 18, this is almost unheard of. So far, Pug has nearly 250 hours of flying time and his longest treck was to New Orleans with two other young pilot friends.

He hopes now to gain experience, flying co-pilots on executive-type ships. Eventually, he will qualify for a multi-engine rating.

At the same time, Pug is doing a lot of farming with his dad on their 380-acre layout, where tomatoes are the specialty.

In high school, Pug was active in the Future Farmers of America and won State Farmer certificate. His hope: become an American Farmer.

He belongs to the Michigan Flying Farmers.

As might be expected, his two younger brothers, Doug and Chug, are as excited about flying as is Pug.

BRITTON SCHOOL NOTES

By SUSAN ROWLANDS

Last week the students took their six weeks tests. Report cards were handed out.

There are only twelve more weeks of school left, so mothers prepare yourselves.

√

Last Wednesday the varsity cheerleaders played a basketball game between Britton and "Madison", like it might have looked around the 1890's.

Britton's players were Phyllis Lutton, Sharon Bottoroff and Lois Neidlinger, their coach was Chuck Komon.

Barb and Bette Bailey and Pat Eberhardt made up the "Madison" team, Gale Smith was their coach.

As you know, at that time they had bottemless baskets so Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Neidlinger were the goalkeepers.

Dave Henning and Richard Anspach were the scorekeepers.

The referee was Cal Rohrback.

And last but not least, they had four cheerleaders—Larry Ivan, Mike Bachtal, Jerry Papworth and Dave Servoss, who wore ole house dresses as they cheered Britton on to victory.

After a battle between the coaches the score stood Britton 8, Madison 2.

The Britton band also played several selections.

√

April 2 is the day that the Britton-Macon band's saxophone quartet travels to Lansing to compete in the state solo and ensemble contest.

The members of the quartet are: Judy McClure, Janet Beal, Karen Millyard and Charlene Prielipp.

√

A nine-member committee from the junior class chose a play, which the class will present April 21 and 22, last week.

The play is called "We Shook the Family Tree" by Perrt Clark.

This three-act comedy will have 12 in the cast.

Mrs. Robinetta Howard, the English and speech teacher, will be the play director.

√

Recently the freshmen agriculture class bought 150 broiler chicks and have entered the state broiler contest.

In nine weeks, the boys will choose 12 broilers to take to Michigan State University to be dressed and judged.

Anyone interested in buying broilers should contact any FFA member.
